The following new ordinances are now in the hands of committees to be reported at the next regular meeting of the council:

GRAIN STEAMER BURNED DOWN

Large Vessel Destroyed on the Shores of Lake Ontario—Crew Safe.

PORT COLBORN, Ont., May 3.—The steamer N. E. Fairbanks, loaded with 90,400 bushels of corn, and bound from Chicago to Ogdensburg, went ashore this morning six miles from here, and then caught fire. She is owned by John W. Bartow of Cleveland. The Fairbank's mate and crew have arrived here in the ship's yawl. The mate states that the Fairbank went ashore about 2 o'clock this morning. All hands were put to work throwing the corn cargo overboard. While thus engaged fire was discovered breaking out of the forecastle forward. This was about 4 o'clock. Every effort was made to check the flames, but they were beyond control when discovered, and the steamer burned to the water's edge. The crew succeeded in getting their life boat safely launched before the fire had cut off their escape. The captain remained on shore near the wreck.

The corn was shipped by Milmine, Bodman & Co. of Chicago. There was a dense fog on the lake when the steamer stranded.

The Fairbank was valued at $30,000. The cargo was worth about $30,000, and was fully insured. The burned steamer was among the first of the large iron-ore carriers, and has made several fortunes.

HAS TROUBLE ON HIS MIND.

Board of Education Confronted with a Peculiar Claim.

A man with a job lot of damaged furniture was gunning after members of the Board of Education yesterday. He wanted redress. According to his story the High School cadets are in the habit of drilling on Capitol avenue. The other night he chanced to be passing that way with a wagon load of furniture, when he encountered the marching battalions. His horses were not accustomed to martial life, and taking fright at the warlike appearance of the cadet platoons they took the bits in their teeth and dashed down the avenue. He was thrown out and his furniture was knocked into kindling wood. He wants the board to compensate him for his loss, and to confine its soldiers to their legitimate parade ground.

No Word from Mr. Pollock.

The disappearance of H. M. Pollock, joint agent of the Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific at Papillion, is as much a mystery as ever. Traveling auditors of the companies have been in Papillion checking over the office, with what result is not yet known, as no returns have been received from them. Mr. Pollock was somewhat peculiar and it is thought he has gone away to take a short rest, his health not having been exceedingly good. He was not a drinking man, so far as can be ascertained about railroad headquarters and it is generally believed that he will turn up all right.

Breaks Up the Quartet.

The removal of General Brooke to St. Paul will have the effect of breaking up for a time the well known Mozart quartet of Omaha, for with General Brooke will go his secretary, Fred Able, one of the members of the quartet. Mr. Able's place as a member of the organization will be extremely difficult to fill. The quartet will be heard at St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church next Sunday evening for the last time.

Accepts the Church's Call.

Some time ago a unanimous call from the Park Avenue Presbyterian church was presented to Rev. Edgar MacDill of Xenia, O., and after careful consideration Mr. MacDill writes that he will accept the call, and, with his family, will arrive in Omaha about June 7.

ARMY OF INDIANS IN CAMP.

Four Hundred Red Skins Prepared to Resist Arrest Near Rolla, N. D.

ROLLA, N. D., May 3.—Four hundred Indians are in camp three miles north of here prepared to resist arrest. During the night they descended on Trader Brooks' store and helped themselves to ammunition and fire arms.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Indian Agent Ralph Nall has sent a dispatch to the commissioner of Indian affairs in reference to the reported troubles at the Turtle Mountain Chippewa Indian reservation in North Dakota. Mr. Hall says: "Everything is quiet on the Turtle mountain reservation now. A posse of United States marshals has arrived to make arrests, and I cannot tell what the outcome will be. The Indians as a whole have no interest in this trouble and are peaceably inclined. Little Shell and about twenty of his followers are the only ones who are interested, but I believe the balance will keep them quiet. Am trying to hold all the Indians on the reservation and keep them away from St. John, where the trouble is located."

The Indian bureau officials say that Little Shell has for a long time been at the bottom of all the difficulties that have arisen on the reservation. Another chief cause of trouble is said to be the presence of a large number of Canadian Indians, who cross the border only a few miles distant and help to eat up the government supplies, leaving the United States Indians short. The last congress appropriated $5,000 for the relief of these Indians, and this amount has been placed to the credit of the agent, who is expending it for their benefit.

COULD ONLY WIN WITH A GUN

Gambler Had Been Losing Heavily but Turned the Luck the Other Way.

EL PASO, Tex., May 3.—The Gem gambling house was held up last night in a most sensational manner. One of the players was John Westly Hardin of Pecos City. Hardin is well known throughout the west as a killer, and his appearance in the house last night attracted much attention. Luck was against him, and he was soon in several hundred dollars. Turning to the dealer, he remarked: "You seem so d—d cute that I believe you may hand me the money I have paid you for chips," emphasizing the request with a cocked revolver, and Baker, the dealer, passed over the gold.

