Express Messenger Compelled to Open the Trensure Box by Two Masked Robbers, Who Scenre Twenty Thousand Dollars.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Nev. 12.-The bery at the Santa Fe depot about 10 o'clock last night: Twenty thousand dollars were gent from Denver to the First National bank of Colorado Springs early in the afternoon. The money was in currency of small denominations and was received about 4 o'clock and too late to be delivered to the bank. The package containing the money was placed in the depot safe and both doors locked. There was nothing to indicate its value. Evidently the thieves knew of its existence. When train No. 6 came in about with the others. After the train had deto the office he was met at the door by two masked men with drawn revolvers. The package containing the $20,000 was demanded and the agent was compelled to open the safe and give it up. The agent said nothing about the remaining packages and the robbers left at once. The standing rewards of $300 each for information or arrest of the robbers of course holds good and the amount will undoubtedly be increased. When Krout entered his office after per-turning his duties outside two men, one tall the other short, confronted him with re-volvers pointed at his head and commanded him to throw up his hands, Krout, badly frightened, obeyed. Then one of the robbers stepping close to the agent said. 'Not a word from you. We want you to open that mafe and be quick about it.

Krout denied that there was any money in the safe. The revolver was pressed close to him and he was told to open the safe or suffer the consequences, With trembling hands he slowly turned the During all this time the thieves did not ap-pear in the least excited.

the robbers ordered Krout to undress him-left and get into hed. After he had done so self and get into bed. After he had done so one of the robbers took pains to see that the quilts and comforters were drawn tightly over Krout's head and tucked down. Then Krout heard one of them say: "Now open the door and see if there is any one about." Krout heard the door slide back and bump and then one of the robbers said: "Wait now, we may have missed something. Let's take a good long look over the place and geo."

o'clock posses were scouring the vicinity of the depot on the eastern outskirts of the town, but no trace of the robbers was found. Finally two bloodhounds were put on the trail and it was found the min had gone along Pike's Peak avenue through the heart of oad, a posse started from that city to head

The depot agent was not 100 yards away from Krout's office while the robbery was being committed, but he did not see the robbers and knew nothing about the matter until

Appointed to the supreme court bench to failed to show any evidence of damage.

By direction of Commandant Siekard, Consucceed the late Justice Jackson. The Post says that some time ago the president had practically fixed upon Judge Rufus Peckham of the New York court of appeals for the place. It then continues: "All these plans, however, are said to have been changed by the recent election. Had Kentucky elected a democratic legislature, it was confidently expected that Mr. Carlisle would, on the 4Th of March, 1897, step from the cabinet into the senate. This anticipation cannot now Carlisle's chances for the presidential nomication, as well as greatly reduced the advisa-bility of being a candidate with the odds so largely against the democrats. Under these circumstances the political future has little attraction for Mr. Carlisle, besides which his tastes and desires lead him naturally to a judicial position. He has been so loyal to the president, even to the extent of sacrificing to some extent his prestige in his native state, that his appointment would not be questioned. Should Mr. Carlisic leave the treasury, his place will be filled by a New Yorker, and Charles S. Fairchild is said to have practically been selected. Mr. Fairchild has already occupied this position, and thoroughly familiar with its duties. Mr. Carliele has never been persona grata with the financiers of New York, but Mr. Fair-child would enter the office with their full udorsement.

During the discussion it was stated that 50 per event of the students among the poor whites of the south are in the graded schools supported by the society. Bithop Foster im-mediately asked: "Why should we spend our time and money giving the education which the log house will do as well? Are we

Dr. Hartzell explained that the schoolamong the common people have sessions during only two or three months in the year and that while the south is rapidly bettering the that white the schools, in some sections they are very poor, and this is especially true of Tennessee. Dr. Cranston, treasurer of the society, did not approve of putting a contingent fund in the hands of the board. Whatever is done should be done straight. "This thing of helping in faith that such and such a man is to give much money," said he 'is a deception. Its just such things which have put us $200,000 in debt."

Turning to another side of the question or. Cranston said many teachers should be advanced. The teachers at Morristown the colored academy, for instance, get a average of $281 a year to live on. This h leclared to be an outrage. Such things should be remedied.

RUMORED CABINET CHANGES TEXAS STRAINED IN THE DOCK. HAVE CONFIDENCE IN CAMPOS Damage to the Ship Not Supposed to

Be Serious. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.-The battleship New York and has sustained injuries the exact extent of which is not known at present. The ship went to dry dock a week ago to be cleaned and painted and to remove an accumulation of seaweeds which had grown in the pipe grating leading to the circulating Result of the Kentucky Election Has pumps. On the 8th instant Captain Glass reported to the commandant of the yard that on the regular weekly inspection of the vessel, made that day, frames forty-three and forty-five in compartment B were found to be distorted, apparently from straining of the keel blocks. No other evidence of straining appeared and an outside examination structor Bowles made an examination him-self, and on the 9th he reported that the Texas was resting easily and supported thor-oughly in all respects. Still, as a measure of precaution, six feet of water was let into the dock to lighten the load on the keel blocks. On the lith instant further straining of the ship was reported, and then the dock was flooded to a depth of eleven feet, as far as the water could be admitted without danger of disturbing the position of the Texas on the blocks.

