PLAIN ISSUES OF THE CITY CAMPAIGN

Shall Omaha's People Still Be Governed by a Star Chamber Combine?

RECORDS OF THE CANDIDATES IN CONTRAST

Mr. Rosewater Exposes the Mock Pretenses Under Which Political Pirates Seek to Hold the City in Their Grasp.

The speech delivered by Hon. E. Rosewater at the Collseum Friday evening before an enthusiastic meeting of over 5,000 citizens of Omaha, bent upon the reform of city county and judicial government, is here printed in full:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Citizens of Omaha and Douglas County: For this cordial greeting I extend to you my heartfelt thanks. I appreciate the compliment you pay me, in view of the fact that this campaign from the outset up to the present day and I have been made the principal issue instead of the men who have been misgoverning this city and are seeking an extended lease of power.

On Tuesday next you, as citizens of Omaha. are to determine whether Omaha is to be governed by men whose allegiance is solely due to the people or whether we shall continue for two years longer to endure the misrule of the star chamber order. You have letters which were written by the various leaders of the A. P. A., making application for positions in public office. Never in the history of this country, or in the history of any American city, has the spectacle been presented of the people being ignored and disfranchised and the govereign power of self-government exercised by an irresponsihle junta sitting behind closed doors and dominating and dictating to the officers in

And now for the first time the citizens of Omaha have been fully apprised of the fact; they have had tangible evidence and you are to determine for yourselves whether you will be free men or whether you will allow your birthright as American citizens to be wrested from you

REQUIRED OF THE CLERK. Quite apart from the importance of electing a nonpartisan judiciary on next Tuesday, it is of as much importance that you should have an honest, fearless and upright clerk of the district court. (Applause.) The clerk of this district exercises more power in determining judicial questions than any one of the judges on the bench. He has the handling of the jury papers. He has the handling and empaneling of juries, there-fore every man who has a case in court must take his chances on being fairly treated or being juggled out of his rights. The question to determine is—and I appeal especially to workingmen more than to any other class, because they are poor and have no rights unless they are protected in our courts-whether or not Charles A. Coe shall be the district court clerk of Douglas county for ascertain whether or not you want to trust your rights in the hands of a man who has been trained in that court and who has had ample opportunity to manipulate juries.

I want to call your attention furthermore, as I proceed, to a letter among these stere-option views which is addressed by Albyn Frank, candidate for district clerk, to Alonzo B. Hunt, the superintendent of the Omaha water works. That unholy alliance existing between the water works company and the clerk of the district court ought to be suffi-cient advertisement for you to know that cient advertisement for you to know that Mr. Frank is not a proper person to exercise the power vested in the district court clerk. Now mark how this letter reads:

"Clerk's Office, United States District Court, Omaha, Neb., Oct. 14, 1895.—If you have any day labor work put this young fellow to work if you need one. He is good worker. Yours, etc.,
"A. L. FRANK."

FRANK KNEW HIS BUSINESS. What does that mean? What does My Dear Alonzo B. Hunt, superintendent of the water works company, want with a good worker? Is not this expression significant? If Frank had simply wanted to recommend him to dig ditches and do day labor he would not have recommended him as a good worker, but as a hard working laborer, or a good shoveller. Why should Mr. Frank take such a deep interest in the laboring man and try to find him a job? You can reach your own conclusions. Let me repeat. If you should at any time be injured in crossing a railroad track, or in getting off a street car, or breaking through a sidewalk, and you should endeavor to secure redress in the courts, you will have to depend entirely the courts, you will have to depend entirely upon the juries that are to try your case, and therefore you want a clerk of the district court who will be free from all alliances with corporations. I have no quarrel with the water works company as such. I rejoice in the fact that they are enlarging our water works system. But it is a matter of notoriety that the pipe lines that are being laid in Omaha have as much to do with politics as they have with water works. The men who are in the trenches are expected to be used next Tuesday to abridge their own rights and the rights of other free American citizens of Omaha and in favor of candidates in whose behalf the superintendent of the water works has been entendent of the water works has been en-

