Earthquake Caused Great Alarm Among All Classes at Florence.

Carriages and Omnibusses in Great Demand as Sleeping Apartments-Scarcely a Building in the City that Was Not Damaged.

LONDON, May 22 .- A dispatch from Florence to the Daily News gives some description of the scenes of panic and disorder in that city that accompanied the shocks of earthquakes on Saturday night. The damage was widespread and so general that the Daily News' correspondent asserts that there is hardly a house in the whole city of palaces, cathedrals, and repositories of the treasures of art of all ages that has not suffered. A when the first shock was felt. A great rumbling was heard and the structure seemed to away and rock to its foundations. People

Many fled from the theater with the instinct to make for the open space which always takes hold on the crowd in the presence of an earthquake. The more plucky, however, remained, and, assuring each other that the danger was past, resumed their seats, and the performance was continued. It was still in progress when the second and severer ck was felt, and the whole audience fled to the narrow streets.

At the hotels, which are frequented by tourists, the fright and disorder at the threatened calamity in a strange land, were even greater. There was a babel of different languages and frantic but vain attempts to secure a hearing from servants and to make appeals under-stood. Fabulous prices were offered for conveyances in which to get away from the city or to sleep in the streets. Many rich Amercan and English tourists were the successful bidders in the lively competition to secure omnibuses in which to spend the night. All kinds of vehicles were employed as sleeping quarters by the terrified people. It is calcu-lated that there were 4,000 carriages used in this way in Florence during Saturday night as a refuge for the ladies, who were driver In them to the open spaces of the city. The less fortunate hovered about the carriages and the fountains in the squares. Few who could help it remained indoors.

TRAINS COLLIDED IN A DENSE FOG. Wreck on the Union Pacific Coats Two

Lives at Cheyenne. CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 22 .- (Special Telegram).-During a heavy fog at 3:30 o'clock this morning a southbound extra freight, pulled by engine No. 637, ran into the rear end of Union Pacific No. 2 passenger from Cheyenne to Denver, four miles south of this city. While trying to Jump off Engineer August Gray and Fireman Edward Fuller, both of Denver, were crushed between the engine and tender. Gray was killed in-stantly and Fuller lived but twenty minutes.

menced this afternoon by Coroner Linton and County Attorney Baird. Brakeman Frank Henderson, who was on engine 637 when the collision occurred, testified that the freight train left Cheyenne at 3:20 a. m., just behind the second section of the passenger.

"We were running," he said, "twenty miles an hour at the time of the accident. It was foggy and we did not see the deck five car lengths of them. Engineer Gray reversed the engine and hollered 'jump;' the fireman went for the gangway and I was knocked off." When asked if he knew how the accident could have been avoided he said: "The en-gineer might have been running too fast." He heard Conductor Kriner tell the engineer to be careful before they left Chey-enns. Denny Collins, brakeman on passenger train No. 2, testified that his train left Cheyenne at 3:10 a. m. and for three miles out was running twenty miles an hour. He thought from the force with which the freight struck his train it was running about ten miles an hour faster than the passenger. When asked as to the responsibility for the accident he said he considered it laid with Engineer Gray of the freight, who was a new man on the road. The investigation will be completed tomorrow, when Conductor Hinkley, Engineer Hockenberg and Fireman Reddy of the passenger train will be here. The body of Engineer Gray was taken to Denver this evening; that of Fuller will be sent there tomorrow.

GORDON COMPLIMENTS THE NEW SOUTH

General S. D. Lee Assails the Correctness of Present Day Histories of the War-Miss Winnie Davis Given an Ovation.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 22.—This city is in holiday attire, and its streets are filled with old soldlers here to attend the reunion of confederate veterans. General John B. Gordon, commander-in-chief of the United Conthe confederate army, United States senator from Georgia for over half a score of years and twice governor of the state.

