Startling Statement of the Governor General on the Subject.

MUCH TREASURE AND MANY LIVES REQUIRED

Refuses to Execute All Rebels Captured and Intimates if Such Atrocities Are Insisted Upon He Will Resign.

(Copyrighted, 1895, by Press Publishing Company.) HAVANA, Oct. 29.—(New York World Correspondence-Special Telegram.)-General Campos' statement to the correspondent of El Impercia, a Madrid newspaper, has created a profound sensation both here and in the mother country. It has opened the eyes of even the blind loyalists, who never gave the revolution serious consideration.

The governor general practically admits that to end the revolution he will need 150,-000 men, half of whom he will have to provide burial grounds for, and that peace cannot be restored only after three years of hard fighting and at a very heavy expense. To this must be added the loss of the insurgents and widespread destruction of prop-

He is firmly opposed to the policy of putting to death all rebal prisoners, as he is urged to do by the conservative party. He says such a severe measure would only swell the rebel ranks and inspire such terror among them that insurgents would never surrender, but would fight for dear life. He went so far as to hint that if he were obliged to report to such proceedings another general-in-chief would have to be appointed. The Stanish are very agers because Gen. The spanish are very sugry because General Campos has expressed his opinion so frankly. They say he has injured Spain's prospects by divulging the real importance of the revolution. Through his admissions, they complain, people now know that the Cuban rebels after all are not so badly organized or armed, and that if 150,000 men are needed to oppose them they have a fair chance of victory and will be joined henceforth by many who otherwise would have remained quiet and harmless. The Spanish povernment is reported to be highly dis-pleased at General Campos' plain talk. It is again rumored that he will be recalled shortly.

ENGLAND BEGINS TO TAKE WATER May Relinquish All Claims to the Island of Trinidad.

LONDON, Nov. 4.- The Daily News today says: A perusal of the report of the ministry of telegraphs, just issued, shows that the Brazilian government has special reasons for attaching importance to Trinidad, the pos-session of which is regarded as the key to the telegraphic situation. If the rock is Brazilian territory it cannot be utilized for cable purposes in opposition to the existing systems of the government which have given a guaranty against such competition. Its possession by a foreign power would facilitate the schem of the Brazilian Submarine Cable company to build lines to compete with the cables recently acquired by the government and the good relations between this country and Brazil would be striously imperiled through its taking possession of and the retention of Trinidad ostensibly in connection with the schemes of the Brazilian Submarine Cable company. Careful consideration of the report may assist Lord Salisbury to withdraw from what appears to be a false position, doubt-less assumed under the misapprehension of PARIS, Nov. 4 - The ministerial deciara-Deputies today. It promises further inquiry into and the publication of the fullest information obtainable regarding the Southern railway scandal. The measures to be introduced by the new government include an income tax bill and a bill to prohibit members of the legislature from becoming directors of financial or commercial undertakings having any transactions with the government.

The declaration of policy also promises the government support for various suggested re-forms in the criminal law.

The government will also introduce measures intended to defend the French peasantry against international speculations and for the ermetion of a colonial army, etc. The declaration of the policy is of unusual strength and vaguely describes the radical aspirations. In the senate the outining of the policy f the Bourgeois ministry was received with xtreme coolness, with the exception of the passages referring to the reform in the crim nal law, which is understood to be aimed at the anarchists, and the references to the alliance with Russia. In the Chamber of Deputies when the declaration of the policy was read great enthusiasm was displayed from the radical and socialist benches. Else-where the reading of the document was coolly

DISPOSITION TO IGNORE PARTY LINES

Electors Inclined to Vote for the Best Men Regardless of Other Considerations-Contest Has Been Quiet.

FREMONT, Nov. 4 .- (Special.) - The fall ampaign in this county has been a very quiet one, though a great deal of political work has been done. Not much interest has been taken in the state ticket. Indications point to a plurality for Norval, but the populists claim that Maxwell will carry the county, many democrats voting for him. Mahoney's vote will be small. For district judges there has been considerable trading done by the populists. The republicans will mostly vote their judicial ticket straight. Hollenbeck's vote will probably be larger than it was four years ago. Marshall and Patterson, republicans, will probably be elected.