Commandant Sickard called for a detailed ber the injured frames and where they were located. This report was transmitted to the Navy department, with the statement by to the weight of the ship on the keel blocks. The department was not altogether satisfied and has now called for still further particu-lars, regarding the report so far made as preliminary. It appears from these reports that about twenty-one of the bottom frames and brackets of the Texas are buckled from a quarter of an inch to an inch and a half, while the cement lining of the double bottom s cracked in many places. Whether it will be necessary to undertake to repair these frames and remove the dents in the boiton cannot be told until a further examination made, and to do this it may be necessary o remove all the weights in the ship, in order to draw off the eleven feet of water afely, otherwise the strains might again secome excessive and irreparable injury fol-

n the end be gathered by a special board, he department officials are not disposed to since the blame for the accident upon Contructor Bowles, as he has the reputation of cing one of the best dock mon in the navy. Instead there is a belief that the Texas was too light to stand her own weight while in deck, and if this should be the case it would ost a large sum of money and much time o straighten the hull. The vessel was built on plans purchased from England, and it is said the department officials were of the opinion from the first that they were defective, in that too much strength has been perificed in order to save weight and make he vessel float the calculated displacement.

The defense scored a victory when Judge

Ferguson ruled out the evidence which the prosecution tried to introduce relative to the Hyams brothers insuring the life of Martha Wells for $200,000. The prisoners were greatly relieved when the judge ruled in favor of them.

Albert Fryer, carpenter, repaired the elevator and spoke about the projections in the shaft, on which the defense claims the weight caught. These projections, he said, were nails, a number of which he drew out with a hammer. The prosecution here ridiculed the id-a that a projection which could be knowled off with a hammer could interknocked off with a hammer could inter fere with a descending weight of 200 pounds. William Roberts swore he sheeted the weight box from the basement floor to the ceiling, and said no one could touch the weight without first tearing off the casing. This casing was off at the time Wells was killed in the warshouse, but how it came off, the witness could not understand.

EUROPE RAPIDLY BECOMING IMPATIENT

Impression is Hourly Becoming Stronger that a Resort to Warlike Demonstrations Will Come Within a Few Days.

(Copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Nev. 12,—Each day shows the situation of affairs here growing more threatening. The reply of the Porte to the communicaons sent to it after the meeting of the ambassadors yesterday has been awaited with interest, as in the note the representatives of the powers used stronger language than eretofore, and positively insisted upon being umediately informed as to what steps the Turkish government intended to take for the restoration of order in the provinces of Asla Minor. The Porte today, replying to the identical notes of the ambassadors of Germany, Ausafternoon and told about building a plate for the Hyams warehouse for the purpose of changing the elevator weight. feared that the disturbances will spread to WILL SOON CALL THE NAVIES. It was stated this afternoon in European official circles here that as a result of an official change of views between the powers through their representatives here and at the different capitals, it is believed that a joint curse of action, involving display of naval; and possibly military force, has already been lecided upon, with the view of restoring order in Armenia, recent events having learly demonstrated that the sultan has no tention of really carrying out the scheme or reform agreed upon some time ago, after of much delay and annoyance.

Nothing definite, however, appears to be nown regarding the course of action de-ided upon; but it is now believed that the altan will not be allowed to trifle with the abassadors for many days longer. News of an important nature is expected t any moment. The financial situation here continues to THREATS AGAINST THE SULTAN. The runiors so persistently circulated for many weeks past as to the probability that the sultan will be deposed were repeated on all sides today, and it would seem that they may have been revived by some definite statement on the subject having been overheard at one of the embassies.

No further details have been received here of the recent massacrs at Diarbekir; but from all accounts the bloodshed must have been terrible in the extreme. A large part of the town was burned. The government, it is announced, decided yesterday to mobilize another twenty battalions of Redifs, which will make sixty battalions mobilized. And yet it was only year-terday that the Porte lasued an efficial note asying that "order has now been restored in all the districts recently the scene of riots and conflicts," etc.

It is understood that these mobilized troops are intended to occupy certain strategic points in Asiatic Turkey, from each of which points flying columns will be sent out into the surrounding country in order to attempt the suppression of the constantly occurring riots and massacres.

There is no doubt that the Turkish government is greatly slammed at the regularity and peristency of the outbreaks in Asia Minor, and the ministers claim to believe that they are due to the influence of the foreigners. Naturally this does not tend to make the position of foreigners in Armenia or elsewhere secure.

Another conference of the ambassadora was held yesterday at the official residence of the French ambassador, M. Cambon.
