Some Newspapers of the Opinion the Affair May Lend to a Dissolution of Parliament-Socialists the Only Ones Satisfied.

PARIS, Oct. 29.-The newspapers this morning express appreciation of the difficulties which are confronting President Faure as a result of the resignation yesterday of the Ribot ministry. The moderate republican journals deplore the fact that the Chamber of Deputies was not satisfied with the explanations of the ministry regarding the fallure of the government to prosecute those whose names had been mentioned in connection with the South of France railway scandals and that the chamber thus precipitated a situation the consequences of which it is claimed it will probably be the first to

The radical and socialist newspapers hall the defeat of the Ribot ministry as revenge for their own discomflure in the matter of the Carmaux strike, while the conservative organs state that the ministry has fallen on a question of public morals and "under a blow given by the majority, exas-perated at repeated attempts to hush up fla-

RUSSIA'S NEW TREATY WITH CHINA. Loudon Papers Reiterate the Sensa-

LONDON, Oct. 29.-The Globe this after noon publishes from a correspondent at Hong Kong a virtual reiteration of the dispatch to the Times from Hong Kong, which patch to the Times from Hong Kong, which caused such a sensation, claiming to outline the concessions by China to Russia. An additional statement in the Globe dispatch is that the alleged secret treaty between China and Russia was conveyed to St. Petersburg by Wong Chi Chuan, who was dispatched to Russia, ostenzibly for the purpose of congratulating the czar upon his cession to the throne.

The representatives of the foreign office here discredit the Globe's dispatch. They say that Wong Chi Chuan went to St. Peterssay that Wong Chi Chian went to St. Feters-burg during the autumn of 1894, before the treaty of peace between China and Japan was signed, and that if any such agreement was ever made between China and Russia it was probably done during his visit to the BAYARD IS GOING TO SCOTLAND. Venezuela Expected for Weeks.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The United States ambaseador, Hen. Thomas F. Bayard, who has been visiting Sir John Pender, will return to town on Thursday next and will start for Scotland next week. He will probably he away from London during most of the month of November.

The stories about Mr. Bayard delaying his departure, owing to his expecting the marquis of Salisbury's reply to the note of the United States regarding Venezuela the United States regarding Venezuein, are unfounded. It is generally believed that the premier is awaiting the arrival here of Sir Charles Camaron Lees, the governor of British Gulana, who has been called home, and the return to town of the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chambers, and the American networks the Chambers and the lain, before replying to the American note But it is probable that there is some significance in the action of the marquis of Salfsbury in postponing his regular reception to the members of the diplomatic corps, which was to have taken place tomorrow, and it is considered likely that the reply will be

Last Plea for the Acquittal of Theodore Durrant Made.

DISAPPOINTS THE CROWD

Weak from His Recent Illness He Added but Little to the Argument Made by General Dickinson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The close of the arguments for the defense in the trial of Theodore Durrant today was marked by the Cuban revolutionary party in this city, when seen today said that he would go to Washington in the near future. "I shall see President Cleveland and lay the case of my countrymen before him. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 29.—The steamer Laureda, Captain Hughes, from New York for Kingston, October 21, reports of the jurors arose and informed the court that he would never enter the room again if he were compelled to fight his way through such a crowd.

The afternoon session of court was several the cries of women. At last the court ordered the shiriff to arrest every person who should refuse to go out of the building. The crowd was finally dispersed without the necessity of making any arrests, General Dickinson resumed his argument or the defense, and concluded his remarks was probably murdered by two men instead DEUPREY WAS STILL WEAK. When Attorney Deuprey appeared at the fternoon session to make the closing argument for the defense he was accompanied by his wife, a nurse and his physician. He looked weak from the effects of his recent illness and by permission of the court ad-dressed the jury while seated. Deuprey's impaired physical condition was apparent in his argument, which was a disappointment to the large crowd who fought their way into the court room to hear him. It is generally considered that the case would have been just as strong if he had submitted it at the close of General Dickinson's address without further argument. Afterney Deuprev said Durrant was an innocent victim of circumstances and begged the jury to right the wrong that had already been done the prisoner by acquitting him as speedily as possible. He attacked the testimony of the prosecuting witnesses in the same manner that General Dickinson did. All of the witnesses who swore they saw Durrant and Miss Lamont going toward Emanuel church on the afternoon of April 3 were mistaken. No the afternoon of April 3 were mistaken. No evidence had been introduced which he be-lieved established the fact that Durrant strangled Miss Lamont. The same amount of energy directed toward casting suspicion on Rev. John George Gibson, he believed would have developed as strong a case against the clergyman. At the same time, Mr. Deuprey expressed the belief that Rev. Mr. Gibson had no connection with the crime.

