Omaha Beaten at Cricket by the Minnesotas on the Call of Time.

EXCITING END TO A BRILLIANT GAME

Visitors Bring Three Good Bats and Bowlers, Who Knocked Tar Out of the Home Tenm at the Finish.

Otaaha was tackled in the cricket field yesterday by the Minnesotas and came off second best. The contest warred warmly until the end and wound up with a magnificent finale, the visitors only getting rid of the last of their opponents one minute and a half before the time agreed upon to call the

The visiting club consists of players from St. Paul and Minneapolis who have combined to form one organization which will successfully uphold the dignity of a foreign game in a strange land. Last month the Omahas visited the Twin Cities and come home with one victory and one defeat. When Omaho went to the wicket for the second laning in the match on the Kountze Place grounds yesterday afternoon it seemed as if the third contest would surely be to the credit of the Omahas. The visitors arrived at the Webster street deput at 10:35 a. m. and were laken straight out to the grounds, where the game was begun about 11:30. Twelve players and a scorer and umpire had come and as the home club also had twelve good men and true in the field, it was agreed to play twelve to the side instead of the customary

The names of the visitors are: L. T. Waters, T. R. Sisson, G. C. Saulez, S. B. Donaldson, C. R. Wilcox, C. A. Miller, G. D. Napler, A. N. Dumfries, H. Macgregor, W. Davidson, W. E. Rumble, J. F. Knight, with A. Macgregor as umpire and W. P. Berry

For Omaha the following took part: Laurie, captain; H. New, C. H. Young, J. Neale, J. Camerson, J. Francis, W. Vaughn, George Vaughn, Robert Taylor, J. C. Doyle, P. B. Ford and C. H. Cookson, with Frank Hilditch as umpire and A. W. Bowman as scorer. man as scorer.

ON A FUNNY WICKET. Omaha won the toss and sent the visitors to the wicket. The morning shower had made the pitch just a trifle tricky and the idea was that a few hours hot sun would have the effect of making the wicket faster later in the day. The innings was opened by L. T. Waters and T. R. Sisson, with Dayle and W. R. Vaughn bowling. The batsmen at the outset showed considerable fear. The turf pitch was strange to them and they hit very carefully. Runs came slowly for a time, but the batamen soon began to hit more freely, and it was the three first men who did the scoring. Saulez especially played a very pretty game. His first innings score almost his side from defeat, and later in the game his second figure was just one more than the match was won by. The tailenders went down rapidly before Omaha bowling and the innings closed 77. This did not seem a very large total and the Omahas went to the wick-t after lunch feeling quite hopeful of pulling off the ever, which was straighter and swifer than they were accustomed to at home, and is a They had to meet some bowling, howthey were accustomed to at home, and in a short time half the wickets were down and four of the best bats in the team had gone with hardly any runs. The two Vaughns then came together and made a good stand. They stayed together until the score had passed the other side's total and the innings closed with Omaha ten runs to the good. It was by this time after 3:30. The agreement which had been made at the ning was that if there were not time to finish the second aning that the result should de-pend on the first inning's score, and 6:30 was named as the time for the game to be called. It did not seem at all likely that twenty-two wickets would fall in two hours and forty minutes and the match at this point was generally conceded to Omaha.

SAME THING OVER AGAIN. Minnesota went to the wicket and repeated their previous performance. Saulez had the of making the two highest individual scores of the day. As before, the twelve men made seventy-four runs off the bat, but the Omaha men did not show the same energy in the field as they had earlier in the day ously low three in the first inning. By the time that the Minnesotas had been disposed of, with Omnha needing seventy-one to win the prespects looked brighter than ever for a victory. There were only about five min-utes over the hour left for play. If Omaha succee, of in making the seventy runs, whether they were all out or not, they would win the match on the two innings. If they stayed at the wicket until time was called they won by ten runs on the first inning. had everything to gain by up the requisite seventy-one in the quickest possible time and apparently nothing to lose, for it did not seem possible for the visitors

