HOPEWELL TO THE VOTERS

His Position as a Candidate Plainly Stated by Himself.

DEMAND FOR A NONPARTISAN JUDICIARY

He Writes a Letter in Which Be Gives Reasons for Accepting a Place on the Nonpartisan Ticket.

Judge M. R. Hopewell, nominated for reelection to the bench of this, the Fourth judicial district, by the populists and endorsed by the democratis and Citizens' Reform league, has issued the following address to the voters of Burt and Washington counties;

I have been criticised by some of my republican friends for being a nonpartisun nominee for district judge. I prefer to be judged by the whole people. In the first place it is said I should have declined the nomination of the people's independent party. But why? No reason is given. If there is a W. A. Redick. They were nominated the inconsistency in failing to decline. The republican judicial convention saw nothing wrong in such nomination, for it made Judge Keysor its nominee, after he had received it. without question. But this stricture fails entirely, coming as it does from Judge Dickinson's friends, in view of the fact that he was not only willing to accept the Ind pendent nomination, but solicited it, and went to Omaha the day of the convention and interviewed delegates for that purpose, as appears of the Citizens' league. It was one of from the letter of D. Cl m Deaver herewith published. His name was actually before the convention, where he received six votes.

It is also claimed that in writing the let-ter I did to the republican county convention saying I was not a candidate for district judge, and asking my friends to support Judge Dickinson, that I harred myself from Judge Dickinson, that I barred myself from being elected to that position. The letter in question was written with special reference to my candidacy before the republican convention and to advise my friends in the convention that I would not contest for the nomination. It was a withdrawal of my candidacy as against Judge Dickinson for the republican nomination. The letter was read in the convention and so understood. I have kept entire faith in the word and spirit of that letter with Judge Dickinson. I was not thereafter a candidate for the nomination against him. It was the support of my friends in the convention that gave him my friends in the convention that gave him that delegation, which resulted in his nomi-

But it is urged that I ought not to accept the nominations which have been tendered me by the independent and democratic parties and Citizens' league. Again, why not? It is an important and honorable office, and to be thus selected by parties with which I have not politically affiliated, because of my supposed fitness for the position, I consider one of the very highest honors.

There has grown up in this district a senti-ment in the last dozen years that the judi-ciary should be free from political influences, and that judges should be selected without reference to their political views. This popreference to their political views. This non-partisan movement is not ephemeral, but has taken de p root in the convictions of the vuter. Its first practical application was in voter. Its first practical application was in 1883. Prior to that time we had but one judge in this district. The legislature of that year gave us an additional judge. Believing then, as I do now, that the position of judge should not be political, I signed and circulated a petition in Burt county and It was signed generally in the district, asking Governor Dawes, a republican, to appoint Judge Wakeley, a life-long democrat, because of his recognized ability and integrity. cause of his recognized ability and integrity. The appointment was made, and at the next election time the republican and democratic conventions met on the same day and with the avow'd purpose of keeping the judiciary free from political contentions each conven-tion nominated Judge Wakeley and Judge tion nominated Judge Wakeley and Judge New Holling to be their own successors, one being a republican, the other a democrat. At the next election, in 1887, the democratic conventence of the nonpartisan idea, it is the principal ingredient, made the record of the case, as found on docket 10, page 105, of Justice Bradley's first as an old lady, who can establish to the record of the nonpartisan idea.

BY I is the principal ingredient to the did character of a tramp, is taken into the next election, in 1887, the democratic conven-tion, in pursuance of the monpartisan idea, nominated two democrats—Judges Wakeley and Doane—and two republicans—Judge Groff and myself. In the republican conven-tion the politicians had the swing and Judge Groff was turned down and a straight re-publican ticket nominated. What was the re-sult? The people took a hand and the whole nonpartisan ticket was elected. Burt county, then largely republican, gave an overwhelmthen largely republican, gave an overwhelm then largely republican, gave an overwhelming vote for the nonpartisan nominces, as follows: E. Wakeley, nonpartisan, 1,027; Lee Estelle, republican, 440; A. U. Hancock, nonpartisan, 633, and L. A. Groff, nonpartisan, 1,116 votes.

Judge Dickinson supported the nonpartisan ticket, and his friends who are new censuring me supported it. They knew that Judge Groff was running on the democratic and citizens' tickets, that he had failed to get the republican nomination, but that fact cut no figure with them then. They voted and worked for him against the regular republican nominees urging as a reason that the best men should be selected regardless of their politics. At the next election of judges in 1891 the democratic and republican parties both ig-nored the nonpartisan idea and nominated party tickets, but the people voted to sult themselves. The straight democratic and straight republican vote of the district at that time was nearly equally balanced. Four retime was nearly equally balanced. Four republicans and three democrate were elected, but an analysis of the vote shows some surprising features. Judge Deane, a straight democrat, received nearly 15,000 votes, while I, having the straight republican nomination, received over 14,000. In other words, Judge Deane, in addition to his full party vote, received two-thirds of the republican vote, and I at least half the democratic vote.

