Stole a Watch. A gold watch was stolen yesterday from the residence of E. H. Smith, a conductor on the Union Pacific railway, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Eleventh street. Mrs. Smith was visiting on the other side of the street and the girl was down stairs. On looking across the street Mrs. Smith saw a man just coming out of the front door and thinking all might house. On going in she found her watch, a fine lady's gold one, was gone. The fellow is said to play the part of an agent for a grocer, taking orders for goods and writing them down in a little book he carries. He has a small moustache and goatee and wears a light coat and straw hat. When he left the house he took a motor train up town, but that was the last trace the police could ob-

Prouble Among the Stockholders of the Manawa Railway Company.

Trouble has been brewing for several weeks among the stockholders in the Lake Manawa Railway company, and it culminated in the.

They were bundled off to the town and handed over to a crowd of half drunken nmencement of a suit in the district court yesterday, in which J. C. Shaffer appears as plaintiff and F. C. Reed and Emmet Tinley as defendants. Shaffer wants a receiver appointed, and makes any number of allegations support of his demand.

Shaffer bought the stock of S. P. MacConnell when the latter left the company about a year ago. According to the petition the com-pany's stock is now held as follows: F. C. Reed, 817 shares of $100 each; Emmet Tinley, 101 shares; J. C. Shaffer, 80 shares. Total capital stock, $100,000, divided into shares of capital stock, $100,000, divided into shares of $100 each. Shaffer alleges that Co.onel Reed has taken possession of all the property, to the exclusion of the other stockholders, and has been operating it to his own personal aggrandizement, with the connivance of the defendant Tinley. He has never made a report of the business done, and a board of directors has never been appropriate. Been has frectors has never been appointed. Reed has curred large indebtedness for the company, having issued bonds in the sum of $40,000, se cured by a trust deed on all the company's

The petition further alleges that under Reed's management the company has done business totally without authority, providing games and entertainments, operating boats, running a bar and restaurant and cutting ice The proceeds from these side lisues are co verted to his own use, and the company has never paid a dividend. Unless this is stopped the plaintiff claims that the company will rendered bankrupt. The ho'ding of the annual meeting was the The ho ding of the annual meeting was the occasion for the trouble that had been smoul dering for so long to break out into a flame. No annual meeting was held, as it should have been, in January, 1895, and at the request of Shaffer the secretary called a meeting for July 18. Emmet Tinley and W. F. Sapp responded to the announcement, and S. P. MacConnell represented Shaffer as attor-ncy in fact. Reed absented himself from the meeting until more than an hour after the time specified in the announcement, and then, by virtue of his having a controlling interest n the stock, had MacConnell excluded from he meeting. Five directors were then e'ect ed, and the meeting then adjourned until the following Monday, when Reed's report was to

Last Monday the meeting reconvened, bu immediately after the minutes were read Reed adjourned until August 5.

The giving of theatrical entertainments and games, the operation of a line of boats, a bar, a restaurant and all the other side attractions at Manawa, Shaffer says, are all without authority of the articles of incorporation under which the company was or-ganized, and will bankrupt it, because, as the petition alleges, Reed pockets all the earn ings. Reed's actions, the petition further rays, have been done with the avowed intention on the part of Reed and Tinley to run the value of Shaffer's stock down below par so as to compel him to sell at a dis count. A receiver is demanded, and an in-junction to restrain Reed from operating the cad. The case is set for hearing by Judg:

Smith for August 13.
When asked what he had to say about the When asked what he had to say about the suit last evening. Colonel keed stated that the allegations of the petition were all false, with the exception of that with reference to the distribution of the stock. "The railroad," said he further, "is on a better paying basis now than it ever was. The hands are better paid, the cars are better and there are more of them, and the train service has never been better. The beginning of the suit is merely part of the scheme of these men to compel me to buy stock which I don't want and don't need and don't propose to buy."

MORE SUITS AGAINST PAUL.

E. W. Nash and Gny C. Barton of Omaha Want Legal Relief. Another suit was commenced in the district court against John W. Paul yesterday by Edward W. Nash and Guy C. Barton, the two Omaha capitalists who, until within the last few weeks, have been his financial backers. Before August 26, 1890, the petition not be right went across to look after the sets forth, the plaintiffs advanced large sums of money with which to buy real estate, with the understanding that Paul was to furnish one-third of the total amount of money expended and to act as trustee, all deeds being made out in his name, and to give quit claim deeds at any time to the other two members of the partnership.

