Charge that Jobbers Were Selling Adulterated Goods Causes a Spirited Discussion -Effort to Save America from the Flood of Foreign Nostrums.

Acting upon the report of the reference committee, to which was submitted the subject of trade interests, the Nebraska State Pharmaceutical association unanimously passed a resolution yesterday asking the University of Omaha to establish a department

The sentiment was developed by a discussion of the feasibility of creating a state college of pharmacy.

In the midst of the remarks W. D. Haller of Blair, president of the State Board of Medical Examiners, and who was a member of the last legislature, frankly told the convention that it would be hopeless to expect any relief from the State university. He proceded to pay his respects to that institution and said that 500 students attended the State university who should be educated at the Lincoln High school. By rights a chair of pharmacy should be established at the June 2, 3 and 4 at Lincoln in 1896. State university, and if proper methods were adopted it could be. The state was in debt and the university was overcrowded with Lincoln youths. Mr. Haller was greeted with applause, especially when he stirred up the present methods at the university with reference to Lincoln pupils.

Other recommendations of the trades interests were discussed and the report was received and placed on file.

The report of the executive committee was received and adopted. TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC.

The sentiment met with the concurrence of the delegates. A resolution of thanks was tendered all firms which contributed prizes, and the secretary was instructed to show the proper appreciation under the official seal, Mrs. Julia Crissey Hoobler read an interesting paper on "The Soda Fountain, Its Uses and Abuses" which was well received. 'Judicious Advertising for the Retail Drug-

ADULTERATED GOODS SOLD. During a discussion prior to the noon re-cess the question of additorated drugs created a small breeze. M. E. Shultz of Beatrice openly announced that every drug jobbing house sold adulterated drugs and he favored action to improve the quality of goods which were shipped to druggists wanted a microscopic test and a rigid law for better drugs.

Mr. Haller of Blair believed the only relief was a national law which would pre-vent importation of adulterated drugs from other states. A state legislative enactment he believed, would not be remedial.

he believed, would not be remedial.

Mr. Snow of Omaha made a speech expressing surprise that a druggist would knowingly sell adulterated drugs, and said that the remarks of the preceding speakers were too sweeping, and he challenged their assertions to a large extent. Druggists as a class were not knowingly distributing an inferior quality of drugs to customers. inferior quality of drugs to customers.

Mr. Haller refused to concur with Mr.

Snow. He arose again and repeated that nearly every druggist in Nebraska was selling adulterated goods, and the people, he said, were to blame for it, because the drug business was being made a "commercial" occupation, because department stores were selling goods cheap, and the people were always looking for popular prices.

Mr. Sherman of Omaha sustained Mr.
Snow and defended the charge that druggists were handling "watered goods," WOULD NOT BACK DOWN. Mr. Shultz and Mr. Haller, however, im movably stood by their frank assertions and threw a few more bombs into the convention. Mr. Kuhn expressed his amazement at the assertions and dehis amazement at the assertions and de-fended the charge that even inferior soda water was being shoved over marble coun-ters in drug stores. The discussion waxed warm and Mr. Snow again filled the air with medical volapuk and description of an analy-tical test of the drugs sold in Omaha, but many of the country delegates maintained silence and allowed the battle to be fought out between the five leading participants. Mr. Smith Wilson briefly admitted that

Test is Made. The Durant steamer will be placed in position in No. 6 engine house as soon as the arrangements are made for an official test of the apparatus. Chief Redell wants an inspection to be made in the presence of representatives of the city and the Union Pacific company, so that there may never be any controversy in regard to the condition of the steamer at the time it goes into municipal service. The test will probably be made in a few days and the steamer will then go into the regular service.

As soon as the Durant engine goes into service the Fire King will be taken down and overhauled for needed repairs. The pumps need a thorough going over, and this and the addition of a relief valve will put the engine into very fair condition. No location of the Fire King.

Action of the Joint Committee Appointed to Secure Better Water Pressure.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP PROPOSED

Immediate Steps Recommended to Get Possession of the Water Works Property Under Forfeiture Clause or by Condemnation.

