Come Together for a Short Brush with No Apparent Advantage to Either One-All Rendy for the Second Contest Today.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.-The indications are at midnight that the weather will be favorable tomorrow for the second race between the British yacht, Valkyrie, and Defender. Forecaster Dunn reports that the outlook now is that there will be fresh south winds and a clear sky. At this hour the wind is blowing from the southwest at the rate of twenty miles an hour off Sandy Hook. At Long Branch the sky is clear and the wind is blowing at the rate of nineteen miles an hour. Atlantic City reports twelve miles and clear sky. This afternoon both yachts went out for a trial spin. Valkyrie left her anchorage at Red Hook at 2 p. m. under jib and mainsail, making the quarantine station in one tack. She then tacked across the Narrows, beading down the bay again on the port tack. At 2:30 she returned through the Narrows, running free under the same sail. At 3:15 Valkyrie headed down the bay again, passing Quarantine at 3:20 under mainsail and jib. When close to Port Wadsworth she went about and stood over toward Gravesend and went off the long dock south of Fort Hamilton. At 3:25 she went about again and stood down the bay.

In the meantime Defender had also got under way, the two meeting off the Crescent club house, Defender on the starboard tack under jib staysail, mainsail and club topsail. Defender, at 3:20, went close to the steam yacht Vigilant, anchored off Stapleton, went about and headed down the bay toward the

HAD A LITTLE RACE. At 3:17 both yachts were observed from

Sandy Hook in the upper part of the bay standing on starboard tack toward Coney Island. Valkyrie was in the lead and somewhat to the windward. It looked as though a private match had been arranged between the two racers. The wind was from the south and blowing sixteen miles an hour. Both yachts held their relative positions until 3:49, when Defender went about and held up 3:49, when Defender went about and held up the bay. Valkyrie held on her tack until near the bell buoy, at the junction of the swamp and ship channels, when she also went about and, easing off her main sheet, headed up the bay. At 4:20 Defender passed Quarantine, bound in, and was followed fifteen minutes later by Valkyrie, also bound in. Later both boats headed about and cast anolor off Ray Ridge where they will reanchor off Bay Ridge, where they will re-main until time to make ready for the race

Valkyrie stock was decidedly down this morning and few could be found to venture an opinion that the boat would succeed in getting even one of the races. It was be-lieved that in smooth water, however, the British yacht might do better, but that the difference between her and the Defender was too great to be overcome. Not only the followers of Valkyrie, but those who have pinned their faith on Defender, are anxious

James C. Bergen, rear commodore of the New York Yacht club, who is in charge of the patrol fleet, has issued another circular the patrol fleet, has issued another circular in which he has requested the captains of the various excursion boats to be more careful than they were on Saturday. He draws attention to the fact that the race is to be only ten miles to each leg and that it is absolutely necessary for the yachts to have placted from to turn.

Sept. 9.—The weather conditions for temor-row will be governed by an area of high pressure, which is now passing off the At-lantic coast. This will probably give on shore winds, mostly from a southerly quater, with a fresh breeze. The wind is not likely to be any less than it was in the pre-vious race, and will probably be stronger. with fair weather, except that there may be a lighter haze, hardly sufficient, however, to interfere with a good view of the race. The conditions altogether appear to be more pron ising for a good race and more pleasurab to the sightseers. There will be a very slight change in temperature; if any, it will be a trifle cooler than today. E. B. DUNN." DOES NOT GIVE IT UP.

The World tomorrow will print the follow ing interview with Captain Cranfield: "I do not think that one race wins the series, by any means," said Captain Cranfield last night. "Saturday's race was no true test of the respective merits of the boats. We lahored under great disadvantage. These exand they particularly hampered us on the I think it is an outrage the way way nome. I think it is an outrage the way they treated us. We are here for sport, and we have a good boat, but if they interfere with our salling as they did Saturday we will never find out what the boat can do."

"Do you think you will stand a better chance if there is a good stiff breeze?"
"Indeed I do; give us a good stiff breeze and we will surely win. I think Valkyrie will do well in stiff weather. If the wind had bauled to the south Saturday Valkyrie will do well in stiff weather. If the wind had hauled to the south Saturday Valkyrie would surely have turned the mark first. A race in such a fluky wind is no test at all."

At an informal meeting of members of the New York Yacht club tonight the regatta committee delegated J. R. Busk to represent the cup committee on board Valkyrie at tomorrow's race. It was also learned that David Henderson, Lord Dunraven's friend, will represent the Eritish interests on board Defender. No official action of any other kind in connection with the race was taken. Mr. Busk was the owner of the sloop Mischief, which in 1579 defended the America's cup against the sloop Atlanta, of the Easy of Quinto club. Lake Ontario.

The course tomorrow will be an equilateral triangle, ten miles to a side, starting, if possible, off Sandy Hook, the regatta committee having the option of changing the starting point to another location at the last moment. The course will be laid out so as to give the yachts a beat to windward on one leg. One turn will be right out to sea and the other will be either off Long Branch on the New Jersey side. The preparatory signal gun will be fired at 16:50 and the starting gun at 11 o'clock. The boats will have two minutes in which to cross the line and be timed.

SAY THE BETTER BOAT WON.

SAY THE BETTER BOAT WON. English Papers Admit that the Yacht

Race Was Fairly Sailed. LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Pall Mail Gazette, in its comments this afternoon on the international yacht race of Saturday, says: "We fear there is no America's cup this year for Lincoln, 1; St. Joseph, 8. Batteries: Graggi LONDON, Sept. 9 .- The Pall Mail Gazette, Lord Dunrayen. The better boat won as it is likely to win every time. The chief defect of Valkyrie, to which we have on several occasions alluded, is the fuss she makes going through the water. The conditions of the first match, therefore, were much against her. With a calm surface she may do better, but in stronger winds she is not likely to do so well. English yachtsmen may console themselves as best they can with recollections

In another place the Pall Mall Gazette say that the excursion steamers following the yachts behaved even more disgracefully than usual, but that there is no suggestion that they hampered one of the boats more than one of the other. "Perhaps the most dis-appointing feature," adds the Gazette, "is the Defender's gain on the broad reach home, when there was no rough water.

All the London papers dwell upon the crowding of the course by excursion steamers. The Sun says: "There is no nation that we would rather take a beating from than America, especially as probably no other could administer it."

The Star says that the defeat of Valkyrie is far from being a disastrous one, and that there is no need to lose hope.

The Evening News does not see much hope that Valkyrie will win in the coming matches. This paper also comments upon the enormous expense of building and equipping Defender, whose success, it says, is another triumph of the almighty dollar. ne almighty dollar.

BICYCLE DEALER IN TROUBLE. M. O. Daxon Charged with Embezzle-ment by Rambier Manufacturers. M. O. Daxon, bicycle dealer, whose place of business has been at 401 North Sixteenth street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued from the office of Justice of the Peace Cockrell, charging him with embezzlement. The complainant is the atorney engaged for Gormully & Jeffery company, blcycle manufacturers of Chicago Late last night Daxon was released on a bond of $2,000 to guarantee his appearance this morning. Daxon embezzled in the neighborhood of $1,200 to $1,300, but says he is unable to give the exact amount which it is alleged has been embezzled, as he has not as ye been able to examine the books of Daxon In addition to this the company alleges that Daxon is indebted to it in the sum of $6,500 or $6,700, which will make the total in which Daxon is in arrears in the neighbor-

Daxon has been the agent in this city for the Gormully & Jeffery company bicycles for several years. Attorney Charlton, who rep-resents the company, says Daxon is indebted to the firm in a considerable sum, but the account had been allowed to run until a few days ago, when it was discovered that he had given chattle mortgages for his e property, including a portion of the s which he had received from the firm. last Friday these mortgages were foreclosed and Daxon's store shut up. The mortgages were Rector & Whilhelmy of this city, who held a mortgage for $1.500, and Andrae & Son of Milwaukee, who held a mortgage for

Of the portion of the debt, $6,500, D xon has turned in accounts regularly to the firm. but of the $1,200 which he is charged with embezzling it is said that he has not pursued the same plan. It is charged that he has deceived the firm regarding his sales and that they knew nothing of his financial condition until he had given chattel mortgages to the firm, who finally foreclosed on the property. Before causing the arrest of Daxon it is said that a formal demand was made upon him to either liquidate the debt or to turn over to the firm the notes and money which he had received in exchange for the firm's bicycles which he had sold. Much of the stock was sold on the installment plan and Daxon held many notes. It is alleged that Daxon refused to accede to the proposition and that thereupon the complaint charging him with embezzlement was filed before Justine Cockrell.

Daxon was arrested last night and wa brought immediately before Justice Cockrell About 11 o'clock he succeeded in obtaining bond, which had been set at $2,000, and was released from custody. J. F. Wilhelmy signed the bond.

Hegemann was later in the night released under bonds, and left the police station with threats of beginning damage suits, not only against the complainant, but also against the arrest-

Fred Wirth runs the City hotel, and among his lodgers has been a man named Theodore Johnson, who has been boarding at the hotel for the last five weeks. Johnson has run up big debts at the hotel, as he has spent money like water, but he has always liquidated them as soon as he received money from his home in the old country, where he seemed to have a perennial spring of coin. During the last week or two he accumulated a debt of $400, which he promised to pay as soon as he received another remittance from his home. The remittance in the sum of something over $700 arrived yesterday in the shape of a draft on a New

As soon as Johnson announced that the re to him that he turn over the draft to him. saying that he would cash it, and after tak-ing out the debt Johnson owed would return the remainder to him. Johnson, however, turned the draft over to Hegemann, who was a countryman of his. Wirth and his wife immediately jumped to the conclusion that Johnson was trying to defraud them at the instigation of Hegemann and caused the ar-rest of Hegemann on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

They also hired two constables to guard Johnson who was removed to his room in an intoxicated condition. These constables claimed that they had also arrested Johnson on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, although they did not remove him to the police station.

When Hagemann was released from custody he was much enraged. He said that Johnson had come to him with the request that he help him cash the draft, as he knew no one in the city. He stated that he had no intention of instigating Johnson to beat his bill, and that the Wirths simply feared that they would not get the entire amount of the check. He threatened to sue them for dam-ages and also Detective Hudson, who placed him under arrest.

Later in the evening the matter was discussed by people about the hotel, one of whom was an old soldler named J. W. Sawhill. In the warmth of the argument Saw-hill put his fist through a pane of glass in door, severing an artery in his hand, was arrested on the charge of being drunk and maliciously destroying property.
