After Fluctuating Frequently and Wide'y Wheat Wound Up Firm.

CORN WAS QUIET FOR A MOMENT

Provisions Were Firm at the Opening and After a Temporary Weakness in the Middle of the Session Closed Firm.

CHICAGO, June 24 .- After bobbing up and down frequently over a 24c range, wheat wound up firm and 14c higher today, helped by a big visible supply decrease. Corn closed unchanged; oats %c lower, and provisions at modest advances, Wheat opened strong at from 1/2c to 1c advance over Saturday's closing prices, and before the rush to buy had exhausted itself it had made a gain of P4c. People were running around inquiring the reason for the sudden strength, and the most of the recently suggested cause was the continued prevalence of wet weather and high tem-perature in the northwest. That was condered threatening to spring wheat, and was supported by some telegrams from Minnesota reporting some wheat in valleys already rusted. There were other reasons which may have prompted the sending here of some good sized buying orders by New York people. The Russian shipments last week were 4,800,000 bu., compared with nearly 6,900,000 bu, the previous week. The

New York people. The Russian shipments last week were 4,800,000 bu, compared with nearly 6,000,000 bu, the previous week. The Argentine shipments for the week, as officially posted here, were 456,000 bu. The total of the week's shipments from all countries was 1,800,000 bu, short of those of the week preceding, and the amount on ocean passage is 2,080,000 less than it was a week ago. The latter items of news came in one by one after wheat had turned down again, and the market kept declining as they were severally announced. The decline in the face of such news—irrespective of the domestic crop damage—was a surprise to the crowd, and as difficult to account for as the earlier bulge. The decline was rapid and severe. The price of July, which, on the opening advance, touched 71c, dropped to from 68%c to 68%c before 11:30 o'clock. The activity of the bears added to the liquidation by the longs of their July wheat was the chief reason which made the decline from 71c to 58%c to 68%c before 11:30 o'clock. The activity of the bears added to the liquidation by the longs of their July wheat was the chief reason which made the decline from 71c to 58%c to 68%c to 68%c possible with so much exclusively bull-lish surroundings. The visible supply decreased 1,492,600 bu., and the total is now 46,225,000 bu., compared with 55.852,600 ba. a year ago, and 68,081,600 bu. It was after the stocks held at Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth is only 8,461,000 bu. It was after the visible figures were received, but by no means exclusively on account of those, that the third surprise to the crowd was sprung upon them. That refers to the course of the fluctuations, which again moved in an upward direction, and near the close July wheat again reached 71c. The lattest trading was at 704c, another %c drop occurring in the last five minutes.

Corn was quiet for a moment at the opening on account of the spurt in wheat at that time. It came under the influence of the fine crop prospects later in the day, and had a sharp break, from which it recove probably including the export sales reported from New York.

A wild and excited market was reported for oats during the first half hour of the session. Shorts were the principal promoters of the panicky feeling, buying freely and forcing prices up. Later, however, the same parties, who Saturday were prominent for disposing of heavy lines of long stuff, resumed their pounding and created a big drop in the early gain. September opened frem 26%c to 27%c, declined to 25%c and clessed at 26%c. The later advance was caused principally through sympathy with wheat and corn.

Provisions were firm at the opening, and after a temporary weakness in the middle of the session, they closed firm at an advance of 15c in pork, 2%c in lard and 5c in ribs. Hog receipts were 29,000 head, Trading was only moderately active. The firmness at the start and finish was mainly in sympathy with wheat.

String and wax beans are not very plenty on the market. Some days there are almost none to be had, and it is a difficult matter to fill orders and then all of a sudden the market will be full, and dealers are at their wits end to know how to dispose of all the stock. With beans it is either a feast of a famine.

Tomatoes are low for this early in the season, but this market is not so badly demoralized as are some enstern markets. It has been a bad year for shippers and it is claimed that good Mississippi stock never sold as low at this season. Quotations:

STOCKS AND BONDS. Share Values on 'Change Appreciated Very

Generally Yesterday.

NEW YORK, June 24.—As a result of today's transactions on the Stock exchange share values have appreciated very generally, the advances ranging up to 4% per cent, with New England in the lead. The rise in this stock was due to a squeeze, the Vanderbilt combination having taken a large amount of the shares out of the pit. It was a field day in Sugar, the trading in which was very heavy and the fluctuations wide, all on pool manipulation. Opening 'a per cent, then rose 1'a per cent to 16%, closing 'a per cent, then rose 1'a per cent to 16%, closing 'a per cent, then rose 1'a per cent to 16%, closing 'a per cent from the top and 'a per cent higher on the day. The trading in stocks of the iron and steel companies was quite brisk and material gains were made in this group on the strength of the excellent trade outlook. Hilmos Steel was notably buoyant and rose 4's per cent. Minnesota Iron advanced 3½ per cent. Minnesota Iron advanced 3½ per cent. The general list opened irregular, Susquehanna & Western preferred decining 1'a per cent and Leather 1'a per cent and Long Island Traction 'a per cent. Subsequently there was a general rally of a fraction, white Metropolitan Traction force 2's per cent. About 11 o'clock the break in Susar lead to a general reaction. The downward movement was checked before midday, good buying orders coming into the market. In the final sales Bay State Gas declined 1's per cent, the latter, however, recovering 'a per cent. The general market closed at or near the best figures of the day. The trading for the foreign account was light in volume and was on both sides of the account. The cartly bond trading was for the most part at slightly lower figures, but values soon took an upward turn, influenced by the strength of the share market. The sales were $1,986,00.