A meeting of the joint committee of the city council and Board of Fire and Police commissioners appointed to secure from the federal court an enlargement of water mains to secure better protection from fire was held at the city hall yesterday afternoon. For the council the mayor and two of the regular committee on fire and water, Messrs. Prince and Bechel, and for the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners the whole board save Smith were present. The city engineer, the city attorney and Chief Redell of the fire department were present by special invitation. Commissioner Brown's plan was that the committee report back to the city council, recommending that immediate steps be taken to secure an enlargement of the mains by an agreement with the receivers. In ase this was impossible the city attorney should be the specific performance of its contract by the water works company.

City Attorney Connell said that a preferable course would be to proceed to take the perty of the company under forfeiture, ording to the terms of the franchise, as this was the right of the city when violation of contract had been proved.

The city attorney was supported by Com dissioner Strickler, who introduced the following resolution:
Resolved, That it is the sense of this joint committee that the city of Omaha should own the water works and that necessary steps should be taken as speedily as possible by the mayor and city council to acquire title thereto.

It was suggested that by the latter method no relief could be had soon, but the city attorney said he would take a contract to secure the entire plant by forfeiture procodings by a year from next fall. Brown said he believed that if possession f the plant was desired he thought it should e secured by exercising the right of eminent omain and by condemnation proceedings entirely independent of the contract. Mayor Bemis was for proceeding as sug-ested by the city attorney and Mr Strickler's resolution was seconded by him. Prince was very anxious that the mittee have a meeting with Judge Dundy for his advice as to how best to secure re

Mr. Connell agreed that the interview with Judge Dundy might be advisable, and he thought that after that a formal demand should be made by the city on the water works company to carry out its contract by supplying pipe of the necessary size, and if it refused the mayor and council should be recommended to begin such proceedings as would result in the ownership of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city leaving the council of the plant by the city of the the plant by the city, leaving the question open whether the proceedings should be under forfeiture or by condemnation. This view was put into the form of a resolution which was offered as a substitute for Strickler's, but Strickler's was adopted. The impor-tant difference between the two is that the one adopted did not provide for making on the water works company a formal demand that it fulfill its contract. The vote on mak-ing the substitute was a tie, Bechel, Prince and Brown voting for and Mayor Bemis Strickler and Deaver against. On Strickler's resolution the vote was: For, Bemis, Strick ler, Deaver and Brown; against, Bechel and

May Middleton of Cheyenne Administers to Herself a Familianose of Potson. A fatal sequel to what appears to be another story of misplaced-confidence occurred at the Presbyterian hospital at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when May Middleton, a young woman 22 years of age, died from

She was in a delicate condition and was a stranger in the She came alone, and during her stay at the institution has been very reticent concerning herself and her troubles. The only information that was learned from her was that she had lived at Cheyenne, Wyo. The story of her trouble is gathered from a letter which was found in her possession.

The letter was dated at Cheyenne June 2 and was evidently in reply to one which was written by Miss Middleton after she entered It covered four pages, closely written, and abounds in tender phrases and endearing epithets. The writer referred in-directly to the girl's condition and expressed satisfaction that she had found a place where she could have good care and nursing. Judging from the closing sentences of the letter, the writer is under a cloud, for he tells her to direct the envelope as she addressed the previous one, and to write on the inside to her "own ever loving John Sharp." He speaks of troubles which are not explained and expresses the hope that all will yet end well and that when the clouds have all cleared away there will be many happy years in store for both. It is believed that the name-given at th spital is an assumed one and that Miss Middleton was a young woman who had come to Omaha to conceal the results of her indiscretion. What is the Outlook for an Uncommonly Hot, Trying Summer. Last winter was long and severe. Will the summer in its turn be uncommonly hot and trying? Men ask each other this question as they gather around the therometers and wonder if the sun is going to break the record. Weather cranks, like jealous people, are always looking for information that will make them wretched. Unfortunately for the great army of stay-at-homes in towns and cities it is not possible to ignore the heat altogether, It will obtrude itself on the attention with wearisome persistence. But it is possible to keep the body in a state of active resistance to the health-destroying influences of the season. This is done by anything that keeps up the vital force, acts upon the organs of excretion, so that waste matter is readily thrown off and generally exercises a soothing, strengthening, beneficent power.

Of all means devised for this end Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the most conspicuously useful. It is kept in thousands of households, and is particularly valuable in all cases where vital force is depressed and the system is inert and forceless. That such circumstances demand a stimulant-something to act quickly and thoroughly-has long been the concurrent testimony of the best physicians.
