The accepted arrangement or scheme furnishing in nearly every library today provides for a line of low bookcases, leaving a wall space for pictures equal to at least three-fifths of the total height of the room. Such low cases, finely made throughout, and with little or no adornment, are rarely found in the stock of an ordinary furnture store. They can always be procured of us, however, and at about half the price you would pay for building them to order.

They are very stoutly and strongly joined volumes. The doors are triple hinged and The doors are tripe binged and dustproof; they close tightly against a center mullion, which obviates the clummy inside asked him if his name was Elliott, and he hook or bolt formerly used. Remember that hey Are Also Able to Identify the Vallse as Carried by Him Then-Bow Prisoner Acted When Told His Real Name.

It has been discovered that Elliott, the afe blower who was arrested on suspicion of having a hand in the robbery of the Rix store and the attempted safe blowing in Caloun on Wednesday morning, was going in that direction late on Tuesday night. Yesterday E. H. Link and John Kale, conductor and motorman on the Sherman avenue line, boarded their train, one of them with a valise, at Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue, and rode west to the end of the line. Each had a transfer from the Twenty-fourth street line. Elliott was shown to them and they positively ientified him as one of the men, being the ne who carried the valise. The valise was then shown up and they also positively identified this as being the one that E liott carried. Although the prisoner gave his name as C. F. Martin, there seems to be no doubt now hat his right name is Elliott, one of the well known crooks and cracksmen of that name. When he was brought to the station Sergeant Ornisby was present, and after looking at him immediately said that the man was Elliott. He was laughed at by some of the other sergeants present and the picture of Elliott in the rogues' gallery was examined. A striking resemblance between it and the prisoner was at once noticed. Then the prisoner's clothes were examined and all his linen was found marked "Ell." Yesterday one of the officers

Weal. Elliott is not wanted anywhere just it the present time.

This statement was true. Although there are a number of recent safeblowings on record in which it is suspected that Elliott had a hand, there is in no case any direct proof sufficient to hold him. The only points that con nect him with the Calhoun robbery are the fact that he was captured in the neighbor hood, and that he had the value of burglars ools in his possession. The man who was

Legislature Has Power to Delegate Execu tive Power to a Special Board, INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 13 .- The supreme court today affirmed the prison directors case. It came up from La Porte county, where the circuit court decided | against the governor in the contention over the appointing power in the matter of se lection of trustees for the state prison. laws of the last legislature delegated to a board of officers, including the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general, the right to appoint directors for prisons. The governor refused to act with the board or to commission the directors selected by it. He attacked the constitutionality of the law, holding that the legislature might create an office, but had no power to fill it. The governor claimed the appointing power was lodged in him and could not otherwise be delegated. The court hold-against him in all the material allegations and Charles Hartley, warden of the northern prison, according to the board's election will prison, according to the board's election, will succeed J. W. French. The case applies with equal force to the prison south.

AT THE FEDERAL BUILDING.

Judge Dundy Takes Up the Trial of Criminal Causer-Federal Notes. Judge Dundy called the criminal docket in federal court yesterday. Daniels and Gibbons, the young men acused of selling unstamped cigars at Osceola, were placed on trial. The Woolworth-Root civil case is still in the hands of the jury. The grand jury is at work on the Dunbar postoffice robbery case and the complaints with relation to selling liquor to Winnebago Indians. There are a large number of state witnesses in attendance at court, among whom are: J. O. Copple, C. P. Wilmot, Bancroft; A. L. Pound. John Cunan, E. Weir, A. C. Langdon, W. H. Bates, Lincoln; C. H. MOVING DAT MORSE'S.

Adding a Stock of Graceries to Fill Up the

BREAKING CHINA PRICES TO PIECES

Crockery and Glassware Stocks in the City terlle Sold at Almost Any Price.

We have bought the groceries. The stock is now on the way.

The carpenters are right now in the base ment, and in spite of all precautions they break a valuable vase or chip China at almost every jar. They are bad men to have in a chine shop and we are much more willing to sell you something at some price than to leave it in the basement to be broken. And besides we must move out the china to make room for the greceries, the most complete stock ever brought to this city.

All along we've had more china and glass ware than is shown in almost any two crdinary retail houses, and it's too much. We have made reductions to reduce this stock within reason and were succeeding quite well when we had this chance to buy a whole grecery stock, but now all plodding

THE CHINA MUST GO. And in order to move it we simply make prices that were never heard of before Common clay is no lower than china now you can buy a whole dinner set, 100 pieces, English decorated dinner set, for $5.50; or a omplete toilet set for $1.65.

In fact, anything and everything in the basement goes this week for next to nothing. much less than the cost of making, just to make room for the groceries. S. P. MORSE, DRY GOODS CO.,

WEEKLY IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Continued Reports of Advance in Prices and in Wages.

CLEVELAND, O., June 13 .- The Iron Trade Review this week will say: "The week has brought the regular quota of advances in prices and in wages to the iron and steel industry. Mahoning Valley furnace managers have granted their employes an increase of 10 per cent, following the pace se in the Shenandoah Valley a few weeks ago, and eastern steel works have announced high rates, effective in July. In pig iron, under continued buying, Bessemer has risen to $11.80 in the valley and $12 is expected by sellers as the next stage in the advance, making the Pittsburg price $12.65. The most mportant development is the renewed effort o make effect ve what has been discussed at intervals for several years in connection with the leading pig fron producers of the south— the establishment of a selling agency and the allotment of output with an agreed basis of prices for the different grades. It is re-ported that $7.50 for gray forge at Alabama furnace is the figure talked of. The Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad company and the Sloss Iron and Steel company ar the chief figures in the arrangement and it is believed their directors have sanctioned a year's arrangement. The steady advance i southern iron, amounting now to $1, has been supported by the well sold condition of the leading furnaces and this condition opens the way to still higher prices, so that the difficulties such a move would have encountered at any time in the past two years are largely removed. With the proposed advance in southern from there would be no difficulty in holding current prices on northern foundry and forge irons, and giving a margin beside for still higher prices. especially if southern roads should put their rates up correspondingly.

Objecting to the Assessments.

The county commissioners will hear the first equalization case on Saturday morning The usual number of objections to assessments are being reported, one party, who was assessed at $2,900 last year being assessed at only $2,000 this year. Still he was on hand objecting. Commissioner Jenkins asked him how he expected the county to run if a 30 per cent cut was made all around. As it is, members of the county board al-ready believs that the estimated expenses for next year will have to be materially cut if the assessment shows the expected falling off.