On the county ticket there has been a strong fight over the position of sheriff. Chapman, the democratic nominee, will be vices that the Turkish populace, as well cut badly, and Kreader, republican, stands as the government, demand the immediate a good chance of overcoming the usual demoeratic majority in the county. The republicans will also elect Shiveley clerk of the district court. The republican candidates for clerk and treasurer have made strong fights and stand good chances of election. It looks like a clean sweep for the republican city ticket, with a possible exception.

BERLIN, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The republicans held a big rally here Saturday evening. All the nominees for county of ices were present and made short addresses. Lawyers Jesson, Seymore and Sican of Nebraska City made arguments favorable to the candidates.

GRAFTON, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Grafton has been deluged with candidates for the past week. Wednesday a joint rally was held, 130 cindidates being present, including Searle and Hastings. However, the chief interest attaches to two local offices—the supervisor and the justice of the peace. In the former, "Dick," polyaon is the peace. the former "Dick" Dobson is the populist candidate, against John O'Brien, a solid farmer, who seems to have set "Dick" a retty rapid pace. PERU, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Congressian Jesse B. Strode of the First district poke to 600 people in the new opera house re Saturday evening. The meeting equaled a presidential campaign meeting, and the judge's remarks were listened to with great interest and enthusiasm. The meeting was closed with remarks by Tom Majors.

Music was furnished by the Grand Army of the Republic band of Peru, under the leadership of Prof. Clinger.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The outlock on the results of the political contest in Johnson county tomorrow are decidedly favorable to republican success. The head of he ticket will get a large majority, and not-withstanding the fact that the republican ominess on the county ticket are confronted nominees on the county ticket are confronted by fusionists in the opposition, there is not a shadow of a doubt that the whole ticket will be elected. The judicial nominees on the republican ticket, Letton and Stuli, are very acceptable to the voters and will be given a handsome vote. On the county ticket the only offices on which there is noteworthy opposition are treasurer, clerk and sheriff. However, the republican candidates for these offices will receive at least 200 pluralities. The campaign in this county has been a sort. There has not been a single rally or speech in the county. The campaign has be∃n clean one from beginning to end. HASTINGS, Nov. 4.—(Special Telegram.)

The campaign closed this evening with a pulist rally at the opera house, at which overnor Holcomb and ex-Congressman Mc-Keighan were the speakers. CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The following was issued today by the Armenian National

"To the American Public--While the bor rible butcheries and the appalling outrages in Armenia are being carried on with no abatement, while famine as a result of the barbaric Turkish regime is raging, threat-ening death to those who have escaped the swords of the Turkish soldiers, the civilized world is informed by the recent cable adwithdrawal of the missionaries who are adwithdrawal of the missionaries who are administering relief to the famine-stricken survivors of last year's Sassoun massacre. As the patriarchate of Constantinople has been allowed by the Turkish government to send relief to the Armenians of Sassoun and Moosh, the missionaries of the American beard were entrusted with the philanthropic work of distributing relief and help to those who are in need and in danger of starvation. The presence of the representatives of the American people had not failed to inspire assurances to the Armenians and protection against fresh outrages and assault. Their withdrawal has been demanded with threats of a still more horrible massacre.
"The noble missionaries are not afraid of the threats, and they undamatedly carry on their good work. Cable advices from Constantinople are to the effect that Min-ister Terril has complied with the demands of the Turks, and ordered the missionaries to their respective posts. Believing that the withdrawal of the missionaries from the famine-stricken districts will not only de-prive the Armenians of their much needed relief, but will also expose them to the fury fanaticism and crueities of the now checked Turks, the Armenian National union requests the American people, who have been quick to sympathize with all suffering races, to insist upon their executive to instruct the minister at Constantinonie to by no means comply with the demand of the Turks by ordering the missionaries to withdraw from the field of their philanthropic work as administrators of relief and inspirers of confidence and assurance.

