Casady Came Out Ahead. Judge Smith yesterday overruled the motion to dissolve the injunction secured by J. N. Casady some months ago restraining the Firemen's Fund Insurance company from levying on papers belonging to the company, which were in his possession. Casady used to be the agent for the company, but they parted, and Casady refused to give up the papers. The company thereupon brought replevin proceedings in Justice Vien's court and the time was set for a hearing. When the time arrived all the parties were on hand, but the court was not. The insurance company brought in Justice Walker, and as the case, Walker gave the company a judg-ment. Casaly waited until the hour was up to issue the judgment.

The Iowa Christian Endeavor convention will meet here next year, according to a telegram received yesterday afternoon. An earrest effort was made by the delegates last year to get the prize for this year, but Des Moines came out best in the fight, the understanding being that all western and central Iowa delegates would unite on Council Bluffs this year. They did so, and Council Bluffs consequently secures the coveted plum. It is believed that 1.500 or more delegates will be here during the last week in October. that being the time selected.

Chrysanthamums, J. R. McPherson, Tel. 244 Millionnire McCormlek and His Bride to Make Their Home Here. A special telegram from New York to a leading Chicago paper yesterday announcing five feet. the coming marriage of Miss Edith Rockefeller, daughter of the great Standard Oil magnate, John D. Rockefeller, and Mr. Marold Fowler McCormick of Chicago, contains a paragraph that is of unusual interest to the people of this city. The telegram describes the elaborate preparations that are being made for the wedding, which takes place in latest styles.

New York November 26, Is full of bright bits of the personal history of the two young lovers, and mays that Miss Edith Rockefeller and her sister, Alta, are two of the richest and her sister, Alta, are two of the richest heiresses in America, their prospective inheritances being estimated at $35,000,000 each. This sum, however, is wholly in expectation, for it is said Mr. Rockefeller will give his daughters only $1,000,000 each. This was the amount of the wedding present he gave his eldest daughter. Bessle, who was married several years ago to Rev. Charles Strong of the University of Chicago. Mr. McCormick is 25 years eld, and a member of one of the richest families in Chicago. McCormick, was the inventor of the McCormick reaping machines. and at the time of his death, in 1884, he was one of the wealthiest men in Chicago. He left a wife, three cons, and two daughters. One of the latter married Emmons Blaine who died a short time after their marriage. The concluding paragraph is the one that makes all of the column press dispatch of interest to Council Bluffs, and is as follows: "After the wedding Mr. McCormick and his bride will take a trip to Egypt, where they will spend four months. They will make their future home at Council Bluffs, Ia., and Mr. McCormick will become a partner in the McCormick Harvesting Machine company, the Rowing Association Victorious. Judge Smith handed down a decision yesterday afternoon in the case of the Council Bluffs Rowing association against the Manhattan Beach Improvement company. This sult, it will be remembered, grew out of an attempt that was made to tear out the dam by which the water was kept in Lake Manawa. The farmers around the lake claimed they were damaged by an overflow of the water in Mosquito creek, and secured an order from the Lewis township trustees directing that the dam be torn out. The boat club, to prevent the destruction of its place at the lake, thereupon secured a temporary writ of injunction restraining all the parties concerned from tearing out the dam. In his decision yesterday Judge Smith held that the overflow was not of such a character as to injure the property owners seriously, and he overruled the motion to dissolve the injunction. Radiant, Novelty and Elmhurst stoves for hard coal are the most economical stoves Sold only by Charles Swaine, 740 Broadway.