A couple of weeks ago the plaintiffs pre sented Paul with quit claim deeds to all of the property involved and asked him to sign them, granting them their two-thirds interest in the property. Paul refused to sign them. In violation of his contract they al-lege that he failed to have three mortgages cancelled on certain of the lots, these mort-gages amounting in the aggregate to $2,075. They demand that Paul be ordered by the court to execute quit claim deeds and to have the mortgages cancelled. A. D. Annis is made co-defendant, because not long ago he brought a suit against Paul and attached a portion of the property in question.

Appended to the petition is a copy of the contract between the plaintiffs and defendant which shows that 540 town lots were involved, located in Barton's addition, Paul's Place and Chariton's addition.

Frederick Polk, colored, lives about one mile from Bridgeville, Del., and says he is 105 year old. He was a siave of the Polks, from whom he got his name. PROHIBITION IN A NUTSHELL Governor Morrill's Opinion of the Kansas Experiment. Apropos of liquor legislation, it is interesting to note, writes a minister in the Globe-Democrat, that Governor Morrill of Kansas has publicly stated in a recent speech that the prohibitory law of the state cannot be enforced in localities where the public sentiment of the people is against it. That puts the matter in a nutshell. It is true of Maine and New Hampshire and Iowa, and of every state that has attempted pro-hibition. And it is the best possible argu-ment for a rational local option law. When you talk to an honest and well informed prohibitionist he will admit that the system works badly in large towns and cities, but he insists that in rural districts it is a suc-cess. Admit the statement. It is the most powerful argument against constitutiona Because it is in the cities that is most complex and needs careful and thoughtful solution. A general prohibitory law leaves the drink question in cities without any solution at all. It is unlawful for municipalities to attempt regulation or prevision of the drink it. They are confronted with a rigid law, which they know is daily and flagrantly violated, and yet they are helpiess. If they honestly attempt enforcement, they turn the drug stores into saloons, and create private drug stores into saloons, and create private drinking clubs where men and boys are ruined by secret drinking. This is true of Portland, Bangor, Des Moines, Topeka, every place where prohibitory laws offer but one method of dealing with drunkenness. It is discouraging to find that good people cannot see that a theory which has been tested for nearly half a century always fails at the very point where it is called to bear the very point where it is called to bear the greatest stress. Pool Selling Not Gambling. DES MOINES, July 25 .- (Special Tele gram.)-A decision was rendered today against the city in the Baltzer pool selling case. The matter will not be pushed further at this time. The attorneys for the defense demurred on the ground that the inarrest was issued was defective in failing to contain grounds sufficient upon which to base and maintain an action. The court sustained the demurrer and quashed the case. The warrant charged Baltzer with "gambling. towit: Selling pools on the races, at races, etc." The claim was set up in the demurrer that pool selling is not chargeable as gam-bling under the statutes of Iowa; that in naming pool selling as the mode of gambling allaged there is no ground of action, and that the kind of pools sold could not be construed as gambling, anyway. This latter claim is given some credence by the counsel for the state, as all the witnesses state that Baltzer acted as a stakeholder more than anything else, the pools sold being paris mutuals, on which he got 10 per cent commission for making the talk, holding the money put up, and dividing it after the race.

SHE TELLS A DIFFERENT STORY.

Woman Discloses the Real Identity of a San Francisco Murderer. SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 .- Mrs. C. F. Johnson has informed the police that the name of the man who murdered Clarence Barr, a Chinatown guide, a few weeks ago, is not C. B. Henderson, but Con Sulilvan, Henderson said he lived in Rochester and traveled for a New York shoe firm, but Mrs. Johnson tells quite a different story. She says the man boarded at her house some time and established the reputation of being very quarrelsome. On one occasion, after having a fight with a fellow boarder, Mrs. Johnson says he boasted to her that he had killed a man in cold blood in Denver. She identified Henderson in prison as the man she had known as Con Sullivan. Henderson says he never saw the woman before and emphatically denies her whole story, but the police are said to have evidence to verify her

C. B. Henderson, who says he is C. B. Henderson, who says he is a com-mercial traveler from Rochester, N. Y., was charged with manslaughter today by a coroner's jury. Henderson killed Clarence H. Barr, a guide, in the Baldwin hotel bar room as the result of a drinking row. The fact that Henderson is supposed to be a bunco-man known as "Con" Sullivan, who had previously killed two men, was not developed at the inquest.