A steady rain began falling at daylight, morning, disarranging many events in the program. The street parade in honor of Miss Winnie Davis was postponed until tomorrow morning. It was 11 o'clock when Colonel W. D. Cleveland opened the first business session of the meeting and introduced General Charles Culberson, who in glowing words welcomed the veterans to Texas. The mayor, John T. Brown, tollowed, extending the ho tality of Houston, General John B. Gordon replied to the addresses of welcome on behalf of the United Confederate Veterans. There were 8,000 people in the auditorium and as many outside unable to obtain adand as many outside unable to obtain ad-mittance. The jam was terrific. When General Gorden rose to speak, the band struck up "Dixle," but its strains could not be heard, so great was the din raised by the vocal demonstration given the ex-chieftain. General Gordon, when quiet had been partially restored, delivered his address: "What higher tribute could be paid to this great people than to say that their hospitality is worthy of Texas?" he asked. "Around the name and history of Taxas are gathered associations glorious and hallowed. and in her future career are centered high gratulation to Colonel Salcedo. THREE REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENTS. "The assemblage of these war-scarred vet-ans in this war-scarred state leads me to call three remark ble achievements by these x-confederates in peace which impartial his-ory will pronounce a fitting climax to their plendid record in war. The first is the respiendin record in war. The first is the re-construction, mainly through your instrumen-tality, of the labor system of our entire sec-tion. You returned from a long, exhausting and unsuccessful struggle to find the agricul-tural labor of your states not only disorganized, but as a system (to the management and control of which you were born and trained) it was utterly destroyed. Yet you heroically undertook the task of its reorganization under a new system and of ampting your service to that new order. The success of your efforts is the noblest commentary upon your wisdom and justice. The second of the radical revolution in the condition around you, and in so short a periot, financial independence for your families and industrial prosperity for your section. You returned from the war poor, tens of thousands of you pennites, many shot and maimed, and yet bravely and une medainingly, by laboring with aid from no source save from God and your own self-reliant manhood, you have fought your way to competence, provided for your ate soldier can be found deprived of the com forts of life. At the same time your com bined efforts have carried these southern states to a height of material advancement rom which you may now calmly look back over a land which but thirty years ago was a wide waste of desolation and ashes, and around you over a country new happy in its rebuilt homes and redeemed farms, radiant in the light of industrial resurrection, of assure prosperity and enduring material independ-

SOME REMARKABLE STATEMENTS At the conclusion of General Gordon's ad-dress committees were appointed and then General S. D. Lee, as chairman of the his-torical committee, read his report, which, among other things, says: "The true cause of the war between the states was the dign fled withdrawal of the southern states from the union to avoid the continued breaches o that domestic tranquility guaranteed, but no consummated, by the constitution, and no the high moral purpose of the north to destroy slavery, which followed incidentally after as a war measure. "As to the war itself and the results of the war, the children of the future would be astonished that a people fought so hard and so long with so little to fight for, judging from what they gather from histories now in use, prepared by writers from the north. They are utterly destitute of information as to events leading up to the war. Their ac counts of the numbers engaged, courage dis played, sacrifices endured, hardships encountered and barbarity practiced upon an almost defenseless people, whose arms-bear ing population was in the army, are incor-

SEASON IS FITTING FOR THE WORK

Efforts to Accomplish Christian Unity in Fact as Well as in Name.

WASHINGTON, May 22 .- Mgr. Satolli, the papal ablegate, has received a copy of a brief encyclical recently issued by the pope on the subject of the union of Christendom. It is addressed to all Catholics and is supplemental ago. The following is a translation:

"Most worthily, certainly, of the watchful ove of a mother is the prayer which the love of a mother is the prayer which the Gatling section of the Omaha Guards. It church never ceases to offer to God, that comes this evening over the Burlington, reachthe stars and bars. It is none other than the Father of Mercies whom we rightly invoke, and to whom it pertains to filuminate invoke, and graciously turn our wills to the peut.

'Catholics surely cannot fail to see how grave and important is the work we have un ertaken. On it depends the eternal salvation of many, together with the spread of divine honor and the glory of the Christian name. Which things, if they sincerely and plously consider, they will surely feel in their souls a stronger burning of that divine charity, which, with God's grace, shrinks from no labor, leaves untried no means for the good of their brethren. And so it will happen that they will eagerly, as we so ardently desire, not only add to our confidence in a happy re-sult, but will give us all the assistance they can, and especially that which humble and holy prayer can obtain from God.

