COMPLAINTS OF THE INSANE

Eeveral Assert that Their Property Interests Are Not Protected.

NELS JOHNSON WRITES THE GOVERNOR

Declares That His Homestead is Being Illegally T.ken Possession Of-Friends of Another Inmate of the Asylum Protest.

LINCOLN, June 17 .- (Special.) -Two cases of singular interest regarding the property rights of insane people have lately developed in the Norfolk Asylum for the Insane. The first one is that of Nels Johnson, an aged Swede, who formerly lived at Winnetcon. Knox county. On the 13th inst. Johnson wrote to Governor Holcomb, by his daughter,

"Dear Sir: I am in need of protection. I cannot get justice in the county I live in, so I hope you will excuse me for troubling you. In the matter that follows you will find enclosed doctor's certificate, which will show I have been insane for twelve years and my farm is taken on a forged and out lawed mortgage, as enclosed abstract will

"There have been employed seven lawyers in the case. They filed papers in the court that I was insane, but my family could not make the lawyers show the proof in court. Had my family gotten true lawyers they could have proven I was insane in the court just as well as before the board of insanity. On October 9, 1893, it was proved in the Knox county court before B. F. Chambers that I was insane, and on said day I was thrown out of business. This year the case has been reported to the attorney general, A. S. Churchill, also to the Stanton county attorney, with instructions to arrest A. A. Baker of Manning and George A. Brook of Baker of Manning and George A. Brook of Hazile Mills, all of Knox county, for perjury in Stanton on September 29, 1894. If you will please look over the abstract enclosed you will find the mortgage described therein is dated back, and must, therefore, be a black workers and I think the German blank mortgage, and I think the German general and express their dissatisfaction that Savings bank of Davenport, Ia., and Solomon this expense must be borne by Boyd county. Draper of Niobrara committed a desperate act in trying to collect money on such mortgage, and also Judge Isaac Powers, in Norfolk, more desperate again for giving judgment on such a mortgage, as the abstract will show it was to make the court a robber for to rob me. I will leave it to you to decide which is proper to arrest, the district court of Knox county or Isaac Powers and the rest of the guilty ones for robbing me.

"Our bondsmen in the case were secured, and since I became an inmate of the hospital

they paid up their bond without letting the court decide how much there was to pay Then would have been the chance to show up my insanity. So you will see my own bondsmen helped the German Savings bank to rob me. Now I shall ask you to order some of the state officers to investigate the case and to arrest all the persons guilty of any fraud in the aforesaid case. I want my farm back again. Please let me hear from "The farm is my homestead, and I canno get any lawyer to defend it. If I don't hear from you I shall take the matter in my hand and move in upon said homestead at the point of a shotgun."

SHOWING OF THE ABSTRACT. It appears from the abstract enclosed that Johnson proved up on his house the part of the proved up on his house the part of the proved up on his house to like the proved up on and his wife Betsy executed a mortgage to Clement L. Boon for $1,500. On October 11, 1886, Boon assigned the mortgage to the Common Section hour of Devents. German Savings bank of Davenport, Ia. The mortgage was foreclosed and a sheriff's deed issued March 2, 1891. April 16, 1896, the abstract shows that an action to set aside the decree of foreclosure and appointment of guardian ad I tum for Nels Johnson would be asked for. September 26, 1894, the court found that said German Savings bank was the owner in fee simple of Johnson's homestead, and that Nels and Betsy had no interest whatever in the land, and they were enjoined from making any claim on the same. Attached to the abstract enclosed to the governor is a letter from Dr. J. L. Greene, then assistant physician at the Norfolk Hospital for the Insane, as follows: NORFOLK, Neb., Jan. 1, 1895; certify that Nels Johnson, husband of Betsy Johnson of Winnetoon, Neb., is an inmate of this hospital; that the physician who ex-amined him testified that he had been insane twelve years; that I am of the opinion that the ailment has extended over that length of

This statement would indicate that John son's insanity dates back to the period when he proved up on his land, and three years prior to the time of the execution of the mortgage to Clement L. Boon.
The case of Dr. Constantine Ruttgers, con fined at the same hospital in Norfolk, is radically different. The latter claims that he is anne, but has been placed in confinement by designing parties who have control of his property at Ponca, Dixon county. Ruttgers is a well educated German physician, with a diplome from a medical institution at Berlin. diploma from a medical institution at Berlin. He is a single man. He has been confined in the Norfolk asylum for two years, and was committed there by the court