Hardin ranked with the most notorious outlaws in the southwest in the '70s. After serving a term of years in the penitentiary he was pardoned by Governor Hogg. During his confinement he studied law, and has built up a large practice in western Texas.

PRIZE FIGHT IN A GREEN ROOM

Actors Come to Blows at the Chicago Opera House.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Charles J. Ross and Charles Canfield, both of the "Passing Show" company, now playing at the Chicago opera house, indulged in a lively fight last night in the green room of the theater. Ross accused Canfield, the "wardrobe master," of not taking proper care of certain articles. The two came to blows, the fight becoming hot and furious. The delighted stage hands formed a ring around the combatants and urged them on. They fought all over the green room, only ceasing long enough to fall down stairs into Ross' dressing room, where the fight was renewed. When the men were separated, both were badly punished, Ross having a very dark optic. The manager of the show then did the referee act by discharging Ross from the company.

It is the embodiment of goodness and wholesomeness, Price's Cream Baking Powder.

CATHERINE GING'S INSURANCE.

Julia, the Twin Sister, Trying to Collect the Ten Thousand Dollars.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3.—An interesting question has arisen as to the insurance on the life of Catherine Ging, for whose murder Harry Hayward is to hang. Her twin sister, Julia Ging of Auburn, N. Y., has been appointed administrator of her estate and an effort will be made to collect the $10,000 insurance. The policies were assigned to Hayward and he will be made a party to the suit. It is claimed that she took out the policies in good faith and that the ulterior motives of Hayward cut no figure in the liabilities of the companies, the New York Life and the Travelers Accident.

The companies are not likely to resist payment if the court sets aside the assignment of Hayward as fraudulent and without consideration.

Thirty-nine courts were represented. Since the last annual convention the organization has added twenty-four new courts, a gain of 1,500 members.

SUING TO RECOVER LICENSE

Dealers Attack Constitutionality of Ordinance Assessing Them $100 Each.

The coal dealers of the city have begun a war in the courts upon the city of Omaha and the Omaha school district, assailing the right of these two corporations to levy a tax upon their occupation. One of their number, L. A. Harmon, has secured an assignment of the various claims of twenty-four dealers and sues the two corporations to recover the sum of $2,400, the amount of tax the coal men paid into the city treasury during the year 1891.

On June 1, 1891, the mayor of Omaha approved ordinance No. 2754, regulating the business of coal dealers. In the ordinance it was provided that each dealer should pay an annual tax of $100, the tax to insure the issuance of a license authorizing the selling of black diamonds. The dealers were to deliver to each purchaser a card, indicating the weight and kind of coal sold when a sale was made. The buyer then might have the coal weighed and if it did not tally with the weight indicated by the city scales the dealer paid for weighing, otherwise the buyer paid. A fine of from $5 to $100 was levied for either a failure to comply with the terms of the ordinance or for committing a fraud.

The dealers objected to paying the tax and paid under protest, saying that they intended to hold the city liable. The attorneys for the plaintiffs charge that the ordinance is oppressive and restrictive in its nature, in that it operates as a means of raising a revenue, being not levied, as the law provides, as a mere police regulation. The law, it is claimed, is inequitable and void, and injurious to the public welfare, and more particularly to the coal dealers, who allege that they carry on a business that should not be restricted or prohibited, a result which they charge to the operation of the ordinance.

Harmon in his petition recites that the coal dealers were bullied into paying the city because they were severally told that they would be arrested unless they complied with the terms of the ordinance. Rather than go to jail they paid, preferring to sue and get their money back later.

R. McClelland is the only dealer who ever brought a suit individually. The school district is made a defendant because under the ordinance it claims the right to the fine or license money.

FELL FROM AN OPEN WINDOW.

Charles Platz Receives Injuries Which May Prove Fatal.

Early yesterday Charles Platz fell from a second story window on the south side of the Ainscow block at Fourteenth and Leavenworth streets and sustained some severe bruises. He struck on his head and received a gash about an inch long, which extended to the bone. He was also hurt about the shoulders and back, the nature of the injuries being such as to cause some apprehension concerning his recovery. He was taken to the Methodist hospital.

When found by James Smith he was lying on the sidewalk without coat, hat or shoes. Platz told Smith that he had been slugged and that his missing articles had been carried off by the highwaymen. An examination of the room above disclosed the fact that the window was open and the blinds had been torn where Platz had evidently clutched them to save himself from falling. The occupants of the flat stated that Platz was in the habit of sitting in the window and sometimes falling asleep there. He was slightly intoxicated when he went to his room, and at 10 o'clock Thursday night he was noticed sitting in the window.

Dinkle Heard From.

