Santa Fe's Rate.

the western, roads spent a large portion o their time today in trying to hunt down the sources of a report circulated here that the Union Pacific had cut rates to Denver to 35 cents. The nearest they succeeded in getting to it was that the report came from Denver in the form of private advices. Offi ciale of the Union Pacific who would have been responsible for such action had it been taken positively deny the truth of the report and declare they had not cut below the Santa Fe's rate, and had no intention of doing so. No may darks, were issued here today, though a rey whre momentarily expected. The Santa Fe's cut does not affect rates locally and as through business is limited it will not have much effect.

lon, organized last spring with Dr. T. H. Ensor as president, has about been brought to a close. The object of the association was to procure land near the city, break it, and furniah poor people with seed if they would raise a crop. After about sixty acres of land had been broken the city council appropriated $500 to buy seed. J. J. Wear was appointed superintendent and he had his hands full all summer looking after the farms and directing the raising of the crops. In all, 147 families took small patches of ground and worked faithfully all summer. On an average each family will get about fifteen bushels of potatoes and enough of other vegetables to last through the winter. This will be a great relief to the

is Charged with Stealing Money from Farmer Goetsche. Yesterday afternoon Henry Goetsche, a well-to-do German farmer from Sarpy county, swore out a warrant against a prominent commission merchant of this city, charging him with larceny from the person. Monday night, so the allegation is, the two men went to bed at the Oxford hotel, and when Gostsche woke up in the morning he missed $24 from his pocket. The commis-sion man says that he and Goetsche got together and during a conversation the old gentleman said he had been robbed of a considerable amount of money in a bawdy house in the burnt district, and solicited him to go with him to locate the thief. They went down the row, and after stopping h a number of houses wound up at Glady. Bush's notorious place. Before they entered the place Goetsch showed his money and when they came out he was minus his cash. Late yesterday evening the accused was released on bond. Goetsche, it is said, left for home last night and it is doubtful if he will return to press the complaint.
