Speed Committee Announces a Partial List of Entries.

FIVE CLASSES NOT OUITE FILLED

Expected that These Will Be Completed Tomorrow Morning-Office of Board of Managers Now at the Grounds.

Secretary Furnas and President Barnes of the state fair board of managers will remove their offices from the Millard hotel to the fair grounds this morning. After that date all business in connection with the exhibits will have to be transacted at their offices on the grounds. They will occupy rooms in the headquarters building, which is located on the grand court. All exhibits, county, personal and otherwise, will have to be entered with the secretary before Saturday at 6 p. m., and all exhibits must be in place before 8 a, m. Monday,

Clerk Dickman of the Speed department returned from Des Moines Wednesday afternoon and has been busy booking the entries that have accumulated during his absence. Telegrams have been received from parties all over the northwest asking to enter their speeders. The entries in five of the classes will be held open till Saturday at 11 o'clock in order to accommodate the late comers. Entries for all other faces are:

GATES WILL OPEN MONDAY. Today and Tomorrow Only Placing Days at State Fair.

According to the technical intention of the Nebraska State Fair association, today will be the opening day of the fair. But the real launching of the big enterprise will scarcely occur until Monday, and the gates will not open until then. The task of transporting and arranging the vast number of exhibits is a tremendous one, and it will take at least a couple of days of hard work to get the fair into that stage where visitors will be able to adequately comprehend its magnificence.

A few of the county exhibits are alrealy in and a large force of men are at work get-ting them in place and applying the artistic touches, which will enable them to show at their best advantage. The bulk of the work in the Manufacturers and the Mercantile buildings is in constructing and decorating the various booths, and this is well under way. Here is shown a variety of ideas which uni-formly give promise of a more artistic and attractive setting for the incoming exhibits than is often seen at state fairs.

yesterday completing such grading as appeared advisable. This is practically done, and hereafter the work will not interfere with the movements of sightseers. The men who are at work on the exhibits constitute quite a small army in themselves, and even at this early day there are always several hundred visitors at the grounds. The refreshment stands find a profitable business, and most of them were running yesterday. This morning the street railway company will put on a

W. Ames, City: Dear Sir—I have just got back from a most delightful trip to Orchard Homes, Mississippi, and have found that place and surrounding country the most beautiful and fertile ever I set eye on.
For a climate nearer perfection you could travel the world over and could not find anything to surpass it. I had been reading the Orchard Homes advertisements in The Bee but never dreamed it was the place representations. but never dreamed it was the place reprented to be.

CHARGES OF CUTTING MADE

Railroad Agents Talking Since Receipt of Caldwell's Letter.

DENIES VIOLATING THE RULES

Alleged that Grand Army Tickets Were Sold as Late as V'ednesday-Figuring on Business to Dallas.

There isn't a passenger man in Omaha who does not insist that his road is living strictly up to the letter of instructions issued by Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association concerning the cutting of prices on tickets to the Grand Army of the Republic reunion at Louisville and on other excursion lickets that are on the market.

When two of the roads were caught and convicted of selling tickets through the scalp-The grading machines were still at work ers' offices the matter was referred to Chairman Caldwell, who issued a letter, demanding a strict compliance with the rules of the association concerning rate cutting. All of the local men insisted that they were in line with the letter and were complying stricily with the instructions. But that did not settle the matter. While each road claimed to be doing the right thing, the agents have been suspicious of each other and accusations of rate ing the street railway company will put on a three and five-minute schedule to the grounds, as the traffice demands, and since the line has been extended to the east gate the line has been extended to the east gate were off sale on Tuesday, but it is charged to the line has been extended to the east gate were off sale on Tuesday, but it is charged to the line has been extended to the east gate were off sale on that rate were on sale and the line has been extended to the east gate. old by one of the roads as late as Wednesday vening. This promises another row.

There is a fight among eastern lines over he business of the Corbett-Fitzsimmens fisticuff encounter in Dallas next month and I cal agents are already sniffing the battle from afar. While the business from Omaha for that event does not promise to be very heavy, each road here wants a bg share of what there is in sight and will be satisfied with nothing less.

Looking Over the Property. A party of Milwaukee officials arrived in Omaha yesterday and spent the day in looking over the company's offices and busiess at this point. Those in the party are E. P. Ripley, third vice president; W. G. Collins, general superintendent; J. H. Hiland, general freight; g nt and Ceo ve H. Heaff, rd. general passenger agent. The party is travel-ing in Mr. Ripley's private car. They have been making a trip over the Milwaukee's northwestern line in Iowa and Dakota and left for Chicago last evening.

AMUSEMENTS.

The grateful fall in the mercury from the century point to a figure indicating a bearable emperature, together with the announcement hat "The Charity Ball," always a favorite n Omaha, would be the bill at the Creighton, brought out the largest audience of the week last night at that house. The Stapleton company, which has been delighting the few who have braved the intense heat by its excellent presentation of "Americans Abroad," more than sustained the high reputation which it is acquiring by its achievements in De Mille & Belasco's beautiful play.

The story of "The Charity Ball" is well known, by reason of frequent expositions of it upon the local stage. The piece is full of delightful comedy, and has one climax so strong, so true, so instinct with life, that it lingers long in the memory of those who see it—the brothers' quarrel, stayed by the entrance of the blind mother with her story of the time when they two were boys to-

The work of Mr. Sears, which throughout the present engagement has been of a high order of excellence, rises in this scene to a neight which any artist might be proud to

Mr. Kingdom is doing the most acceptable work he has yet given us as the erring brother. Few of Mr. Paul Gumore's admirers discovered his identity under the alias of "Elmer George," and beneath the artistic make-up and clever elecution of Franklin

Cruger,
Miss Wheeler achieved another success as Ann Cruger, Miss Nellie Strickland's Camilla De Peyster was the finished performance one has come to expect at her hands, and Miss Palmer made a good impression as Phyllis, although roles like this are evidently less congenial to her than for instance that of the widow in "The Wife."

