CHIEF WHITE'S SALARY STILL CUT OUT Also All the Wages of the Twenty Odd New Men, the Salary of the Commissioners for August

and Incidentals.

Sixteen members of the city council put in an appearance last evening at the special meeting called to consider the appropriation sheet for the payment of the old Board of Fire and Police Commissioners and the police force of Omaha. The program laid eggs that he has ever had on hand for sale. out by the majority was carried through strictly to the letter.

The special policemen, whose pay roll amounted to $415, were cut out of their pay.

A similar fate met the special detective bill for $166.66. In addition to this, Chief White was docked his August salary, amounting to $166.66; the license board was refused payment of the sum of $99.99; the Fire and Police commissioners the sum of $193.33 for August, and a bill for $50 for expenses of the police department, with the other items stricken from the appropriation sheet, was re-jected. This left the appropriation sheet for the payment of the salaries of the captain, four sergeants, six detectives and the regular police, amounting to $5,643.88. So amended the councilmen who have thus far fought for paying the bills incurred for police pro tection of the city, with the exception of Burkley, who recorded a "no," and Howell, who voted a "yes," but protested, all conwho voted a yes, but processes an coulded to withdraw opposition to the settled will of the majority on the theory, which Howell stated by saying "that a half loaf was better than none." Accordingly the vote

Nays—Burkley—1. Barber's 1891 asphalt bill almost sailed through the council. Immediately at the close of the special session the council convened in regular session and took up for consideration ordinance No. 133. The Barber bills were in the list.

The committee reports were submitted in reference to this ordinance. A majority report, signed by Jacobsen and Kennard of the finance committee, recommended the rejection of nine small bills of the Klopp, Bartle t company, but left Barber's asphalt claim un-touched. The Klopp-Bart'ett bills were incurred by the old fire and polles board. Continuing its policy of paying none of these bills where possible, unless approved by the new board, the majority of the council favored the majority report. The vote stood signed the minority report opposing the payment of $9,152.92 of the Barber asphalt bills. Hardly had the majority report been adopted and the question reached the stage for submission to the city council of the ordinance when members seemed to first realize where they were "at" and moved for a reconsideration in order to get the Barber bills back to the committee again. They were again returned, along with the whole ordinance, leaving the matter as it was be-

HAYDEN BROS. Great Sale of New York Store.

This immense establishment started three months ago, when goods were cheapest ever known. In the face of a tremendous advance we purchased that splendid new stock at about 1/2 its actual cost. Do you wonder why we are selling so cheap? Can any bankrup! stock, no matter how old the goods may be compete with such an extraordinary pur-chase? The goods were absolutely forced on when all our fall goods were purchased d we are obliged to unload. Do you imagine any bankrupt sale would dare name a price we cannot cut in two? It was rumored all over the city yesterday afternoon that an accident had occurred on the street car line on West Leavenworth street and that a number of people had been hurt. There was nothing in the rumor of an accident, but seven or eight trains were stalled for some time during the hottest part of the afternoon at the foot of the hill west of the Missouri Pacific track. Taey were held there, as the power was so weak that no more than one train was able to climb the hill at a time.

MIGHT MAKE THE FIGHT LIVELY. Burlington and Rock Island Have a

String to Pull. CHICAGO, Sept. 17 .- The action which, it s alleged, is proposed by the Southern Pacific in lessening its train service from Ogden to San Francisco with a view of forcing as much traffic as posible over the Sunset route will, if persisted in, result in the livelest kind of a fight for the California business. The Rock Island and the Burlington, both of whom would be shut out by this set'on, say that they have no intention of going out of the through business to California, no matter what the Southern Pacific may attempt. If they are shut out of their connections at Ogden they will in all probability not only reduce rates, but make an alliance with the Atchison and deliver business to it at Kansas City. The Atchison road would be a distinct gainer by any trouble that would cause the Rock Island and Burlington to deliver passengers to it, and it would be more than glad to see some such arrange-ment go into effect. The railroad officials quote Vice President Stubbs as their author-ity for the assertion that the Southern Pacific is contemplating the reduction in train service, and the strong denial of President Huntington leaves them in a fog as to what the ntentions of the Southern Pacific really are.

AND STILE THEY COME.

Corroborating Alli Our Claims and Mr. Geo. W. Ames, City—Dear Sir: I have just returned from a delightful trip to Orchard Homes. If there is "uy spot in the world that should be christened the "Garden Spot of the World" Orchard Homes is the Spot of the World "Orchard Homes is the place. Beautifully situated, high and dry, with soil unsurpassed in richness, it is adapted to the growth of all kinds of fruit and vegetables, both large and small, and its climate is equal to that of "Sunny Italy." I predict a future for Orchard Homes that will astonish the people of Omaha and set every eve leveling that were eye looking that way.

I never saw better looking vegetables than

I saw while in the south. The fruit was simply immense. I shall never forget the sight that met my eyes at the first orchard I entered, the trees actually bending to the ground under their heavy burdens. I picked and brought home pears that weighed one pound each. I have specimens of this fruit at my house and will be pleased to show them to any one who will call.

I went over every acre of Orchard Homes, seeking for all the disadvantages, but I found that the advantages would more, far more, than offset them. Surely it is a golden opportunity for a man of moderate means to get a good home and live an independent life. I wish to correct one error with regard to the people of the south: If any one thinks they are lazy, shiftless, sitting round whittling pine sticks they are very much mistaken, for the people there are strong, healthy, sharp-witted, good-natured, true to their word and give a hearty welcome to the people of the north and west who come among them to settle. So well pleased was I with the south that I purchased 40 acres in Orchard Homes. The land I bought is a portion of the his-torical plantation owned and occupied for-merly by the family of ex-Governor Brown. I intend to make my future home there. I also examined the markets and found that everything a man raised could be readily turned into cash at a good profit. I found Orchard Homes all claimed for it and the titles perfect. Respectfully yours, R. A. MINER, Democratic Committee Meets and Fixes a Date for the Convention. The democratic county central committee met at Harry Miller's office in the Board of Trade building at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and spent several hours in preparing for the work of the coming convention.