SOME SYMPTOMS OF STRIKE. Great Northern Employee Threaten to Tie Up the Road.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—In the sat strike of the A. R. U. on the Great Northern road eighteen months ago, the start was almost exactly similar to what is claimed to be a new strike at this time. Then, as now, the offivassing done by all the candidates, there has been no public demonstrations of any the road was finally tied up, in asserting that there was no cause for a strike, and there would be none. Then, as now, the men went cut at various points along the line in a some-what scattering manner. Just what may be the outcome it is difficult to say, but that there will be at least some trouble, is all sure, in view of reports from along the line today.

In favor of the company was the action of the engineers on the Montana Central, fifty-six out of sixty our that branch voting in favor of a communication to the Great Northern officials that they had no grievance and that they protested against the announcement of any new schedule in which the A. Alonzo B. Hunt, superintendent of the American Water Works company, a leader the schemes of council 125, is playing a star part in the plan to elect Broatch for mayor and Albyn Frank clerk of the district court. As that was one of the points where there, was trouble of a somewhat riotous character in the former strike, the city council met there the former strike, the city council met there is the former strike, the city council met there work. Yesterday more than 100 men were added and any men who wanted work, or wanted to get a little election money for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work, were given a place until for a show of work was hardly in each other's way and there was standing room in the trenches for the forces employed. No one pretends that the interests of the city or the interests of the water works company demand such pernicious activity on the part of Mr. Hunt, but he knows the wishes of his dervish friends and has not hesitated to carry them out. The council combine has carried out its part of the program to the letter. It has usurped the powers of the mayor and refused to approve the appointment of the clerks and judges of election who cannot give the sign of the A. P. A. and the county commissioners have approved and confirmed the action of the council and filled the vacancies on the list by appointing men selected by the dervish ring. All this has been done with the express pur-pose of seeing that the counting of the votes s in the hands of "friends" of the ring, and t behooves friends of good government to see that the vote of the people is fairly counted and the returns properly made to the city and county authorities. All day yesterday and until a late hour last night the streets were black with men bent on politics, and the contest booked for today was the only topic of conversation. The deryish contingent that has infested the street corners for the last two months was out in full force and spent the time in ear-wiging conferences on the plans for the day. There were Pyburn, Hunt, Hascall, Macleod, Savage, Scott, Chaffee, Broatch, George Stryker, Doc Saville, J. W. Furnas. Beech Higby, John Westberg, Dogbutcher Frank, Pete Schwenk and all the members of the gang, each anxious to have his elecing to resort to any methods necessary t losing fight.

The news of Ida Gaskill's cruel death was he leading topic of conversation about town yesterday, even the flerce struggle in municipal politics being overshadowed for a time. Even among those who would shrink from such a violent procedure as lynch law there was an unmistakable desire that the wretch who committed the foul crime should speedily terminate this life. The police are hard at work upon the case and claim to have found further evidence against the man Morgan. Although it appears to be a pret y strong case against this man, no stone will be left unand to secure all the facts needed and to link together the various bits of circumstantial evidence into a chain strong enough to send the perpetrator of the crime to the gallows. Inquiry develops the fact that Martin Booker and Edward Sanford bear good reputations and strengthens the impression that neither one of them is more than remotely oncerned in the brutal affair.

A thorough search of the occupied by Morgan and Sanford 2. Each judge and clerk must take the required oath, and entry thereof must be made in each poil book.

The judges present have no right as such to fill the vacancy. Every voter present has a right to assist in was made, but no further evidence of the crime other than the bloody clothes already secured by the officers were found. A sharp questioning of several of the neighbors, as well as of Willie Gaskill, the brother of the murdered girl, elicited many new facts. Willie is a bright boy and the cross-questioning of the officers falled to shake any of his statements in regard to the affair. He said:

