Garfield, was seen this morning by a reporter, and while adverse to expressing himself, finally said: "I would much prefer not to be quoted or to say anything on the subject. It has been the policy of the family not to reply to charges that are made against my father, so we have never given any attention to such as the Roscoe Conkling matter and other things of that kind. There is in the possession of our family all the letters, manuscripts, diarles and such material that was left by my father, and it is our intention to answer all charges in the form of a biography rather than as the charges are made. I do know one thing, I am and have been a warm admirer and friend of Senator Sherman's and I know that my father always was. Of course Senator Sherman has a perfect right to his own opinions as has everybody. The nomination in 1880 was considered by my father's friends and by nearly everybody to be the result of a peculiar condition of affairs. Whatever Mr. Sherman may think of it is his own matter. and he has a right to his own opinions. It may be that we will have something to say regarding this matter, but I will not say that we will or will not. I could only say that after a conference with the family and locking over some of the papers. It does not seem to me right or proper for any one to make charges by inference, but they should be substantiated by papers and documents. I do not care to enter into a controversy over it and prefer not to discuss the matter until I have seen the book, which I have ordered. I think whatever reply we may decide to make will likely be made in the form of a blography, but at the same time it is possible we may decide otherwise."

DENIED BY EDITOR AIKENS.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 19 .- To an Associated press reporter A. J. Aikens of the Evening Wisconsin said today: "I attended the na-tional republican convention that nominated James A. Garfield for president in 1880 and was present at all sessions. I heard all the nominating speeches and remember particularly the speech of Mr. Garfield nominating John Sherman in behalf of the Ohio delega-tion. The opening of the speech was such that no man having heard could forget it; not only the matter, but the manner of Mr. Gar-field in the opening of his speech indicated great zeal, truthfulness and earnestness in his nomination of Senator Sherman. There was no sentence in any of the speeches com-parable, in my idea, to the opening sentence of that speech. The balloting went on from dny to day until the thirty-sixth ballot, when Mr. Garfield was nominated with a whoop and hurrah, as every one knows. The night before his nomination I called upon Mr. Gar-field with a view to securing his consent to accept the nomination if tendered to him Mr. Garfield's manner in rejecting all over-tures could not be mistaken by any man who heard such an interview as I had with him. And it is due to the truth of history and the memory of Mr. Garfield that he made no trade or arrangement by which he should re-ceive that nomination. He was taken up by the whirlwind, as autumn leaves, and carried into the presidential chair."

GOVERNOR FORAKER'S OPINION COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19.-Ex-Governor Foraker being asked what he knew or thought about Serator Sherman's new book, replied: "I have not seen the book. The committee thought it unwise to take up the matter so late in the session, and it was finally de-

The house then plunged into another batch of proposed amendments to the canons, proposed by Rev. Dr. F. P. Davenport. THINKS SHERMAN IN ERROR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.-M. H. De Young, vice chairman of the republican national committee, makes several criticisms of Senator Sherman's new book, entitled "Recol-lections of Forty Years in the House, Senate and Cabinet.

SURPRISED AT SHERMAN'S CONSERVA-TISM.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19.-Hon. W. He has been in communication with Senator Sherman during the writ ing of the senator's book, and is indeed im-pressed at the conservative reference to the mational conventions at which Senator Sher-man was defeated. Mr. Bateman was the manager of Senator Sherman's interests for a year or more prior to the convention of 1880.
