The Ladies' Aid society of St. John's English Lutheran church meets Thursday afternoon, 529 Franklin avenue.

Articles of adoption were filed with the county recorder yesterday by which Mr. and Mrs. A. Campbell of Omaha became the parents of 6-year-old Matt Parr of Council Bluffs.

The 2-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Watkins died of cholera infantum yesterday at his Rockford family residence, 356 Benton street. The remains will be taken to Rockford, Mo., for burial.

William Graham, who took laudanum and cut his throat Monday night, was taken to the county jail yesterday, not being able to give a bond of $300 for his appearance. The case has been set for trial before Justice Cook on Friday, July 21.

Miss Porcari, instructor of music in the city schools, has been making tests of the ability of her pupils to read music at sight. Master Rod Lanzendorfer, whose voice has often been heard in solos at St. Paul's church, so far leads the race. His record being 168 notes in a minute. The most interesting feature awakened in the contest, but none of the others have so far been able to come within six or seven notes of Master Lanzendorfer.

Fire and tornado insurance written in best companies. Money for farm loans at low rates. City property for sale or trade for farm lands in Iowa. Lougee & Towie, 225 Pearl St.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Durfee, a son.

Dan McCarthy of Ayer spent Sunday with his mother and sister in this city.

H. E. Grimes arrived yesterday afternoon from a trip of several weeks to Colorado.

J. J. Vavra, the Upper Broadway dry goods merchant, is visiting relatives in Oklahoma.

Mrs. H. Franklin is away on an extended visit with her mother and sister at Bourbon, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Durfee on Elephant street are the happy parents of a baby boy, born last Monday.

Dr. A. H. Carter has returned from a visit to San Francisco, Salt Lake City, and other western places. His family are still in the east.

Miss Annie Flynn, who has been in the city for the past week, the guest of Miss Ella Shea and Minnie Umfrank, returned to her home in Neola last evening.

Jones Was G-men.

Frank and Mary Jones were caught about three weeks ago running a "bawler game" on Pearl street, opposite Baylies park, and were sentenced to a thirty-day term in the county jail. Like most of the particularly disreputable cases in police court lately, the sentence was suspended in order that the two colored people might leave the city. But the old said such in running away to stay away. Last week they came back and took up their abode in a house near the corner of Main street and Nineteenth avenue, in the rear of D. H. McDowell & Co.'s office. They were soon followed by the police, who, on Friday morning about 2 o'clock Officers Martin, O'Brien, Weir and Easdale paid a visit to their house.

Jones refused to accompany them to the jail because they had no warrant, so the officers went to the house of Justice Walker and swore out the necessary warrants. When they came back Officers Martin and O'Brien guarded the outside doors to see that they did not escape, while Weir and Easdale went into the room where Jones and the woman were. Jones was still in his chair, with a window button on his sleeve. Just as he picked up the last shoe to put it on Easdale caught a glimpse of a revolver in his hand. It had been put into the shoe for safe keeping, and was evidently taken out with a view to using it on Officer Weir, who was almost in range. Easdale grabbed him quickly by the wrist, and probably prevented Weir from having a pain somewhere in his body today.

The two are now in the city jail to serve out their thirty days' sentence. There is said to be proof that they have been carrying on their old game, which got them into trouble at first, and the chances are that another case will be commenced against them as soon as they are released.

Dogs overlook the fact that the Spelman stock is being offered at very price to sell if you do you will miss the bargains in dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats and all seasonable standard goods that you must buy. The larger the crowd the quicker the goods go, and the greater the sacrifice in values.

Letter from C. Reed, Manager of Grand Plaza, Lake Manawa.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., July 17, 1895.

Ladies: How can you stay at home while the weather is so hot? Fifteen minutes' ride will take you to the Grand Plaza, where you can enjoy a cool breeze and listen to the sweet music of the Chicago Ladies' Military Band.

The Grand Plaza is awfully nice this season. Come down very soon. Yours very truly,

F. C. REED.

Rebut the Shanty.

Peter Nelson, Peter Bonde, W. A. Van Orman and their crowd of assistants worked hard Monday night, and by 11 o'clock yesterday morning had nearly completed a shanty on the ground claimed by the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company, to take the place of the old one destroyed by the company's workmen. Monday afternoon, afterward noon the work was suddenly stopped by the appearance of a couple of deputy sheriffs armed with a writ of injunction, restraining them from interfering with the possession of the ground by the company.

In the afternoon the trial of the three men on the charge of trespass was commenced in Justice Vines' court, but very little progress was made because the attorneys seemed to feel the need of a nice, long rest more than anything else. The attorney for the prosecution showed that the title to the property from the Union Pacific Railway company, the deed being exhibited in court. The trial will be resumed this morning.

Thieve's at Manawa.

Henry Fuller and Ralph Bennett, well known to the police, obtained an entrance to Colonel Reed's law office at Manawa and stole a pair of rubber waders and the bathing suits. The theft was discovered almost as soon as committed, and a chasing party was organized. They were caught in Colonel Bussy's barn with two of the bathing suits in their possession, and passed the night with the parties walls of the Manawa jail. Yesterday they were brought before Squire Peter Rief and fined $10 and costs. They are boarding out the amount in the county jail.

Object to the W.H.

R. A. Bachmann filed a bill of exceptions in district court yesterday to the will of George W. Drift, which is now on file for probate. One ground upon which he objects to it is that there was undue influence exercised over the testator during his last illness, although he failed to state who it was that did the influencing. He also claims that the testator was not able to make a valid will because of his mental and physical condition.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Case Against Henry Phillips Comes Up Before Justice Cook.

RELEASED AFTER A BRIEF HEARING

Officials Familiar with the Affair Believe the Ends of Justice Would Have Been Better Served if No Arrest Had Been Made.

