Last Day of the Races Prominent Young Men for Jockeys-A Great Card. necting ever held on the famous old Union park course. There never has before been such a string of horses on any race track west. There are a few people who never appreciate a good thing until it's past, and they are just realizing that the attractions during every day of the fourteen days' course were greater than many of the crack eastern tracks, and the average time beats even Gravesend. To-day will be the last chance for these people races today will be the most novel and ex citing of the whole course. The card calls for six races, with nearly 100 entries, including all of the best horses that have broken records during the course. sixth will be the gentlemen's road race, one nile and the following well known young gentlemen will be the riders: Bert Woodbury, L. The action was unanimous, for Mr. Wise supplied the pulpit for six weeks during the latter well liked while supplying the pulpit that the report then became current that he had been called to the pastorate.

Mr. Wise is the paster of a Methodist church at Lafayette, and when he becomes pastor of the First Congregational church he must become, according to one of the rules of the church, a member of the church. This will not be difficult, for he has shown that he is not a strict denominationalist. When he is not a strict denominationalist. When supplying the pulpit here he was a student at lowa college, Grinnell, Ia., a Congregational institution, being on a leave of absence for six months from his pastorate at Lafay-ette. He went to Grinnell chiefly to take instruction under Dr. Herron, in charge of the chair of applied Christianity, whose teaching has called forth diverse comment stead of certificates of deposit being issued depositors were given the personal note of n several states.

TEMPERANCE

You may never have such a chance again,

City Engineer Etnyre has been figuring on Main street bridge to Mynster street. The Main street bridge is nearly worn out and is prices below are only 1/2 and 1/4 original too narrow for a street upon which there is so much travel as Main. It will soon have the cost of building a new bridge, and Main

. An iron bridge similar to that on North is said to be in favor of building a culvert on the creek from the west line of Main street to the east line of Bryant. This would require about 170 feet of masonry. The en-gineer has drawn plans for this culvert, which foot, making the total expense slightly over To make such a culvert practicable a system of dams would have to be constructed east of the city, and the council has been seriously considering whether it would not be cheafer eventually to do this than to spend money for bridges, which would have to be renewed from time to time, and to spend money each year in paying off damages for overflows. The ground was surveyed some time ago and a spot in Garner township a mile and a hair east of the city limits was banks too full, and destructive freshets would be things of the past.

The cost of the system of dams is estimated at $4,000. The question that is bothering the aldermen is where to get the money son. The races will commence at 2 o'clock. Cast Off by His Relatives. William Ballard, an eccentric character 83 years of age, has been kept at the Woman's Christian Association hospital ever since last January as a charity patient, and new the man formerly lived in Audubon county, bu three years ago left for Chicago. After stay-ing there awhile he went to Fremont county, Iowa, and finally drifted in to Council Bluffs about six months ago. He peddled various articles about the street but failed to make his living. He was finally taken in and given food and shelter by the ladies.

Mr. Ballard comes of a well known and wealthy family. He is a brother of the late Dr. Ballard, whose widow still lives on First avenue, opposite Bayliss park, and is one of the wealthiest and most charitable ladies in the city. He is also a cousin of Congress-man Ben Butterworth of Ohio and Alderman Ballard, a millionaire of Chicago. Mrs. Ballard gave him $10 a few weeks ago and a rel-ative in Colorado $25 about the same time. and those two amounts, so far as is known are all he has received since January.

L. Swearingen, overseer of the poor, was asked to look after him, but declined to do so on the ground that he had not acquired a residence here and was consequently not legally entitled to assistance from the county.

racated by Mr. Olney.

Among the rumors this morning is one to the effect that after transferring Mr. Olney to the State department the president will place Secretary Hoke Smith in the attorney general's office and fill the office of secretary of the interior by the appointment of ex-Governor Francis of Missouri. It is well known that the president has the kindest feelings toward Mr. Francis, and his appointnizing the younger and progressive of his party. Secretary Smith, being a lawyer by profession, is also supposed to have a decided preference for the attorney general-

About a year ago Commissioner of Pensions Lochren caused the pension of Judge Long to be reduced from ommissioner of pensions had no authority o reduce the pension. The court of appeals oday reversed that decision, holding that a ension is not a vested right, except in a very limited sense, as shown by the act of December 2, 1893; that the courts cannot in-

RUSSIAN MEATS ARE EXCLUDED

Karel at St. Petersburg has sent to the State department a report upon the efforts Russia is now making to overcome the obstacles which interfere with the export of her cattle and meats to different European markets. At present no Russian cattle are exported to Austria, England, France or Germany, ex-ports being confined to Italy, Greece and the island of Malta. Russian meats are allowed in Germany, but the quarantine rules, it is contended, are being abused to its exclusion the quality. Lately it has been foun! ery suitable for beef ten and a demand created, it being used almost exclusively for that purpose. The largest consumer of im-parted meats is England, that country using
