Bland had not been e an hour before he was out in the emtic declaration to a few followers that time had arrived when the silver men ald control the party machinery. For ment of his declaration of war is correct. It has attracted lively comment. This declaration of Bland's is interpreted to mean that he proposes to fight the old committee and endeavor to oust it and secure a new committee favorable to the white metal. Mr. Bland is of the opinion that the convention will conclude its work Wednesday afternoon easily, and that its final results will be most gratifying to the friends of silver, who hold that the ratio of gineering officers to the pressing need for a 16 to 1 is the proper basic point upon which to go to the nation for the fight for free and unlimited coinage of silver. Beyond this the ex-congressman will not go. As the probable selection of the state cen-

The state central committee will meet in the morning to decide upon the temporary organization of the convention, which will be convened at 12 o'clock, noon. The committee will probably name Bland for tem-porary chairman, although Judge James Gib-

With the convention, after the temporary organization has been completed, will be left the permanent organization. Governor Stone, it is believed, can have the chairmanship if he wants it. A new scheme was developed today whereby the silver men intend to secure the state machinery and a majority of the state committee. The plan is to let the present committee remain and to elect one new member from each of the fifteen congressional districts and three from the state at large, making a committee of thirty-four members instead of sixteen as at present. Then the silver men would be in a position to force the fight in the next state campaign on silver l'nes.

H. Moore. The crime was com-mitted on Sunday, November 18, 1894, Leach in the vacant corners with coal bunkers. The result is as shown in the case of the Columbia that these bunkers are often almost inac cessible and the contents can be reached by only one man at a time, thus preventing cutting the woman's throat with a knlfe severing the jugular vein. When Leach saw that he had committed murder he tried to the easy supply of the bollers with coal and consequently reducing the speed of the ship. This is particularly true of the bunkers when empty, for they are generally arranged in groups communicating with one another by small doors and the firemen must drag the coal through several bunkers to get furnaces. It is the opinion at the Navy department that perhaps the principle of subdividing the ships into water-tight compartments has been carried so far as to im-pair their efficiency and the need of reform in the direction of simplifying the bunker arrangements is well recognized.

WEEPING WATER, Neb., Aug. 5 .- (Spe ctal.)-The failure, Friday, of E. E. Day, a general merchant and also fine stock breeder. is causing a great deal of comment, mostly mong those who were depositors in the defunct Commercial bank that failed months ago. Day owed the bank $4,100 and the security given was a mortgage on forty head of cattle. As the depositors have only received a 10 per cent dividend so far, and find that most of the loans made by the bank were not properly secured, and that they will realize but little on the security given by Day, they are naturally worried. The latter gave the Kilpatick-Koch Dry Goods company at all a more search ber Goods company et al a mortgage on his home place for $9,275.37, and the same amount on his elevators, fine hogs and stock of mer-chandise. While this security will not pay out in full the wholesale houses it give them a much better show than the bank. The depositors of the defunct bank, tiring of the dilatory methods pursued by the re-ceiver, H. H. Moles of Beatrice, petitioned the courts for his removal and the appointment of John A. Donelan, which was granted. Moles served ten months, and his salary and expense claim, to be filed, is over $3,000. which includes about three days work by the chairman of the banking board, Townley, for which he has an astonishing bill of nearly $300.