Governor Holcomb has received numerous letters from Dr. Ruttgers' friends at Ponca, saying that the doctor is a victim of sharpers, that he is not insane, and asking for an investigation. One important letter has been received from the doctor's attorney at Philadelphia, asking an inquiry into the case by the chief executive. Dr. Mackay, present superintendent of the Norfolk asylum, expresses the opinion that Ruttgers is sane, but somewhat eccentric. It is claimed by parties In Ponca that many of the county officers of Dixon county are prejudiced against Ruttgers and Governor Holcomb suggests that Judge Norris of that district call in another judge to try the case of insanity, in order that no in-justice may be done. In this case Dr. J. L. Greene also expresses the opinion that Ruttgers is sane. Governor Holcomb will thoroughly investigate both of the cases. It is said that Dr. Ruttgers is related to some of the German nobility.

Chief of Police Explains the Manner in Which the Element is Confined-Denies that Citizens Are Not Protected.

LINCOLN, June 17 .- (Special.)-At the meeting of the Ministerial association this morning the policy of the municipal administration regarding its treatment of the social evil was discussed. There were present son, Stauffer, Bradt, Murphy, Fife, Piper and Shultz. Rev. E. H. Chapin was presrepresenting the rescue society. Chief of Police Melick and Officer Routzahan were also present. Dr. Chapin, who said he was not a member of the association, referred to the policy of the last administration in re lation to the social evil and touched on the policy of the present authorities. If any one wanted to know where revelry was going on all he had to do was to go down and witness the houses with their signs out and arious other evidences that sin is rampant. Chief Melick interrupted the speaker to ay that so far as the places on the "reser vation" were concerned, no denial would be made. Continuing, Dr. Chapin said that his chief reason for criticising the administra-tion is that it had promised that the evil would be confined, when in fact it is not confined. It has its homes all over the city. Referring to gambling, he said he had the locations of thirteen gambling houses and the names of the proprietors. Chief Melick replied that one of the members of ex-Mayor Weir's force had been retained for the express purpose of ridding the blocks of disreputable inmates and that the police were doing the best they could in the matter. In conclusion, Dr. Chapin said he was satisfied with the result of the meeting. It had demonstrated the necessity of a change in public sentiment. The administration was on the wrong side for the ministers to LANCASTER TEACHERS MEET. Chancellor Canfield delivered the addres welcome at the county teachers' institute which opened this morning for a two weeks He said that it afforded him great pleasure to meet the teachers of the count once more and to know that the state insti-tute is successfully opened. His last words o the teachers of Lancaster county and of he state had been practically his first words, and the words that he had spoken as he had opportunity in his work in the state. They were to remind the teachers in the district schools that they have in their hands the shaping and direction of the great mass of the future citizens of the state. He wished to emphasize the thought that very much of the reformation in the world must come through information. He urged that teachers in the district schools should not be discouraged by lack of interest in their work by hose who ought to help, or because their efforts do not seem to be appreciated. What s done might seem very little, but ount in the grand aggregate of work done. Following the chancellor's address, the in tructors were introduced and briefly out ined their work. SECOND DECREE RECEIVED FROM ROME

Has Aiready Eeen Promi of the Dioceses and the Remaining Bishops Ordered to Take Action.

WASHINGTON, June 17 .- A second decree has been received from Rome concerning the obligation of Catholics to remain outside of the Knights of Pythias organization. It states that there appears to be no further reason why the decree of last December should not be made public in all dioceses, and all archbishops and bishops are accordingly directed to promulgate the decree without further delay. When the decree was first issued the head of each diocese was given two months within which to publish it or else make known to Rome in writing what special circumstance existed why publication should be deferred. Most of these heads of dioceses have since published the decree, but as unofficial information reached Rome that some of the bishops had not yet acted this second decree was issued.

Secretary of Agriculture Commended by Leading English Newspapers.

WASHINGTON, June 17 .- Secretary Morton's recent bulletin on the world's markets for American products is attracting much attention abroad, particularly in Great Britain, where leading journals point out that Mr. Morton's warning to the rest of the world should be heeded. The London Times gave a column review to the secretary's showing and addressed the following omment: "The free circulation of this publication among the agricultural producers of the United States will no doubt have the effect of improving the quality of American products sent to our markets. It is not less important that English farmers should know what steps are contemplated by their formidable competitors beyond the Atlantic, the producing and exporting ca-pacity of whom is fostered and stimulated by an energetic and far-seeing minister of
