CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Business Improving as the Crop Conditions Become More Promising.

HOPES FOR THE FUTURE ARE VERY BRIGHT

Reports from All Sections Tributary to This Market Show Renewed Confidence Among itusiness Men - Values in Some Lines Are Advancing.

SATURDAY, June 8.

With the opening of the current month trade conditions became far more promising, owing to the improved crop prospects, and the past week has witnessed no change in the general situation. From all parts of the territory tributary to this market the reports are the same, all indicating splendid crop conditions. Business men are becoming more confident every day, and are preparing for a prosperous

The jobbing trade of this city, after a donged period of quiet, is once more taking on the appearance of activity. While the volume of business falls far short of what would be expected in an ordinary season, it is much better than it was a month ago. It is not to be understood that there is anything like a boom in sight, but only a gradual improvement, which keeps pace with the growing crops. Sales of merchandise are still based very largely upon the actual wants of consump-

A month ago the dry weather discouraged buying and merchants generally let their stocks run down, and, now that the their stocks run down, and, now that the prospect is more hopeful, they are forced to stock up, and jobbers, without exception, are reporting an increase in the number and size of their orders.

There is not very much more money in circulation than a month ago, but it is generally believed that a continuance of the present bright prospects will before long bring it out. Low prices, with the prospect of an advance, will be a great temptation for investment on the part of those who have money. PRICES GROWING FIRMER.

PRICES GROWING FIRMER.

In the line of hardware there is a strengthening of values, and the whole market is on the upgrade. Nearly everything in the line of staple goods, in which material cuts any figure, has advanced 5 to 10 per cent. Barb wire has gone up 15 cents per hundred during the past week. It is figured that the advance in the raw material, together with the advance in labor, amounts to about 10 per cent, and the manufacturers are forced to put up prices to avoid an actual loss on their goods. Manufacturers of pretty much all staple products are now running on good prices to avoid an actual loss on their goods. Manufacturers of pretty much all staple products are now running on good time, and some of them turning out supplies to almost a normal extent. Increasing cost of Iron and metals influences hardware to a considerable extent.

In the grocery line the market has been steady on most lines during the past week and there have been few features of any great importance. The prices now being realized, while generally higher than they were at the beginning of May, are still below the figures ruling at this time last year, and much lower than those current in May, 1893, when the period of depression began. Grocers in the east are pointing out that there is an increased demand for returning prosperity. This branch of the trade has languished for a year back, but is again getting into a more healthy condition, in the east, at least.

It is between seasons with the dry goods people, and no great activity is looked for, and yet the improvement in the feeling extends to this branch of the trade, as well as to others. In consequence of the bright prospects prevailing in the country, preparations for the fall trade are being made on a scale indicating that a large business is prospected. Prices in dry goods have firmed up, though they are not back where they were before the dull times came on, and, with the purchasing power of the people increased by a good fron, the fall trade in the dry goods line could hardly be otherwise than most satisfactory.

The shoe trade has experienced about the same improvement as other lines of the be otherwise than most satisfactory.

The shoe trade has experienced about the same improvement as other lines of the jobbing trade. Orders for delivery next month, or later, are being blocked very freely at the present time. It is really a surprise to jobbers that there should be such a sudden improvement in the feeling in such a short space of time.

The Medessa Mineral Water

The Medessa Mineral Water company has erected a building, 25,50 feet at its springs and have put in a complete plant of bottling and carbonating machinery.

It has also put two wagons on the street. This new Omaha industry starts out with employing four men and several boys.

The Nebraska Shirt company is turning out the new uniforms for the Woodmen of the World, and they are pronounced very attractive. of the World, and they are pronounced very attractive.

Aaron Hene and Oscar C. Hene, the cigar manufacturers of Burlington, Ia. were in the city yesterday, and have practically decided to move their factory to this city. They will manufacture for the jobbing trade exclusively, and are are making arrangements to employ fifty men at the start.

A FUTURE THAT LOUKS BRIGHT.

Business is Better and Everybody Sees

Signs of Prosperity. The local representative of the Snow, Church & Co., Commercial Agency, in view ing the business situation, sums it up as fol-

The business situation in Omaha and Nebraska during the week just ending has been decidedly good as compared with previous weeks. The farming community throughout the state is happy, contented throughout the state is happy, contented and jubilant and the business community, of course, dependent almost entirely upon the agriculture of the state, is consequently feeling good. The crops are everything at present, at least so far as corn is concerned, that could be desired. There has been plenty of rain and none would be needed, as we are advised from creditable and reliable sources for ten days or two weeks.

Omaha's trade in the far west is being pushed very rapidly and Jarge bills are being sold. The only bad feature that we know of in selling in the extreme west is the large expense in getting the orders. Omaha houses selling in Montana, Idaho and Wyoming report payments with a fair degree of prompiness. All lines handled by the Omaha merchants, particularly drugs, oils and boots and shoes, show a satisfactory and growing business. There is practically no change in the furniture or hardware trades.

Omaha has just got through with another tically no change in the furniture or hardware trades.

Omaha has just got through with another convention, that of the druggists, and the members of the association from all parts of the state report themselves as well pleased with the treatment they received while here. Omaha cannot have too many conventions. They bring not only the distinct members of the body to the city, but they bring a great many strangers who all do more or less advertising for the city.

