

FRENCH CHAMBER ACITATED

Animated Discussion Over Glass Workers' Strike Ends in Violence.

DEPUTIES ENGAGE IN LIVELY SPARRING

M. Carmaux Attempted to Strike M. Jaurès and Several Others Put in Hot Time in a Similar Manner.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—At the conclusion of the animated debate in the Chamber of Deputies Saturday, in which M. Carmaux attempted to strike M. Jaurès, who had attacked the government for declining to intervene and arbitrate the labor dispute with the socialists at the Carmaux glass works, the minister of the interior prevailed upon the manager of the Carmaux glass works to rekindle the furnaces and to provide work for several hundred men.

The Times' Paris correspondent says: Saturday's sitting was one of the most disgracefully violent which even the annals of the French Chamber contain. The incident, which grew out of the debate over the Carmaux strike, showed the house full of men shaking their fists and crying: "Cochin," "Lache," "Lache," "Lache," and "Lache," and the socialist member, M. Eberot, shouted at M. Legues, "Vous n'avez pas beaucoup de Cleverness, Monsieur le ministre, mais vous avez beaucoup de toupet." ("You have not much hair, Mr. Minister, but you have a great wig.") Before the end of the sitting three socialist deputies engaged in a regular fist fight.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA BURNED.

Several Buildings and Much Valuable Contents Destroyed by Fire.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 27.—The University of Virginia suffered great loss from a fire which occurred this morning. The local fire department was unable to cope with the flames and assistance was obtained from Staunton and Lynchburg, which, however, arrived too late to save the public hall, the library, the fine art gallery, the former building and a large quantity of dynamite was used on the portion between the rotunda and the public hall, but beyond displacing the contents, nothing was accomplished. Attention was then given to the buildings known as Old Chapel, and the reading room. These were blown up, the debris saturated with water and the fire there was confined to the hall and rotunda. The faculty containing about $15,000 worth of books, statues, paintings, etc., was in the rotunda. An effort to save the contents resulted in the getting out of the Jefferson statue and the contents of the books. Everything else was burned. At 2 o'clock the fire was gotten under control. The lecture room was destroyed and everything in the building, including a geological laboratory of great value, and a painting entitled "The School of Athens," the copy of the celebrated production of Raphael, was consumed. The total loss is estimated at not less than $200,000. The fire started in the building, and the origin of the fire is not known. Several minor accidents occurred. The fire has not yet been extinguished. The more ardent continental Americanists urge that all European nations having colonies be given notice to abandon their possessions and leave the new world forever. They say: "If these nations want to settle the matter by force of arms, let it come to that, and let all the countries of the new world agree to a policy of non-interference against Europe and free trade among themselves."

WOULD DRIVE OUT EUROPEAN POWERS

Movement Gaining Ground Among Young Men in Mexico and Central America—United States Asked to Come In.

(Copyrighted, 1895, by Press Publishing Company.) MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27.—(New York World Telegram.)—The new movement for a union of all the American republics against further European aggressions on this hemisphere continues to attract attention. It is beginning to be felt, it is said, through all Latin-America, and the more intelligent promoters of it expect to arouse the people of the United States to the necessity of joining with them in a policy of firm opposition to any further absorption of territory in Central America or Venezuela.

England is regarded as the worst offender, stimulated by her greed, and needing to be continually watched, as she is endeavoring to outwit the United States, looked to by all Latin-America to enforce the Monroe doctrine.

DEATH OF DR. ROBERT BROWN.

Passing of a London Scientist of World Wide Fame.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Dr. Robert Brown is dead. Robert Brown (Camsterianus) was born at Camster Caltness, March 23, 1812. He was educated at the University of Edinburgh and in the European universities. Between 1835 and 1846 he traveled for scientific purposes in many of the least known parts of the globe, and he was the first to land on the West Indies and Venezuela, Alaska and Bering sea coast, as botanist in the British Columbia expedition and commander of the United States expedition, during which he charted all the interior of Vancouver then known. In 1867 he was elected a member of the Royal Society, a theoretical conclusion regarding the nature of the island life, afterward confirmed by Naesen and Peary. Since then Dr. Brown has traveled extensively and has been educated in educational works. He was an honorary or ordinary member of many of the scientific societies in England and on the continent, and of many of which he was an officer. His name has been attached to the same day the first scientific expedition by him and to geographical points in Vancouver island and elsewhere. He wrote wholly or conjointly about thirty volumes and a number of scientific memoirs, and nearly 4,000 articles in reviews in various languages. His separate works are chiefly geographical, orthographical and natural history.

