ANOTHER GARBAGE WAR.

Sarpy County Citizens Protest Against the

Macionald Dumping Grounds. "We claim that Alexander Macdonald is mere figurehead and has no real interest in the contract between himself and the city of Omaha, which was given ostensibly to him exclusively for a period of ten years." Such, in brief, is the latest defense advanced by the defendants who are fighting Macdonald's injunction suit whereby the garbage contractor s seeking to restrain everybody but himself from hauling refuse out of the city.
According to the statements of attorneys the entire garbage case is to be fought over again. The last defendant to answer is Charles W. Preston, who denies that Mac donald has any interest to entitle him to bring suit, and even if he had, Prestor claims that Macdonald has his remedy at law for damages and cannot enjoin him and other haulers who are outside of the com

In the meantime trouble continues to ac cumulate on Macdonald's hands. A number of Sarpy county citizens were before Judge Ambrose yesterday demanding an abatement of what they urge is a horrible nuisance maintained on "The Island," a strip of land lying about two miles from Believue along the Missouri river and which the Omaha contractor has made his dumping grounde. The injunction to restrain Macdonald from using the premises mentioned is asked by James E. It is likely that the necessary men will be employed Monday, and the foremen for the several districts appointed. Street Commissioner Kaspar will have an abundance of material to select from. For several weeks registers for applicants been open in the office of the Board of Public Works and almost 500 men have put down their names as seeking the employment. A number of questions must be answered by the applicant. He must state how long he has been a resident of the state; whether married or single, occupation and where last employed. About nine out of every ten of the applicin s must be disappointed, for the number required for work on the streets is only about forty or fifty. Street Commissioner Kaspar continues to believe that the new plan will work well. He has all the details well in hand and will be ready to take up this addition to his task when the day arrives.

FATAL WORK OF A TOY CANNON One Man Instantly Killed and Another

seriously Injured. Ed M. Dedrick, a painter at the Missouri Pacific railroad round house in North Omah. was instantly killed at 12:30 yesterday. Dedrick, with W. I. Lemming, an engi eer at the round house, and George Watt a blacksmith, were testing a miniature canion which they had made with which to celebrate the Fourth of July. They had fired the cannon once and found that is worked all right, so they concluded to fire it a second time. Dedrick had made three it a second time. Dedrick had made three attempts to discharge the gun, but had falled, whereupon the blacksmith tried his hand. As he advanced with a piece of oiled waste in his hand the cannon exploded. One-half passed through Watt's leg, just above the knee, breaking both bones. It then struck Dedrich squarely on the right side of his head, tearing off nearly the whole side of his face and head, killing him instantly.

Dedrick had been in the employ of the Missouri Pacific Railway company for three years. He leaves a wife and two children, who reside between Fourteenth and Fifteenth on Fort street.

Watts was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where his leg was amputated. wife and three children residing at 2911 Pinckney street. Coroner Maul was notified and took the body of Dedrick to the morgue.

MR. IRVINE NOT APPRECIATED.

OMAHA, June 24 .- To the Editor of The We were highly benered by a compliment we received in last Saturday's Evenng Bee about the slums and ill bred people in Third and Woolworth avenue. We consider ourselves as respectable as Mr. A. Irvine and his ladies. He has rented a house among some people that have lived here over ten years and have not been known to do a dishonorable thing till Rev. Irvine changed them into slums and every-thing else. If he were not afraid he would go down to where the people are that really need teaching. He stays on the hill among us for protection. If every one looked after his own affairs as much as Woolworth avenue people do Omaha would be all right. We are not used to such insult and won't take it, either. "Life among the lowly" are pretty sad words where they are not deserved.