There was a large attendance of delegates and there were several questions up for consideration. The first was the discussion of the advisability of allowing proxies in the committee meeting. This matter was discussed for a long time and was finally settled by a resolution allowing the proxies, provided the men holding them would vote as the principals would in case they were present. There were three proxy holders in the committee meeting, and two of them withdrew, refusing to be bound by the resolution. The third spent some time with the committee and then found that he did not care to take the responsibility of committing his principal on matters that sideration. The first was the discussion of committing his principal on matters that were being discussed, and so withdrew, leaving thirty-one members of the committee present

Soon after the proxy matter had been dis-posed of Peter W. Birkhauser introduced a resolution, providing that the call to be issued should provide that none but democrats be nominated by the convention. Some man asked for an explanation of the resolution and that was the opportunity Peter wanted. He started out on a tirade, denouncing the democrats who favored a nonpartisan movement this fall and wanted the committee to prepare against being sidetracked by any issues that did not have the A. P. A. democratic trade mark blown in the bottle. But that's as far as Peter got. A motion to table the resolution shut off his harangue and the resolution was off his harangue and the rescution was shelved by a good big majority. It was finally decided to hold the convention on the afternoon of Saturday October 5. The primaries will be held on Thursday October 3. The convention will select delegates to the judicial convention and will nominate candidates for the county offices.

TOOK THEIR FRIENDS BY SURPRISE Miss Crandell and Mr. McCord Quietly Married in Omaha.

The social sensation of yesterday was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Emma crandell of this city and Mr. George S. Mc-Cord of Pueblo, Colo. The ceremony performed at high moon by Rev. T. J. Mackay at his residence, in the presence of Mr. Giles F. Filley of St. Louis and Mrs. John Mc-Connick, a sister of the bride, acting as the

The unberalded marriage of Miss Crandel and Mr. McCord seems to have been a sur-prise not only to their friends, but also to themselves. They have known one another for something like a year and a half, but only their most intimate friends were aware that they were engaged to one another. The two young people saw a great deal of one another's company during the past sum-mer, when Miss Crandell spent some weeks in the mountains of Colorado. Last week Mr. McCord formed one of a party, including Miss Anderson and Mr. Spratlin, who came down to Omaha to take in the fair festivities as the guests of Miss Jessie Dickinson. This visit seems to have given the young people the long desired opportunity, they seized so suddenly and so quietly even the hostess was unaware of what was taking place until the news was broken by handing her the marriage certificate. Miss Emma Crandell was one of Omaha's most attractive and promising buds. She was counted on to form one of the bevy of debutantes who are to make the coming social season memorable for its gaieties. She is the daughter of Mr. George T. Crandell, and has a host of friends who were prepar-ing to welcome her into the society circle. groom is a brother of Mr. W. H. Mclord of Omaha, and formerly lived in St Joseph, Mo. He is at present in business in Pueblo, where the couple will later make their home. They left last night to visit Mr. McCord's parents in St. Joseph

A. P. A. and the Negro. OMAHA, Sept. 16 .- To the Editor of The Bee: I have just received a copy of a newspaper that I have walted for for a quarter of century. The Nebraska Watchman makes its bow and is launched on the sea of Omaha journalism. Many attempts have been made by the colored race to establish a journal creditable to a cause and demands as just as theirs, but until now they have not been equal to the emergency. And so I hall the Watch-man with delight. The light is breaking. Many years ago my native countrymen could'nt understand why I espoused the cause of the "nigger." How could I do less? I of the "nigger." How could I do less? sought for liberty and freedom for myself. Could I deny to others the right I claimed for myself? I hope I will never be found so inconsistent. But what say you Oberalls Stephensons and Bells. What say you about tle conduct of Ricketts?

Like Juliet, blisiered be my tongue for mentioning Ricketts' name. He a colored leader of his people. Pah! He, the leader of his people. Pah! He, the catspaw of the A. P. A. in the last legislature, the tool of prescription against those who poured out their blood like water that he and his might be free. Does the colored man, as represented by Ricketts, endorse race and creed hatred? Can the colored man lend himself to the schemes that would make him as great an enemy to human freedom

I have had some sympathy with the colored people in the past. Their cause has been mine for twenty-eight years. When they are free I am free. But if they endorse Ricketts and the "dervishes" I must conclude that the colored people have not yet learned what true freedom means. I will be plain, sir. If the colored "council" is what it is repre-sented to be, Ricketts and it should again be picking cotton in the lowlands low. the Watchman promises better things. I want to hear from Oberall, Smith, Franklin and others. Their silence is now criminal to their race. The Watchman says in its Notes: "It is said that the Roman Catholic order of the Most Blessed Trinity has redeemed 200,000 slaves since it began its work in Africa." That is all right; keep on organizing "coun-"order" that says all white male are eligible.

Flushed the Streets The streets in the central portion of the city were flushed last night, the hose of the fire department being used for the purpose. The flushing was done under the direction of Street Commissioner Kasper by the regular street cleaning force, although firemen were stationed at the hydrants. During the work a main at Twentieth and Far-nam streets burst, but no damage was done; although the streets were flooded with water.
