Despite their crippled condition the Omahas played the most brilliant game of the season yesterday without an error. It was as clean cut as a cameo and there was general rejoicing and congratulation among the fans after it was over, for they have been waiting for this game these many weeks. It was a necessary battle from the moment Umpire Burns called play until the twenty-seventh prohibitionist went out on a long, high fly to Shaffer, and while the whole team worked superbly, Tanks Ulrich is awarded the palm. He played in Hutch's place and captured the team, and it is doubtful whether a better piece of second-base work has ever been seen in the Gate City. He had nine chances and accepted them all in the most brilliant style, one or two of his stops and throws bordering on the miraculous. The double play he executed in the seventh was a masterpiece, and there is hardly one player in a dozen who could have turned the trick.

The only drawback to the Grasshopper's perfect play was that he could not pick his great fielding more than made up for this. Paddy Miles was also in the thick of the fray. He was a giant with the stick and his hitting was brilliant. He was the only one who would stand. Inks, too, behaved like a ball player, as did Shaffer, Pace and, in fact, the whole caboodle of them.

The Omaha play in St. Joseph this afternoon, but will be back Tuesday, when they meet Beckwith's Athletics in the first of a series of three games.

RACING AT ASHBURY PARK

Many Fast Riders Engage but None of the Records Differ.

ANOTHER DIRNBARGER SWIFT D VELCPDS

Mike's Little Brother Puts Off the Mile Novice—Kiddie Ball Does Grammar in Mile Open—Two-Mile Championship Was a Hot One.

ASHBURY PARK, July 11.—The cyclists who have thronged this place since the beginning of the week settled down to practical business today, after enjoying themselves by road runs, hops and sightseeing for the last few days. The racing program was begun in anything but promising order, but by 10 o'clock there were 2,000 devotees of the wheel on the stands. Rain drizzled uncomfortably until 3 o'clock, when the weather cleared up, and an enjoyable afternoon's racing was witnessed by over 5,000 persons. Among those who secured boxes were Colonel A. A. Pope, who had as a guest Major General Nelson A. Miles, a staunch advocate of the bicycle as a means of increasing the efficiency of the regular army, and through whose efforts many military bicycle corps have been organized. The first race was a mile novice, in which class A. A. one mile, the winner is only 16 years old, and has just left school. He is a brother of Mike Dirnbarger, and last year rode a paced mile in 2:09, and a half mile in 0:59.

In the final heat of the mile open, class B, A. D. Kennedy of Chicago was caught for using ungentlemanly language. The trials in the national championships were excellently contested and seven men qualified for the final. When this was run off by May and Saunders, the first mile race, followed by a half mile race, the favorite, at 5 to 2. The latter should have been better, but he did not catch his lead in the stretch, but Scudder lost his grip and did not catch it again. Billie, 15 to 1, won the other event. An hour at 3 o'clock the mile race, track race, 7 to 2. Attendance 2,000. Summaries:
