

WANT BANK FUNDS DIVIDED

Receiver of the Nebraska Savings Institution Sued.

PECULIAR PLAN OF THE STOCKHOLDERS

Would Compromise Their Indebtedness and Claim a Share of the Gross Assets of the Organization.

LINCOLN, Nov. 15.—(Special).—Receiver Morrill of the Nebraska Savings bank has $5,000 in his hands which a number of former customers of the bank are anxious to get hold of. Today a long petition was filed in the district court, relating a portion of the bank's history never before given to the public. The petitioners are: J. W. Brooks, A. Spidel, D. G. Couler, C. G. Nootz, Hodge & Morris (assignees of E. R. Sizer), Levi Eckle, Bertha Jacobson, J. Remberger, and Per Larson. They are holders of receivers' certificates, ranging in amount each from $37.79 to $1,201.98. They allege that when the bank failed a large number of persons owned stock, and upon this they have paid but 40 per cent and are still liable for a further claim of 60 per cent. Petitioners also charge that January 1, 1894, these stockholders combined for the purpose of settling the liabilities for less than the amount due which, they, as stockholders, were responsible. The petitioners say that these stockholders are now applying to the receiver for their share of the remaining $5,000 in the hands of Receiver Morrill. It is alleged that this is contrary to equity, and content that before the stockholders can maintain such rights they must discharge the liability on the stock. Following is the list of stockholders named in the petition: C. A. Roberts, 1 share; A. M. Davis, 1; C. C. White, 10; L. E. Treeman, 1; Alice A. Minick, 5; Whitney Jones, 5; A. S. Tibbitts, 5; A. B. Gilman, 10; O. J. Wilcox, 12; H. J. Shaberg, 12; A. Hamilton, 13; G. F. H. Schawke, 12; Van Valkenburg, 13; Son, 42; John Strine, 5; H. W. Olcott, 50; C. E. Shaw, 10; L. M. Crawford, 10; J. L. Milos, 40; General E. A. Morrill, 10; G. D. Southwick, 10; W. O. Fletcher, 2; C. S. Clason, 50; A. H. Humphrey, 5; L. C. Humphrey, 88; James Kilburn, 36; Harrison Brown, 30; Mary Campbell, 22; R. H. Tingley, 318; Sarah Campbell, 137; J. A. Bolton, 81; C. E. Tingley, 182; John Taylor, 25; R. E. Taylor, 50; G. L. Moninger, 5; B. G. Wing, 15; G. D. Southwick, 22; E. H. Tingley, 327; F. A. Smith, F. M. Heath, 107; Mrs. F. M. Heath, 69; P. L. Matthews, 100; Helen B. Matthews, 25; A. L. Bonney, 50; F. M. Peck, 15; A. L. Mooley, 250; B. A. Cushman, 130; Hilda Boehme, 25.

LINCOLN MERCHANT FAILS.

This morning the old-time grocery house of C. H. Rohman & Co. failed to open its doors. On the front window a notice was posted stating that the store was closed on account of chattel mortgages given to Elizabeth McGoggin and Lederer & Strauss. Business in the city were greatly surprised. Rohman has been in the city nearly twenty years, and his firm has been considered one of the strongest in the city. He has been making collections in the cause of suspension. It is stated that there are on the books $5,000 which cannot be collected during the coming year. With the announcement of the failure, a number of suits in the district court. Plummer, Perry & Co. filed a suit in attachment for $1,000 for goods sold and delivered. In their affidavit they make the statement that defendants are about to dispose of their goods with intent to cheat and defraud creditors. Affidavits were filed against Mrs. McGoggin and Lederer & Strauss company's petition. The petition avers that Rohman and McGoggin are concealing themselves to avoid service of process. An action in attachment was also begun by the Consolidated Coffee company for $452. In the county court were filed a number of suits in attachment and garnishment. The claim of the Packing company is $207, another claim by the Consolidated Coffee company is for $446, and the Grainer Bros. say there is $517 due them.

UNION PACIFIC FREIGHT WRECKED.

Brakeman Hurt and Cars Scattered Over Track. KEARNEY, Neb., Nov. 15.—(Special Telegram).—An eastbound Union Pacific freight train was wrecked at the West Kearney depot at 2:30 this afternoon by the breaking of a rail. The train consisted of twenty-two loaded cars, and nine passed over before the rail broke. The other seventeen were loaded with grain, bullion, ore, hides and coal and are piled up and scattered along the track for quite a distance. Brakeman Lon Mills of Grand Island was on the first car that left the track and was thrown a distance of 150 or 200 feet. He was picked up by a physician McBride in an unconscious condition and taken to the hospital, where it was found his condition was bad. He was suffering from internal injuries. His wife was telegraphed and came up this evening. He is still unconscious, and it is feared he cannot recover. A rescue party has been organized clearing the track all the afternoon, but it will be morning before trains can run through.

