The News has the following from its special correspondent at Market Lake, Idaho, dated July 26, this dispatch being received shortly before the news of the massacre: "I left here late Wednesday night, determined to verify the rumor brought in by a stage driver that there had been a fight and that many had been killed. After riding eighty miles my horse gave out. I was lucky enough to meet a Teton basin settler whose brother is with the posse in Jackson's Hole, and when I told him I feared the whites had been trapped in Hoback canyon on Tuesday, the 23rd, he agreed to go as far as he could and report particulars to me here tonight. I am confident he will never cross into Jackson's Hole for Indian scouts are watching the pass. I now believe it will require more troops. I am confident if the troops to arrive here to-morrow attempt to go through the Hoback canyon trail they will meet the fate of the settlers of Jackson's Hole who went into that Indian trap, if they did as they told both Ad-jutant General Stitzer and myself they would

on Tuesday morning last. 'Hoback canyon trail can only be followed single file, and in going into some of the numerous fords of the Hoback river a horse will slip and slide fifty feet. The ground is full of sharp angles and sudden turns. Eighfull of sharp angles and sudden turns. Eighteen miles east of the junction of Hoback river and the Snake river the canyon opens out into Hoback basin, which is about eight miles by four, with fine grass and spring water all over it. It is now the greatest resort for antelope in summer of any place in America. Going south from Jackson's Hole the Hoback basin trail runs through foot-hills for eighteen miles before reaching the Hoback river and canyon, where I think the Jackson's Hole people were ambushed Tues-

July 20. On Sunday forenoon, July 21, at the Mayravate postoffice, a conference was held between in three things, faith in him whom he taught; T. B. Teter, agent at the Fort Hall Indian reservation, and about fifty-five settlers of whom he aimed to teach. Lot had only half Jackson's Hole. Captain William House of believed that Sodem was to be destroyed

"In an interview on Sunday afternoon, July 21, with a griveance committee of four prominent residents of Jackson's Hole, the following statements were given me as the grounds for the actions of the settlers in trying to prevent or suppress the wanton and NEITHER ONE COMMITTEE ONE C ing to prevent of suppress the wanton and unlawful killing of game. They claim that Indians composed of Bannocks, Shoshones and Lembi Indians, to the number of 600, at a low estimate, have for the last six years been wantonly and indiscriminately slaughterdeer and antelope in large numbers, in a great many instances for their hides only. Owing to the insufficiency of the game laws prior to those passed by the Third legislative assembly, it was absolutely impossible to protect the game from these annual raids of the Indians. In 1894, owing to the repeated petitions of the settlers and complaints of the county authorities of Unita and Fremont counties, the Department of the Interior, by circular letter of instruc-tions, under date of February, 1894, in-structed the Indian agents of Fort Hail and Shoshone agencies to issue no passes to In-dians for the purpose of leaving their reservations under any circumstances, and especially not for the purpose of hunting.

ONE INDIAN ARRESTED. "During the spring of 1895 the settlers of Jackson's Hole determined to see to the en-Jackson's Hole determined to see to the enforcement of the game laws against all parties, Indians and white men alike. On the 7th day of June a Shoshone Indian was arrested for unlawfully killing game; he had in his possession between thirty and forty hides of elk and deer, killed within a period of twenty days. The Indian was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $15, which was paid by one John Carnes, a squaw man and a resident of Jackson's Hole.

"On the 24th day of June a process was issued for the apprehension of nine Bannock sued for the apprehension of nine Bannock Indians and placed in the hands of Constable William Manning for service. On the 26th day of June a constable and two deputies came upon seven of the Indians, in the Fall River basin, in the act of taking the bides off nineteen head of cow elk which had just been killed. The Indians resented any interference of their unlawful act and interference of their unlawful act and threatened the constable and deputies with personal violence if they did not immediately leave the vicinity, and threatened the deputies that if they or the people of Jackson's Hole in any manner interfered with their hunting, they would kill every man, woman and child in Jackson's Hole. At this time the constable, being unable to make any arrests, returned to Jackson's Hole and reported the fact. At this time the settlers reported the fact. At this time the settlers were somewhat excited, by reason of the fact that John Carnes had communicated to them that he had received a letter from Fort Hall, from a half-breed Indian police and relation of his, that the Bannock Indians intended to go on the warpath, and proposed to hunt in Jackson's Hole or kill every settler therein and advised him (Carnes) to leave the country without delay.

This letter being read by some of the settlers caused further excitement, and precautions were taken for protecting homes and families.

"On the 2d of July s warrant was issued for eight Indians, who were arrested, having in their passession over 150 bitles of aued for eight Indians, who were arrested, having in their possession over 150 hides of animals killed from the 25th day of May, 1895, the date of the passes issued by Agent Teter of Fort Hall to Shoshone Indians, up to July 2. Upon due trial six of the Indians were convicted and two discharged from custody. Those convicted were sentenced to pay a fine of $75 and costs, and upon failure to pay to be committed to tall upon failure to pay to be committed to jail. These six escaped from the guard on the 16th day of July, 1895.