The case of the state against Henry Phillips came up for a trial in the court of Justice Cook yesterday morning, the charge being kidnaping Mrs. L. Looman. The story told by the lady in the case showed that she had been abused and maltreated by Looman for several weeks, having scarcely enough money provided to keep her alive. Had it not been for the neighbors she would have starved. Her cousin, Phillips, appeared on the scene and offered to take her to Dakota, where she had relatives living. The trip was decided upon and Mrs. Looman, her brother, George Potter and wife, Henry Phillips, and three children, quietly left together. Phillips was discharged by the court, and Potter, charged with taking away mortgaged property, is to have a hearing tomorrow. He claims he was heard by the Se. term of court. The police authorities are still investigating the matter, and a large amount of drug stores on the street in the time court is ready. The mayor is making a personal investigation of the nearly 200 drug stores. He is going about incongruously as much as possible, and as a result will file a number of petitions in the district court for the revocation of permits to the said drug stores. The city council has this evening passed the mullet saloon ordinance over the mayor's veto, so that while the saloon drug stores will be closed up the mullet saloons will run unless some unforeseen method is found to close them.

At the Standard only second to the Hardman.

TROUBLE FOR LIQUOR DEALERS

Des Moines Mayor Will Force the Drug Stores Out of Business.

DES MOINES, July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Petitions have been filed for the issuance of injunctions against about a dozen drug stores of this city on the charge of illegal sales of liquor. Arguments will not be heard until the Se. term of court. The police authorities are still investigating the matter, and a large amount of drug stores on the street in the time court is ready. The mayor is making a personal investigation of the nearly 200 drug stores. He is going about incongruously as much as possible, and as a result will file a number of petitions in the district court for the revocation of permits to the said drug stores. The city council has this evening passed the mullet saloon ordinance over the mayor's veto, so that while the saloon drug stores will be closed up the mullet saloons will run unless some unforeseen method is found to close them.

AFTRED OF SPECIAL LEGISLATION.

SIOUX CITY, July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—One of the acts of the twenty-third general assembly of this state concerning the issuance of funding and refunding the bonds by cities of the first class, has been called in question in connection with such an issue by the city council here, and if sustained by the courts may make serious trouble all over the state. The act, as it stands, says the state may issue $200,000 of bonds under an act applying merely to cities of the first class, organized as such since January 1, 1885. A contract was made with Robert & Co., a New York bond house, to take the issue. Since the city's attorney has concluded that the act in question is special legislation and consequently unconstitutional. The money for the bonds has not yet been turned over to the city treasurer, and the probabilities are that the firm will repudiate the transaction. Many other cities in the state have made similar issues, all of which will be affected if this is decided to be so.

Malvern: Reader, Destroy'd.

MALVERN, Ia., July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—The Malvern creamery was totally destroyed by fire this morning. It is supposed the first flight from the furnace was the greatest blast through the roof over the boiler room. Clark, the butter maker, had worked until 3:30, when he banked the fire and retired. He lived with his family over the creamery, and they escaped with their night clothes only. He lost all his household goods, including his bed, which he had brought from his home in the city. All the books and papers belonging to R. F. Norton, owner and proprietor of the creamery, as well as the butter on hand, was saved. The creamery was built by a stock company about eight years ago at a cost of about $5,500. No new bonds were issued to the city, and the money is held in trust, and has built up a very profitable business. The loss is total, as there is no insurance. Norton says he will probably rebuild at once.

Ex-Alderman Charged with Boodlio.

SIDNEY CITY, July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—A majority of the eight committee of the city council made a report tonight on the charges of misconduct against ex-Alderwoman C. P. Miller. The report accuses Miller of having influenced the council to make its contract for street light with the Sun Vapor Company, and that while this was done, he was an alderman and expired Miller was succeeded by the company with an appointment as its local agent at a good salary. It is recommended that the company be required to remove Miller or that the contract be broken. The company will fight and the master is likely to go into the courts.

Opening of Iowa's Agricultural College.

AMES, Ia., July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Today was the opening of the second term of the Iowa Agricultural college for the year. The attendance will be larger than it was last year, and the students are rapidly arriving. The board of trustees held a meeting today and formally accepted the gift of the old dormitory building, which will be used for dormitories for ladies, and will contain the college dining room. It was to have been formally dedicated today, but these ceremonies have been postponed, and will probably be held the first of the month.

Iowa Farmer Commits Suicide.

ANITA, Ia., July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Philip Amperle, a prosperous farmer, living eight miles south of here, hung himself to a tree yesterday evening, and was found unconscious. His wife, Mrs. Amperle, and his brother, S. S. Sprague, were with him. He was about 60 years old and was a slave to drink. He leaves a family of five children at home and three married. He was last seen alive Saturday at 2 p.m. He washed, shaved and trimmed his beard and left the house. Financial troubles are supposed to be the cause.

Brutal Conductor Arrested.

OSCEOLA, Ia., July 16.—(Special Telegram.)—This afternoon while the way freight was at the Burlington depot in charge of Conductor George Troutman, Once Smith, a boy of 17 years, joked the conductor for having hit him with a bar of iron and struck Smith over the head, inflicting a very serious, if not fatal, wound. The boy is still delirious. Troutman was brought back from Murray and placed under a bond of $1,000.

To Set Aside a deed.

The Citizens' State bank commenced an action in the district court yesterday to set aside the deed of a twenty-acre strip of farm land just south of the city by James Weston and his wife, Sarah Weston, to their daughter, Anna Weston. Weston had received a judgment for $1,746 against Weston May 30, and on the day following Weston deeded the place to his daughter. The bank alleges that this transfer was fraudulent, with intent to prevent the creditors from realizing on the title to the property. The trial will be resumed this morning.
