HUNDRED THOUSAND ASKED

Amount Wanted from Deering & Co. by Phil Stimmel for Breach of Contract,

IT COMES IN AS A COUNTER CLAIM

He Declares the Cordage Trust is the Real Party with Whom the Contest Is -Defense to an Action for $24,000.

The binding twine suit between Deering & Co., of Illinois, as plaintiffs, and Phil Stimmel & Co. of this city, continues to grow in the extent of the amount involved. Stimmel has appeared in court asking $100,000 damages for alleged breaches of contract. He also has dragged the Cordage trust into the fight by advancing the claim that the Cordage trust and not Deering & Co., which is charged with being a member of the trust, is the real party in interest who should have sued for the $24,000 that is sought to be recovered of Stimmel & Co.

In March, 1891, Stimmel & Co. made contract to handle the binding twine of Deering & Co., located at Deering, Ill. Stimmel had some special lines of twine which he alone knew the composition of, and agreed to give Deering & Co. instructions about putting up these brands. In an amended answer just filed Stimmel states that during the year 1891 the original contract was somewhat modified. Business was flourishing and his company sought in every way to fill orders by making large de-mands on Deering & Co. for shipments. By reason of the failure of the Illinois com-pany to comply with the request Stimme recites that he had to pay out $35,000 in cash in excess of the contract price, and that his business was consequently damaged $15. 000. For a failure to meet legitimate com-petition in the prices and for underselling to other firms Stimmel runs up a counter claim altogether for $100,000, as against the $24,003.81 demanded by the Illinois firm for binding twine sold Stimmel & Co.

The case has been pending in court since 1892 without going to trial. When the first answer was filed by Stimmel he only asked $15,000 damages for bad twine, which he says was furnished him.

Creighton Will Contest.

The Creighton will contest still stands on the docket in district court. The hint of Judge Keysor dropped a few days ago questioning his jurisdiction to hear the contest has thus far been taken by neither of the parties to the suit. While in probate court it appears that the suft was carried forward by both sides, even after it was found that Mrs. Shelby desired to withdraw as the proponant of her father's will. Both sides agreed it would be cheaper. This left the case in court for trial without any one's name being signed to the petition requesting the will to be probated, as Mrs. Shelby, the signed such a petition, had obtained leave to appear as contestant.

Bishop Scannell has transferred his interest in the suit as the trustee representing the Roman Catholic church to the St. James Orphan asylum, the legatee. The asylum is now the proponant of the will, having first made its appearance in the district court for the purpose of establishing the will. In view of this change Mrs. Shelby had her attorneys file a motion dismissing the orphan asylum from the suit. This was overruled by Judge Keysor and Mrs. Shelby was given leave to answer. She has done so and takes similar grounds to those advance by her in probate court, stating that Joseph Creighton never made a valid will and was incapable of doing so, that the terms of the will are against public policy and Mr. Creighton was influenced in making the will

by William Kelley. Minor Court Matters.

A jury in Judge Keysor's court room re-turned a verdict for the plaintiff in the ejectment suit of the St. Paul's Polish church against John Kowalewski and Karnen. The suit was brought to get possession of lot block 5, Summit addition, on which the church which was burned stood. The defense falled

The Ramaciotti will has been returned from the district court, where it has been some time in litigation, to the probate court Hugo L. Ramacietti is made administrator Though twice tried by a jury the will of Mrs. Mary Ramaclotti leaving her property to an adopted son instead of her mother and relatives, has been upheld.

The arrival of Abraham W. Lauder, held on a warrant charging him with assaulting three girls near Bensen is expected today. Jaller Miller has telegrapped Sheriff Drexel from Peoria, Ill., that he has the right man. Miller not only had him in jail from Sunday evening until Monday morning two weeks ago, but twice before has had him in jail, besides knowing him about town, as Lauder has lived here ten years.

His identity is regarded as established.

Alexander MacDonald, the city garbage contractor, has secured a banket sheet in-junction forbidding all garbage haulers in he city of Omaha to ply their trade. This iffects county business and Albert Travis, who holds a special contract with the county commissioners to remove the court house garbage, finds himself out of his job. has filed a motion asking a dissolution the injunction, setting up the fact that the county commissioners have given him a special contract and in addition that he has verbal contracts of ten years' standing with Omaha people which the injunction affects. The vexed question as to whether the city council sitting as a board of equalization gave legal notice of the session has again been raised. Sherman avenue property own-ers living from Grand avenue to Fort street have raised it against the city in the suit of James J. McLain. McLain seeks to have a special paving tax set aside on the plea that his benefits were assessed at about one-third of what they should have been. He owns some houses on lots in Hagedom's ad-dition which he says it would not pay him to improve, but the city by ordinance in 1892, without a petition of a majority of the property owners, undertook to lay granite paving Some of those who did sign the petition it is charged were coerced into doing so under threats of losing their places under the city government. The city tenders issues on these points and claims that the property

Mr. Lyman Pacific and Belt Lins railways. Mrs. Lyman calls attention to the fact that years ago he dedicated to the city land for a street through his addition, and says that he should not now be punished by taxes on his lots for so doing. The Omaha Loan and Trust company takes the position that the tax on its property in Howell Place is much in excess of that in Windsor Place, which is benefited as much. At the afternoon session it was voted not to alopt the plan of assessment, and the whole matter was referred to the council delegation.

Feared They Would I'e Blown Up.