AS TO THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

Correspondent of London Times Says the United States Must Build It.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Times this morning has a three-column article on the Nicaraguan canal from a correspondent lately there, who says it is clear the project cannot be carried through as a private undertaking, but that it must be under the auspices of some strong government, which, without doubt, must be the United States. The article says that the cost of the canal is $100,000,000. It is useless to suppose, he adds, that the gulf states or Central America will be able to supply the necessary labor. The article says that he thinks, as negro labor is far superior to Chinese.

Rivas brought with him 300 of his Indian warriors, fearing that he would be accused of desertion. He was warmly welcomed by Guierrez's house, going to a hotel. Minister Castellanos is strongly opposed to this reconciliation and it is believed that he will resign.

DISCUSSING OVERLAND INTERESTS.

Union Pacific Directors and Attorneys Met at a Conference in St. Louis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Oliver W. Mink of Boston, one of the receivers of the Union Pacific system; W. R. Kelly, assistant general solicitor of the Union Pacific at Omaha, and general attorney of the same system for Nebraska, which began on Friday, the 26th inst., a discussion of the overland interests. Young, general auditor of the Union Pacific, and Zeno Snow, solicitor of the Union Pacific at Portland, Ore., who are in this city, held a prolonged conference in relation to the settlement of a dispute between the Union Pacific and the Oregonian, which was formerly a claim company, which was formerly a part of the Union Pacific system. The matters under consideration, Mr. Mink said, were of a nature similar to that of the Oregonian. He said that the suits recently argued before the circuit court of appeals in this city by the attorney for the Oregonian, when asked for his opinion on the recent report of the government directors of the Union Pacific, Mr. Mink said: "I understand that the government directors have recommended that the government foreclose its mortgage both on the Union Pacific and on the Oregonian, and, after securing possession of the through line from Omaha to San Jose, sell it to the highest bidder. The government's lien on the road, it should be remembered, is simply a book account and is not represented by any real estate. It is only what it would bring in the open market. The plan of the government directors, I should say, would be a good way of determining the value of the Oregonian's lien on the property. But whether the United States government is in a position to go into the road business is a question which I am not prepared to discuss."

FREE THINKERS' SESSION ENDS.

National Congress at New York City Concluded Yesterday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The national congress of Free Thinkers, which began on Friday, was concluded this evening. Henry Rowley, at the afternoon session, spoke of "Our Welfare," and Henry Bird on "Evolution in Thought." The addresses of the evening were made by L. K. Washburn and Enoch P. Putnam, president of the Free Thought, Education and American Secular Union. President Putnam spoke on "Evolution, Free Thought and Progress." Mr. Washburn, whose subject was "Liberty and Education," said that the Republic, as denominated Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop schools. Resolutions were then adopted advocating the taxation of church property, the absolute separation of church and state, and against arrest and imprisonment for using the mails for sending alleged improper communications. The case of J. B. Wise of Camden, who is now awaiting trial for sending a verse of scripture to a clergyman on a postal card, was cited.

Chicago Jewelers Paid.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Kasper & Barnes, jewelers, made an assignment late Saturday night for the benefit of their creditors. The assets are said to be $120,000, and the liabilities $100,000. None of the creditors of the concern were present in the assignment. The creditors are nearly all wholesale jewelers. A New York firm, which had advanced $15,000 in New Jersey, fifteen thousand dollars will, it is said, cover the debts in Chicago.

SILVER MEN ON NATIONAL ISSUES.

Their Spokesman Declares that the Campaign Shall Be Lengthy.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 27.—The silver demagogue, who has been making a name for himself among merchants and business men of the country who favor a short presidential campaign will be disappointed. At least this is the view of the matter taken by Hon. W. H. Hinrichsen. Hinrichsen is secretary of state, chairman of the democratic state central committee and one of the principal spokesmen for the silver democracy of the west. He is well posted as to the sentiments of his party and in an interview today expressed them to a representative of the Associated Press.

"I see from the papers," he said, "that the republican national convention will probably be held June 15. This would naturally bring the democratic convention at an earlier date. The party in power as a rule has held its convention first, the reason generally assigned being that it would give the opposition a man in politics who would recognize the opposition."

Regarding the length of the campaign, he had this to say: "I cannot say that I favor a short campaign, but I favor a long campaign. A short campaign would do more harm than good. If the money question should be an issue, and I think it will, the campaign should be long. The democratic convention should be held in Chicago, but there will be a strong effort to take it east, in order that the local influences may be used in nominating a man for president."

