BUTTE, Neb., June 17 .- (Special Telegram.) -The work of securing a jury in the trial of the men accused of the murder of Barrett Scott was finally completed this foresion being taken up by the attorneys in ex-amining talesmen called to fill vacancies caused by the dismissal of Holbrook, noon, the greater part of the morning ses-Guenther and Jacoby, who were peremptorily challenged by the state. The jury was finally empaneled just before noon and sworn. It is composed of the following: J.

W. Fairbanks, James Reynolds, Allen Schmidt, J. D. Smith, Hans Hansen, Wil-Ham Shultz, Charles Kudger, John Wilkenson, T. B. Searles, R. Bauman, B. T. Peterson and G. Wilkinson.

After the jury had been sworn Attorney Harrington for the defense gave notice to the court that he would file a motion that he hoped would dispose of the Barrett Scott case as far as Boyd county was concerned The motion, he said, would be in effect that the state should be required to make a showing in regard to the allegations in the information which charges that the conspiracy to murder Barrett Scott was laid in Boyd county. In the event that the court sustains the motion then the defense will move to dismiss the prisoners at the bar on the ground that as they have already been placed in jeopardy no further action can be taken against them on the charge

The court took a recess until 1:20 o'clock in order to consider the points raised by the ATTORNEYS HAVE A CONFERENCE.

When court convened this afternoon the at when court convened this afternoon the at-torneys for the defense concluded to post-pone the presentation of the argument on the question of jurisdiction until after the state had increased its evidence.

Attorney General Churchill made the opening address to the jury, and rehearsed the circumstances leading up to the assault upon Scott at Parker, saying that after lying in wait in the vacant house on the road to Scottville, the lynchers, when the rig which contained Scott, his wife and daughter, Miss McWhorter and the driver, Schmidt, arrived at the house, fired on the occupants, killing one horse and wound on Scott's neck one builet ing a slight wound on Scott's neck one builet ing a slight wound on Scott's neck, one bullet lodging in Miss McWhorter's side, and, tak-ing Harris' team, which is a black horse and a gray one, then took Scott several miles. and that Elliott took Mrs. Scott toward O'Neill and left Schmidt on the prairies to find his way home as best he could. The team and wagen went further north crossed the Whiting bridge, going up the turned to the other side of the river. The body was found in the river with a repe about the neck, and everything shows that he was dead when placed there; that at the time of Scott's capture Mrs. Scott and Miss McWhorter recognized Mullihan, and when they attempted to place Scott from the buggy Miss McWhorter scratcher his hands with her finger nails. Mullihan that night who arrested still had the marks. Miss Mo Whorter also testified at the preliminary trial that she recognized Elliott by his gold ring, which he were when no was taking Scott from the buggy. TALKS ABOUT PLRSECUTION. Attorney Harrington, in reply to the state-ments made by the attorney general, said the present trial was no less than persecu-tion, and asserted that it was the constitutional right of every citizen to be tried by jury of his neighbors in the county when the crime was committed. He said that is the United States the transportation of prisoners to another county to be tried on a complex charge was not showed; that the defendants were brought to Boyd county on the supposition that a conviction could not be had in Holt county. He said it was not be had in the transport of Bornes and the supposition of the supposition of the supposition of the supposition of Bornes and States and States of Bornes and States of his intention to traduce the action of Bar-rett Scott in his lifetime; that in order to clear his clients it would be necessary, if the case came to trial, to show up some reasons why Scott's life had been taken, no by the prisoners at the bar, but by men who are interested in concealing evidence which Scott possessed of their connection with the locting of the Holt county treasury. He said that two or more interested parties who were afraid he would squeal on them and send them to the penitentiary murdered Bar ret: Scott, and because Mullihan and the other defendants spoke their sentiments with out regard to the time or place in O'Neil and elsewhere regarding the affair they were selected as the scapegraces of the real crim-inals and an effort made to fasten the crime on them. He said Scott held a check over the heads of the men who were his accom-plices in the shape of notes, which would be brought out against Scott, and that he was murdered to save them. He said no one be-lieved that these defendants were in Boyd county it December or January. At the close of his argument, in spite of the efforts of the balliff, an ovation was given Mr. Harringtou. The judge severely reprimanded the spectators and instructed the sheriff to see that no further demonstra-

