NEW BATTLESHIP BEHAVES WELL. PRIVATE BANKER ABSCONDS Measuring Instruments Fail to Detect the Slightest Roll.

BOSTON, Oct. 16 .- The battleship Indiana, A. C. Charlton of Sigourney, Ia., Missing which left Cramp's ship yard on Saturday for her official trial trip, dropped anchor off Boston light last night. From Southeast End light ship off the New Jersey coast to New South shoals, Massachusetts, the ship averaged SAID TO BE IN VERY BAD CONDITION twelve and one-half knots an hour with a head sea running. No attempt was made to approach the speed limit of fifteen knots an hour, but the engines and bollers were found to be in first-class condition, the average number of revolutions being 120 per minute, with a horse-power development of $,500. Mr. Cramp said in an interview: "The gratifying feature of the Indiana's run to this

The battleship Indiana was given a pre-iminary run today over the government trial believed to be clear of complicity in the course off the Massachusetts coast between Cape Ann and Boone Island, and the result was very satisfactory. On the run up th course the average speed was 15.31 knots an hour for two hours. Boilers, engines and everything about the ship showed to such advantage on the run up that it was not feemed necessary to speed her on the return trip, and she was jogged back over the course at an average speed of thirteen knots.

Conroy and Fox in a New Play.

Manager Alton announces for this evening's attraction the inimitable comedians, Conroy & Fox, and their excellent company of players, singers and dancers, in an entirely new play, entitled "O'Flarity's Vacation," three act drama by Arthur North and Hart wig Cassell. Although written for laughing purposes only, still "O'Flarity's Vacation" is far more pretentious than anything they have heretofore been seen in, and is unlike the so-called farce comedy, inasmuch as it is postessed of a good, interesting, funny story, It is entirely new in theme and construction and makes a great vehicle for them to work on. c is enlivened with bright specialties from beginning to end, but they are brought in in a way that does not interfere with the plot. Prominent in the support of Messrs. Conroy and Fox are Miss Letta Merelith, Miss Suste Martin, Miss Katle Allen, Miss Jean Evelyne, Hayes and Post, J. W. Kingsley, Dick Atchison and many lesser lights.

He notified Farthing that he held possession of the corn field, and came back home to wait for another chance at Edwards. He afterward found out that Farthing had had a hand in getting the corn out of the way, and filed an information against him also, charging him with larceny. When he went out to the Edwards farm, near Crescent, vesterday, to serve the warrant, he found Farthing out in the corn field husking corn as fast as he could.
