A marriage license has been issued to George W. Cleveland, aged 32, and Dora Harman, aged 22, both of Council Bluffs. The Bryant Lumber and Shingle company commenced an action in the superior court yesterday against the Little Rock Lumber company for $107 on account. The Ladies' union prayer meeting appointed Thursday afternoon this week at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Palmer, will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The damage suit of F. A. Bixby against the Omaha and Council Bluffs Bridge company has been continued in the district court until the return of the company's attorney, J. N. Baldwin. John Deveny's house at the corner of Seventh street and Fifteenth avenue caught fire yesterday, but the blaze was extin-guished by the fire department before much damage was done. Bluff City lodge, No. 71, A. F. and A. M., will meet in special communication this evening, for work in the first degree. All Masons are cordially invited to attend. J. Atkins, secretary Two cases of scarlet fever were reported yesterday, one at the residence of George Schindele on Avenue F, and the other at the residence of Leonard Gilson, corner of Breadway and Elliott street. Judge Smith, in the interests of temperance among the members of the bar, issued a peremptory order to the county board a short time ago to attach a filter to be reduced to $15,000, and Brown amended the spigot in the ante-room just off the discourt room. The filter was put in jected.

yesterday. All ladies desiring to assist the floral committee for Decoration day will meet at the Everett building, 18 Pearl street, Wednesday morning and afternoon. All school children are requested to gather flowers and the committee will collect them Wednesday morning from all the schools. The motor company has been making much needed repairs on its main line during the past few weeks, smoothing out the roadbed by raising the rails where they have sunk below their proper level. The work on the main line has almost been completed, and now the Fifth avenue branch will be taken up.

William Lewis will have a trial on the charge of larceny next Saturday in Justice court. He claims that some one else loaded DeVol's fence wire into his wagon and he did not notice it until he reached Mer gen's hotel. He declares he was just in the act of throwing the wire out of his wagon when he was found by O'Brien.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county recorder yesterday by the Alfalfa Irrigation and Land company, with a capital stock of $5,000,000. The incorporators are: C. O. Knowles, P. G. Noel and William C. Campbell, and the object of the company is to carry on a general irrigation throughout the west, with headquarters in Council Bluffs.

Martha J. McLean was arrested yesterday on a charge of adultery preferred by her husband, A. F. McLean. Burk Luke is named in the information as Mrs. McLean's par-mour. The woman claims that she was married to McLean last December, but that McLean ran off and left her after three onths of connubial life. She has not seen him since. Her bond was signed by her cousin, J. A. Koke, and she will have a hearing this morning at 9 o'clock in Justice Cook's court.

Board of Equalization Cuts Down the Assessed Valuation of the City.

CORPORATIONS G.V.N LARGE FAVORS | again.

Water Works Cut from $50,000 to $29,-000, and Grand Hotel from $20,000 to $10,000-John Evans Wins His Sidewalk Kick.

The Board of Equalization met last evening and struggled manfully for the first time with some of the problems that confronted it at the tail end of its existence.

The water works assessment was brought up and Manager E. W. Hart asked that the assessment be put back to $29,750 instead of $50,000, the figure to which it was raised by the board. He was careful to make no promises, but said that he would recommend to the company that it should not hold the city to a strict compliance with the terms of the charter ordinance, but allow fire hydrants to be put in at a distance of 800 feet from one another, thus cutting down the city's expenses.

Councilman Barstow favored granting the equest, saying that the city was in such shape that any concessions that might be secured from the company would help the city out of part of its present troubles. The motion was carried unanimously.

it was put by the assessor. He detailed the trials and tribulations of the company in getting the establishment opened, and said that the company was not getting a dollar out of the property this year, and did not expect to for a year or two. He showed the bad results that would come to the city in case the hotel had to be closed, and thought patriotism should lead the council to grant his request.
Greenshields moved that the assessment without the Grand hotel. Why, I've seen times here before the Grand hotel was thought of than there are now. Nevertheless, the assessment was reduced to $10,000, and seven councilmen voted for

Mrs. Amy's assessment was reduced from $1,000 to $500. A motion was made to reduce the assess-ment of the Grand Detour Plow company from $2,000 to $1,000. Mayor Cleaver thought it was an outrage for the city to knock off $21,000 from the assessment of a big corporation like the water works company and then refuse to do likewise with the smaller concerns. The cut was made, Brewick and Brown voting no.