In this morning's World-Herald there has appraised three old bollers at a fraction over been cited a very serious charge against Mr. Charles A. Coe. That charge represents him as having beaten the city of Omaha out of the interest on taxes that had become delinquent. The taxes for which he had been delinquent amounted to $487 at one time, and the taxes of the Morse-Coe Shoe company to something like $560. Now. time, and the taxes of the Morse-Coe Shoe company to something like $560. Now, there is nothing surprising about any company, firm or individual being delinquent in their taxes. Who is responsible for the terrible condition under which our taxpayers have been suffering for the last four years? Who has loaded them down with years? Who has loaded them down with wood today. It is all broken to pieces and is such colossal taxes that they cannot meet held together by wires and ropes. That is the fact that there have been slips in the drawer of the late treasurer against some of and doing so today. William Coburn, Now, William Coburn, Now, William Coburn had been the police commissioner of Omaha for four years and he had actually ovedrawn $30. His opponent, Heecher Higby, had drawn $200, a whole month's salars, in advance and had his alip in the drawer for some time after the treasurer had been found to be a defaulter. (Appliance to the control of the contro planse). There was no slip in the drawer of Edward Rosewater's, was there? There was Edward Rosevator's, was there? There was no delinquent interest remitted The Bee Building company. There was no money advanced to The Bee Publishing company, although it has a contract with the city, but there was a slip of $250 of G. M. Hitch-cock's, although neither he nor the World-Heraid had any contract with the city. Now, you are called upon to consider whether or not we are to continue the present style of government or whether we are to have a change. You realize, undoubtedly, the style of government or whether we are to have a change. You realize, undoubtedly, the enormity of the crime that was perpetrated here when the treasurer of this city was found to be $40,000, $50,000 or $60,000 (I do not know how many) short. What have they found? We are having four experts working their way into the treasurer's vanits with themics in the whater reason. with Jimmies in the shape of pens and pencils at $5 a day. (Applause). And what do you find there? You will find some very singular things when you come to ascertain what these experts have discovered at the expense of $20 a day. They have discovered that somebody has been favered in getting a remission of interest, but they have not been able to tell you how many thousands have been pillaged from the treasury by the men who are today in the offices, and they do not mean to until long after the election.

(Great applause). THE STAR-CHAMBER ORDER. The city council of Omaha, composed of a large majority of members of the star-chamber order—and here is the scapegoat by which they expect to get forgiveness of by which they expect to get forgiveness of all their sins during the present year (refer-ring to the stereopticon view of a goat, labeled Jerome Coulter). We now reach the stage of the candidate for mayor. We see the candidate for mayor has been waged with the traduction of myself. What is the record of that candidate? Fellow citizens, you know he has acted as mayor of Omaha, he has acted as river commissioner, he has acted as police commissioner and he has acted as appraiser of the penientiary, and in every one of those positions to has failed to show himself trustworthy. I cannot dwell long upon this subject, but first and foremost, we know that when Mr. Broatch was mayor of Omaha he caused taxpayers of this city the loss of $40,000 in conniving with the conspiracy to pull up the foundation and basement walls of the original rule of the star chamber order. You have all undoubtedly heard and read the fact that for four long years this city of Omaha has been governed from behind the screen. That screen has been removed and you see positive evidences of the fact.

As I proceed with my address you will see upon the screen back of this stage the letters which were written by the various testers which were written by the various to work and gave an architect a contract. to work and gave an architect a contract, through which you could drive a coach and four, drawn up by John L. Webster, city attorney. Under that contract the architect was in a position to get out of the city just whatever he saw fit to demand. there had been a single scrap of detail planned, before the city of Omaha had anything more than the excitch of the building to be built $7,000 were taken out of the treasury and paid to that architect. How much of that money was the architect obliged to contribute to Broatch's campaign fund that year? Before the building had reached the level of Farnam street $5,000 more was paid the architect. And when the building was completed, when they had paid out 5 per cent upon, not only the building, but the contents of the building, including the furniture, down in the mire. They have picked out they got a fresco painter to fresco the men whom nobody would employ in any council chamber for $3,000, upon which also capacity and made them sergeants and captotal of the architect fees are over $22,000 promoted to high rank men who have been for a building that does not cost in actual amount within $50,000 as much as The Bee building, for which we paid $11,000 for an and unworthy of any trust whatever. They BROATCH AND HIS METHODS. Allusion has been made by Mr. Poppleton to the method by which he allowed the city to lose at least $20,000 in the settlement of laim, and I also want to recall the fact that in his frantic endeavor, and despera tion to get himself re-elected mayor of Omaha during the primary elections preceding the election of 1889 he hired, or had Joe Kent. the street commissioner, hire, over 400 men the next four years. (Cries of "He will.") I want to tell you that you need only to look to the record of the United States court to ascertain whather or real tell you that you need only to look election purposes, and then he ordered the ascertain whather or real tell you there are the court to ascertain whather or real tell you there are the purposes. several thousand dollars to pay those mewhen they hadn't rendered one dollar's wort of service to the city of Omaha. That is th kind of a man who today asks you to elect him once more to the office of mayor.

