- NO. 12 PEARL STREET Burglar Miller Brought Back from Omaha and Lodged in Jail.

IDENTIFIED BY EXPRESS AGENT ELW

Captured While Attempting to Pass Forged Money Order-Death of John Dohany, Proprietor of the Opera House.

George H. Miller was arrested and brought to Council Bluffs from Omaha yesterday morning and lodged in the city jail, charged with burglary. His trouble all grows out of his being caught with some bogus money orders of the United States Express company in his possession. Tuesday George W. Mooney, a small boy, was arrested yasterday for setaling a wash boiler from San Kee, a Chinese laundryman, and selling it to one Cherniss, a second hand an order for $15. It was made payable to local agent of the company, and offered E. M. Patton and signed by J. M. Tuttle as agent at Farmington, Ill. The fellow looked as though he might be all right, and Elwell, who has cashed hundreds of money orders without compelling the holders to have themselves identified, cashed it without any hesitation. A few minutes after the fellow had gone, however, he recollected that he had received men, at Green Mountain, Ia., a small station on the Chicago Great Western, not far from Marshalltown, and on comparing the notice with the order he had just cashed found that the numbers tallied exactly. He immediately notified the Omaha office of the company. A little later the same man entered the Omaha office and office of the company. he claims, is valued at $90, but is not worth over $60, which he has already paid. When he bought it he sgned a contract by which Mugg could legally take possession of it upon his failing to pay all the purchase price, and he now wants to prevent him from daing so.

On the company. A little later the same man entered the Omaha office and presented an order for $25. According to the prearranged plan, he was kept in the office on the pretext of explaining where he got the order until an officer could be gotten to arrest him.

Miller, or Patton, as the case may be, told the Omaha people that he found the order at Hoone, but told Officer Weir, who was sent to Omaha to bring him across, that he got it from another man. He consented to cross the river without requisi-The order was filled out in an exceedingly good hand and in a way that indicated that the writer was accustomed to the business. At the time the express of-fice at Green Mountain was burglarized nine of the blank orders were stolen, and it is supposed that all nine of them have been passed at some other office, inasmuch as none of the others were found in his possession when he was arrested. Mr. El-well identified Miller beyond all doubt as the man who passed the bogus order on

Death of John Pohany,

John Dohany died a few moments past 12 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been ill for several months with heart disease, and, realizing what the end must be, made complete preparation for it several weeks ago. In the truest sense his life had been one of preparation, a life marked by so many virtues as to render the closing incident characteristic of its peacefulness. Reaching out his hand to the daughter who was tenderly watching at his bedside, he gave a silent farewell grasp, and then closed his eyes as a child yielding to slumber-and was gone.

Mr. Dohany was born in Lebanon, Pa... June 8, 1826. He had been a resident of Council Bluffs for forty years, and by his daily walk and conversation had steadily increased the confidence and esteem felt for him by the entire community. He was one of the few survivors of that old rehool of conservative, gentle manifness, believing that one's word should be sacred and his business honor above suspicion. The opera house which bears his name, and the theatrical business which he has always managed here, have given him a large acquaintance and more than a local reputation.

Five children survive him, Mrs. M. G.
Griffin, Mrs. W. A. Maurer, Miss Dell Do-hany, Mrs. Will Keeline and John Dohany, jr. Mrs. Dohany died about ten years ago. The funeral services will be held Friday

Eli Brown and John T. Henderson, the members of the Novelty Manufacturing company, complained to the federal authorities yesterday that C. J. Willow of Wizard Telephone company fame had made off with lot of their mail, and asked that steps be taken to bring him to time. According to the story told by Brown, at the time the trouble between Willow and the other Wizard people commenced the mail received by the Novelty people suddenly fell off in quantity. It did not stop entirely, and so Brown and Henderson were considerably puzzled. Upon writing to some of their The Pottawattamic county democrats will patrons they found that several letters con meet at the court house in Avoca Wednes- taining orders had been lost, and they went to see the postoffice authorities. Then they found that when Wizard's and Brown's trouble began Wizard gave orders at the postoffice to have not only the Wizard mail sent to the general delivery, but the Novelty mail also, in spite of the fact that he was in no way connected with the Novelty and had no more right to its mail than any other outsider. The postal authorities stat that there was one man in the postofficwho had not been given the order for the hange of mail, and in that way accounted for the fact that the mail was not entirely cut off. No information has been filed against Willow, and the authorities are merely looking the matter up.

Child is Incorrigible.

Mrs. R. R. Collins, who until two week ago was known as Mrs. Mary A. North, took steps yesterday to put her Il-year-old daughter Letta where she could be under better control than could be afforded at home, by filing an information with the county clerk charging her with being ignoorrigible. Her father, Nephi North, has been in the Clarinda insane asylum for several years past. She will probably have a hearing before Judge Smith this morning.

WASHINGTON, June 19.-Sergrant-at-Arms Bright of the senate has taken steps to secure the enforcement of the law prohibiting business vehicles from entering the grounds of the capitol building. There has long been a statute forbidding the passage through the grounds of any loaded wagon or any vehicle displaying a business sign, but it has been ignored for so many years that it has been ignored for so many years that it has virtually become a dead I tier. During the Coxey excitement the grounds were invaded by probably 1,000 vehicles of all descriptions. Colonel Bright became impressed with the pass bility of the presence of wagons for mischief in time of trouble and he determined then that as soon as he could secure sufficient police force he would put ing business vehicles from entering the secure sufficient police force he would put the law for their exclusion into effect.