For by the multiform grace of the spirit there come to them in perpetual bounty divine light and favor, health and strength, solace and rest, the desire of seeking all good and a fruitfulness of hely works.
"Finally, the same hely spirit so acts by his power in the church that, as Christ is the head of this mystic body, the hely spirit may appropriately be termed its heart s St. Thomas says 'the heart has a certain hidden influence, and therefore the holy spirit is compared to the heart, since he invisibly vivifies and unites the church. UNITED IN FACT. "Since then the holy spirit is, above all things, charity, and to him especially are attributed the works of love, it is greatly to be hoped that through him the spirit of error and wickedness being put down, greater and stronger harmony and union of mind will prevail as they should among the children of the church, who, according to the admonition of the apostle, should do nothing to stifle, should think the same things, and, united, should have the same charity, and so per-fecting our joy, may they form one strong and flourishing body, not in name only, but in fact. From this example of Christian har-mony among Catholics themselves, from this plety in praying the divine paraclete, is especially to be hoped the reconciliation of our separated brethren, for which we do earnestly labor, so they may come to feel the same in themselves as in Christ Jesus, and, being at last united with us in faith and hope, may be joined with us also in the bonds of charity.

"And now, besides the blessings which the faithful who respond cheerfully to our call will certainly and abundantly receive from God for such an activity of piety and fraternal love, it has pleased us to add and be-stow the reward of sacred indulgences from the treasure of the church. Therefore to all who for nine consecutive days before the Pentecost either publicly or privately recite from some special prayers to the holy spirit we grant on each of these days an indulgence of seven years and several quarantines and a plenary indulgence on any of these days, or on the feast of Pentecost itself, or any day of the following octave, provided, having confessed their sins and having received ab solution and hely communion, they pray God, according to the intention which we have above expressed. We further grant that those who desire to repeat for the eight days following Pentecost, the same conditions may again gain both of the above mentioned indulgences, these indulgences may be ap-plied to the souls in purgatory, and by our authority we decree and order that they shall be available each year for the future, those things being observed which are required by law or custom.

WARM WELCOME IS WAITING READY FOR ANOTHER RAID Return of the Winners from Memphis to

Be Enthusiastically Observed. There was bustle and preparation at the armories last evening, occasioned by the making of arrangements to receive in a suitable manner the returning militia from its conquests on the field at Memphis. The armory halls of both the Thurston Rifles and of the Omaha Guards were thronged with visitors friends and members during the course of the whole evening. Some dropped in to learn the latest news, others dropped in to chat over the success, but most came to assist in laying the plans for a reception fitting the occasion.

It was a merry throng which assembled at both the places. A universal feeling of joy at the overwhelming victory was the constant theme of conversation and of mutual congratulations. The unanimous expression was that Omaha, having been so honorably represented in the great national contest for first honors wounded.

RUSH FOR HOMES IN KICKAPOO LAND

Oklahoma City Filled with Boomers Prepared for Tomorrow's Race for Lands and Townsites in the Favored Indian Country.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okl., May 22 .- All night long the roads leading to the Kickapoo country were crowded with men on horseback going to the Kickapoo border. The crowd is much larger than was anticipated here. There will hardly be an able-bodied man in the town by tomorrow morning. The banks have given notice that they will close during the day and the report was started that a raid by outlaws was feared. It will be a great. holiday event, and the town has today an air of gayety. No one seems to be working.

the matter over. Plenty of queer outfits are going out. This morning a bus drawn by four horses. ook out a townsite party. On the bus was loaded a big tent and wet and dry supplies and inside were the town projectors and the men who will open the first hotel and restaurant. A large body of horsemen, over 100strong, started out this morning. It was a fine sight as they went through the streets.

four abreast, with Winchesters and canteens strapped to their saddles. The railroad put cheap fares into effect yesterday and the trains at midnight came in with people standing in the aisles and on the platforms. Many of them were compelled to walk the streets all night, as every bed in town had been engaged the night There is not a horse in town for hire, and very few for sale at an enormous figure. The weather is very cool and the sky has been overcast for two days, body is praying for rain. There wi crops in this country unless there is rain very soon. In the Kickapoo country every-thing looks better. Corn is eighteen inches high and garden crops look well.

Marshal Nix has twenty-three deputies and a large number of horsemen in the country. It was rumored this morning that a sooner living in Chandler had been shot by a marshal and taken to Clifton in the Sac and Fox country. His name is not known and the eport is unconfirmed.

