Mose Brown is in jail in Omaha, charged with the robbing of the Council Bluffs dye works on the night of September 27. One of the coats stolen is on his back, and has been identified by the owner. Requisition papers are expected tomorrow, and Brown will be brought to this side of the river as soon as they come.

Judge Smith was in the city yesterday and reard evidence in connection with the settle-ment of the estate of Melvina Harding of Neola. Some of the heirs in the east have filed objections to the last report of the ad-ministrator, Peter Egan, jr., what sticks hardest in the craw of the heirs being a bill of H. L. Earl Bowes, a 13-year-old boy, was ar-rested yesterday, afternoon, charged with malicious mischief. Platte Overton was the complainant. He claimed that the boy broke the window of a building at the corner of Fourth avenue and Seventeenth street and also broke the door open for the purpose of stealing some goods that were stored there. The father of the youngster gave bond for his appearance before Justice Vien.

"Won't you please tell your readers that the correct pronunciation of Powhatan is not Powhattan or Pohattan, but Pow-ha-tan, with the accent on the tan, like Yucatan?" Thus remarked one of the members of the Woman's Christian association, who has run up against a good many people who have forgotten their early historical studies. The rehearsals of the opera are coming off finely, and everything indicates that the participants, principals, chorus and dancers will perform their respective parts well.

The Fowler Theatrical company changed hands yesterday afternoon. All the rights and property of the company were purchased by the Empire Stock company. The new organization will be under the management of Huse N. Fowler. Jack Fowler will be retained under salary as the leading man. The company was seriously hampered last night by the failure of several new people to reach the city. Four of them will get here to-day, and the remainder of the week will see the production of some strong news plays. 'My Queen" will be the bill for tonight.

At an early hour Sunday morning Paul Bouquet had some trouble with a man employed in a restaurant next door and a friend of his. All had been drinking a little to drown their tape worms. The restaurant man and his friend became obstreperous and Bouquet ordered them off the premises. They refused to go and Bouquet grabbed a large umbrella staff and used it on them with telling effect. They filed an internation against ing effect. They filed an information against him and had him pulled out of bed early in the morning. The case has now been settled, however, and there will be no further trouble.

Short Session at Which Much Routine Work Was Done.

The city council held a short meeting last evening, but transacted quite an amount of routine business.

The committee on fire and lights reported that the new fire alarm box had been located at the corner of Fourth street and Twenty-first avenue, and that another had been changed from the corner of Eighth street and Sixteenth avenue to the corner of Tenth street and Twentieth avenue.

The Judiciary committee was instructed to make good the title of Mrs. Crandall to a fivefoot strip of land along Bloomer street which was vacated some time ago.
On recommendation of Councilman Brewick

the petition fer a house sewer on Harmony street was refused. Owen Cunningham had a petition in asking for some work on the streets in order that he might earn enough money to pay his taxes. One of the councilmen reported that he had already had employment on the streets, but had been unable to let the flowing bowl alone. Her Obscenity Caused Her Removal from the Police Court Room. Josie Hulbert Long, who has acquired a reputation for foul language far beyond her years, overstepped the mark yesterday morning while she was having a trial in police court on the charge of vagrancy. Officer Murphy was testifying as to the fact in the case from the side of the prosecution when she suddenly interrupted him with an exclamation of about twelve words, only three of which could be represented in print by anything but long dashes. The ebullition of profamity and obscenity caused the hair to rise on the scalp of the baldest headed man in the room.

"Take her out! Take her out," ordered Judge McGee. Deputy Marshal Jim Anderson, who blames Josie for his present nickname of "Rubberneck," gladly came to the front to execute the court's order, but found he had all he had bargained for and more too. She bit, scratched and fought all the way out of the room, and finally had to be carried down stairs, clawing at Anderson's flaxen moustache at ever step. Judge McGee entered an order restricting Josie's diet to bread and water for the next two or three days, during which she will have time to ruminate over the of losing one's presence danger

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL EDITOR HOXIE IS QUITE SICK. Physician's Certificate Keeps Him Out of the Officials' Clutches. Deputy United States Marshal Hillweg returned yesterday from Corning without W. H. Hoxie, editor of the Adams County Gazette, who is wanted to plead to the charge of sending extra papers at pound rates without marking them as samples. Hoxie is suffering from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. His hands and feet are swellen to an abnormal size and they alone would probably have saved him from arrest, would probably have saved him from arrest, but when they were reinforced by a physician's certificate, saying that he must not be moved from his bed, Hillweg took the certificate and dropped the prisoner. The chances are that Hoxle will be confined to his bed for a good while longer, for it is stated that he has been ill ever since June and all that time has hardly been out of his house.

in the case of the United States against John Kennedy the United States put itself unmistakably on record yesterday as having no objection to beer. Kennedy was indicted on the charge of bootlegging, but he claimed, and the evidence showed, that he had sold nothing but malt liquors. His attorneys put in an objection to the indictment after the jury had been drawn. Judge Woolson held that as the instructions from the department o the revenue collectors were that the sale of mait liquors alone does not constitute an afraction of the anti-bootlegging law the jury must bring in a verdict of acquittal, W. E. Ballard of Creston was tried almost, all day on the charge of impersonating an officer and trying to bleed a suspected bootlegger of money so that Ballard would not begin action against him. The defense upon which Ballard relied was that when the offense was committed he was just recovering from the effects of a prolonged spree and was to all intents and purposes crazy, so that he to all intents and purposes crazy, so that he afterwards had to be taken to the state hos-pital for treatment. The evidence showed that on one or two other occasions Ballard had tried a similar trick and a verdict of guilty was brought in.