BRIDGE JUMPER LOSTS HIS LIFE.

Patrick Callahan Springs from the Poughkeepsie Structure to Death.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Patrick Callahan, 25 years old, who lived in New York, jumped from the top of the Poughkeepsie bridge into the river today. The distance is 212 feet. At least thirty people saw Callahan's exhibition of nerve. The bridge jumper had a gun with him, and paid for the same a devil experiment with his own life. Callahan and his backers, John P. Eckhard and William Lloyd of New York, accompanied by a number of spectators, arrived at Highland on the 6 o'clock train, and Callahan, accompanied by four of his party, climbed up the mountain side to the top of the bridge. He was followed by the watchman by telling him they belonged to a party of painters who were engaged in painting the bridge. They passed out to a small island in the river, where they were waiting for Callahan to jump. He wore a pair of black trousers and a navy blue shirt, and was carrying a revolver in his clothing, and wore heavy leather shoes. His associates strapped a cork jacket, or life preserver, around his waist and attached an investigation by the Board of Health.

Some members of the Congress of Americanists have gone to Cotulla to examine the great pyramid and also to Mills and other points of archaeological interest. A newarrison has arrived at Tepec to replace the soldiers against whom prisoners have mutinied. Most of the soldiers in the riot are doing well, but one man died Saturday.

The conservative party does not wish to share in the generous sentiment of the Bishop of Tabasco toward the government and some of its organs continue to denounce the severest measures of the growing sentiment that the church should cheerfully acknowledge the existing order of things and cease to be a hindrance to the progress of the country.

POLITICS OF A PREACHER MIXED.

Collapsed in the Pulpit When Accused of Dishonesty.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 27.—C. W. Hooper, the republican candidate for the legislature charged with offering the democratic executive committee to withdraw in favor of a democrat for senator if he would give him $1,000 for election expenses, appeared at Greensboro today. Hooper's biographers were there to take the reverend gentleman. He was late. He gave out at 11 o'clock. He had been seen some trembling all over. "Last night a boy waked me up at midnight at my house and brought me a powder horn full of powder. He said he was a family physician at that time, but now I am mortally certain it was not. I hope it is not true. I will be impossible for me to say anything. This powder has deranged my mind."

With that he fell into a chair, his head leaning over the back, his arms hanging limp. Women screamed and excitement and confusion followed. Hooper was taken to the hospital. By some means he was partially revived. He said he did not know the boy who had brought him the powder. He said he had been asked to give $1,000 for election expenses. He said he had been asked to give $1,000 for election expenses. He said he had been asked to give $1,000 for election expenses.

BATTLESHIP MAINE HAS DEFECTS.

Draws Too Much Water Forward and Leans to One Side.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Herald publishes a statement this morning that the new second-class battleship Maine, which is to go into the navy, has three feet less water after than forward and also that she has a bad list to starboard. A naval expert, who looked at the ship when at Brooklyn, thus determined the defects. The Maine draws three feet more forward than she does aft, and she leans over to starboard. It is reported that the Maine is to be sent to the navy, and that she will be ready for sea in a few days. The Maine is a 10,000-ton ship, with a complement of 800 tons and her complete outfit of men, stores and ammunition, she should float symmetrically. The defects of the ship are reported to be of a serious nature, and that her defective list must be due to radical and permanent causes and not to a mere temporary misplacing of her weights.

The officers of the ship are reported to be reticent concerning these alleged faults and it is not known who is responsible for them, although they may be due merely to careless loading. It is also reported that the Maine is to be a model, and her machinery, which was given a dock-trial Saturday, works perfectly.

IDAHO MINERS THREATEN TROUBLE.

Nonunion Workmen Ordered from the Mines and Governor Interferes.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 27.—Governor McDonnell received an appeal today from the mine managers at Wallace, stating that the Miners' union have ordered the miners out of the Hunter mine at Muller and threaten to keep them out until the railroad company and the governor is asked to maintain martial law and order out the militia.

Another dispatch states that the people of Muller are to be ordered to leave the country. The governor notified militia captains at Wallace to hold their companies in readiness to proceed to Muller. He has directed Colonel Morrow at Wallace to go to Muller and muster in the company. He has wired the sheriff that property and life must be protected, and that the miners are to be expelled from the country. The miners are said to be armed with dynamite and are threatening to blow up the mine.