DEBATE ON THE SCHOOL QUESTION Speeches of Both the Government and Opposition Surprisingly Mild.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 17.—In the legiswith the separate school order, as given out in the House on Thursday, was the first matter taken up. Premier Greenway, in moving the adoption of the resolution, which was to be Manitoba's answer to the Dominion government regarding separate schools, spoke for three-quarters of an hour, and was listened to with close attention by members and also by a large audience in the galleries. Premier Greenway said he merely proposed to introduce the matter to the legislature, leaving the full discussion of the subject to embers who might follow him. There had been no desire on the part of the Manitoba government, or, as far as he knew. on the part of their followers, to rush hur-riedly into the discussion of the important subject. All through, from March till June 17, the utmost moderation had been pursued in replying to the Dominion government. He fancied his motion would be no exception to arrangements providing for taking care of that course. Some of the separate school dvocates had been very much afraid of the government pursuing a course that governments sometimes pursue in such cares, that one of the most successful ever held by the was to take advantage of the very strong league." feeling that existed in the province when the remedial order from Ottawa was made public, and ask the views of the people on the subject. But the government did not adopt such a course, as he was of the opinion that such a question as this could be discussed outside of a political campaign.

He understood the dominion to say to Mantoba: "You must restore the old state of hings." This Manitoba could do. Many things.' leading Catholics have said to him that they had no desire to return to the school

Premier Greenway's speech was loudly applauded at the conclusion.

Mr. Armstrong, who represents a French-Catholic constituency in the legislature, was the first member of the opposition to reply. His attack on the government was a very mild one, chiefly confined to the point that it was a case of political exigencies with the Greenway government; not that they were in favor of national schools, but that it was their only salvation at present to pursus that policy. The broad stand taken by politicians of the older provinces should be followed in this matter. National schools were good, but eparate schools were also a necessity. Attorney General Sifton arose at 4:39 to second the premier's motion. His address continued until late this evening. The con-stitutional side of the question was dealt with in all its phases, the attorney general taking the position that the last judgment of the imperial privy council was not mandatory on the Dominion government; it did not demand to get or not to get. He quoted at length from the judgment given and opinions ex-pressed by the imperial privy councillors in correboration. Manitoba, he asserted, could not comply with the terms of the remedial order and maintain an efficient school system such as a young growing province demanded.

COSTA RICA'S PEASEFUL ATTITUDE Will Quarrel With None of the Central American Republics. WASHINGTON, June 17 .- Senor Calvo, charge d'affaires of Costa Rica, when asked today concerning the statements recently published alleging that the relations of his country with others of Central America were not good, and much friction and possibility of trouble existed, said that it was rather not liceable that such statements explained them.

BOND MEN INSTITUTE AN INQUIRY Sireet Rumor Charges the Guardian of the Municipal Funds with Associating Too Intimately with Wine and Women.

For some days there have been various and conflicting rumors on the streets relative t the administration of affairs in the office of City Treasurer Henry Bolln, and these werbrought into public notice at the meeting o the Board of Education last evening. Early in the session President Akin called Mr. Pier son to the chair and asked for a suspension of the rules in order to admit the introduction of an "Important" resolution. This resolution briefly provided for an examination of the books of the cly treasurer by the comptroller. It directed the comptroller to report to the board at the earliest possible moment a list of the banks in which the school funds were deposited, and the amount on deposit in each. This resolution was passed with-

Wheat out discussion. In reply to a direct question, Colonel In reply to a direct question, Colonel Akin stated that the resolution was brought out by the reports which had been in circulation relative to the city treasurer. While culation relative to the city treasurer. While he did not presume to say how much foundation there might be for what he had heard. he thought the circumstances were such as to warrant the board in an immediate inquiry as to the disposition of its funds. BASIS OF THE RUMOR.