While the prosecution had proved some things, Mr. Deuprey said, the defense had proved more than he promised in his opening over to the district court and was taken to statement. He could not see how any juror dd doubt for a moment that Durrant at nded Dr. Cheney's lecture on the afternoon

District Attorney Barnes will begin the losing argument for the presecution toorrow morning. WEAKENED AT THE LAST MOMENT.

The Examiner claims to have in its pos-ession a companion piece to th statement made by George Reynolds to the coroner about the Durrant case. The Examiner says that since September 25 it has had in its possession a letter written by a man who signs his name Richard Smythe, and who says that he was hired t testify in the Lamont case that Durrant might be acquitted. Smythe says that the lot to implicate Gibson in the murder cause him to draw out.

In the statement which he was to have made on the stand Smythe says that Blanche Lamont was a friend of his wife's, and that on April 3 Miss Lamont visited his house in Oakland. She came direct from school and had her books with her. She remained at his house over night and on Thursday went with his wife to call on a Mrs. Richardson. She returned to his house and remained Thursday night, leaving on Friday, April 5. She left her book strap at Smythe's house and borrowed one belonging to Smythe's son, having on it the initials "R. A. S." Smythe also identifies another strap as belonging to Blanche Lamont. This is supposed to be the ysterious strap produced in court by Gen eral Dickinson.

Smythe's statement goes on to say that he saying a statement goes on to say that he was instructed by Mr. Dickinson to remain silent and not discuss the case. He was introduced to Miss Lamout at a Methodist church in San Francisco in 1894 by his wife. His wife knew her in Rockford, Ill. -Smythe says he has separated from his wife and that she is stopping with his son with her parents on a farm in Bucks county, Pennsylvania about nineteen miles north of Philadelphia. The Examiner reprints questions asked by counsel for Durrant during the trial which he paper claims tended to lead up to the tesmony of Smythe and Reynolds, which was be introduced. Reynolds, in his letter to the coroner, mentioned Smythe as one of the men associated with him in the plot.

TESTIMONY IS VERY CONFLICTING Some Witnesses Say Lieutenant Pague

Was Drunk, Others Crazy. CHICAGO, Oct. 29 .- Attorney Blair for he defense today closed his case in the Pague court martial at Fort Sheridan and Judge Advocate Clause recalled several witesses in rebuttal. Major Girard, former oost surgeon, was called to testify regarding Lieutenant Pague's sanity, but proved to be a very had witness for the defense. Girard's direct testimony was clearly given, but upon the cross-examination he became lost in a maze of contradictions. The defense hopes to prove that Lieutenant Pague was mentally deranged but not intoxicated when he shot at Colonel Crofton, and Major Girard swears that Pague was drunk when the shooting occurred, just after having been confined in the guard house in the morning. Other witnesses testified that Pague was perfectly sober whin the shooting occurred, and Lieutenant Williams swore that Pague asked him to small of his breath two minutes after the to smell of his breath two minutes after the shooting, to prove that he was sober. Major Girard's testimony went to show that while Pague was drunk on the day of the shooting he was not of unsound mind.

This fear, however, is utterly groundless, for the factory will be opened again today. "The factories were started this year a minth carlier than they usually are, even before the beets were ripened, because it was thought that they would be in condition be-fore the factories got well into running shape. The beets, however, have been unusually late this year on account of the heat and the unless they were in his own handwriting, moisture, and it was found necessary to shut. Smith admitted that the papers had been down one of the factories. The recent cold snap, though, has checked the growth of the beets, and from now on all the beets will gain in saccharine and sugar. The progress during the past week of the cold snap has worked wonders, for beets which were unripe and wa during the past were during worked wonders, for beets which were unripe and growing a week ago are ripe, and within the next week or ten days, if the present weather continues, all the whole crop will be ripe. The ripe beets are all up to the standard test in saccharine and purity, and the corpuse cremated and asked Howe about it. The lawyer answered that the widow would first have to be consulted. therefore the farmers need not be alarmed.

waiting for a big tide. This has caused some would occur if a ship met with an accident

TAIGN OF REFORM SHOWS REMARKABLE NERVE

Holmes Proceeds with the Conduct of His Own Defense.

DISPLAYS MUCH SHREWDNESS AS WELL

Work of Taking Testimony in the Most Notable Murder Trial of Modern Times Commenced in Earnest This Forenoon.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.-It is Holmes. everywhere today. The whole city is agog over yesterday's sensational developments in this remarkable case. So, in spite of judicial orders that only those having business with the case should be admitted to the court room; in spite of the presence of a phalanx of reserve policemen and an increased force of court officers to keep away the morbidly curious, that self-willed and independent entity known as the general public surged and struggled and kicked its way along the orridors of the city hall, in an effort to at least catch a glimpse of the outer door of the room in which the strangest criminal narrative of the age is being gradually unfolded.