With this idea the first batsmen started out to hit everything in sight. They thought they were safe in leaving it to those who were to follow after to do all the blocking that would be necessary in case it were found that the wickets might all fall before the time. Neale, who had been not out before, was sent in first with Cookson. Cookson was bowled for three, Neale was caught for two, and so it went on. Doyle soared up to seven and was clean bowled by a magnificent ball from Dumfries, and Ford was run out (according to the umpire's decision) for three. New started for an impossible run and could not get back in time. Taylor and G. Vaughn stayed together for a short time, and Vaughn was given out for a catch in the case of a ball that touched the ground between the bat and the wicket keeper's hand. Will Vaughn and Taylor again made a short stand, but it was done with very little scoring, and as wickets thi fell fast it seemed that Omaha was surely to dispose of the whole team in such short

FATE OF THE LAST PAIR. Conrad Young, the last man, went to bat not less than ten minutes before time and blocked well. In the previous inning he had had marvelous escapes, the ball on one occa-sion rolling from his bat to the wicket and gently leaning against it without disturbing the balls. It was during his period at the bat the Minnesota score had been passed Now he was going to the wicket to stay there until the umpire should call time. Once he was missed, but he carried out his bat and if his partner could have held up for about another over Omaha would have been a half of time when Cameron was caught. Though beaten the Omahas can claim to have played the better game. They all went to pieces at the end, but a rank decision like that which dismissed Mr. Ford is sufficient to take the spirit out of any team. The fielding of the home men was conspicuously ahead of that of the visitors, and this is another matter for congratulation. The best bats, as Mr. Laurie felicitously put it at the banquet in the evening, were not heard from. Maybe they were incapable of handling the excellent bowling of Davidson and other members of the Minnesota team. In any case th result is such that the second game row may end entirely differently. Om tends to strengthen her team for this match sufficiently to win It.

CORNELL CREW ARRIVES HOME. Boys Say They Were Not Treated Well on the Other Side. NEW YORK, Aug. 3 .- The Cornell university boat crew arrived today by the American line steamship St. Louis, from Southampton.

The crew generally feel that they were not treated any too well on the other side and express considerable dissatisfaction with what they term the unjust criticism of the British press.
Captain Freeborn said: "We were well treated by the college representatives and the general public on the other side, but were unmercifully criticised by the newspapers. All sorts of comment was made on our style of rowing and the training of our crew. We had an enjoyable time, however, and hope to have an opportunity of again competing with the college earsmen on the other side." Thomas Hall, one of the crew, said: "After the race we spent five days in London and five in Paris. A number of the boys took more extended trips. It seems to me that the climate had a good deal to do with our defeat. We should rather have raced immediately on our arrival or spend six months there before starting in a race." SAYS THE WHEAT CROP IS SHORT Modern Miller Estimates the Yield

WORK OF THE VISITORS VERY GOOD

Cook's Pitching, Backed Up by Spien did Fielding Proved Too Much for the Erudite Omnhogs-Scores of Other Amateur Games.

The third game between the Universities and the Wahoos, played at University park yesterday afternoon, was a good companion piece for the two preceding games. To be sure the Wahoos won, but that was not because the game was not well played, but because the erudite disciples of the diamond were a trifle canary in their work at one or two critical junctures, and because the boys from the land of hay seed and moss put up an article of the great national sport that defied defeat. They were all on their mettle with a vengeance, and determined in a measure to get even for the defeats of Thursday and Friday. And they did it, and notwithstanding that Robinson, one of thu very best amateur pitchers in the country. was on the slab for the college boys. He put up a gilt-edged game, but was not supported properly at critical times. For the visitors, Cook pitched equally well, so far as the batting was concerned. He has fine centrol of the ball and pitched with judgment all through the game. While Cook's pitching was beautiful, the work of all his co-partners was of the finest description, and the victory they won was as clean cut as a silhouette. Score: UNVERSITY AB, R. BH, SH, SB, PO. MADE CLIFFORD EARN HIS MONEY Rey del Carreres Started Out to Win and Came Near Doing It. SARATOGA, Aug. 3.—The attendance at the track was excellent today and sport good. Clifford again asserted his superiority by winning the Kearney stakes, but his margin was small. It was a great contest between the western crack and Rey del Carreres. Dorian having been scratched. del Carreres, Dorian having been scratched. Clifford got off last, Rey del Carreres being the pacemaker, and so hot was the pace that not until the wire was reached did Clifford show in front by a head. The steeplechase was full of excitement. Linwood refused at the Liverpool and Alchemist was killed at the last hurdie. This was in the stretch, and the horse went down like a shot, breaking his neck. Jockey Veach, who had the moust, was badly injured and had to be pulled from under the horse. Summaries: brief and to be pured from under the horse. Summaries:

