Grocer Hetzel and His Brother's Creditors Having Another Round in Court,

FOURTH TRIAL OF THE CASE GPENED

Fraud in the Disposition of Goods is Alleged by the Creditors and Plaintiff is Seeking to Replevin Stock Claimed to Have Been | Bought.

Before a jury in Judge Keysor's court half a dozen attorneys have started in with the trial of the case of Hetzel against Bennett. No witnesses are being examined in the present trial. The case has been tried four times before, and whole stacks of written testimony lie piled upon the tables. These the attorneys are laboriously reading to the

Frank J. Hetzel and Levi G. Hetzel are brothers. Frank J. at present resides in chant. His brother was also engaged in business, having opened the Mammoth store on Sixteenth and Douglas streets in August, 1892, and run the place for two weeks, doing a trade of $1,500 per day. On August 25 he disappeared from the city, and attorneys now representing creditors claim that he has not been heard of since nor has the disposition of his large profits, they say, been accounted

The suit on trial is a replevin action brought by Frank J. Hetzel to recover possession of a stock of goods which he claims to have bought from P. C. Rude. Rude claimed gain counter. title to the goods by virtue of a bill of sale from Frank J. Hetzel's brother, who has since disappeared. The transactions, all of which took place in August of 1892, just about the time the Mammoth store was closed by Levi's creditors, have been at-tacked by his creditors, who caused Bennett, the then sheriff, to levy attachments on the stock. The whole suit, which has four times gone to a jury, turns upon the effort discover whether the sales of the operty were fair or fraudulent and ade to beat creditors. The first trial of the case took place in November, 1893, when Frank J. Hetzel secured a verdict for 5 cents, in addition to the goods. The next time the jury disagreed; the next time they reduced the damages to I cent, and gave Hetzel the goods, and in the last trial, held last Jan-uary, Hetzel's verdict was set aside. The case has not yet reached the supreme court. as the court constantly sets the verdict

The evidence which is being introduced travels over the same lines of proof followed heretofore, and relates to the close relation-ship of the parties. The fact is pointed out ship of the parties. The fact is pointed out that Hetzel's father-in-law, George Leonard, was interested as a party, that he claimed to have been owed money by Levi Hetzel, and that he bought the stock of goods in question, partially cancelling this indebtedness to pay for his purchase, in addition to paying $5,000 in cash. It is claimed that Leonard had overdrawn his bank account at the time when he saws that he got the money the time when he says that he got the money to make the purchase. The attaching creditors also claim to have testimony to show that soap boxes and the like, at the time of he crash, were found in out-of-the-way blaces, stuffed with articles sold at the store. As evidence of fraud they show that three carloads of flour were shipped from Omaha by Frank J. Hetzel to his father-in-law at Perry, Ia., about the time of the financial Hetzel denies anything out of the BASIS OF THE CANAL OPPOSITION Intervenors Set Down Their Reasons in an Answer to Promoters' Petition.

The position of the intervenors in the canal mandamus sult is now known. They have filed their answer asking to have the suit dismissed as against the county con.missioners. This answer is made to the petition of D. C. Paterson, who wishes an order of court to issue compelling the board to call a special election.

The intervenors take issue with the state ment made in the mandamus petition that the commissioners were presented with a petition signed by 5,500 legal voters asking for a special election. It is denied that petition was such as the law required The answer denies that the county has sufficient funds to pay election expenses, as it is claimed it would cost $14,000, and there is no money in the general fund. The answer details the indebtedness of Douglas county stating that it owes in bonds $795,000 that her annual expenses are $350,000, and it now owes $200,000 for poor farm real estate. The expenses and indebtedness of Omaha and South Omaha are also detailed, the debts of the former being placed at $5,710,566.95, and the latter at $1,500,000. Allusion is made to other towns and it is claimed that in view of the present assessment a further tax would be confiscation, illegal and unjust. To require the board to act under the cir-cumstances, it is stated, would be wrong. as it has never had a showing made before it that a canal could be built for the sum named, but it is alleged that it would take at least $4,000,000. It is claimed in the answer that the Platte river west of the Loup runs dry at certain seasons and the and Elkhorn are being used for irrigation; that the rain fall has been decreasing and it would be extravagance and folly to build the canal. The claim is made that for 500,000 and an annual expenditure of $205,000 a 9,000 horse power steam plant could be run. It is stated that no corporation or individuals have signified a desire use the power for navigation, light, heat or otherwise, and the county's right to construct is challenged on the ground that it would be taking property for private purposes.

The issues are being brought to a head it the Rice divorce suit, which is to be tried before long in the district court. Effic Rice has made Marion Rice, her husband, the defendant and charges him with being a wine bibber and exceedinly cruel, stating

At times when she did not get away she claims that she was knocked to the ground by the heavy blows she received. Marion's story, which he has she received. Marion's story, which he has just detailed to the court, is to the effect that his wife, while they lived in Council Bluffs sed to carouse about the streets until a late hour. The couple were married in Missour They have three children and both ask for them and a divorce

The introduction of testimony was concluded at 12 o'clock in the trial of J. H. McCabe, charged with arson. Schultz of McCabe & Co., defendant, spent a portion of the forencen on the stand and admitted on cross-examination that a partnership existed between himself and McCabe. The defense make an effort to account for the fense mase an effort to account for the kerosene scattered about the building and upon the excelsior, offering testimony to show that Schultz & Co. had several leaky oil cans and that the contents spilled ou Merchant Mayer Will Be at the State Fair to Offer Prizes.