An amusing incident occurred in the county fail Thursday afternoon while the prisoners were eating their dinner. Just beneath the dining tables, in the cellar, is the boiler room. Loud noises were heard issuing from that region. It was soon ascertained that the boiler was expected to blow up any moment and the prisoners lost no time in making a stampede for the far end of the cells. The expected explosion did not come. It appears that when Joe Miller left to capture Lauder in Illinois he appointed Sutton, a witness, in jail, to tend the boiler. A little steam was escaping from one of the cocks and Sutton took a sledge hammer to mend it. He succeeded after several blows n knocking the cock out of the socket. A not fire was raging and water rushing into the boiler began generating steam as though percales, all colors and stripes, only 10c a it meant business. Gardens Too lose Together. John G. Willis and Dorsey B. Houck are neighbors at Twenty-first and Spruce streets. But they are not borrowing each other's garden tools this spring. Willis has staked out his property for some purpose and some of the stakes edged onto Dorsey's domain. They were immediately pulled up and it is alleged that the pulling process did not end at the line fence. The result was that Willis has had his neighbor arrested for the somewhat unusual offense of "removing landmarks" and Judge Berka will hear the story Monday.

Mortgage May He Put Down. Receivers Clark, Mink and Anderson were n close conference yesterday, making up their report to Judge Sanborn, which will be filed Monday in St. Paul, according to the order made by the judge of the Eighth circuit in the Short Line receivership case. It is anticipated that the report will be exhaustive and will cover the earnings and expenses of the Short Line system from the time the receivership began, up to the present, although April and May will have to be estimated. The report will further show the moneys on hand that may be applied to the defaulted interest on the first mortgage as near as can be shown.

There will be a large delegation of Union Pacific people leave Sunday night for St. Paul, not only including the receivers, but Senator Thurston, solicitor for the receivers Winslow S. About that Hill Deal.

The Boston News Bureau, one of the trongest financial papers in the country, has this to say of the Northern Pacific-Great Northern alliance brought about by James J. Hill: "We have not heretofore accredited the rumors of a Northern Pacific and Great Northern combination, but the details of the plan given from Berlin make it certain that whatever may be the outcome of the plan it is one that originated with James J. Hill. for it is exactly on the lines that first brought into the railroad world one of the cenest, brainiest men this country has ever produced. From the deck of a steamboat run-ning north from St. Paul Mr. Hill looked oward Manitoba, paying no return to its bankers he combined his talent and made the Dutch bondholders a novel proposition under which they turned their bonds over to him and gave him control of the foad. He agreed to pay them one-half the interest they had been originally promised; he and his associates to have the balance. "The Dutch got their interest this time as mised: Mr. Hill and his associates got the road, and the famous St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba crossed the financial horizon, became worth par and a premium, paid a con-siderable stock dividend and regular dividends ever since, and now stands as the preferred stock of the Great Northern, with the common stock unissued. Without the aid of the government, and it might also be said solely by the hand and brain of "Jim" Hill, the Manitoba lines turned from the Canadian border and crossed the western confinent to the Pacific coast, absorbing mineral lands, timber lands, townsites, water powers and other natural resources, and just a few de-grees north of the track in which Jay Cooke, Henry Villard and other distinguished financlers went down, J. ASSAILS THE RECEIVERSHIP.

Nelson Morris Claims the Entire Whisky Trust Proceedings Are Illegal. CHICAGO, May 24 .- Edward Walker, counsel for Nelson Morris in the Whisky trust litigation, made a sensational announcement in Judge Showalter's chambers in the presence of the receivers, the receivers' attorneys and the reorganization committee. He asserted his intention of questioning the juris diction of the court in appointing a receiver under the bill brought by Greenhut in the ipon the bankrupt lines of railroad extending name of Ormiston and other stockholders. 'I not only state," said Walker, "that I shall raise the question of jurisdiction, but I desire that the court make no other order nor take any further steps in this litigation until he answers me on the matter of jurisdiction I am ready to present the subject to the court at any time he may choose. I would like i taken up tomorrow. I will show the court and produce ample authorities, that there is no jurisdiction over the matter by this cour and that every order and every petition and suit growing out of the receivership is void." Jurge Showalter said he could not possibly hear any extended argument for the next two weeks. The statement made by Mr. Walker was called out in the proceedings before the court to grant an order permitting the receiver to investigate the books of Nelson Mo ris relative to the cattle feeding contract The petition asking for the order set that the receiver had been sued by for damages and that it was necessary to cure information from the books or in order to fully answer that a that the receivers desired information relative

Erysipelas and Scrofula All My Life. In Cloths For Weeks. Blisters Size of Peas. Burned Like

Fire. No Rest or Sleep. Tried Three Doctors. Did No Good, Got Cuticura. Immediate Help.

Entire Cure in Three Months.

I have been troubled with Erysipelas and Scrofula all my life. Recently my limbs came out in red spots from the size of my hand down to the mercst pimple. Some of them would fester a little, but mostly fire red, and the large spots looked more like raw beef, and would raise up quite a little from the surface. There would be blisters come as large as peas in different places with the rest. It was all over my limbs from my feet to my body, across my shoulders, and my arms, hands and wrists had to be done, up in cloths for weeks, and they would itch and burn as though I was afire, and there was no sleep for me, and my limbs swelled a good deal. I tried three doctors, but did me no good. Finally a friend recommended Cutteura Remedits, and my husband got them. I gave them a thorough trial, and they helped me right off. In three months time I was all well. Now this was three years ago this spring. I have used six or seven boxes of Cutteura, and have takencarly a dozen bottles of the Cutteura Risotvent, and the Cutteura Scap I use entirely, and there is no other like it for bath and tollet.