Onk Forest Fooled 'Em All. ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.-A good card and fair weather attracted 4,000 people to Fair Association park today. Track fast. The talent scored heavily up to the third race, when Oak Forest, a 30 to 1 shot, beat the field in a romp. In the fourth race Flora Thornton was considered a pipe on her past performance. She was heavily played at 3 to 5, but could never untrack herself and finished last by thirty lengths. The judges called up the owners, who claimed the horse was poorly ridden, if not pulled. Jockey Turberville, who had the mount, declared that there was not a jump in the animal, and he could do nothing with her. The event of the day was the race between Tartarian, Libertine, Probasco and Linda. Libertine won easily, and the zecond money went to Linda, who beat Tartarian a length. Summaries:

DEFENDER LED ALL THE WAY

Got Away Ahead of the Fleet and Keps Widening the Gap.

STOOD UP STIFFER THAN THE VIGILANT

Beat the Old Boat Out Almost Sig Minutes on a Thirty-Three Mile Run-Volunteer Was Hopelessly in the Renr.

COTTAGE CITY, Mass., Aug. 3.-It was with a fine breeze that the New York Yacht club squadron got under way from the Brenton's Reef lightship off Newport this morn. ing and began that portion of its cruise which would take it to Cottage City. The big sloops were without one of their yesterday's company, Jubilee having decided not to race and appearing on the scene with a working topsail, while the others all had club topsails set, as well as baby jib topsails. Defender was first away, as usual. with Vigilant second and Volunteer third, From the press boat it looked as though Vigilant did not cross until after the handleap gun was fired, and Volunteer was considerably behind her. Defender made her start in excellent form, going over the line quickly. From the moment of starting Defender began to walk through the fleet. It did not take more than half an hour for her to run ahead of everything and take up a leading position. Vigilant went along fast, too, but the new boat in the windward outfooted her to a dogree that aroused the enthusiasm of all who Vigilant caught the breeze, but could not vigilant caught the breeze, but could not keep up. It was also noticed that Defender stood up stiffer than Vigilant. The latter hauled down her baby jib topsail at about 12 o'clock. Within a quarter of an hour, however, it was decided to run it up again. and this was done. Defender all this was widening the gap between them, iant was well headed by Defender when the new boat passed the Sow and Pigs lightship. Defender was to all appearances four and a half minutes shead of Vigilant. This being the case she had gained two and a half minutes on her rival. SHE HAD MORE WIND. The breeze today was stronger than on the Sandy Hook occasions referred to, and in all she did Defender only made her admirers nore admiring. Having passed the Sow and Pigs lightship the fleet steered a course more to the northward and headed up the shore, with the wind now well aft the beam on the starboard side, for the destination of the day. The distance covered was thirtybree miles.

It is announced that Colonel John Jacob Astor has offered a $2,000 cup for the trial races and the yacht club committee has ac-cepted it. The following list shows the time at the finish and clapsed time:

Start Finish time. 10:50:37 2:02:11 3:11:34 10:52:00 2:09:58 3:17:58 10:52:00 2:52:02 3:33:02 Vigilant ...... Vølunteer ..... A competitor in the next cup races will be the thirty-four-rater built by Haley for Wil-mer and Addison Hannan, sons of T. J. Hannan of Embla. She was launched on Thursday last and has been named Acusbla.

Tonight there is the usual brilliant scene

affoat, with crowds of spectators on shore and dozens of shore boats with sightseers imong them. The fleet squadron will remain at anchor tomorrow and will dress ship at 19 o'clock. Monday an early start for Newport

Yale Wants a Rowing Match. NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—There will be an-other international contest between the athletes of Yale and Oxford or Cambridge if arrangements can be successfully made as in last year's meet in England and in the rangements can be successfully made as in last year's meet in England and in the one to take place in this country this year. The Yale oarsmen are anxious for a test of strength and skill with the Oxford or the Cambridge crew. Things have gone so far that Henry G. Sibour, president of the Yale navy, has been asked to call a meeting of the rowing authorities to take action. The men who will doubtless be invited to aid in the necessary deliberations are to aid in the necessary deliberations are Robert J. Cook, George Adee, ex-Captain Ives, George Hartwell and Percy Ballou. From a prominent Yale graduate of the class of '69 it was learned that the meeting would take place as soon as possible,
