for Omaha in the meetings of the state as-sociation is explained by the fact that only clubs in cities on easy connectional lines are represented.

clubs in cities on easy connectional lines are represented. Added to this is the criticism against the management of the Omaha tournaments. It is alleged that it is in the interest chiefly of Frank Parmalee and his conductor, J. C. Rend. They complain that these two men-have a 'cinch' on the business. They say that the program is so fashioned that Parmalee, a member of the executive com-mittee, may have a snap in furnishing am-munition and blue rocks. Another objec-tion is that, for the sake of the finances of these two parties, the matches are made too insignificant and too many, so that the price of the targets at 3 cents, and too frequent ties, eat up the entrance fee and the added money for each event. The upshot of it all is that there is strong probability that the Western Nebraska Sportsmer's a's claion, which amalyama'ed with the Nebraska Sportsmen's association at Hastings in 1892, will soon be reorgan-ized.

the Capital City club, but had not paid the initiation fee of $10, and Laushaw contended that the Capital City club should not have a vote until this fee was paid. After con-siderable discussion Rogers paid the fee and the club was considered in good stand-ing and entitled to four votes. The report of the treasurer, W. H. S. Hughes, showed $100.35 in his hands. The question as to the place where the next annual tournament should be held then came up. J. C. Read, for Omaha, promised that if the shoot were held at this city $1,000 added money would be furnished. Rogers for Lincoln promised that if the shoot should go there $500 or $1,000 would be put up as added money. Hangraves of Sut-ton spoke for his town, and said that $500 added money would be put up, promisid besides good accommodations and a good shoot. Smith of Kearney insisted that if the shoot went away from Omaha, it should be at Kearney, and he suggested strongly that Omaha was too far to one side of the state.

that Omaha was too far to one sue of the state. On the place of the next annual shoot the information ballot stord: Omaha, 29; Lin (coln, 12; Kearney, 8; Sutton, 4; Arapahae, 4. On the formal ballot Omaha received 28 yotes to 20 for Lincoln and was an-nounced as the place where the next tournament would be held. President G. W. Loomis, Vice President Ted Ackerman, Secretary Frank Parmalee and Treasurer W. H. S. Hughes were then re-elected by acclamation. SIR WALTER, DOMINO AND LAZZARONE

One of the Three Should Win the Suburban at heepshrad Today.

NEW YORK, June 14 .- Tomorrow will be opening day of the Jockey club's spring contest of the year. The Suburban this year is of less value than ever before. This was made necessary by the uncertainty that surrounded racing when the stake was entered. However, the horse owner does not value the Suburban for its money. It is the glory and honor of winning this great handicap that is coveted. Following are the entries, weights and probable jockeys: Sir Walter, 126, Dogget: Domino, 125, Tarail I. Murphy; Sister Mary, 115, Hamilton; De-clare, 108, J. Lamley; Song and Dance, 99 Grillin. The withdrawal of Ramapo has been a great factor in the decrease of in-ing entries three are confesselly only out for second and third money. Song and Dance is the lightweight of the party, hav-ing to take up but ninety-nine pounds, al-though with Griffin in his saddle he will have to carry several pounds overweight.

Of course, all the players were not contaminated by this jaundice work, for the blunders were confined to but four men, little Miles hogging the persimmons with no less than six. Shaffer's brace of errors were attributable to the rough field, and consisted in letting two hits get by him. The outfield is very rough and full of gopher holes and is in sad need of leveling and rolling. On the other hand, the Capital City crowd made one misplay, a wild throw by Senator Hill to first. Considerable Dissatisfaction Exists Among the state Association Members. During the annual meeting of the Nebraska Sportsmen's association at the Mercer hotel last evening an undercurrent of feeling was noticed that did not seem ominous while the meeting continued, but showed itself clearly so after the meeting adjourned.

The truth of the matter is that a considerable part of the association is not satisfied, and indeed is greatly dissatisfied, with the manner in which the annual shoots are lockey McDonald Gives the Talent at St. Lou's a Terrible Throw Down.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.-The Kendall stable's entry, Urania, won the first event today with ease, and A. B. C., the favorite, won the second event in a drive. This gave the talent a world of courage to bet on the talent a world of courage to bet on Prince Carl, the hot favorite in the third race at 2 to 5. It was considered finding money at these figures, but the favorite was ridden around the course in a dreamy way and never allowed to become promi-nent at any stage of the contest, Jockey J.
