TO PARDON W. H. THOMPSON

Efforts Being Made in Behalf of the Dawson County Convict.

HIS WIFE CALLS ON THE GOVERNOR

Secretary Howell of the State Board of Irrigation Makes Public Some Interesting Statistics Relating to the Subject.

LINCOLN, July 20 .- (Special.) -- Mrs. W. H. Thompson was at the governor's office today and had an interview with the chief executive. She called to present a petition for the pardon of her husband, now in the pen-Rentiary. Thompson was convicted in Dawson county on May 21, 1894, of criminal assoult on a girl named Carrie Brocket, and sentenced to prison for three years. Mrs. lows: Thompson's petition is signed by all the jury which convicted her husband, the prosecuting attorney and a number of the witnesses for the state. The Board of Public Lands and Buildings today let the contract for the new addition to the Omens Institute for the Deaf to R. C. Etreblow, for the repairs, at $7,144, and the plumbing to Balfe & Reed, Omaha, for $2,509. LETTERS SENT IN GOOD TIME.

At the governor's office indignant denial is entered to the instruction made in certain quarters that the letters which Governor Holcomb addressed to the attorney general and the commissioner of public lands, asking them to join with him in bringing the consti-tutionality of the new Churchill-Russell act to an immediate test before the supreme court, were given out for publication before they were delivered to the persons for whom they were intended. All the letters which the governor made public Saturday were delivered by the governor's private clerk at the offices of the persons addressed hours in advance of the time when copies were supplie the press. Commissioner of Public Lands Russell received the letter relating to the police commission act from the clerk per-sonally. There is no ground whatever for the charge that the letters were not received by the parties directly interested before they were read in the public press.

HOW IRRIGATION CATCHES. Secretary Howell of the State Board of Irrigation has been making some figures and comparisons which are interesting. There have been filed with the county clerks of forty-three counties 789 notices of claims for water privileges, covering 981 pages of manuscript. Of these 789 claims 179 were filed since the new law went into effect, making it necessary for them to refile with the state board in order to perfect their claims. To all of those who have filed notices the new forms of application have been sent in order that they may give a definite description of what they want. Many of the claims filed under the old law were ambiguous. Parties who have filed claims with county clerks since April 4 must now refile with the state board. Since May 16, 312 persons have refiled with the board. Of these ninety-nine appli-cations covered some 700,000 or 800,000 acres of land, embracing 312 canals, or ditches. But three counties in the state have failed to furnish at least one applicant, and but three counties have falled to refile when requested to do so. According to the United States census of 1890. Utah, in forty years, had irrigated but 600,000 acres, and there were, in 1890, but 350,000 acres under irrigation in Utab. This comparison speaks well for the progress being made in Nebraska during the short period in which attention has been given to the subject of irrigation.

LUDDEN ON RELIEF WORK. Secretary Ludden of the State Relief commission says he will wind up the affairs of his office some time this week. The last re-turns of the belated counties are now being typewritten, and will be given to the secretary of state within a day or two. The report of the commission will be a voluminous affair, covering all the work since the fermation of the board last fall. A synopsis of this report is promised the press by Saturday next. The office force has been reduced to two clerks.

On motion of Judge Broady a committee on resolutions was dispensed with. It was said that this was in the interest of Judge A. S. Tibbetts, who was opposed silver plank in a county convention platform. He was a candidate for renomination for district judge and received it. C. H. I myself further asked your opinion, and before any action was taken by the board, I asked: Is there any one present who has any objections to make, or know of any reason why said appraisement should not be ac-cepted?" In reply to this you said: "I do cepted?" In reply to this you said: "I do not know of any."

You will remember that when the matter of the payment of the appraisers came up that you volunteered a suggestion that the amount of $500 each was none too large; that the responsibility had been great and that through the careful consideration of impetent men the state had been saved a large amount of money. You further suggested that they be paid out of the appropriation for the maintenance of the prison. You asked if there was not a fund out of which the appraisement could be paid, and I replied decidedly and distinctively that in my opinion there was no fund out of which to pay them except the fund for the purchase and appraisement of the penitentiary roperty.

You cannot but recall that before we decided to pay them their fees of $500 each, I asked the question: "Is there any one present who has anything to say why they should not be paid the amount charged?"

You expressed yourself satisfied with the amount and did not leave the meeting until the vouchers had been made out for the losers. I am glad to hear you express yourappraisers and the umpire.

While I may differ with Mr. Gaffin politcally, yet I do not believe that he was so forgetful of his duty and his oath that he permitted a fraud to be perpetrated upon the state by reason of negligence. You took the same part in the appraisement as did the Board of Public Lands and Build-

The Board of Public Lands and Buildings appointed one appraiser, as required by law; you appointed the umpire, as required by law; you were present during the entire session of the board when action was taken upon their work. You heard the appraisers report, heard the conversation and discussion relating thereto, made no objection whatever to the payment of $500 each to the appraisers and umpire, all of which is in your own knowledge, and to the knowledge of every member of the board, individually and collectively, and through all of the proceedings no objections came from you regarding the entire transaction. The book was found with a bundle of letters addressed by various women to Holmes, which had evidently been placed there for burning. The accounts, which date back to May 1, 1885, show the wner's dealings with various people ntry regarding insurance shows the existence of insurance deals as early as 1886. A mysterious "Dora" is mentioned as the reiplent of numerous small sums, which are refully recorded, and the minutes of the Englewood company are also given, the election of directors and transaction of ther business. Lawyer William Capps, the Fort Worth ittorney who is here at the instance of the neirs of Minnie Williams, stated today that he is prepared to prove the murder of Minnle and Annie Williams. He is prepared to produce a man who knows Quinlan, Holmes ind Pitzel, and another man, whose name he refused to divulge. This man has been lo-cated by the man the heirs of the Williams girls put upon the case eight months ago.

ASHLAND, Neb., July 39.—(Special.)—
A young lady, Van Tassell, formerly of this city, is supposed to have been a victim of Holmes, the Chicago fiend. She disappeared in 1892, and has not been heard of. She was well acquainted with Holmes, who was her Sunday school superintendent,
