The regular monthly meeting of the city Proves Very Realistic.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council will be held this evening. The body of Mary Connelly, who died at St. Bernard's hospital, will be taken to her former home in New Jersey for burial. The new addition to St. Bernard's hospital is almost ready for occupancy. When completed it will be one of the largest and best equipped Catholic institutions in the state. The condition of V. E. Willie, the 4-year-old son of Mrs. Jenni Jones, died yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock at his home on Sixth avenue of membraneous croup. The funeral will take place this morn-ing at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Jones is the widow of a railroad man who was accidentally killed several years ago, and has supported herself since that time by washing.

Among the entertainments which are darkly hinted at for this winter is one en titled "Living Pictures," by one of the lead-ing church societies of the city. Just how far it will partake of the characteristics of its namesake in the eastern cities is so far a mystery, but current rumor has it that the tights will be draped with some light fluffy stuff of some transparency.

Zeth Hughes, a teamster who lives near St. Bernard hospital, went home drunk last night and abused his wife with so much ado that the report first got out that he had killed her. She was, in fact, not seriously hurt, but her shrieks and screams attracted many of the neighbors, who, when they ran into the house to assist her, were run out by the infuriated husband. They, however, succeeded in preventing further violence to her and Hughes was carried off to jail.

The high south wind and the clouds of fly Ing dust broke the hearts of the wheelmen yesterday. Many long rides were planned and had to be abandoned. The dust is so deep on the country roads that out-of-town excursions are too unpleasant to be thought of. The road to Manawa is the only absolutely perfect bit of track in the vicinity of Council Bluffs. The gumbo is as smooth as asphalt and with not enough dust upon it to leave a track. It was the track most used by wheelmen yesterday. The water in the Gilbert lake is now three feet deep and anxiety about the big reservoir holding water has been removed. The seepage around the base of the embankment is considerable and the trench that has been made on the north and east sides to carry it away seems to be pouring into the lake a stream almost as large as the pipes, but de-spite this apparent big leakage the water n Inch a day tion to City Engineer Einyre, who planned it and Andy Graham, who superintended the Organizing a Musical Society. Mrs. W. F. Sapp and Mrs. Donald Macrae ir., are the prime movers in a scheme to provide entertainment for a select coterie of music lovers this winter. The plan is to organize a club of ladies who are more or less accomplished in a musical way. The mem-bership is to be limited to twenty-five, and each lady who is fortunate enough to be asked to join will be expected to "do a turn" as often as she may be called upon by the committee in charge. Meetings will be held every two weeks, and on most of the occasions the men will be barred out. They will be admitted about once in three months, however, just often enough to give them a chance to see what they are misging when they are absent, and to whet their appetites for more. He and Laura Crocker were pupils in the High school in this city in 1892, and became very intimate. An information was filed by Brandt Creeker, brother of the girl, March 12, 1893, charging Deetken with seduction. The young man smelled a mice and immediately left the city. Ever since then the information has been lying in Justice Vien's office, waiting for a chance to be served. Deetken, it is said, went to Germany and spent two years in study returning home only a day or two ago. He was arrested on Scott street Saturday night and arraigned before Justice Vien, who fixed his bond at $500. This amount was furnished by Dr. Deetken, and the young man was released to appear next Thursday. Miss Crocker is the daughter of Mrs. Julia Crocker, who

Their Stepmother from Home. ATLANTIC, Ia., Nov. 3 .- (Special.)-There have been many scenes and incidents in Atlantic and vicinity as the outgrowth of the wrecking of the Cass County bank two years ago. The curtain was raised on another side scene Friday night, when Mrs. J. C. Yetzer, the wife of the president of that defunct in-stitution, was driven from the old homestead by Yetzer and his children, and forced to find shelter and friends as best she could. Ever since the bank went under and Yetzer's thousands went from him there has not been perfect harmony in the household. The children of Mr. Yetzer by a former wife, who were old enough to realize the situation, resented the coming of their stepmother nine years ago, and only tolerated her as the wife of their father. As far as the wife the comof their father. As far as the public knows Mrs. Yetzer discharged her duties as a wife and a mother to the motherless children with fidelity. When her husband was in his zenith in the community and owned his broad acres and with reported thousands of dollars to his credit in the bank she was at his side. When the crash came and everything was swept away and Yetzer came under a fivelyear sen tence to the penitentiary, she did not volun-tarily desert him. Just before the break Yetzer transferred $18,000 worth of property to his children, as their right from their mother, and this transfer included the homestead. Mrs. Yetzer also tried to save some-thing and the court decreed to her certain personal property. When she went to take possession of this property the smouldering animosity toward her broke out and the children ordered her from the home. In this they were joined by Yetzer, and Mrs. Yetzer went out forever from the home that had been hers so long. There will probably be some legal suits in the settlement of the personal property that the wife may claim as

