GAVE THE LADS A SUPPER Newsboys and Bootblacks Entertained by the Salvation Army.

Last night some fifty of the prominen members of the newsboy and bootblack circles of the city partook of a supper at the Salvation Army barracks that had been prepared for them by the soldiers. The spread was wholesome and bountiful, good home made articles, and everything passed off smoothly with the exception of some exhibiof the innate deviltry that dwells within the bodies of the "professionals." After they had taken off the sharp edge of their appetites, they began to throw bread cults across the tables at each other, and this ceased only after a dozen had been thrown bodity out of the hall.

At the conclusion of the supper, those that remained listended to a brief service of song, prayer and speaking, the latter being done by Captain Austin Chapman. The boys kept pretty quiet, chiefly through the threat that they would get no oranges or bananas after the service if they did not behave. In the middle of the service the first contingent that had been fired from the hall gathered together several mouthorgans and began to play jigs, which set the feet of a majority of the worshippers to moving. Not more than one boy, however, was thrown out every three minutes. After the service was over a rush was made for the door, where the oranges and bananas were distributed. The first twenty or twenty-five boys got four or five apiece, the rest none

The idea of giving the supper originated with Captain Chapman, who in this way hoped to get acquainted with the boys, and perhaps later induce some of them to attend services at the barracks. Children's meetings are held every Tuesday night, and also Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and some of the boys promised to attend one or the other and Severely Injured. Last night shortly before 8 o'clock Mrs. C. W. Edgerton, the wife of Judge Edgerton, was violently thrown from a buggy on Farnam street between Thirty-fifth and Thirtysixth streets. She was bruised on the left side of her face and it is thought that one of her ribs on the left side is broken. It was impossible to tell last night whether she was injured internally, but it was feared that she was. She was taken to her home, 4903 Webster street. One of the hind wheels struck another hugger that was standard. another buggy that was standing near the another buggy that was standing near the curb. The collision frightened the horse, twhich started to run, and the sudden jerk which started to run, and the sudden jerk with the wheels of the buggy catching in the street car tracks threw Mrs. Edgerton out. She was carried to a grocery store at Thirty-sixth and Farnam streets, where Dr. Towne attended her. Judge Edgerton was passing in a car shortly after the accident occurred and accompanied his wife home. Shortly after 5 o'clock last night a horse attached to a buggy in which John L. First Methodist Sami- vanual Renaion. The pleasant custom of holding semi-an nual reunions, which was inaugurated some time ago by the First Methodist church time ago by the First Methodist church of this city, was again observed last evening. The parlors in the basement were filled with members of the congregation and their friends, who passed a most enjoyable evening in improving their mutual acquaintance. No program was rendered, but the occasional selections by the Young Ladles' orchestra served as an agreeable background to the evening light refreshments. Later in the evening light refreshments were served, and the season of good fellowship left the most pleasant recollections.

FROM BROTHEL TO CONVENT Sixteen-Year-Old Girl Taken from Evil

Surroundings. Yesterday afternoon a 16-year-old named Cora Gilmore was taken out of a house of ill fame and placed by Matron Cummings in the Home of the Good Shepherd. The girl was found through a letter written by her grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Gilmore of Bonaparte, Ia., to the mayor. In it Mrs. Glimore said that the girl was an orphan and that she had raised her. Last September she went to Des Moines with the intention of obtaining work, and remained there until March 1, when she came to this city. Mrs. Glimore recently received a letter from her in which expendit that 72-inch satin finished damask, regular $1.00 from her, in which she atated that she was working as a clerk and was boarding and rooming at 120 North Ninth street. In answer to a letter of inquiry, Mrs. Gilmore was informed that the address was that of a house of prostitution, and that the girl was living there. Mrs. Gilmore gave the mayor power to remover her and place her n the convent.

The girl admits that during the greater part of the past year she has lived a life of shame. While here she was with Minnie Fairchild and "Buck" Tremaine, and Matron Cummings expresses the intention of prose-cuting these women for harboring the girl.

"Humpty Dumpty, Up to Date," is easily one of the great theatrical successes of the year, combining, as it does, all the features year, combining, as it does, all the features of burlesque, exravaganza, farce and comic opera. Its initial production in Omaha last night at Boyd's theater called out an enthusiastic audience, and the clever little people who were seen here last in "The Pupil in Magic" have even stronger roles than in that bright bit of satire from the German which served as the vehicle to make known the Lilliputians in the west. In its mounting, in its clever dialogue and interesting plot, and in the perfection of ensemble, "Humpty Dumpty" with its modern investiture surpasses any stage performance seen here this season, viewed from a spectacular standpoint, "Alladin, Jr." only rivaling it in the sumptuousness of its stage settings, Robert Breitenbach is responsible for the book, the libretto being arranged by Messrs. Hoffman and Gabriel, who have chosen with excellent discernment not only music of famous composers, but have written many bright. Catchy comedies to accompany the text.