SEATTLE PACIFIC REMOVS A LENS.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 27.—The lease of the Central Washington railroad to the Northern Pacific was renewed in the United States court yesterday.

HOLMES' TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

Will First Answer for the Murder of Benjamin Pitel.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—H. H. Holmes, or Herman Mugoel, whose name or alias has rung throughout the length and breadth of the continent as one of the most unscrupulous and skillful murderers of modern times, will be placed on trial for his life tomorrow in the court of oyer and terminer of this city. The specific charge to which he will be called upon to answer is the murder of Benjamin F. Pitel, and he has also been charged with the murder of the criminal named John J. Jones. The revealing details of the many crimes with which Holmes' name has been directly or indirectly connected have been given such publicity and the cold, implacable demeanor which has characterized the man throughout has been so frequently commented upon that the trial will probably pass into history as the most celebrated case known to the criminal annals of the western hemisphere. The commonwealth has already expended thousands of dollars in its efforts to bring the prisoner to justice, and there is an indication that should a conviction for murder in the first degree be obtained he will be sentenced to the gallows.

WITNESSES FROM MANY STATES.

Witnesses have been brought to this city from Boston, Chicago, Indianapolis, Irvington, N. J., and almost every city where Holmes is known to have lived at various times. What revelations these witnesses will make have been kept a profound secret by the prosecution, but it is expected that the trial will be one of the most sensational developments. Detective Geyer, who has been for months traveling throughout the country in search of evidence of Holmes' movements, will be one of the principal witnesses for the commonwealth. The skull and portions of the body of Pitel, which was found in the room in which Holmes is thought to have been murdered by Holmes in Indianapolis, will be exhibited in the court. Judge Arnold, who presided at the trial of Holmes in Indianapolis, will be upon the bench and he has already signified his intention of holding three sessions of the court, the first on Monday and night so long as the persons interested can stand the strain. The prosecution will be in the hands of District Attorney Graham and a number of assistants, while the interests of the prisoner will be guarded by Messrs. Shonaker and Rotan, young members of the local bar.

Consequent upon the widespread publicity given the case, it is feared that several days will be occupied in securing a jury of men who have not already formed decided opinions concerning the guilt or innocence of Holmes. It is impossible to learn even approximately the number of witnesses to be called on either side, but that there will be a goodly number is apparent from the fact that the commonwealth has secured their entrance to the court room.

PEW WILL BE ADMITTED.

Announcements have been made that only those who have business therein will be admitted to the court room. The officers, augmented by a detail of reserve policemen, will enforce this order at the doors.

The murder of Pitel, if murder it was, occurred more than a year ago. The body, burned and blackened as if by an explosion, was found in the room in which Holmes lived at 1325 Calverton Hill street, this city, on September 23, 1894. As he had been known as an inventor named Perry, the supposition was that he had met his death by accident while experimenting. Subsequently the charge was made that Pitel had been murdered by Holmes in an attempt to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life association of Philadelphia out of $10,000, which had been paid by the company to Mrs. Pitel, who was supposed to have been a party to the conspiracy. Holmes having first introduced the witness to the jury, he was arrested in Boston, November 17, and Mrs. Pitel is in custody as, probably, the principal witness against him. There is a likelihood of the case being tried in Philadelphia, unless unforeseen circumstances arise to bring it to an earlier conclusion.

PHOENIX, ARIZ., OCT. 27.—L. U. Orme, sheriff of this county, early this morning shot Dr. Rose, a physician, in the east of Phoenix. Dr. Rose was shot in the chest with a shotgun, killing him instantly. Rose, with two confederates, had attempted to murder the Williams family, consisting of the doctor, his young wife and daughter. The latter was formerly the wife of Dr. Rose in Kansas. The confederates, Burt and Cooley, were captured and placed in jail. Burt previously gave the plot away to the sheriff, but refused to help to help execute the plans of the murderer, for fear Rose would kill him. Sheriff Orme was in Dr. Williams' bedroom awaiting the assassins, while United States Deputy Marshal Stankard remained outside to watch. At 9:30 Burt came and cut the screen and unlocked the door. At 10 o'clock he returned with Rose and the doctor. Rose had a blacksmith's hammer in his right hand, a wagon spoke in the other and a pistol in his pocket. Two dumplings had been thrown at Dr. Williams. Rose struck one with the hammer. Sheriff Orme said: "Hold up your hands; I am sheriff of this county and have you covered with a shotgun.
