NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Peculiar History Involving the Estate of the Late Stephen Dunn.

LITIGATION OVER VALUABLE PROPERTY

Case in Which a Woman Claiming to Be the First and Only Wife of the Deceased Submitted to District Court.

There was a suit tried in the district court yesterday which, if it results in a victory for the plaintiff, will make a sudden change in the ownership of something over $25,000 worth of real estate in Portawattamie county and vicinity, which has been commonly supposed to belong to the late Stephen Dunn, who died in 1887.

Stephen Dunn lived in Montreal, Canada, in 1812, and was there married to Jane Ann Miller, William and John Dunn, both of whom are well known in Council Bluffs, were born in Montreal, but a few years after the marriage the father bundled up his family and went to Cincinnati.

He lived with his second wife until he died eight years ago. During his life he amassed considerable property, although he engaged in no business. Among other things he owned the property now occupied by Hahn & Zimmerman, his saloon building on Broadway, near Sixth street, which now stands on the records in the name of John Peter; 300 acres of land in Crescent and Girard townships, a lot on Fifth avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets, another on East Broadway near the John Dunn homestead, besides considerable farm land in Fremont and Mills counties.

BECAME AN ARMY NURSE. After being deserted by her husband, Mrs. Dunn No. 1 went to a nurse in the army, and later on was employed as housekeeper in hotels in New Orleans, Louisville and other cities. About a year ago she was taken sick and while in a hospital was questioned by one of the sisters as to whether she had any relatives living. She replied that she had a husband living in Council Bluffs.

When she arrived she found her husband had died, and she was informed that she had a son, C. G. Saunders, and told him her story, which seemed to him decidedly queer. Nevertheless, he agreed to go to Montreal and look up the case.

Several more suits are also pending, and others are to be filed in the near future. All the property owned by Stephen Dunn at the time of his death is involved, as well as all that owned and parted with at any time after leaving his first wife.

The matter was adjusted by the adoption of the following: Resolved, That the scientific temperance instruction given in the public schools should be maintained, and that the state should by such moral teaching in Sunday schools help to create and maintain a public sentiment that will not tolerate the sale of a beverage of intoxicating liquors, that it is the imperative duty of the state to enforce the prohibition law to protect our homes and families from their direct foe, the liquor saloon.

Mrs. Mattie Bailey of Shenandoah was re-elected state secretary and Rev. C. W. Sweet of Ida Grove state president.

Miller's Two Sons. George H. Miller, alias E. M. Patton, found in Justice Walter's court yesterday that two names, Miller and Patton, were not always so good as one. He was given a hearing on the charge of passing upon A. T. Elwell a forged money order for $15. He at first refused to answer, but when told he was saying that he had people whom he did not wish to learn of his present predicament. He said, however, that neither of the names he went under were his own, and that he was guilty. The effort of the court to induce him to tell why it was that he preferred to travel incognito put him in rather an embarrassing position. He was finally bound over to the grand jury, and in default of bail was sent to jail.