Of the comedians, Miss Mabel Strickland and Messrs, Gibney and Courtenay all scored decided hits, as they have done at their every appearance here. Mr. Gibney's delightful humor has at no time found more spontaneous expression, and Mr. Courtenay and Miss Strickland have juvenile lovers' parts not so very different from those in which they have been seen before, which they play in a man-ner which needs no criticism. Miss Paldi is quite acceptable as the blind mother, little Miss Perry is a winsome figure as the maid, Mr. Gardner contributes an agreeable character study of the chess-playing organist, and the small boy in rags made many friends by his artless performance. Few in front realized that this was the first performance by the Stapleton company of "The Charity Ball." It went with sur-prising smoothness, considering this fact, and of the last few days. Even as presented last night it was good to see; and when more perfect familiarity with lines and business shall have given confidence to the performers, the sweet and wholesome play will be in hands which will do it entire justice.

The crowds at Courtland Beach to see "Vicksburg" are steadily increasing in size.
Last night there were between 6,000 and 7,000 and the prospects for tonight are for a decided increase over these figures. Tonight will be children's night, when any child with a special child's ticket will be admitted free when accompanied by a proper guardian. The special feature for tonight will be a representation in fire of the "Defender," which has just won the international yacht race. Tomorrow night will be Grand crowds at Courtland Beach to see

Mr. John Griffith, strong in the faith that is in him, and starting out with indomitable courage upon a new season, gave his not unfamiliar impersonation of Mephistopheles last night at Boyd's, in his own version of "Faust." Mr. Griffith's performance in this difficult role has been seen here before on several occasions, and an agreeable advance in the art of this young and ambitious player is apparent in his successive visits. Certain actors and a comedian of merit, will begin his annual engagement in this city on Sunday evening next at Hoyd's theater. The engagement will continue throughout fair week. The first three nights and at the Wednesday matines Mr. Reed will present his newest and what is said to be his best success, "The Politician" or "The Woman's Plank," a political satire by the late David D. Lloyd and Sydney Rosenfeld. The story deals with the machinations of General Josian Limber, a scheming politician, who hits upon Peter Wooley as a compromise candidate for congress. Wooley is anything but a politician. He is rich, satisfied with his manner of life, thoroughly domestic and loves his home and garden patch. But Limber gets the women on his side and finally per-suades Wooley to let his name be used. It is used in the most lurid and band-wagon style. The interest culminates in the third act, which represents the antercom of the convention hall. Limber works like a horse and carries the day, Wooley being declared the nomines. The laver of Wooley's daughter is nominated by the other side, which causes their engagement to be broken and Limber falls in love with Wooley's niece, while her aunt sets her oar for Limber. All complications are straightened out in the last act, which takes place in the dining room in Wooley's residence, where election returns are received. Mr. Reed's company includes Miss Isadore Rush. Miss Rose Braham, Mrs. Mary Myers, Will R. Bernard, Charles Wyn-gate, Sheridan Tupper, John H. Bunny, Julian Reed, James Douglas. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings Mr. Reed will present "Lend Me Your Wife," and on Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, "Innocent as a Lamb." The sale of seats will be open tomorrow morning.

"The Hustler" will shortly entertain the mirth lovers of this city in its latest revised shape. The adventures and mishaps of the scheming Irish "hustler," who can never scheme to pay his board bill, are as ludicious as it is possible to conceive of anything being. The many specialties introduced are said to be new and bright. This season a said to be new and bright. This season a new second act has been added and many alterations made in the farce generally. The cast of fun makers includes John T. Tierney, Charles A. Loder, Harry Foy, George W. The trial of the charges against Justice of the Peace Levy of South Omaha was before the county commissioners yesterday. It soon developed that the complaining witness was a woman and this caused trouble. According to the statutes of the state a justice of the peace in Nebraska is not amenable to the law when the complaint against him is verified by a woman. In other words, the statute provides that the complainant must be an "elector." Minnie is apparent in his successive visits. Certain untoward mannerisms of speech, however, would seem to grow upon him. The supporting company is a fairly capable one, and the piece is put on, as usual, with every attention to scanic and mechanical detail.

The book shelves will be supplied with the works most attractive to the average boy and girl, and the children will have free access to the shelves. It is thought that they will wel-come the privilege of inspecting the books before making a selection. 3 DECIDED ADVANTAGES

Boys who wear long pants have a decided advantage by buying

First, because our suits run up to fit as large a boy as 20 years. Second, because our boys' suits are of manly and not kidish cut. Third, because we sell 'em so much cheaper.

As low as $2.25 buys a good, substantial, every-day boys' suitcoat-vest and pants-$4.00 suits of any other store are not to be

As low as $4.25 buys here a black single-breasted cheviot or a mavy blue cheviot double-breasted suit. We see by chance every day suits inferiorily trimmed, but of the same cloth ,bought elsewhere at seven to eight dollars.

As low as $5.00 buys here as good a cheviot suit as nearly double that sum buys elsewhere. -

$5.50, $6.00, $7.50 and a dozen other more or less costly qualities here and there, each representing a new design in fabric, the birth of the season, the new way of cutting clothes, new ideas in trimmings and above all, if each could speak it would no doubt tell a rkable story, how closely watched and tightly sqeezed it was from the mill to our house.