"Yesterday afternoon I was playing in preparing his bellot. Such voter is entitled to name the officer who shall assist him. 6. Any voter has a right to take a sample front of the vacant house where my sister was afterward found. After a while I went around to the side of the house, and as I was going through to St. Mary's avenue I has just as much right to do this as he would have to note down in his memorandum bock looked in at one of the windows. "Morgan then went out of the house and down toward St. Mary's avenue. He did not say he was coming back again, but I supposed he would, so I went back to our house. Ida was home and I told her Mr. Morgan wanted her to take a message and to go over to the old vacant house, said she would, but I don't know whether did or not. I went out to play and did not see Ida again until evening. She was home when I got back, and I heard mamma tell her to go after Martin Booker and tell him to come and take supper with us at 7 o'clock. f residence, etc., before the city clerk or ome one designated by the mayor, and also-rove before the judges of election by two She went out of the house and that was the last I ever saw of her."

> MORGAN ACTED STRANGELY. When asked if Morgan acted as if he was under the influence of liquor when he saw him in the vacant house in the afternoon the boy replied. "I don't know, sir; he acted rather funny, and seemed to want to get away from there, but he did not act like other drunken men do, and I don't think he was drunk."

official ballot as a people's independent can-didate for county coroner. Dr. Bruner has removed to Washington, but his withdrawal notice was not handed to the officials in time to have has name removed from the ticket. His friends ask that all who in-tended voting for Dr. Bruner be thus noti-fied of the fact that his name should not he on the ticket. Willie also said that Morgan had given Ida niekels on several occasions, and that she had shown them to him, and said that she had received them from Morgan.

resided in this city for sixteen years. When questioned she stated substantially the same as has already been published. She had sent Ida to call Mr. Booker to supper at sant Ida to can Mr. Booker to sapper as 5:30, and had not seen her again until her dead body was discovered by the officers. Ida had always been a good girl, and had helped her about the house. In fact, she had done most of the work in taking care of the rooms. Mrs. Gaskill said that Ida ow will say: "The United States Leather of the rooms, Mrs. Gaskill said that Ida came to her a fortnight ago and asked her if she might wash Morgan's dishes. He had promised to give her 25 cents per week if she would do this work for him. She had given permission to do so, but Ida had performed the work but once, and that was about a week ago. She had been aware of the fact that Ida knew Morgan, but did not know him personally herself. Ida, she said, was acquainted with nearly every one in the was acquainted with nearly every one in the flat.

T. P. Penny, who occupies the flat immediately north of and adjoining the Morgan and Sanford rooms, stated that he had left his room at about 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening and went toward Harney street by way of a back entrance, or short cut. As he passed from the shadow of the building a man who was sitting on the lower step of a rear flight of stairs, that led from the upper flats, spoke to him. He returned the greeting and passed on, It was dark and he did not recognize the man. He had thought little about the matter.

when he had walked a dozen yards from the building he heard a child's voice in one of the galleries overhead. The party said:
"I will be ready in a minute." He recognized the voice as that of Ida Gaskill. He did not see the person to whom the remark was addressed. There was no one around at that time, at least he noticed no one exept the man who had accosted him on the step.

SUSPECTS ONLY MORGAN. Mrs. Agnew, who lives directly opposite the vacant house in which the crime was committed, stated to a reporter that her two little daughters, Emma and Eliza, aged 9 and if respectively, had told her yesterday that Morgan was in the vacant house Sunday afterneon between 3 and 4 o'clock. He day afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. He had motioned them to come over, and when they had done so gave them a few pennies and asked them to come into the house with him. They had refused, but had kept the pennies, which they showed to their mother. All evidence thus far produced lends to show that the murder was committed between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

Alex Murray and William Thompson, two men who played cards at the rooms of Mor-gan and Sanford, stated that they had been called to the latter's flat several times during the day and evening. Murray said to De-tective Dunn that he was present about 8 o'clock, when Morgan went to bed. He was there shortly after 6 o'clock, when Morgan left. Morgan had said when he went away that he was going out to see his girl. his return one of the men asked him his return one of the men asked and it has could make a call in such a short time. Morgan replied that he had not seen his girl, but had changed his mind. He seemed very much agitated as he was preparing for bed, so much so that one of the men asked him what was the matter and also if he would take a drink.