Reports from the north end of the city to the sheriff's office indicate that W. E. Dinkle, the burglar who played insane long enough to effect his escape from the county hospital, has been prowling about the residence of J. F. Hoch, a milkman living at 4602 Ames avenue. Hoch had $6 in money, two suits of clothes and a couple of hats stolen from his home Thursday morning. He said that Dinkle had worked for him and had a key to the house, also that he is sure that Dinkle was seen on the Florence road carrying the lost articles. Dr. Tilden and the insanity board several months ago pronounced Dinkle sane. Judge Scott refused to accept this adjudication and placed him on trial for insanity. Ultimately he was sent to the county hospital, from which he his escape, opportunity offering.

Another Candidate for the Place.

A new candidate for Dr. Duryea's chair in the Board of Education is announced in the person of Prof. Gillespie. It is urged that he would be a most valuable addition to the board and that his advice and co-operation would be of greater assistance than that of any man who might be chosen.

KICKING ON WATER BILLS.

Officials Claim that the City Is Being Charged Excessive Rates.

Among the bills which are being held back by the finance committee of the city council for investigation is one in which the American Water Works company asks for $88.65 for water furnished for the city hall from March 18, to April 17, 1895. This is one of the results of the fight between the water works company and the city and it is not considered likely that it will be reported until the present controversy is decided.

In the ordinance under which the water company does business, certain uses are specified for which water must be furnished to the city free of charge. These were supposed to include all municipal purposes, but more recently it has been discovered that the library board, city hall, city jail and engine houses were not included in the free water distribution. Nevertheless, no bills were ever sent in, and by a mutual understanding these were included in the nonpaying establishments.

After the continued refusal of the city to pay the bills of the water company on the ground of inadequate service, this peculiarity in the ordinance was suddenly taken advantage of. The library board was notified on March 8, that unless its water bills were paid before 10 o'clock on that day the water would be shut off. The threat was not carried into effect, President Reed giving his personal assurance that the bills would be paid as soon as they could be audited. Just previous to this the water company presented a bill to the city comptroller for water rent for the city hall during the entire term of its occupancy, and this was referred to a committee, where it still remains. The additional bill for last month went to the same committee. Since then one or two members of the council have been doing a little figuring and they claim to have discovered evidence that the city is not being fairly dealt with and that the bills rendered the city are exorbitant as compared with those which are presented to private individuals. They have secured a list of the contrivances which require a flow of water in some of the other large buildings of the city and cite these in proof of their position.

The bill of $88.65 for one month was for supplying water for two elevators, seventeen washbowls, fifteen closets, four urinals and four sinks in the city hall.

In the New York Life building there are five elevators, sixty-eight washbowls, twenty-two urinals, fifty-six closets and two bath tubs, besides a multitude of sinks. For this building the water bills run from $75 to $80 per month, or materially less than these for the city hall.

The Bee building pays about the same as the New York Life building and contains thirty-five closets, three elevators, 125 washbowls, twelve urinals, turkish bath rooms and six sinks. Estimates of the amount of water used in other large buildings, as compared with the monthly bills, show very nearly the same results as in the two large buildings mentioned.

The committee argues that this indicates that the city is being charged at an exorbitant rate for the water used, as, according to the estimates, the city hall uses only about one-fifth as much water as is consumed in the two buildings adjoining, while the bills run about $10 per month higher. The figures quoted are from a member of the committee who will submit them to the council when the bills are brought up for consideration.

GARDENS BECOMING NUMEROUS

Many Women Taking Up with the Farming Idea.

Applications for garden spots are still pouring in on the agricultural commission and the number of female gardeners has swelled to considerable proportions. Many of these have little spots of their own and only ask to be given enough seed to plant them, after some masculine neighbor has prepared the ground for the crop. Seeds have been given out in 236 such cases, all of which have been investigated and found deserving.

Considerable quantities of seed were planted before the recent rains and this is already sprouting. The commission has a gang of men plowing and harrowing the lots in the vicinity of Tenth and Nicholas streets and these will be ready for planting by the first of next week.

Profitable Crops.

Rain—more rain—Cheer up Nebraskans. The earth of our commonwealth—thus far—responds nobly to the prayers of the good citizens. Prosperous crops in sight, and the income tax has come to stay.

We're early harvesters—second crop is here—Perhaps you're not familiar with the clothing term of 2nd crop? Permit us to explain—1st crop include purchases, dictated by the current market value of clothing. When financially hungry merchants are obliged to stock up—then it is the wholesalers harvest—get all you can—is the maxim in order to average the losses on what is left.

2nd crop are purchases dictated by the amount of ready cash and the large quantities the merchant can use. Then it's merchant's harvest and consumers triumph.

The bulk of our stock is of the latter purchases—2nd crop—

This explains why we sell a wool suit for Four-Fifty, that 1st crop dealers couldn't sell short of at least $7.00 or a suit at Five-fifty other clothiers can't sell at less than 8 to 10 dollars.

That other clothiers here can use as large quantities as we is rank nonsense—We refer to the freight department for proof.