Let us see as to his more recent perform-ances. He has been favored above all our citizens by the peculiar and thrifty firm known as Churchill, Russell & Co. He has been favored with the appointment as ap-praiser of the chattels and materials turned praiser of the chattels and materials turned over to the state by the late contractor of the penitentiary convict labor. The legislature on the last night of its late session voted $35,000, or so much thereof as might be necessary, to liquidate claims of the penitentiary contractor. What did Mr. Broatch do? He was the sole representative of the state; he was the arbitrator of the state, and he was expected to stand between the state and the men who were trying to take advantage of the state. How did he perform that duty? He went down there something like seven or eight times, spent perhaps three or four hours each day on each trip, and he charged $500 for services and $500 for each of the two remaining arbitra-tors, and then he allowed the appraisement to include every dollar, barring the $1.500 to include every dollar, barring the $1.500 which the appraisers got; that is to say, the whole $35,000 was eaten up. (Pointing to stereopticon.) Here you have a photograph of the building that the state paid for. You see these buildings—they are sheds. The center shed represents $1.000 of the state's monty allowed by William J. Broatch. The other shed represents $670 of this money. They are in fact wooden sheds that are not worth more than $50 to $75 if you get the highest price for them. (Applause.) Then endent of the water works has been en-isted.

In this morning's World-Herald there has

MORE RASCALITY EXPOSED. Pointing to the stereopticon.) Here is another evidence of his appraisement. This is the photograph of a wagon that he allowed $45 for and $i$ is good for nothing but kindling the candidates on the citizens' ticket, and they cite the fact that there was one slip in tase for $30 against William Coburn had been the police complessioner of Omaha for four years and he and options. Now, then, a man who will gamble in grain on the exchange, even if he were a man of great wealth, is not a safe man to trust with the custody of your pul-lic servants, but this man is not wealth and has no wealth behind him. All he has s cheek, and sublime cheek at that. (Applause.) EDWARDS AND JACOBSEN Let us see furthermore whether or not there is any chance to elect anybody elethan Mr. Thomas Swobe, who is thoroughly competent and ought to be elected next Tuesday, and will be elected beyond any doubt. (Appleuse) The democrats of Omaha have been implored to east their vote for Mr. Thompson. Against Mr. Thompson I have not one word to say; but here are the facts. Mr. Thompson has simply the nomination of the populists, procured by himself on the representation that he would get the endorsement of the citizens' and democratic conventions. Mr. zens' and

Thompson has not received that endorse-ment; he is running on the populist ticket, and every vote cast for him is a half a vote for Edwards. The fight is squarely between A. G. Edwards and Thomas Swobs, and those who throw away their votes to Mr. Thompwell know it. While I am about it, let me call your attention to another candidate, also upon the same ticket, and of the same breed.—Halfdan Jacobsen. He is a candidate for commissioner of the Second district. He is also a member of the present council and one of those who, with Edwards, have resisted every effort to cut down expenses and bring about retrenchment. But they have given us at last a concession. They passed an ordinance last Tuesday that will retrench the city's expenses $20,000 in the year 1896. That ordinance is not to go into effect until January, 1896. Now, suppose that this elec-January, 1896. Now, suppose that this elec-tion should turn out to be in favor of Mr. Broatch and the dervish council, that ordi-nance would be repealed before the first of January comes around and passed over the veto of Mayor Bemis. The very fact that they passed this ordinance ought to induce you to vote for the citizens' council candidates from top to bottom, because if you elect those councilmen—if you elect Charles H. Brown and the different councilmen upon the citizens' ticket, you have got the assurance that the present council will not repeal the ordinance, and you can rest assured that the citizens' council would not repeal it, and would not think of doing it.