While the parts are taken with splendid ability by the little folks, who are becoming an integral part of American stage life, the arrangement of the ballets, the trick scenery, and the perfect costuming combine to make this production a notable one. The chorus is large and thoroughly efficient, the Lilliputians introduce a host of new specialties, and the old favorites among them were received with that warmth of appreciation that showed the hold they had upon the audience. Franz Ebert, as Humpty Dumpty, continues the leading spirit of the Lilliputs, although Adolph Zink has a decidedly happy part, that of the blacksmith's apprentice, which he plays with an unctuousness that is irresistible. Selma Goerner, as Riecke, displays strong ability in the role, while Ludwig Merkel is as clever an Irishman as has been seen on the stage. With three feet added to his stature, he would be giving Girard pointers, not only in character make-up, but in the manner of elaborating the character of a young tough. Ida Mahr, as Preciosa, and Elsie Lau, as Old Elsie f burlesque, exravaganza, farce and comic though wearing the livery of Humpty Dumpty.

Several of the ballets were decidedly new and novel, and the finale of the third act has never been excelled on the local stage, the ingenious arrangement of colored papers falling in cobwebby effect upon the little actors calling out tumultuous applause, the curtain having to be raised a half dozen times on the effective picture.

As usual, the calcium lights played strange tricks, to the everlasting rage of the stage manager, not only in the failure of the lime light to properly fulfill its mission, but in minor incidents connected with the performance.

As for Kaleb, he is the biggest man the writer ever saw, standing nearly nine feet and weighing almost 500 pounds. While he does not profess to be an artist, he can easily command attention by his great size.

Nine Surses Will Graduate. At the First Methodist church this even ing the graduating exercises of the class in nursing at the Methodist hospital will be held. Nine will graduate. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Frank Crane and Dr. W. S. Gibbs.

FORGED THURSTON'S NAME.

Stranger Gets $1,000 from the Columbia National of Lincoln. On April 6, a check in the Omaha National bank for $1,000, purporting to be signed by John M. Thurston and drawn to the order of William M. Geddes, was presented by a stranger to the paying teller of the Columbia National bank at Lincoln. The teller, Joseph Biggar, informed the stranger that he was not familiar with the signatures of Mr. Thurston and Mr. Geddes, and asked him to get some city endorsement. He asked if Judge J. H. Broady would be acceptable, to which Biggar replied that he would. The stranger went away and soon returned with the check endorsed by Broady and it was cashed. It came into the Omaha clearing house on March 8 and was declared to be a forgery. The check was dated March 28. Since that time the stranger, who is described as being well dressed and with a businesslike air, has not been located. W. M. Geddes is mayor of Grand Island, and was chief clirk of the house of representatives during the matter was kept a profound secret until yesterday. The check is endorsed as follows: "W. M. Geddes, This is O. K. J. A. Foley; J. H. Broady."

BOARD OF REALTH MEETING

Usual Discussion About Prospective Deficit

-Report on Bumping Nuisance.
At every meeting of the Board of Health Commissioner Savilla submits a report of the amount left in the health fund. This inthe present rate of expenditure the balance will be exhausted as couple of months before the end of the year. Then follows a general A Wonderful Success and Just discussion of ways and means of economy, in which all members participate at once, and which is finally ended by deciding to postpone the cutting down of the force until some time in the warmer, when the spring cleaning up is completed. The debate on the question yesterday was exactly similar to that which has occurred at nearly every meeting this year, and ended in the same way. Dr. Saville is thinking of having the expressions of the members printed in order to avoid the necessity for their repetition every time the matter is called up.

After the heads of the inspectors has again been temporarily saved the report of the inspectors who were detailed to investigate the charges of dumping garbage in the city limits was read. Inspectors Tyler and Vanderford spent ten days on the case, and their report indicated that manure and refuse were being dumped promiscuously in several parts of the city. Benson had been pumping out a cess pool at Forty-fourth and Dodge streets and running the contents on the premises of his neighbors. He was also arrested, and his In this connection the council resolution questing the board to detail an inspector investigate these complaints was read and a resolution was passed asking the coun-cil to give the board $1,200 with which to hire special inspectors to carry on the work. It was claimed that the present force was totally inadequate to detect these off-inders.

The usual monthly reports were read and placed on file.

Tecumseh to Vacate. Following closely on the order of Bishop Bonacum to Rev. D. G. Fitzgerald of South diocese on and after July 1 a similar docu-

Father Murphy received his orders to move on Saturday last, and are of similar tenor to those received by Father Fitzgerald.