Evening Post's London cablegram: The resignation of the government had no effect on the stock markets today. The stagnation was profound, but the tone was good. South American government and railroad stocks were firmes, the market for Americans was neglected. Contangoes are 2's to 3 per cent. Stock is scarce in places, as Canadian Pacific and St. Paul. The tone at the close was duil and the charges irregular. Kaff the lead. The rise in this stock was due to a squeeze, the Vanderbilt combination having

Not Enough Hogs to Make a Market-Speculators Bought a Few Loads at Prices About the Same as Saturday's Sales,

MONDAY, June 24. The receipts today consisted of 700 cattle, 56 hogs, 942 sheep and 3 horses, as against 472 cattle, 2,690 hogs, 106 sheep and 15 horses on Saturday and 334 cattle, 773 hogs and 373 sheep on Monday of last week. All told, there were only forty-four cars of live stock received.

The receipts of cattle numbered thirty cars, of which number over one-half were western beef steers. There were very few native steers, and none that were very good. The market was dull and quiet at about steady prices. A load of pretty good 1,213-lb. steers reached $4.65, while a string of westerns brought $4.50,

The market on butchers' stock, cows, heifers, etc., was firm, and the demand fully equal to the light offerings. Stockers and feeders commanded steady

HOGS—With only nine fresh loads of hogs in the yards there were not enough here to make a market. The packers did not seem to think that there were enough hogs here to bother with and the most of the buyers did not attempt to do anything. The speculators bought a few loads, which went quite a ways toward cleaning up the supply. The prices paid did not show any material change from Saturday's market. Representative sales;

The Ferniture Trade.

The Forniture Trade.

There are few people who really know the magnitude of the furniture industry of the city of Omaha, says the Commercial Exhibit. A visit to the furniture factories and jobbers' warehouses will reveal an industry to the careful observer of such vasi proportions that it will dispet all questions and give credence to the belief that Omaha is really a furniture center. The territory which is naturally tributary to Omaha is extensive, in fact the trade is only bounded on the west by the great Pacific, and a fiberal share comes to us from the southwest, as well as from some of our neighboring states of the east and northwest. The real state of the furniture business during this season has not been as active as it has in former times, from the furniture parlor suite is classed among the fuxuries, and the trade suffers white the people are economizing. Had all the furniture people embarised in the manufacturing of the latest necessity, the biers supplied and the premoters enjoying a more been supplied and the premoters enjoying a more luciative business.

The effect of the bountiful rains throughout the country has been to give dealers in the country more confidence than they possessed a month ago, and they have placed their orders with greater freedom. The commercial agencies report a dist hot improvement in the general trade condities, some of which enter into the construction of furniture. But collections are not reported as good as they should be, and the money market has shown stringency in the furniture line as well as in all other lines.

The complaint is quite general that prices are uncomfortably near the vost of production, and al-has shown stringency in the furniture line as well as in all other lines.

The complaint is quite general that prices are uncomfortably near the cost of production, and although much less furniture is being made than was the case two years ago, it is certain that more of it is being made than can be comfortably and readily absorbed and that retailers and manufacturers alike are forcing prices—and forcing them down stoudily in the efforts to force trade. Just where the remedy is to be found outside of market increase in demand no one seems prepared to say. However, the sharp advance in the cost of many materials entering into the making of furniture will very soon involve an advance in the price on newer goods, and the new lines are likely to be significant quite as much for the readjusted price as for new styles. A good many manufacturers have been cleaning out their old goods in anticipation if the better prices which must be demanded for the new goods, and in the bope that the upward turn in prices would be ushered in with the opening of the fall trade.

Fruit Crops. Fruit Crops.

Fruit Crops.

This year's crop of apples, peaches and fruit generally will be much above the average. In many sections the outlook now is as good as it could be for a full crop. The fruit is sufficiently matured to be practically beyond all danger, except, perhaps, from violent wind storms.

The condition of apples in Missouri is placed by the American Agriculturist at 21 in a possible 109. This is critially a good report. The 109 represents an ideal crop, practically perfection. The only state that will have such a crop this year, provided all conditions continue up to the perfection mark, is Oregon. Next to Oregon ome Texas and California, with a percentage of 85, and then Missouri. Arkansas and Tennessee with 32. Kentucky, Washington and West Virginia are credited each with an average of 80 and Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Nebraska have $5 or more. Ohio and lowa are only a little behind, and a dozen other states will have a fair crop of apples.

The outlook for peaches is not so near perfection, but it is better than it has been near the end of June in many years. Washington leads, the condition of her peach crop being within 5 points of perfection. Tennessee has a percentage of 85, while Texas and Oregon are but 2 points behind. Missouri comes next with California, each being credited with an average percentage of 85, and then follows Arkansas with 84. Every one of these states will have an enormous peach crop.

Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska have excellent prospects also, and as much may be said for several other states. The average for Illinois is only 60, but that is because of damage to the crop in the nextleen portion of the State. Southern Illinois will have a fine crop, and a fair average will also be made in the central portion of the state.
