

PLENTY OF CASH TO LEND

English Investors Have Millions to Invest in Desirable Securities.

AFRAID OF AMERICAN INVESTMENTS

Unbusiness Induced by the Monetary Discussion in the United States Causes Cautious People to Refrain from Buying.

LONDON, July 27.—The Times this morning has a leader commenting upon the enormous increase of private deposits in the Bank of England, and says: This indicates that the money formerly put into foreign investments has been kept in hand. Good authorities estimate that up to 1892 English capitalists were accustomed to invest 130,000,000 yearly in America, chiefly in railroad stocks. But for the unbusiness induced by the monetary system undoubtedly it would be re-invested in America now that business is perceptibly improving there, but the defects of the system still remaining, cautious people will refrain until they are remedied. The positive rush, both in England and in Europe, to lend money in China proves the desire for good investment.

PAVE QUINLAN IS WEAKENING

Thought He Will Soon Tell All He Knows About Holmes' Crimes.

FINDING MORE EVIDENCE IN THE CELLAR

Bench Covered with Blood Stains and Parts of Human Skeletons—Heirs of the Williams Girls Take a Hand.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Workmen in Swindler Holmes' morgue dug up a piece of bone and doctors say it is part of human anatomy. The bone was so small that the searchers did not at first attach much significance to it. The doctor says it is certainly a piece of human bone, but he cannot determine to what part of the anatomy it belongs. An old sponge was also found and as it is discolored, the police suspect that possibly it was once saturated with blood. A chemical analysis will be made. One of the important findings made by the police today in their search of the "castle" was a bench covered with stains resembling blood. The bench was found in a deserted store room next to the apartment in which Pat Quinlan slept. The police were doubtful as to the nature of the stains and an analysis will be made. Chief of Police Badenoch put Pat Quinlan and his wife through another severe examination today. It is believed that the pair can give sensational evidence if they can be made to talk, and Quinlan will be kept under police guard. The police, who were called to examine the stains on the bench said they were undoubtedly blood. It is believed by the police that Holmes used the bench as an operating table on which he disposed his victims before disposing of their bodies. Attorney William Capras of Fort Worth, Tex., visited police headquarters today, representing the Texas state of the Williams girls. He said he would endeavor to prove that deeds to the girls' property held by Holmes are forgeries. After being closeted with the chief of police and James Quinn, Quinlan for nearly five hours, William Capras, the lawyer from Texas for the heirs of Minnie Williams, stepped from the sweat box this afternoon. "I think Quinlan is weakening and will tell the truth now," he said, "but Mrs. Quinlan is obstinate. I have come from Texas to follow this matter up. Mrs. Quinlan is at Fort Worth when he came there as Pratt, with Pitzel as E. T. Lyman, and Quinlan as her confidential man. You see, Holmes had not recorded the death of the murdered Minnie Williams in June until January of the next year. Then, no longer fearing inquiry, he had made a deal with Pitzel, who had the property transferred to a fictitious man named Bond, for so Quinlan, practically admitted today. The house they built was an exact counterpart of the Holmes castle here and just as pretentious. The property Holmes borrowed $10,000 from a bank and raised as much more from private parties.

DECLINES TO TALK FURTHER THAN TO SAY ONE OF THE WILLIAMS GIRLS IS DEAD.

MRS. QUINLAN MAKES ADMISIONS.

Mrs. Patrick Quinlan lost her defiant spirit in the police inquisition today. Two days of "sweat box" experience proved more than she could bear with equanimity and she told the police things which before had not been acknowledged. It has resulted in making the police more than ever suspicious of her husband and the look in the mysterious business of Holmes. "Our evidence today," secured from Mrs. Quinlan, is highly important," said Chief Badenoch tonight. "She admitted that she was in the castle at the time of the murder of the Williams girls, and that she is a step in the right direction. Pat Quinlan, up to this hour, firmly protests that he was a mere friend and that he had nothing to do with the matter. Mrs. Quinlan's evidence was that after Mrs. Connor disappeared it became necessary for Holmes to produce her to collect her insurance. She said that she was set in her place. She went to an insurance office in La Salle street, not yet located, and swore she was Mrs. Connor and signed that name. She said she was told to sign the collection of some insurance that was to be secured by fraud. This opens the way to other deals which it is necessary to know to fasten the guilt of the crime upon the Holmes case. Inspector Fitzpatrick quoted Quinlan's child today. "Little Cora Quinlan is safe and sound," he said, "at the home of the deceased, her grandparents, near Leocota, Mich."