"KILLED SEVERAL INDIANS." "On the 10th day of July a warrant was issued for ten Bannock Indians and placed into the hands of the constable and sworn into the hands of the constable and sworn deputies. The arrest was then made and every precaution taken to keep the Indians from escaping. On Saturday evening, after the arrest, the Indians determined to escape, and, coming close to a bunch of timber, knowing they were carefully watched by the men in charge, they make an attempt to escape. In their efforts to stop them the deputies killed several Indians, and the remainder effected their escape. The squaws, who were in the rear, ran into the timber, and, in their flight, lost a young boy about 2 years old, who was taken to Jackson's Hole, cared for and then sent to the Shoshone agency.

who was taken to Jackson's Hole, cared for and then sent to the Shoshone agency.

"On Friday, July 19, Captain John Smith, a prospector and miner in charge of some of the Gros Ventre mining properties, was returning to his camp when he was fired on from ambush by five Indians and shot in the right breast. The wound, however, was not a serious one, and Captain Smith returned the fire, killing one of the Indians, and the others made their escape.

"It is estimated that 3,000 head of elk have already been killed by the Indians this season. Bands of elk are tying on the hillsides and timbured ravines, shorn of their hides only. Motherless caives follow the horses of the settlers, as they pass through the country, their mothers having been killed by the Indians. This is the cause of the trouble between the Indians and white men of this county. The settlers are determined to protect the game and enforce the state laws at all hazards. The agent at Fort Hall arrived here on the 20th of law and he cave the disposed to think that the Indians had a per-fect right to hunt on any unoccupied lands of the government at all seasons.

FURTHER CONFLICT LOOKED FOR. "The ambushing of Captain Smith has aroused an w the slumbering excitement of the settlers, and may probably result in other conflicts between the whites and the Indians. In August, 1894, the Bannock Indians rounded up a bunch of antelope among the settlera' houses and killed some twenty odd head, and by their promiscuous firing endangered the lives of the occupants of the houses. The seven Indians under arrest had in their possession four green (domestic) calf Horses and cattle are yearly shot by itans in this country by reckless firing in pursuit of game. "It is also claimed that tourists and hunters are engaged in the unlawful killing of game, a matter which should have attention at the a matter which should have attention at the hands of the proper authorities.

"I have the honor to submit herewith, for your consideration, the foregoing report cov-ering some of the causes of differences be-tween the while men and the Indians.

TALKED ON HOW TO WIN MEN. Christian Workers Discuss the Subject at an Open Air Meeting.

Representatives from the Young Men's Christian associations of Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs met on the lawn at the residence of A. P. Tukey at Twenty-sixth and Chicago streets last evening. The meeting was for the purpose of exchanging ideas in regard to the work of the association and the subject of discussion was, "How to Win Men." The lawn was lighted by numerous Men." The lawn was lighted by numerous Chinese lanterns suspended from the trees, and as the forethought of Mr. Tukey had provided a huge stone jar of lemonade a pleasant social session preceded the exercises of the evening.

President C. A. Starr of the local associa tion called the meeling to order, after which prayer was offered by Mr. Roper of Council Bluffs. Secretary Ober outlined the discussion and explained that since the heat was unbearable in a down town building it had been thought that it would be a pleasant novely to hold the conference in the open air.

Rev. A. Holden Byles opened the discussion. He said that the Lord had sent the "MARKET LAKE, Idaho, July 24, 1895.— Christians out into the world just as he did w. A. Richards, Governor: In obedience to the twelve disciples. "There was nothing special in their commission more than there was

Two Dangerous Criminals Attempt Escape from the City Jail. Frank Ryan and Wyman Saunders wanted to get out of jail last night, and they had such a pressing engagement on the outside that they were perfectly willing to go without bidding adieu to their jailors. When they were seen by Conductor Tiedeman Ryan was promenading up and down the corridor awaitng a good chance to make a dash, while Saunders was ready to come out a good second. They were put back in the cell,

"How did you get out?" asked Sergeant Whalen. "Oh, I just shook the door until the lock fell," said Ryan.
"Well," remarked the sergeant, "I will re lease you both if you will do it again."

Thereupon Ryan shook and shook until the sweat rolled down his forehead, but the lock would not budge. Then he remarked: "I guess it won't work now."

The two men had been locked in the same cell. The cell was examined and on the floor was found two pieces of wire which had been bent and with these they had picked the cell lock. When they got out they made an effort to force the bars of a window in the rear, but could not succeed. Then they awaited an opportunity to dash through the jail office. Ryan is one of the four men who are supposed to be Chicago crooks and who have been carrying on a system of thievery in the city. They were accustomed to transfer into a rig of their own the contents of any wagons bey found standing on the streets. Two of he men were yesterday sentenced to thirty days by Judge Berks, while Ryan and the others are awaiting trial. Saunders is a colored man who was arrested on a warrant but who is charging him with vagrancy, but who is wanted on a more serious charge.

It has been alleged that Pixley could not have taken the places he did at Kearney had it not been for his good luck each time in "hitching on" to the tandem, and of course he will endeavor to show what he can do unaided. Then in the Coliseum races, Harvey Hatloway had to set the page poarty the Holloway had to set the pace nearly the whole time in order to make the time at all fast.