It is gratifying to note that the head of one of the very large dry goods houses of New York thinks well enough of Omaha to establish what will eyentually grow into a very large department house here and we understand that it is the intention of this gentleman to open a house with a pre-liminary stock of goods of at least $100,000 in value. This certainly shows that Omaha must be considered a good point for this class of business and it also shows no fear on the part of the projector that Omaha is going backwards. It has been generally supposed that the Goldgrabers of Lincoln and Fremont were to open this store. This is not true. They may have something to do with it, but merely in a cierical capacity.

do with it, but merely in a clerical capacity.

Taking everything into consideration, abundant crops promised and the satisfactory condition of business, the outlook is certainly encouraging and it is to be hoped that Omaha and the state will receive no setback and, as far as can be judged at this time there is not even the smallest cloud on the horizon.

BETTER TIMES ARE ON THE WAY.

Tradesmen See a Sky that is Free from the Dark Clouds,

W. H. Roberson, speaking of the week's trade from the point of view of R. G. Dun & Co.'s Mercantile Agency, says: The weather has a great deal to do with trade and therefore no one can discuss trade and therefore no one can discuss business conditions or prospects without predicating his conclusions upon climatol-gogy and meteorology. The weather is all that we can desire and the effects of the change from drouth to moisture constitute the basis for our business confidence.

The spring grain crop is not so seriously damaged as was supposed. Hye will be short and wheat short, but oats will reach almost an average in most sections. Corn is making all the progress to be desired and farmers are now very sure that the season will prove profitable.

It is suggested that possibly the zone, perhaps the hemisphere and possibly the earth at large is experiencing some sort of meteorological revolution and that we shall be obliged to wait a few years before we ghall be able to forecast weather and crop conditions with any mort of success. Florida oranges were frozen last winter, and northern fruits suffered from frosts late the present spring. The storm which wrecked the Colima was unusual on the Pacific and it swept from the Central American equatorial belt to the far northeeast, losing itself beyond the great lakes. Extreme heat in April and extreme cold in May, together with many other incidents of the year or two past, suggest the possibility that the present years are epochal in climatology.

At South Omnha business is extremely duil. One day this week the receipts were fifty carloads and the market was so listless and indifferent that the shipper sent the stock on to Chicago. The packing houses are open, but they are not active and but little stock is coming in. Within thirty days, however, range cattle will be fat and desirable. The market will then awaken and business in the packing suburb will resume its old familiar proportions. Cattlemen say that there are penty of cattle on the plains and they anticipate a very active market this summer and fall.

With the wholesale houses everybody feels encouraged. Greeries are of course in big demand. The dry goods people state that

With the wholesale houses everybody feels encouraged. Groceries are of course in big demand. The dry goods people state that their trade was never so good as during the past week. Several opening stocks and large sales brought the aggregate up to a figure exceeding any previous week. The boot and shoe houses are enjoying prosperous trade, but they are not altogether happy. In fact, among all the jobbers there is a sentiment stranger than ever for another dry goods house. Many first-class men in trade believe that they should take hold of this subject and offer a subsidy if necessary in order to add one more dry goods house to the market.

The grain men of the city are alert again, new houses are going into the business and new houses are going into the business and efforts are being actively put forth to re-open the idle elevators. open the idie elevators.

Business is reviving everywhere. When we have more to do we shall have less time to complain and be blue. The far west and Iowa are still responding with most generous orders, and later in the year Nebraska, whose storekeepers are sold down to the limit, will be ordering largely. "We shall all be happy yet."

TROPICAL FRUITS.

Advices have just come to hand from the Earl Fruit company indicating that there is a possibility of the freight on oranges being reduced to $1 per cwt. to all points which now take the rate of $1.25 per cwt. This reduction would make a difference of about 20c per box in the freight charges. The present charge is 90c per lox and the dollar rate would make the freight 72c per box.

Reports from Florida rather indicate that her pulmiest days in orange growing are over for a time at least. Of coarse there will be lots of oranges shipped from that state so long as oranges are grown enywhere, but it will be some time before Florida will be what it has been in past years, so far as a heavy yield is concerned. The big freeze of last winter was the straw that broke the camel's back. A great many of the groves there have been owned by nonresidents, who hirsel managers to look after their property and in some instances the manager would have a half dozen groves to look after for as many different owners. For the last three or four years, when the crop did not suffer from frest or other drawback, prices ruled too low to place the cultivation on a paying basis and many of these nonresident owners began to get discouraged. Then came the big frost last winter, which not only destroyed a year's crop, but in many parts of the state the irrees as well. Since then these parties have withdrawn from business, have abandoned their holdings and are offering orchards at low prices. Quotations:

Preasurer Joseph O'Neil is not disposed to attach much importance to the free silver convention recently held in Springfield, III., nor to take seriously the statement that if its action shall be followed out to its logical conclusion the democratic party will be in danger of disruption. He says that any convention that may be called by the silver men if they were to ignore the authority of the democratic national committee would be but democratic national committees a "romp" convention and would not be representative of the democratic party. Al-though he admits there is a strong feeling in the south and west in favor of free coin age of silver, Mr. O'Neil says the views of the extremists who were present at the Springfield convention do not represent the sentiments of the majority of the people of the country nor even a majority of the democratic party.
"If they persist in their course," said Mr.

O'Neil, "in my belief it will result in the further degradation of silver rather than its advancement, because the more this question is discussed before as an intelligent jury as the people of the United States, it seems to me the worse it is for the extreme alvocates of silver."