WILL SELL THE STOCK YARDS.

Bondholders Close in on Garretson's San Francisco Venture: SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 .- A local paper says the Union Stock Yards company at formation or which the warrant for Baltzer's Rodeo, Contra Costa county, will be foreclosed by creditors to secure the payment of $250,000 worth of bonds, most of which were floated in the east. The company was organized by A. S. Garretson of Sloux City. Silberhorn, the great Chicago packer, Patrick Tormey of this city, and other wealthy men. Garretson and Silberhorn were the leading spirits. The value of the real estate of the ompany is estimated at $156,500. It is encumbered to the amount of $459,000 personal property is valued at $13,683. The brances amount to $342.768.

CHICAGO, July 25.—W. H. Silberhorn says he has not been connected with the stock yards company at Rodeo, Cal., for eighteen months, and no longer owns stock. "Garretson was the cashler of a Sloux City onk, and was always scheming. He pretended to have money, and I went in to deal with him, but his money did not materialize and he tried to do business on wind, with the inevitable result. There are practically no assets and it is a local affair, unless bonds have been sold in the east since I left the left ear. Kinney fell backward and instantly

WOMEN CROWD TO SEE DURRANT. Judge Overruled the Motion for a Change and the Trial Proceeded. SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 .- A number of oung women struggled with curiosity seekers to obtain admission to the trial of Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont today. The proceedings opened with venue. After a number of affidavits had been presented stating that the defendant would have a fair trial in San Francisco, Judge Murphy decided against the defendant's application for a change of venue, givstate law of 1862 making personal injury ing Durrant the right to renew the motion judgments prior to mortgages upon railroad later on. The court announced that the so-property does not apply to street railroads. called play, based upon the Emanuel church The question came up in the case of Louis Ladson against the Riverside Park Street Railway company. Larson had a personal superior court.

The impaneling of jurors then commenced made prior to the claims of the bondholders under this law. The point has always been a matter of dispute in the state and will hundred jurors who had been summoned an in court by his father and mother, maintains his calm and unconcerned demeanor.

ABBUCTED A VERY PRETTY GIRL

Confined in a Strange House Over Night but Released Uninjured. KANSAS CITY, July 25.-Miss Lizzle Stephenson, a pretty 18-year-old young woman, tells a peculiar story of abduction on Central street, one of the principal streets of the city, in broad daylight by two or three men in a hack. She was walking along Central street when she was hustled into a cab and taken to some house and held n captivity until this morning. not injured in any way, but her clothing was torn and disarranged in her struggles to free herself from her captors. No cause is known for the abduction. The girl's parents are not wealthy and therefore the expectation of a ransom could hardly be the reason.

Hubbard of this county left for Vermillion yesterday to bring back two in the mouth, coated tongue, young girls who have been arrested there on the charge of burglary committed here. The girls' names are Rebecca and Hattle Bird and they have been servant girls in this city for several years. A week ago the house of A. K. Pay was robbed and several house of A. K. Pay was robbed and several silk dresses taken. The same night a diamond ring was stolen from the home of Colonel R. J. Woods. The girls, who were then working at the Merchants hotel, left the following morning for Vermillion. Later on Colonel Woods' diamond ring was seen on the finger of a young man here, who said the Bird girls had given it to him to keep until they called for it. The girls had worked at both the places and other evidence goes to prove their guilt. They will probably have their hearing here Friday.

Life Prisoner Happy.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 25 .- (Special.) -Sheriff J. C. Root of Stanley county yes terday brought Ed W. Davis to the penientiary to serve a life sentence for the murder of Nels Carlson near Fort Pierre recently. A rare example of the haste of justice is seen in this case. The arrest was made July 7, a very few days after the murder, and less than twenty days later the criminal is placed in the penitentiary for life. Sheriff Root says that Dayis, until he got out of Hughes county, was badly fright-ener fearing, that at every station there would be a mob to lynch him. But after getting further away he became very happy and sang songs and laughed as heartily as if he was going to a picnic
