

WHAT CHURCHES ARE DOING

Well Known Ex-Omaha Pastor Already Popular in the East.

DR. DURYEA WELCOMED TO BROOKLYN

He Explained Why He Gave Up the Congregational and Accepted the Presbyterian Faith—Forecast of the Local Pulpits.

Rev. Joseph T. Duryea, D.D., who became the pastor of the First Reformed church on Bedford avenue, corner of Clymer street, Brooklyn, N. Y., last June, was honored by a reception given by the members of his new congregation at the church last week.

Dr. Duryea thanked his brother pastors for the kind words of welcome they had offered him and the presiding pastor for the sympathetic manner in which he had conducted the exercises.

Dr. Duryea gave a large orange bow in the lapel of his coat to indicate his loyalty to the Dutch church.

Dr. Duryea explained his reasons for leaving the Congregational to the Presbyterian and then to the Dutch Reformed churches by saying that his thinking could not be controlled, because no man knew what he thought.

He said he had no intention of being a pastor of any church. "I understand what Browning meant," he said, "when he uttered the words, 'It is hard to be a Christian.' If one tries to conform to the Master's life he will understand that it is easy to be a minister after he has made some progress in being a Christian."

He said that he had been a minister for many years and had been a pastor of many churches. He said that he had been a minister for many years and had been a pastor of many churches.

REFUSED TO NAME A RECEIVER.

Yesterday Judge Ambrose refused to appoint a receiver for the property of the Davis & Coughlin Iron works, holding that he had no power to appoint a receiver under the circumstances under which the application for a receiver was made.

The application for a receiver grew out of the dissatisfaction of a large number of small creditors who held claims against the company. Before the company admitted its insolvency it gave a large number of mortgages to heavy creditors, on the entire property, but left the smaller ones out. The latter at once charged that the purpose of this was to defraud them out of their money and they at once began action against the company.

They brought attachment suits against the property, and these still remain undecided. Judge Ambrose said that if these attachment cases had been brought before him and he had decided to sustain them, he would have been obliged to name a receiver. Under the circumstances, however, he refused to appoint one.

In the attachment suit brought by Richard Weirne and others against the company, an answer was yesterday filed, in which it is claimed that the company is not insolvent and that there is no intention of defrauding the smaller creditors.

Charged with Murder. Charles Cummings was yesterday arraigned before Judge Scott on the charge of murdering Judd Vance. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded back to the county jail to await trial.

On the night of September 19 Vance and a number of companions were in Goldsmith's saloon, where Cummings was employed as barkeeper. The entire party was more or less intoxicated. The men engaged in a game of pool, and a dispute arose between Cummings and one of the party regarding payment for extra drinks.

Cummings was charged with the murder of Vance. He was remanded to the county jail to await trial.

Asks for a New Trial. Sam Stinson was convicted a few days ago with assaulting generally with intent to commit great bodily injury, has made a motion for a new trial.

STREET MEN WILL BE LET OUT. Board of Public Works Will Begin Reducing Expenses.

There will be a general parking out of the forces of the street and sewer departments this afternoon. Many of the men in the street repair gang will be dismissed and some of these in the street sweeping brigade will also walk the plank.

The sewer force will be reduced to three or four men, and the departments will practically be reduced to the winter basis.

It is customary to stop street sweeping about November 1, but this year some of the down town streets will be swept during the remainder of this month.

The blue barrel men will be given a vacation until the end of the month.

As there have been no heavy rains this fall it is not considered advisable to retain the street repair gang on the pay roll. Only three or four men will be retained, and the rest will be given a vacation until next spring.

The Board of Public Works expects to keep the expenses for repairs and maintenance down to a minimum, which will be about one-half what was expended in October.

EDWARDS IS ANXIOUS NOW. Will Try and Push the New Treasurer's Ordinance Through.

President Edwards of the city council is making a trip to Chicago, where he is expected to bring back the ordinance which was introduced last week, and which would regulate the payment of money by the city treasurer and provides for a system of duplicate checks and warrants which render a preservation of public funds practically impossible.

The ordinance was originally suggested by Mayor Bemis during his first month of office, and has since been introduced by Councilman Hechel. It was promptly knocked out, however, on the plea that it was practically the same as the one which he had submitted to defeat.

This new ordinance was referred to the finance committee, and since then he has been making a vigorous effort to secure its passage. He is now in Chicago, and is expected to return tomorrow.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND COMING.

Arrangements for the reception and entertainment of Archbishop Ireland at St. Paul, during his stay in Omaha next week, are nearly completed. About 200 invitations to the banquet to be given at the Omaha club Wednesday evening have been issued, and acceptances have been received from most of those invited.

The list of coasts and speakers has not been fully decided upon. The archbishop will reach this city from the north on Tuesday. A delegation of the Grand Army of the Republic and Loyal Legion will join with the reception committee in welcoming him. He will be the guest of Bishop Scannell during his stay.

The subject of the lecture at the Boyd Thursday evening is "Our Country." The hall committee has arranged for a rapidly and there is little doubt of a crowded house. Holders of choice seat tickets, costing $1.50, can reserve them at the box office at any time. The 20-cent ticket holders can secure reserved seats on Wednesday or Thursday.

Some time ago, and when it was first learned that Archbishop Ireland would visit the city, the members of Grant post, Grand Army of the Republic, conceived the idea of holding him to address the camp. A committee was appointed to communicate with the archbishop. Yesterday Captain H. E. Palmer, chairman of the committee, received the following letter from the archbishop, dated at St. Paul, Minn., last Monday.

You will please excuse me for not having given an earlier reply to your letter, in which you honor me with an invitation to address the Grand Army organizations of Omaha. I am very glad to appreciate very much the honor you do me.

It will be difficult for me to make them a public address in view of the arrangements that will press upon my time.

But, if it is convenient for a certain number of the members to come together in one of their own halls, I would be very glad to meet them and say a few words to them on the evening of Tuesday, November 12.

A note from you stating your wishes will find me at the Southern hotel, St. Louis.

Yesterday Captain Palmer, A. T. Traynor and Dr. Stone of the committee issued the following note to the members of the Grand Army.

To the Members of Grand Army Posts of Omaha, South Omaha, Fort Omaha and Omaha: We are very glad to hear that you are all well and hope that you will be able to attend the banquet to be given at the Omaha club Wednesday evening, November 12.

MINNEAPOLIS HIGH SCHOOL WITHDRAWS FROM THE ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The High school oratorical contest between Minneapolis and Omaha until Friday was considered a sure thing. Minneapolis had made all arrangements with the Omaha delegates except deciding on the place of holding the contest, which was left with Minneapolis.

Last Monday Minneapolis notified Omaha that the contest would be held in Omaha and the date was fixed for the third Friday in January. Friday Omaha received a letter from Prof. Greer, principal of the Minneapolis High school, stating that they would be unable to go into the contest, as the superintendent of the school thought it unwise. Omaha replied with a request to reconsider his action, as two months after a contest had been arranged was rather a late date to withdraw.

Minneapolis, judging by her large number of English teachers and Omaha's small number of them, thought she had a good chance of winning. She had a soft snap, but looking into the matter, found that it was more a question of quality than quantity.
