Ten-Year-Old Girl Arrested for Passing Counterfeit Coin.

TELLS STORIES THAT ARE CONTRADICTED

Reasons for Suspecting that She is the Tool of Others-Turned Over to the Federal Authorities.

Some splendid cream table lim 37c and 50c, worth 75c and $1.00. Officer Leverton yesterday afternoon sent to the police station a little girl who is supposed to be an amateur shover of the queer. Her name is Pearl Schakleford, and $1.50 values. Table damasks, turkey red, at 15c and 19c she is only 10 years of age, but appears to he very intelligent. She denies that she half their value. The line of bid spreads shown in this sale at 45c, 65c, 75c and $1.00 cannot be had anywhere else at less than 60c to $1.75 in know she was passing counterfeit money, but circumstances at present point very strongly against her.

The little girl went into a drug store at 213 South Thirteenth street yesterday afternoon and asked for 5 cents' worth of chloride of potash. In exchange she offered a half dollar, which, upon examination, was found to be counterfeit. This fact in itself was week for $1.25. All finest junior and double breasted $4.00 to $5.50 suits go on sale tomorrow at $2.75. Last Saturday's knee pants sale created a sensation on account of the large crowd of people and the badly torn up stock. We were unable to wait upon all customers. Will place on sale tomorrow morning a new shipment of shout 175 dorsen year fine all week for $1.25. not suspicious, as many people unknowingly try to pass a counterfeit coin, but only a few minutes before she came into the drug store a coin of the same kind was passed upon the clerk. A little girl of about the same age as Pearl brought it in and she also purchased 5 cents' worth of chloride shipment of about 175 dozen very fine all wool knee pants, bought late at 50c on the dollar, in all sizes to fit boys from 4 to 16 of potash. This coincidence made the pro-prietor of the drug store su-picious, as he thought the girls might be used to pass years old. counterfeit money, and he called in the policeman. When the little girl was brought to the when the little girl was brought to the station she said that she was an orphan, and that she was living with an aunt at Thirty-sixth and Half Howard streets. She said that her aunt had given her the half dollar with which to buy potash, and that the came down town to get it, as she wanted to look into the sure windows. The department for Thursday morning. This story was knocked into a cocked hat by the aunt, who came to the police station later in the afternoon looking for the little after in the atternion looking for the fittle girl. Instead of her name being Mrs. John-son, however, it was found to be Mrs. Harte, Mrs. Harte said that she sent Pearl down town with the half dollar, not knowing it to be had, to get some groceries. She also these prices. said that the girl's mother was living in Iowa, but her father was dead. Other wrappers 65c, 75c, 89c and 98c. believe the police officers when they told ber the story that Pearl related, but as the girl had in the meantime been turned over to Deputy United States Marshal Coggeshall the two did not meet. As the two half dollars passed on the druggist are of exactly the same appearance, and both bear the date of 1893, it is suspected that Pearl knows more about the matter than she wishes to confess. In fact, it is thought that she and the other little girl are used in passing the counterfelt coins. Some time ago Carrie Harte, a girl young in years, but already unenviably well known was arrested and put on trial in the federal court for passing counterfeit money. This girl is a relative of Mrs. Harte, Pearl's aunt, but Pearl nevertheless said that she did not know Carrie and that she did not know any and what it offered him. of the Harte family. From this it is sus-pected that Pearl was used by the same gang of counterfeiters that used Carrie.

That's what we did-bought the combined efforts of scores of factories and placed them in our show rooms preparatory to the autumnal rush. It's only a short time 'till the biggest fair ever held in the west will be in Omaha. You've luckily received letters from your cousins informing you of their intention to visit you during that week. Apropos of this, you may need something to complete your house furnishings; if so, we are the ones to come to, as we have every thing to furnish a house complete. We will sell you what you want and give you time to pay for it, at the same price as if you paid the cash.