The assessment of H. L. Smith & Co. was reduced from $500 to $300. The board ad-journed and reconvened as the city council. The taxes of Eliza R. Wiley, a soldier's widow, were remitted.

The request of Aultman, Miller & Co. for remission of taxes was tabled. The petition of Lincoln avenue residents to e allowed to lay a five-foot sidewalk up to the property line so as to save the shade trees was granted.

The petition for the grading of Fifteently avenue from the east line of Fairmount addition to Fairmount avenue was referred to the committee on streets and alleys. F. J. Day registered a vigorous kick against the building of sidewalks, as proposed in the ordinance recently passed. Residents idents of Avenue G did the same thing. Both kicks were placed on file.

The question of building a sidewalk on Avenue B from Twenty-second to Twenty-eight street was referred to the committee on streets and alleys. Councilman Shubert said he had conferred with T. J. Evans, who was responsible for sidewalk ordinance, and he would be satisfied nmended that this be done, and the ecommendation was concurred in.

The question of requiring L. H. Mossler t lay a new sidewalk in front of his Fourth street residence was referred to the comnittee of the whole.

Lot Was Too Narrow.

In the superior court yesterday the case of John J. Myrtue against U. H. White, involving a lot in Turley's glen, was on trial. Myrtue claims that he bought a lot thirty-eight feet in width from White, but when he came to measure it found it was only twenty-six feet wide. He applied to White for redress, and White fixed matters up as best he could by having the street pushed over a few feet. In this way he brought the lot up to within two or three feet of what he supposed it was when he sold it. But Myrtue has tired of his bargain, and is now suing White to have the sale set aside and to get his money back. The trial was not completed. White claimes the difficulty was due to the mistake on the part of the engineer who surveyed the land.

Company is Lacking in Funds. The attempt of C. C. Jones to get $5,000 out of the United States Mutual Life Insurance association for the death of his brother an implement man who was killed a few years ago, seems about to prove abortive, and for the best of reasons. The suit was tried in the district court a year or more ago and a verdict for the full amount of the claim was returned in favor of the plaintiff. The insurance company appealed the case to the supreme court, and the decision was reversed, on the single and solitary ground that the plaintiff's attorney, Jacob Sims, flourished a revolver in the faces of the jurymen in a rather unseemly fashion. To Mr. Sima' credit it must be said that Judge Deemer was never able to figure out wherein this decision of the supreme court could hold water, but that cut no figure so far as Sims' client getting his judgment was concerned. At that time the company had a perfectly good bond filed, and if the decision of the supreme court had been in favor of the plaintiff his $5,000 would have

But since the case has been awaiting its second trial the insurance been awaiting its second trial the insurance company has given up the ghost, its liabilities being something like $300,000 in excess of its assets, and Jones' chances for getting any insurance money seem to have gone glimmer ing. The case was to have been tried yester-day in the district court, but an indefinite continuance was agreed upon, and the proba-bility is that it will never see the daylight

Where Are the Limits? Andy McFarland and Ed James, two stock herders, were arrested yesterday on the charge of violating the city ordinance prohibiting the herding of cattle east of Twenty-sixth street and north of Fifth avenue. It now looks as though there was no law what ever regulating this matter. There used to be a law of some kind, but no one about the city building seems to know what it was, and a decided cloud was cast over its validity by a recent action of the city council. At all events, Judge McGee, after hearing the evi-dence yesterday morning, and in spite of the fact that it was clearly shown that the two oys had herded their cattle at the corner of Sixteenth avenue and Thirteenth street, inside the district in which herding was supposed to be proscribed, discharged both the defendants. Unless a new ordinance is passed this settles for good the matter about which there have been so many complaints of late, and settles it in favor of the herders.

