A grand der the most lavorable auspices. A grand chorus of 200 local singers sang an opening ode composed by Rev. George W. Crofts of this city. Dr. W. Davidson, the enthusiastic and much loved director is in charge, and his appearance upon the plat-form was greeted with destening applause. A B Demonster president of the association form was greeted with deatening applause. A. R. Dempster, president of the association, and who has recently become a citizen of Des Moines, Ia., made a short opening ad-dress. The Jennie Lind quartet of Chicago then rendered a delightful musical program. The quartet is composed of Misses Helen Cuiver, Edith Freeman, Isabel Fraser and Emma T. Gregg. In this their initial ap-pearance in Beatrice, the young ladies fairly pearance in Beatrice, the young ladies fairly captivated the vast andience in the tabernacle. No assembly in this city ever opened under such auspicious surroundings and its success promises to be phenomenal There are already more than 200 families quartered upon the prounds in tents and cottages, many of the latter being erected and cottages, many of the latter being erected this season. Perhaps no such program as will occupy the next fifteen days has ever been attempted in the west, and certainly never in Nebraska. During the sension the three most sought after and highest paid platform orators in the country, Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, Sam Jones and Dr. Robert McIntyre, have been placed on the program, besides many others of the most neted speakers now before the people.

speakers now before the people. The chief attractions for tomorrow are lecture at 10 a. m. by Prof. E. B. Warman of Chicago, and a lecture in the evening on electricity by Prof. Louis Favour of Chicago.