Again, James E. Boyd, a democratic governor having judges to appoint, named Judge ernor, having judges to appoint, named Judge Charles Ogden, a democrat, and Judge H. J. Davis, a republican. Vacancies occurring dur-Davis, a republican. Vacancies occurring dur-ing the term of Governor Crounse, he ap-pointed Judge Walton, a republican, and Judge Duffie, a democrat. Thus the idea of a nonpartisan judiciary has been constantly kept in view. Not only is this true as to the district judges, but in Burt county two years are ludge blothings who now cries straight district judges, but in Burt county two years ago Judge Dickinson, who now cries straight ticket, was elected county judge as a nonpartisan. He sought and received on that issue the democratic nomination in addition to the republican nomination. He also secured the endorsement of the attorneys of the county without regard to party and was supported as a nonpartisan by the Burt County Herald, the brightest and most intense democratic paper in the state.

have made this plain statement of facts in order to remove if possible any wrong im-pressions in regard to my position. I am a firm believer in the nonpartisan principle as applied to the judiciary, and if it were ex-tended to some other offices it would be just as well. It makes no material difference to you or me what the polities of a county offi-cer is; but it does make a great difference to every citizen whether or not he is an honest and capable official. My associates on the non-partisan ticket need no introduction. The names of Wakeley, Duffle, Ferguson and Key-sor are familiar to all. W. A. Redick and George A. Magney are younger men, not so well known, but are excellent tawyers, whose integrity has never been questioned. As to myself, I am willing to be judged by my record on the beach and my conduct as a citizen of Burt county for twenty-five years. If these tests are satisfactory I am content with the result. Respectfully,

M. R. HOPEWELL. OMAHA, Sept. 26.—Hon. M. R. Hopewell, Judge of the District Court: Dear Sir—1 trust that you will see your way clear to accept the nonpartisan nomination for re-election as one of the judges of this judicial district. I think there were fifty-seven or fifty-eight delegates out of a total of sixty-one who voted for your nomination, which is very near unanimous Judge Dickinson called at my office Friday evening, September 20, and among other things stated that you were not a candidate things stated that you were not a candidate for re-election and expressed a wish that he be nominated by our convention as one of the nonpartisan nominees. There were probably a half-dozen delegates favorable to his nomination, but the overwhelming majority were favorable to you, believing that best, though you were not a candidate for re-election in the sense of seeking the office. While there was nothing personal mentioned against Judge Dickinson, still he had not been tried district; regardless of party affiliation; consequently the delegates believed you by far the strongest nominee. Trusting that you will be one of the seven judges elected on November 5, I am, yours truly, D. CLEM DEAVER.

CONNELL GIVES AN OPINION.

Says that the City Clerk May Correct Certificates of Nomination. City Attorney Connell has given an opinior to the city clerk, relative to the populist balors, which are irregular as first prepared. In the certificate which was delivered to the city clerk, the word "populist" was used instead of "people's independent party." The substance of Mr. Connell's opinion is to the effect that the ballot would be technically illegal, as no party known officially as the "populist" party cast I per cent of the votes at the election one year ago. He declares, however, that it is not the intent of the law to defeat the manifest intent of the party filto defeat the manifest intent of the party filling the certificate and that the clerk may properly correct the cartificate. If any repre sentatives of the other parties are not satis-fied they have the privilege of going into courto compel the clerk to reverse his decision. SCOTT TOO BUSY TO HOLD COURT

We Guarantee Shoes.

Just to jog your memory we'll repeat.

That we quarantee shoes-not while they're sold, as the custom, but we guarantee every shoe we sell to wear a reasonably long time; guarantee against imperfections, guarantee that they're all leatherevery part-guarantee all possible service expected of a shoe, and guarantee that our prices are lower by 25 per cent.

And to make these guarantees binding-A new pair of shoes free or your money back.

Splendid working shoes, (dress style), $1.25 a pair-wear 'em, and if they ain't just right get a new pair for nothing.

Same rule applies to all qualities from the cheapest to the finest. We like to see all $5.00 shoe people. A $5.00 shoe $3.00 here. The average $5.00 shoe is of American calf-so are our $3.00 ones. Goodyear welt? Ours too.

And what a unique collection of that $3.00 shoe! We never in all our acquaintance with shoes saw the equal-pointed toes, medium toes, wide toes, some with tips, some have none. Light soles, medium soles and heavy sols, some cork soles and some of the newest invention. The Scotch sole, extending from the uppers about three-fourth inch, which makes a shoe absolutely snow and water proof. The greatest shoe store in the country-that is-did any one ever hear of any shoe dealer who will give a new pair of shoes for old ones? We do it cheerfully. Our shoes are made on a guarantee. We lose nothing.