Why the Homestead Publishing Company Could Not Agree. DES MOINES, May 27,-(Special Telegram.)-Henry Wallace petitioned the district court to appoint a receiver to conduct the affairs and differences of the Pierce-Wallace company, which owns 118 shares of stock in the Homestead Publishing company. Evidence was taken and Henry Wallace placed on the stand this morning in Judge Stevenson's court. His testimony was largely of a historical nature. He testified to the organization of the Pierce-Wallace company and its resources and liabilities and told of the first difference that arose. It was relative to an editorial claimed to have been inserted without his knowledge criticizing Governor Jackson for appointing W. K. Boardman, dairy commissioner. Pierce claimed that the paper was pledged to Dan Sheehan and Wallace used his influence in favor of Boardman, A dozen or so letters were introduced as evidence to show that Wallace and Pierce could not agree. These letters are from Wallace to Pierce and Pierce to Wallace, Most of them passing through the hands of N. T. Guersney, as the attorney for Pierce. Wallace continued this afternoon and showed a difference between himself and Pierce regarding the Homestead policy as to railroads. It is said that Pierce wanted to be neutral, while his associate thought best to speak right out in meetin. The case will consume two or three days.

Figures of Sugar Imports

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.-The sugar imports at this port during the first five months of this year show a slight decline as compared with the same period of 1894, but it is believed that the total imports for 'he present year will be equal to the aggregate for any previous year. The total amount of sugars brought to this port since January 1 1895, is 185,930 tons, as compared with 207, 789 tons in the corresponding period of last year. The stock on hand amounts to 23,400 tons, as compared with 46,317 tons last year.

It Breaks the Health and Weakens the Constitution-What is Said of It by Eminent Specialists-Striking Evidence Today that Proves the Superiority of the Copeland & Shepard System.

On the occasion of his last visit to America street, has lived in Omaha for 25 years. Mr. the late Sir Morrell Mackenzie was asked Kessler says:

lungs. He replied: "In your American climate catarrh unquestionably the cause of more deaths than any other disease. At first it is, as a rule, a little thing, merely a cold in the head. But in a climate like this one cold is not entirely cured before another follows. A succession of colds constitute chronic catarrh. constitution will suffer only inconvenience from catarrh, but all others run a great risk of what may follow. The health is broken. the constitution weakened and, although the catarrh itself may not be the actual cause of death, still, indirectly, by so weakening the system that it is un houses. He further recommended a uniform able resist the attack of another disease color of paint for the same. Referred to it is."

Carl Seiler, M. D., of Philadelphia, an other famous nose and throat specialist, estimates that 90 per cent of the people of America are afflicted with catarrh. David Inglis, M. D., professor of mental and nervous diseases, Detroit College of Medicine, says: "It has seemed to me that the profession is only beginning to wake up to the widespread relation of intranasal disorders to functional disturbances of the nervous system. I have had reason to attribute to nasal trouble not only asthmatic coughs, various gastric disturbances, but melancholia, cholera and epilepsy."

CONQUERING CATARRH.

An Old Time Resident of Omaha Makes Brief Statement that Tells Much. Mr. Charles Kessler, of the firm of Kessler & Thacher, plumbers, 1707 Leavenworth

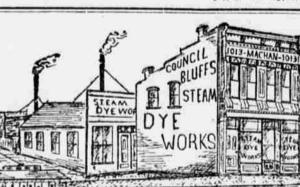

Mr. Charles Kessler, 1707 Leavenworth St.

Mr. Charles Kessler, 1707 Leavenworth St.
"Two years and a haif ago I took a course of treatment with Drs. Copeland & Shepard for catarrhal disease. The malady was slow in its development and I suffered several years before I woke up to the fact thai It was a serious matter.
"The usual head symptoms were present-irritation of the nose with sore and raw throat, requiring constant effort to clear these parts. My nose was nearly closed, making natural breathing impossible. A dryness and parching of the mouth and throat was constant, especially at night, preventing sleep and rest. As might be expected my whole system seemed tired out and depressed and many symptoms told me that I was tainted all through with the disease.

disease. "After being in this state for about a year "After being in this state for about a year I began to lose my hearing and experienced a ringing sound in the ears. The dearness became serious enough to interfere with my business until I placed myself under treatment. The results were all that I could desire, being in fact a substantial cure of my whole case. After a lapse of nearly three years since undergoing treatment my condition warrants the statement that I am cured to stay cured. I cannot do less than to direct all needing the services of specialists to Drs. Copeland and Shepard."