There is one phase of the situation that I have not touched yet, and that is the phase attaching to our police commission. Let me call your attention to the facts as they stare us in the face. Mr. Broatch, by reason and by virtue of the fact that he is chairman of the police commission of Omaha, is using the police of Omaha for political ends in order to promote his candidacy for mayor. The police of Omaha are not a nonpartisan body at this time. They are making themselves very prominent and numerously felt in every part of the city. When the people were told last winter that there was need of police reform, that there was need of a change of chiefs and officers, I agreed with some of these people. The crusade, however, which they made for police reform was a sham a delusion and a fraud. They represented that the police needed regeneration, that they needed a change in the method of appoint ing the commissioners, they wanted to take the appointing power out of the hands of the governor, and they wanted to divest the mayor of all executive power over the police. What has been the result? Instead of elevating the standard of the force they have degraded and demoralized it, and drawn it architect, and for a better plan than was ever made for the city hall. (Applause.) But you have got the dogs looking down from the top of that building, haven't you— (laughter)—as a monument of Mr. Broatch's sagacity and business methods. During the month of Octaober they have not made one solitary arrest of any keeper or inmate of the disorderly houses either in or out of the district. Why this extraordinary leniency to vice and crime? It is a brazen bid for campaign funds and votes from the bawdy houses in order

THE FIGURES IN EVIDENCE. Now, let us look at it as taxpayers. The last commission in the month of July ex pended $6,421. The present commission the month of October expended $7,831. The rate at which the old commission was run ning, the commission of which Charles H. Brown was a member, at that rate the police of Omaha would cost the city $77,052 per annum; at the rate at which the police commission is now run, during October, 1895. i would cost $93,000 a year. They have in-creased the cost of the police $17,000 a year since they have come in, and they have had the audacity to usurp the powers of the mayor and out in special policemen without consuling him. They hired eighteen policemen during the fair and they are still on the force, draw ing their pay just the same as though the fair were still running. Those special police men have cost the city of Omaha $970.66 during the month of October, and have rendered no service. These men are not needed they are simply taxeaters. If you allow suc men as Broatch and Vandervoort to continu in office then you will soon have no government in Omaha, nothing but executions an mortgage foreclosures by the thousands. I time for you to consider whether it safe to trust the affairs of a city like ours

I wish further to call your attention to the necessity of bringing out every man who is in sympathy with municipal reform to the polls before 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning to assert their rights as American citzens. Our city council has seen fit to force upon you a fight at almost every polling place in the selection of judges and clerks, when you have no need of such a thing. This great outrage should spur you on to your full duty. I want also to call the attention of republicans, and in fact, all classes of voters, that the ballots as they are marked under our present statute make everybody on the ticke appear as a democrat or as a populist. The name of citizens does not appear on the ballot; but that is not the fault of the men who are on this ticket. You must always remember the names of the men and vote for th men and pay no attention to the designation which the city and county clerks have made n the official ballot.

I want also to call your attention to an other point, and that is this: The men who are running 5n petition tickets for the council or any other office cannot possibly be elected. Their names are on the official bal-lot to create confusion and help the dervish candidates. It is a farce and a sham, and everybody knows it that knows anything about the men for whom these petitions have been filed. They have no chance on earth to be elected. Another thing I desire to emphasize here, there is no use of your throwing away your vote upon any populist candi date who has not been also endorsed by the citizens and democrats, for such men canno possibly be elected. However much I respec-Dr. Peabody, and however much I think ohim as a citizen and a gentleman, I mus say that it is childish for him to run for mayor of Omaha at this time, for he cannot possibly secure more than 1,500 votes in this contest, and the votes given for him are sim-ply withheld from Charles H. Brown, who aught to be elected by a majority of from (,000 to 5,000. (Applause.)