James Hail, William Miller and John Truesdell, all indicted for bootlegging, were called by name, but did not respond. Bench war-

Case at Des Moines that Does Not Seem One of Sulcide. DES MOINES, Oct. 7.—(Special Telegram.) The inquest over the body of Bacob Hendrickton was in progress today. Hendrickson's body was found hanging under a railroad bridge, but the suicide theory was not borne out by circumstances. The jerr had found witnesses who had heard screams as of a woman on the bridge in the middle of the night. Others saw a hack drive up to the bridge and unload something that might have been a body. It has also been found that Hendrickson had a considerable sum of money on his person shortly before he disappeared. Several hairs from a woman's head were found on the rope with which he was hung. Mrs. Anna Taylor, a colored woman, has been arrested for complicity in the deed, and it is probable a murder for money will

Water Company Willing to Settle. DES MOINES, Oct. 7.—(Special Telegram.)

The water company, which last week was defeated completely by the decision of the supreme court sustaining the validity of the ordinance reducing water rates about 40 per cent, has communicated to the city its de-sire to settle the matter without further litigation. It indicates a desire to accept the rates provided, with only minor changes in regulations. It has been expected the company would carry the case to the supreme court of the United States, and there is more rejoicing over the lastest move than over the ourt decision. The proposition has not been made in detail, but will be laid before the council very soon. The artesian water committee, which has managed the fight on be-half of the citizens for three years, will meet Wednesday and agree on a plan to force the city to at once grant the new rates, if an amicable adjustment is not reached. The company has found a legal point on which it can still charge the old rates for several months. The citizens' committee is disposed to make no concessions whatever, but insists on the letter of the ordinance recently sustained. The company claims the test for fire pressure is so severe that if compiled with it would burst all the pipes in the city. This is the important point on which there are dif-

The days of registration will be October 17, 25 and November 2, Chairman Walters of the judiciary commilitee reported adversely upon ordinance No. 656. This ordinance was intended to compel the attendance of members at council meetings and proposed to delegate the mayor chittis, burning rheumatism or disfigthe power to fine absentees. The committee was not in favor of giving the mayor any more power than now delegated to him by the city charter, and further the committee did not think that the imposing of fines would be legal. The report of the committee was Mayor Johnston called Blanchard to the chair and told the council how much money the negligence of the members had cost the Board of Equalization. Frequently the cierks had been compelled to readvertise meetings of the Board of Equalization because the members failed to be present at the time set Another ordinance will be prepared apply-ing only to meetings of the Board of Equal-ization. Walters said that he would report favorably on such an ordinance and the clerk read an ordinance covering this ground. It provided that the mayor might at his discretion fine any member $5 in the event that he was absent from any meeting of the Board of Equalization. Under a suspension of the rules the ordinance was read the first, second and third times and passed.

The council accepted an invitation to attend the Good Shepherd fair at Creighton hall, Omaha, this evening. Walters asked to have special policemen appointed for thirty days, to be stationed on the L and Q street viaducts, to arrest persons driving faster than a walk over the structures. The motion prevailed. Chief Brennan was instructed to have the necessary repairs made at once on all side-walks. The city attorney will draft an ordi-nance for grading districts No. 28 and 29. Franck wanted an ordinance drafted for the placing of a water hydrant at Twenty-fourth and S streets. This will be done.

The Rock Island will be requested to repair the crossing at Albright.

Mies introduced a resolution ordering the street commissioner to clean Twenty-fourth street from K to O street, and N street from Twenty-third to Twenty-seventh street

The mayor reported that there was only $1,800 in the street repair fund, and that this amount would have to last until next August, and thought the city could not stand the expense. Street Commissioner Ross thought the work could be done for $520 a year. The matter was left to the discretion of the mayor. A motion ordering the chief of police not to hire any more livery rigs without the consent of the chairman of the finance committee was carried.

The Balmy South! Land of Plenty No Hot Winds No Drouths.

Cool summers and mild winters— two and three crops raised a year. Free fuel. Rich lands. Fine rail-roads and the best shipping facil-ities bring the markets of the whole country to your door. Work and this land yields you abundant, never failing crops that bring big prices and you have something to market all the year through.

Central Mississippi

well watered, good roads, friendly people; never failing returns from the richest roil on the globe. The tide of immigration is turning towards this wonderful region. Twenty acres there with any sort of care pays you more money than the best 150 acres in the west. Stock runs out all the year and you can raise vegetables every month in the twelve. Garden farming and frut raising are making more money for the northern settlers now than they ever made before in their lives with double the amount of work. Peaches, plums, pears, strawberries, apricots—in fact all small fruits are a profitable, never failing source of revenue. For full particulars address