The rumors of alleged irregularities had their beginning about a month ago, when Mr. Bolln refused to allow the comptroller to check up his books in compliance with a resolution of the city council. The resolu-tion was introduced by Howell, who stated at the time that it was not intended as a reflection on the city treasurer. He un-derstood that it had been customary to check up the books in the middle of the year, and the resolution simply contemplated keeping in line with a former custom. A week after Comptroller Olsen reported that the treasurer had declined to allow him ac-cess to his books, and some time after Howell introduced a second and similar resolution, which proved as abortive as the first. In view of the more recent dis-closures, however, he says that a third resogenerally known that navy officials and lution will be introduced this evening, and sailors in Japanese waters receive their that he will insist that the wishes of the council shall be respected. BOLLN FELT INSULTED. In regard to these resolutions Comptroller Olsen declares that it has not been customary to check up the books of the city treasure except at the beginning of the year. he went into the treasurer's office armed with the council resolution Mr. Bolin took the action as an insult, and that was the reason that he assigned for refusing to allow him to go over the books. Ever since the futile effort of the council to ascer'ain how matters stood in the treas-urer's office rumors have been current, which have finally culminated in a general demand for an expert examination of the office. SOME HEAVY LOSSES. Following these came rumors that Mr. solin had lost heavily in a number of transactions. His vitrified brick factory at Louisville, Neb., has lost money almost from the very first. He was a silent partner of E. D. Van Court and a belief that Van Court had lost considerable sums on recent contracts, of which the county road paving was the heaviest, assisted in giving force to the stories of financial embarrassment. Besides all this, a rumor has been current which says that Bolin has been dealing largely in Board of Trade speculations and that his ventures in this direction have been generally disastrous. This is not generally given credence by his bondsmen, and the brokers on the floor claim that they have no knowl edge of the speculations which Bolin is alleged to have made.

The bondsmen were for some time disposed make light of these rumors on account the popularity and previous reputation of Mr Bolln, but yesterday the matter was bro

BONDSMEN TAKE ACTION. A meeting of the bondsmen was held at WASHINGTON, June 17.—Clerk Kerr of the Union National bank in the afternoon, at the house of representatives today opened the features. Some of them say that they have been familiar with Bolln's habits for some time, and that he will brace up and come out all right. Since then he had understood that Mr. Bolin had given up his cups and was spending more time in his office. BARKER'S HEAVY INTEREST.

> The person most heavily interested in the matter is George E. Barker, whose name appears as security for $150,000 on Mr. Bolin's bond. He is in Detroit at present, but is expected home in a few days. W. A. Paxton is also one of the heaviest bondsmen. He said yesterday that he had heard nothing of the reports relative to Mr. Bolin until during the afternoon. He did not be lieve there was any material foundation for them, but the matter would be investigated immediately. "If Henry Bolln has gone wrong," he added, "I'll throw up my hands." C. J. Karbach also thought there was nothing worse in the trouble than Mr. Bolin's dispation, which had caused some uneasiness. His son was an employe in the treasurer's office, and if there was anything wrong with the books he would probably have known of it. Half a dozen of the other bondsmen who were seen last night held about the same opinions. They had heard so much talk that they wanted the matter cleared up for the benefit of all concerned, but were inclined to think that no serious deficiency would be dis that on June 8 there was $188,068 deposited to the credit of the various city funds in the nine national banks of Omaha. Of this about $15,000 belonged to the school fund. By the report which was submitted to the Board of Education by Treasurer Bolln last night is appeared that the balance in the school fund on June 5 was more than $18,000, thus indi-cating a deficiency of about $3,000.