With a man of less nerve force and brain power than Holmes acting the composite role of prisoner at the bar and counsel for the defense the spectacle would indeed have been farcical. But for not an instant does this extraordinary specimen of abnormal geniusthe genius to commit crime with wonderful skill and daring-lose centrol of himself. Be it thrust or parry from the court or from the keen and scarnful officers of the commonwealth, Holmes is equal to the emergency and his listener somehow feels that he does not get altogether the worst of the argu-

The day's proceedings were begun by District Attorney Graham, who arose and said to the court: "I desire to say to the court in view of what was said last night before adjournment that the lady known as Miss Yoke and Mrs. Howard was sent for, saw the prisoner and had ample epportunity for an interview with him." This is the woman concerning whom there WILLIAM S. POPPLETON,

A special invitation is extended to the women of Omaba to be present and provision will be made for their accommodation and convenience. Several of the speakers will dwell more the accommodation and convenience. Several of the speakers which the TRIAL COMMENCES IN EXPLICED. was a warm passage-at-arms last evening

TRIAL COMMENCES IN EARNEST. The prisoner asked that a plan be produced of the Callow Hill street house, where he is believed to have murdered Pitzel. The district attorney said such a plan was in court and would be produced at the proper time. and would be produced at the proper time.

"I also ask." Holmes continued, "that a quantity of the liquor which Mr. Graham said I used in my efforts to exterminate the Pitzel family be submitted to analysis. I want to prove that while it contains a small quantity of nitro-giverine it is entirely harmless and is sold in every drug store."

"Do you mean the liquer you left with Mrs, Pitzel in Burlington, Vt.?" Pitzel in Burlington, Vt.?"

"Yes,"
"That has never been in my possession." There was a lull for a moment and then began the big work of the trial—the taking of testimony. Jeanette Pitzel, "Desea," the daughter of the dead man, was the first witness called. She is a slender, pale girl of about 17 years, and was nearly attired in Eugene Smith, who found Pitzel's body in liscovery, which has been already fully pub-ished. He had become acquainted with the dead man on August 22, 1894, through busi-ness concerning patents which Pitzel was supposed to have held. He saw him several times during the following week.

The witness drew a pack of papers from his pocket when he came to the date, but

BODY WAS RECOGNIZED. The witness was present when the corpus of Pitzel was exhumed from the potter's field witnesses except the one on the stand ex-cluded from the room. Holmes here asked if his wife was to be a

"Again I must ask," said the district attorney, "which wife do you mean?"
"You know," responded Hoimes, with a flush of anger. "The woman you see fit to designate as Miss Yoke, thereby casting a slur on her and myself. That woman is my wife." "You east a slur on her," Mr. Graham retorted, "when you married her with two wives living. I call her by the name she gives me, which is Miss Yoke." gives me, which is Miss Yoke."

"That is for her to say," said Holmes.
"Well, she is not in the court room," concluded the prosecutor, "and I decline to say, whether or not she will be a witness."
Dr. Scott was then permitted to tell his story, which concerned his having been called in to examine Pitzel's body after its discovery. He explained the situation of the room, and the arrangement of the windows so that the sun's rays should fall upon the room, and the arrangement of the windows so that the sun's rays should fall upon the corpse and hasten decomposition, together wit hithe position of the burns on the body, the broken jar, pipe, etc. He verified the district attorney's assertion of yesterday that the pipe could not have fallen from the lips of Pitzel to the place where it was found and that the jar could not have been broken by an explosion, because the pieces of glass were not scattered about the room, but were were not scattered about the room, but were inside the jar. The doctor dwelt upon the dis-covery of chloroform in the stomach, and said large quantities of the drug had been used and from the congested condition of the lungs and the empty heart it was apparent that the man had met a sudden and violent death om chloroform poisoning.

At the end of Dr. Scott's examination-in-chief the court took a recess from 1:10 to 2:30 o'clock. SHOWED FAMILIARITY WITH MEDICINE

Court reconvened promptly at half past 2 o'clock and Dr. Scott was turned over to Holmes for cross-examination.
"Are you prepared to say," he asked, "that the decomposition of the hody would not have occurred had it been in a darkened."

Yes, sir. Had it been in a cool, darkened room, putrefaction would not have come so quickly. Here it was in warm weather and the body so arranged in relation to the win-dows that the rays of the sun would fall as to the length of time the man had been dead?" "I said from all appearances he had been dead three of four days."

Holmes then subjected Dr. Scott to a lengthy and detailed examination touching the effects of chloroform.

At the conclusion of Dr. Scott's testimony Dr. William P. Mattern. coroner's physician was called. Holmes at once arose and heaged the court to grant him a continuance until tomorrow. He pleaded that as Dr. Matterli

Graham replied with emphasis: "No, sir, I