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM NEW YORK. Republicans Pat Majority at 5,000-Democrats Give No Figures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.-The campaign of night. So far as the state ticket is concerned it has been an unusually quiet campaign, even for an off year, though in the cities of New York and Brooklyn the local contests have attracted much attention. The state offices to be filled by this election are: Secretary of state, controller, state treasurer, attorney There came very near being a sensational scene in "Uncle Josh Spruceby," which was presented at Dohany's last night, which was A full legislature is to be elected. The politics of the state senate will be of nationa scene. To hide the crime of the villain the importance, as that body will participate in the election of a United States senator to latter finds it necessary to knock his wife succeed David B. Hill. Republican managers say they expect to carry the state by 5,000. The democrats also claim it, but give no figures. The state senate is disputed by a number of mass meetings, which were well attended, despite the disagreeable weather. The republicans maintained full sway at Carnegie hall, Cooper Union and the Windsor theater, where noted speakers made their last appeal to voters to cast their ballots for the fusion ticket and against Tam-many Hall. In addition to these mass meet-ings were held in various assembly districts the democracy, the German-American dzens, the Independent, County and Good Government clubs, all of which are anti-Tammany bodies. The Tammany men held niestings in seventeen halts and their allies, the German-American Reform union, railled it the Grand Central palace. In this city he campaign has been a noteworthy one, wing to strenuous work done by the differowing to strengous work done by the different reform associations to defeat the Tammany ticket. The latter organization, realizing that its power depended on retrieving its last year's defeat, has left no stone unturned to place itself in its old position.

Money has been spent freely on all sides and tonight at least three of the parties claim the victory for themselves. Edward Lauterbach, chairman of the republican Lauterbach, chairman of the republicat county committee, claims the election of the local fusion ticket by 25,000. This is echoed by Mayor Strong. The Tammany leaders say they expect the victory by 31,500, and claim this estimate is made on figures furnished by he district leaders.

In Brooklyn the triangular contest for the mayoralty between Wunster, republican Grant, regular democrat, and Shepard, reform democrat, has been lively, and tonight many balls were filled by supporters of the different candidates.

FIGHT HAS BEEN WARM IN OHIO State Issues and the Tariff Have Been the Principal Features. CINCINNATI, Nov. 3.-The election in Ohio is known as the general state election, including members of the legis a ure and state officers, except those of secretary of state and school commissioners. There are five tickets in the field.

The prohibitionists made an aggressive canvass and expect to poll between 20,000 and 30,000 votes out of a total vote in state of 800,000. The populists and socialists have had no thorough organization or gen-eral canvass and their votes will be light. The silver question has not been an issue in this state, as both the democratic and the republican platforms declare strongly for sound money, and their respective candidates are in accord with the same. With Governor McKinley endorsed in the republican platform president, the tariff has been the most stinctive issue. The democratic platform endorsed the present tariff laws and strongly encunced the "McKinley tarlff."

Ex-Governor Campbell, who is also con sidered a presidential candidate, in hi canvass against General Asa S. Bushnell fo governor, spoke mostly on state issues, at-tacking the republican state administration and charging its legislature with corruption. He also held that Cincinnati was controlled by a ring and that the same ring controlled the last republican state convention and was seeking to control the state administration.

The contest between ex-Governor Foraker and Senator Brice for the senatorship has been very bitter, the former attacking the latter's record in the senate and out of the senate. While both parties held many meetings during the past two months, Senstor Brice was not among the speakers, but he gave personal attention to the management of the democratic campaign, including the A plant theroughly equipped with the canvass in eighty-eight counties for members the legislature.

The tariff was an issue on the election of nembers of the legislature, especially in rural districts, on account of Senator Brice voting for free wool and other changes in the tariff. In the cities the state issues were kept prominent by ex-Governor Campbell's charges about the attempt "to Cincinnatize as he termed it, and the replies

In 1892 Ohio gave a republican plurality of only 1,000, electing one democratic presi-dential elector cut of a college of twenty three. In 1893 McKinley had over 80,000 pl rality for governor, and last year the repub lican plurality on the state ticket was 137,000 so that the democratic managers claim they will be able to show great gains over the recent votes in the state, even if they do not carry their state ticket or elect a majority of the members of the legislature at this time.

RESULT IN KENTUCKY DOUBTPUL. Chances that Neither Party Will Get

All the Offices. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3.—On Tuesday, November 5, the people of Kentucky will be called on to elect state officers, one-half of the senate and a new house of representatives. The incoming legislature will elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Blackburn The candidates for the position are the present incumbent and Congressman McCreary both democrats. A number of republicans have been mentioned for the place, but no one has been announced by authority. On the part of the republicans and the opposi the part of the republicans and the apposi-tion generally the campaign has been con-ducted on state issues. General Hardin, the democratic candidate for governor, has had to fight the combined opposition and a large element in his own party, because of his financial views. The result of the election is in doubt, and the majority either way will be very small; but at present it looks as if neither one of the leading parties would cap-ture all the offices for which they are contending. It is the general opinion that Black-burn will be re-elected senator and that the democrats will lose the offices of governor, secretary of state and attorney general.

Jersey Likely to Be Close. this state is about ended. The republican leaders claim the election of Mr. Griggs by a plurality ranging from 3,000 to 30,000. The democrats are content with a lower estimate for their candidate. Mr. McGill, claiming 3,000 to 5,000 above the others. The oldest campaigners are tonight inclined to believe that the contests, particularly that for governor, will be very close.