WILLIAMS GIRLS KNOWN IN DENVER.

DENVER, July 26.—The unfortunate Minnie Williams and her sister, whom Holmes is accused of having murdered, came to Denver early in 1892, with their brother, who was in poor health. They took rooms at the Hotel Hamilton, on the corner of 14th and Logan avenues, and soon became very popular with the other guests. Minnie was about 20 years of age, and was a very attractive and well educated, was an accomplished pianist. She had studied elocution in Boston. She appeared for three weeks on the stage at the Grand Opera House. As a member of a stock company. Those who knew her affirm of her character that it was a mystery. She was a very kind and generous person, and was very popular with the other guests. She was very kind and generous person, and was very popular with the other guests. NOT ANXIOUS TO QUIT HOLMES.

TORONTO, July 26.—While the police and detectives are eager for the extradition of Holmes, it is learned that the attorney general is in no way anxious to be put to the expense and trouble of the trial. If a confession is obtained from Holmes, it will be easier. The Philadelphia authorities have been notified of the issuance of the warrant simply to give Toronto precedence over other jurisdictions. Believes Holmes Was at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 26.—Mr. McLean, one of the owners of the St. Nicholas hotel, is a positive that Holmes, Hatch and a woman, possibly Miss Williams, stayed at his hotel last September. He says that an elderly man, accompanied by a young woman, whom he represented to be his wife, arrived on the 27th of September and shortly afterward the woman was murdered. The man from Chicago. After staying a few days at the hotel the elderly man left with his wife for the east and the other man went to Chicago. The elderly man left the city, but the detective can find no trace of the young woman and it is thought she may have been murdered here.

Deposed Chief Perryman.

CHECOTAH, T. P., July 25.—After a special session of ten days the Creek council was adjourned yesterday. A joint resolution was passed recognizing Edward Buller as acting principal chief and N. B. Moore as acting treasurer. A committee was appointed by Chief Buller and consisted of Chief Buller, Perryman and the effects of his office. Perryman assured the committee that he would not interfere with the acting Chief Buller while under suspension. Mr. Moore was authorized by the council to demand of Treasurer Grayson all the funds and effects of his office and will take action toward making immediate payment of the per capita and semi-annual funds. Almost a full council met in response to a call from Acting Chief Buller and the meeting was harmonious.

SAWYER PUT ON THE STAND

Asked Concerning the Reasons for the Arrest of Sheriff Mullin.

UNABLE TO EXPLAIN ONE POINT

Conclusion of the Congressional Investigation of the Trouble on the Omaha and Winnebago Indian Reservations.

PENDER, Neb., July 26.—(Special Telegram).—At the session of the congressional committee last evening United States Attorney Sawyer was placed on the stand. He claimed that Sheriff Mullin was arrested for interfering with the officers of the government while discharging their duties on an Indian reservation, over which the United States has exclusive jurisdiction. Senator Thurston asked him how it could be that Justice of the Peace Landros, before whom the sheriff was brought for trial, could claim any jurisdiction in view of the fact that he was merely an officer of the state. That was a point which Mr. Sawyer did not seem able to answer. Sawyer was asked why he did not get out a writ of habeas corpus for the Indian police who were arrested and placed in the Thurston county jail he said their sentence was so short that he did not have time. A large delegation of Omaha Indians were present, and they were asked to accompany the agent to transact their business for them, and requested that that power be taken away from him. Senator Thurston and Congressman McKeljohn, Strode and Andrews left this morning on the southbound train, and Senator Allen and Court Reporter Donnell on the northbound train.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(Special Telegram).—It does not seem possible that the interior department will comply with the request of five members of the Nebraska congressional delegation that approval of leases made by Captain Beck be suspended and evictions be discontinued until the senators' inquiries have had time to investigate and report to the department. Their telegram was referred immediately to the interior office. An official of the interior bureau today said that he did not think the interior department would suspend the approval of leases and order evictions stopped.