Sen Baker Relates His Talk with Ish Which Caused Him Trouble. Talking about the complaint against him for contempt of court, based on an alloged interview with James leh; Ben Baker says:

"So far as my saying that I had any pull "So far as my saying that I had any pull on the court, or the prosecuting attorney," said Mr. Baker, 'I deny it. I did say of the court that the judge was very set in his way. The fact is, I had been to Chicago a week ago and when I returned I found a letter from a client of mine. Daniels. He was in jail and asked me to call and see him. I also wanted to see Gibbons, another client, and as I went to the jail Monday evening I went into the corridor and afterclient, and as I went to the jail Monday evening I went into the corridor and afterward into the hobo cage. When I came out the turnkey was not there and so I went on to the office, expecting to find him there. I found ish sitting in a chair with his feet on the desk. He said, 'How-do-you-do. I have been wanting to see you for several days.' And, by the way, this conversation was overheard by the bookkeeper. Ish spoke about my acting as his counsel and I said I could not so act unless agreeand I said I could not so act unless agreeand I said I could not so act unless agree-able to the other attorneys. He asked me if I had been appointed by the court to presecute the case and I said no, but the statement had been made to me that I would be and I had discouraged the idea. spoke about my work and said he had seen hanged one of the men whom I had prosecuted. He also asked what I thought of his counsel and I spoke in the highest terms of Ransom and Gurley, but said I terms of Ransom and Gurley, but said I did not know anything about the other men, remarking that they were commercial lawyers. Referring to the county attorney, I told Ish that he would have a pretty good opinion of him as a prosecutor before his case was finished. Ish wanted to know if he would be permitted to get his own meals and asked if he could procure beer while in [all. He asked me if I could not set him. . He asked me if I could not get him on bond and I simply said that it was too late now to do anything." Mr. Baker says these facts will be brought out on the trial, when the committee, consisting of Attorneys Clarkson, Ransom and Davis, will present charges against him.

Rebecca and Louis Slobodisky were re-leased, the charges being that they leased buildings to be used as houses of ill fame. Their attorney claimed the party who owned the property should be named.

The charge of selling liquor without cense against C. Jensen, that of promoting lottery against W. A. Moore and that of orgery against Henry Hirstein were dis-nissed. Witnesses for the state could not be located.

National Fencibles Defeated Again.

Again the National Fencibles have lined up in the district court arena for a legal controversy with Omaha lawyers and have me a defeat. Having in 1892 won in a nationa competitive drill the handsome prize of $5,000 which was offered by the Omaha committee having in charge the local arrangements for the drill the Fendibles were awarded this pany, though since that time the company lost its colors before the Thurston Rifles.

Question of Who Owned the Brick. A suit for $1,500 has been brought by A H. Donecken against the American Fuel company and H. V. Epley. Donecken & Brayton were manufacturing brick and bired Epley, so it is claimed, to make 400,000 brick for them. Epley made 300,000 and, it is charged, followed this up in 1893 by collud ing with the other defendants by giving mortgage on Donecken's brick, he being at time alone in business.

verting the stock. Cash is Now What He Wants. The attorney for Brownell & Co. has taken Elijah Stoddard to task for playing fast and cose with him. The court has decreed that 113 acres of land must be sold to pay Stoddard's debts. Stoddard asked to have a homestead of eleven acres staked off, together with the house or, so Brownell & Co-claim, he agreed to take $2,000 cash. Now

Stoddard refuses everything except cash. Minor Matters in Court. Edward F. Morearty has moved for an arrest of judgment, pending his appeal of the case in which he was convicted of forgery and sentenced for one year. Judge Blair has overruled the motion. The trustees of the Second Presbyterian church in conjunction with George Magney, executor of the will of Edward Cook, have asked the court to give them another trial of the Cook will case, wherein they were defeated.

A motion has been formulated by Amaziah L. Carson in his suit for $42,000 against the Moline Plow company, asking for a reference of the case that a referee may look up the facts. ### THERMOMETER. GOES THE DOWN GOES THE PRICES

A ridiculous catchline repeated so frequent. If the average buyer was as foolish as the average clothler who uses such a ridiculous argument would have him be, truthful advertisers, like ourselves, would trail the rear end of the business procession.

But even the fool and the above headline has parted long ago.

Our prices neither go up with the drop, nor go down with the rise of the thermometer.-Light weight clothes are just as cheap, or as reasonable (as you might take it) when the sun's rays are the most powerful as when the mercury registers below zero. Our prices are neither seasonable nor fluctuating. The price we quote is a gilt edge guarantee that the article is fully worth that much as long as it is