Reports of trouble between marshals and sconers are thick, but they are sensational, and unreliable. At the land office nothing was known of any trouble. The purpose of the marshal in the country is understood to be more in the nature of detective work than arresting sconers or driving them out.

Hiatt, the Kansas boy, who was first in line at the land office, sold his place last night for $500 to a lady who wants to make use of a claim. He has been engaged by her hold the place for her file and will make he race out to the land for her. GUTHRIE, Okl., May 22.—At Ingram, on the border of the Kickapoo reservation, three masked men rode up to the postoffice, but while they were dismounting the postmaster and several Kickapoo settlers opened fire and drove them off. They rode to the residence drove them off. They rode to the residence of John Webb and calling him to the door ordered him to bring out his money underpenalty of death. He said, "All right, I'll get it," stepped inside and grabbed a gun and fired through the window, knocking one of the bandits off his horse. They riddled the house with bullets, picked up the wounded man and left without any booty. MARSHAL AFTER THE SOONERS.

It is said that some of he sooners are desperate men from all parts of the country and that the deputies are likely to have trouble in getting them. It was reported here yesterday that Big Jim's band of Kickapoos has been in council on the Deep Fork since Sunday night talking about the coming of the white men, which they had learned from a man carrying the news to Chandler. The man who brought the report in said that they were armed with rifles and had plenty of ammunition and num-bered about 150 braves and squaws. This band has been sullen ever since Alloting Agent Neal went among them for their-names. The story is laughed at, but Marshal Nix sald they might be troublesome and he has wired for instructions.

Settlers are forming along the west bank of the North Canadian river from Sweeney's bridge south for two miles, and the woods are full of camps. It is estimated that at 1 ast 10,000. men will make the run from that line, run two miles across the Kickapoo allotments and meet runners from the south. When the two bodies get together trouble is predicted. The men from the south have a little the better of it in distance, but have an uphill rur through timber, while the others will run further, but straight away.

A number of members of the New York divorce colony here will make the run more for amusement than anything else. There are quite a number of divorcees here living in hotels and furnished rooms. Several of the women are going out in carriages to see the aights. The streets of Oklahoma City resem-ble those of Arkansas City just prior to the opening of the Cherokee strip. Men on horse-back and covered wagons filed through town on their way to the border of the Kickapoo country. Street auctions of ponies are going on in half a dozen places. Horses that two days ago were not worth $10 are selling read-ly for $50. From the country around Okla-homa at least 3,000 men will run for claims. A number of lowa Indians will make the run for claims, claiming that as they are now citizens they have a homestead right. Others are selling all their ponies to boomers and will spend the money and then ask the government to furn.sh more horses to them.

NEW YORK FRUIT CROP RUINED Nothing Saved Except a Little Along the Shore of the Lake. NEW YORK, May 22 .- A Buffalo dispatch the Evening Post says: "The repeated frosts have seriously damaged the fruit in Niagara county. Henry L. Utts, proprietor of the Niagara river orchards at Youngs own, one of the largest and oldest fruit growers in that famous fruit district, says hat after a careful investigation of the frost nipped blossoms in the lower lake fruit belt he is warranted in the statement that the grape crop will be a total failure. The peach orchards will not yield more than 10 per cent of a crop, apples, plums and cherries about one-third of a crop and strawberries are a total failure. total failure, although a second crop may be expected. Along the lake front and the Niagara river the blossoms fared better and fruit men estimate the probable fruit barvest in that section to average 25 per cent. The vineyards on the south shore of Lake Erio have suffered a succession of blighting frosts, not the least of which occurred yesterday morning, followed by one of lesser severity, last night.

LYONS, N. Y., May 22.—Severe frosts for three nights in succession, the heaviest accurring last night, have well nigh ruined the fruit crop. Fruit growers say that the apple crop has escaped damage thus far, while peaches and other fruit have suffered incalculably. Garden truck of all kinds is hadly damaged by the frost. Con Foley Found Bend.

DEADWOOD, May 22.—(Special Tele-gram.)—Con Foley, one of the best known niners and prospectors in the Black Hills, was found dead vesterday alongside of ope of the most traveled trails of the county. He had been missing for about two weeks and searching parties had been scouring the hills looking for him. His body when found was badly decomposed.