Cherokee Bill Kills a Guard in an Attempt to Escape.

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 26.—Cherokee Bill got his hands on another revolver today and used it in an attempt to liberate prisoners confined in murderer's row of the United States jail. His attempt was a bold one and resulted in the death of Larry Keating, the oldest guard on the night guard. Tom Parker and Larry Keating had just gone on duty. Turnkey Eoff and McConnell were engaged in locking up. On account of the hot weather, the long night guard prisoners are allowed to remain in the corridors until 7 o'clock. Eoff and McConnell, Parker and several deputy marshals ran in and opened fire on Cherokee Bill, whenever they tried to leave the corridors. The guard was nearly exhausted and he agreed to surrender his pistol to Henry Starr, which was done. The pistol with which he did the shooting was a new pearl handled, forty-four caliber. Sixteen Families Reported Massacred in Jackson's Hole and Vicinity.

RANCHMAN BRINGS IN THE INFORMATION

Meager Details of the Terrible Affair Received from Different Sources—Settlers Believed to Be in Imminent Danger.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 26.—(Special Telegram).—The report was brought to Market Lake, sixteen-five miles north of here, tonight that sixteen families in Jackson's Hole had been massacred by the Indians. James Peterson, a ranchman, brought the news after a hard ride over the rough hills. Superintendent Hopkins of the St. Anthony ditch line told Peterson that he got the startling information direct from Mr. Ross of the banking firm of Gray, Ross & Wyatt of St. Anthony, who started on a fishing trip last Wednesday with Thomas Hamer, county attorney of St. Anthony, General Hamer, state attorney of Idaho, and L. M. Earle of Salt Lake. The party intended to go to Jackson's lake, but were barred out by the hostile Indians, and they heard the report that a number of white settlers had been killed. Riley Howard, a ranchman of Wilford, Idaho, who arrived at Market Lake today, says he heard the report both at Rexburg, on the direct trail to Jackson's park, and St. Anthony that sixteen entire families in Jackson's Hole had been killed. Peterson sent a messenger to the besieged district early yesterday morning. The general says he should be back here early Saturday morning to give more detailed and authentic information. The two special trains bearing the four troops of colored cavalry from Fort Robinson, were held up by the Indians at Rexburg, and instead of arriving here this evening, it will be daylight tomorrow morning before they arrive. It will be well about noon tomorrow before the troops reach Market Lake. Considerable time will necessarily be consumed in this military operation. The land, and then there are before them 120 miles of travel, the last of the journey being over the Teton mountains. This means that it will be at least Monday night before the settlers, if any remain in the Jackson's Hole valley, receive assistance.

INDIAN TRIP TO SALT LAKE PILES.

After a trip to this place to investigate the latest news of the Indian uprising, a party consisting of half a dozen young army officers, who were on their way to Salt Lake, has decided to abandon a contemplated hunting trip into the mountains as unsafe. They are now at Salt Lake, where they will wait for news east of here, but will not venture further north at present.

More Deaths from the Indian.

Mr. Hoyt Sherman, Jr., one of the most prominent citizens of Salt Lake, was in the city last night, having left his family at a big ranch twenty-five miles north of Soda Springs. On learning the serious condition of affairs in the mountains, he was on the next train to take them home to Salt Lake. There is a party of twenty-five Salt Lake people at the same place, and upon Mr. Sherman's return, it is believed that all undoubtedly decide to leave that part of the country also.