Omaha people are not the only ones throughout the state who are taking an interest in the coming state fair in their efforts to make the show a crowning success. In many of the counties arrangements are being made to offer prizes for the best display of agricultural products. But up to this time only one individual has come to the front to offer a series of prizes. That mais Morris Mayer, who is one of the prominent merchants of Norfolk. He has decided to offer a number of valuable premiums for the best samples of grain and vegetables and thus arouse a spirit of generous rivalry. It is possible that the corn exhibit may not be ready for the state fair, but if it is not it will be taken to the winter corn show of the State Board of Agriculture, to be held at Omaha or Lincoln in January. All samples will be entered at the state fair and any award that is made will go to the grower of the article receiving a premium. The following are the premiums which will

Class 1. Best corn, first premium, gold watch; second premium, suit of clothes worth

Class 2. Best wheat, first, gold watch class 2. Best wheat, first, gold watch second, ladies' dress pattern worth $7.

erration Row. Charles Bonaparte, the Winnebago Indian who assaulted Henry M. Rice, was brought down from Pender yesterday as a witness. It is probable that the recent fight between Benaparte and Rice will result in a thorough investigation of the case. It is hinted that a white man at Homer supplied the whisky the Indians. As Rice is now reported in a dying condition from the effects of the wound, it is likely that the bootlegger who afforded the primary cause of the trouble will be called to account by the federal authorities.

Alex Sincere and other prominent Winnebagos have also been summoned as witnesses Antonio Columbo, the Italian who sent a mic valentine with some original inscrip-ons on the margin, was acquitted yesterday in federal court.

DEATH DUE TO BESPONDENCY.

Contractor Simmonds Ends His Troubles by Taking Sim Life.

The body of Charlesi P. Simmonds, a local contractor and builder, was found yesterday morning on the doorstep of his residence, Forty-third and Vinton streets. A revolver closely chapted in his right hand and a ghastly wound over his heart told the story of his fate. His body was cold and had evidently been lying where it was found since some time Monday evening.

Nothing was left to furnish a reason for Simmonds' self-destruction. He was a married man with one child and during the past years misfortunes seemed to have these and consequent despondency led him to take his life. Some years are cumulated upon him. the proprietor of a planing mill on South day. Thirteenth street. This establishment was burned and with it went most of his worldly goods. Then he went into the contracting business, but owing to the hard times he has been unable to obtain regular employment. The neighbors have been compelled to assist him several times during the past winter and it is known that he keenly felt the humiliation of partial destitution.

During the past few days he had been employed by Coutant & Squires, and about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon he finished a job at Mr. Coutant's residence. At that time he told the men that they would have to look to the firm for their pay, as he would not be there after that day. He then left for home and that was the last seen of him. It seems that was the last seen of him.

It seems that during the night Simmonds got up and went out of the front door, taking the revolver with him. He had evidently stepped down on the walk and then placed the muzzle of the weapon against his breast and fired. He lay where he fell until 7 o'clock in the morning, when he was discovered by John Henrada. covered by John Hensman, a passing milk-man. Hensman attempted to go into the yard to see what was the matter with the man, but was driven away by two ferocious dogs which belonged to Simmonds. The body was found lying as it fell. Both hands were doubled under it, and the re-volver was still held close to the wound. The remains were brought to the morgue, where an inquist will be held at 11 o'clock today. One peculiar feature of the affair was the absence of Mrs. Simmonds and the little girl. A neighbor was found who said that he had s en them leave the house early in the morning. They could not have possibly lef morning. They could not have possibly left without discovering the body, and these cir-cumstances gave rise to some rumors of foul play. ENNYROYAL PILLS

RANK MOCKERY.

The amusing feature of our special offering is the mock imitation, more suitably expressed rank mockery, practiced by some of our com-

As we previously announced, we sell an all wool boys' suit for $1.50. That it caused an empty feeling in some boys' clothes stores is not to be wondered at. We expected it. A sacrificing sale like that was certainly not inaugurated to teach dress reform in Dahomey, but to benefit the public financially and promote our good will commercially. But it came to pass that a hailstorm visited us, and at all appearances it halled $1.50 all wool suits. Every mock dealer has some, and some even claim better than ours; that they're knockers, which we presume can be proven by the amount of damaged win-

Very good. But where are these suits, that are supposed to be as good as ours at that price? Why not produce them? And if as good as ours why charge $2.50 and wait until whipped to do the honest thing?

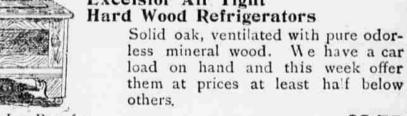

Ours are here, some, and a good many on the forms of the little ones. They're A DOLLAR AND A HALF as long as they last. All wool double-breasted, dark and light gray-Cheviot.

The $2.50 kind (blue and black Cheviot) we mentioned in our previous announcement is not quite sold out. Grant you a few days longer. We don't mind to be imitated legitimately, but draw the line tight against dishonest mockery.