Orleans News Notes.

J. L. McBrien and sons are visiting friends in Lincoln and Tecumseh this week. The Orphan Literary society of the Orleans college has in its lecture course for the coming winter Hon. F. W. Collins in Lincoln. Rev. Robert McIntyre of Denver, Prof. Byron W. King, the great educationist, of Pittsburg; General Thayer and Prof. George C. Williams, president of the Nebraska School of Oratory, Lincoln. Rev. C. A. Hale, presiding elder of the Orleans district, is at present attending a missionary meeting of the ministers and bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church. Hon. George W. Burton has recently returned from Chicago, where he was negotiating the terms of the endowment for the Orleans college, a millionnaire of that city. It is understood that for every dollar the school puts up in buildings and real estate this millionnaire, whose name will be made known later, will contribute $2. As the school has already over $50,000 in buildings, real estate and other property, the philanthropic act will give the school at least $150,000 as an endowment. This will make it one of the strongest colleges in the west.

a challenge from the Arapahoe High school team to play a football game at the State, as these are the strongest teams in the Republican valley.

GOSSIP FROM THE STATE HOUSE.

Report from Secretary Ludden is Not Yet Received. LINCOLN, Nov. 15.—(Special).—Private Secretary Maret of the governor's office says that so far no final report of the doings of the State Relief commission has been received at that office. Secretary L. P. Ludden is the one from whom it should come. It is known that the secretary of the commission has been at work at it for several months, and that the room on the third floor of the capitol, in which W. E. Jones, secretary of the state, P. A. Hart, secretary of most of his literature for distribution, was held by him occasionally for the purpose of reading the report of the long delayed report. As the commission owes its being to gubernatorial appointment it is held that to the governor a report should be made. State Auditor Moore and Secretary of State Piper of the State Board of Transportation have returned from the Omaha meeting of the board held yesterday. They unite in saying that looking from the text of the law they do not see how it is possible for them to compel separate corporations, like the Union Pacific, Burlington and others, to go into partnership with each other for the purpose of building a union depot, or for any other business. Auditor Moore says that he does not understand how the board might proceed to induce either one of them, doing business in the state, to erect suitable station conveniences, but he does not think that in the province of the board to compel cooperation. Secretary of State Piper said that he believed that in this question there was room for further legislation on the matter. In a metropolitan city like Omaha, he said, a union depot was almost a necessity. Separate stations at extreme points necessitated tedious and uncertain transfer. The fact often induced tourists to take other routes around cities which were not equipped for the purpose. The case of Thomas G. Hight against the Norfolk Beet Sugar company has been appealed to the supreme court by the company. In the district court of the ninth judicial district Hight recovered a verdict of $4,500. On November 2, 1894, while in the employ of the company, he was directed by a foreman to take a gunny sack and clean a belt which was running over a pulley at a high rate of speed. He did as directed and his arm was caught in the wheel and mangled. In the court before the company set up that Hight was injured by his own carelessness. The company now alleges error in the petition to the supreme court.

Church Social at Fremont.

FREMONT, Nov. 15.—(Special).—The ladies of the Congregational church gave a social at the church parlors this evening which was unique in its way. The program consisted of readings, music and impersonations of well known characters in history and romance with appropriate remarks about the characters. Among the characters impersonated were Gladstone, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Evangelist Samaria and Josiah Allen and others. The church parlors were well filled and the social was a financial success. The ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps gave a bean bag social at the Grand Army of the Republic hall this evening. The program consisted of music, readings and games. A lively time was had by all who were present. The Rev. and Mrs. Ida Williamson, both of Ames, were married yesterday by Judge Plambeck. After the wedding a reception was given at the residence of the bride's mother at Ames, which was attended by quite a number from Fremont.

Church Social at Fremont.

The report in an Omaha paper that Jud Webb, who is well known here, had been for many years being connected with the management of Forepaugh's show, has been miraculously cured by Schlatter, is not credited by his friends here. His wife has heard nothing from him and does not believe that he will be benefited in the least.

These deposits extend over a very large area and late reports indicate that from thirty to forty feet thick. Quite an amount of prospecting is being done.

An Important Office.

To properly fill its office and functions, it is important that the blood be pure. This is in such a condition the blood is almost certain to be healthy. A complaint at this time is certain in some of the various forms. A slight cold develops the disease and a head. Droppings of corruption passing into the lungs bring on consumption. The only way to cure this disease is by the use of blood. The most obstinate cases of catarrh yield to the medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla as if by magic, simply because it reaches the seat of the disease, purifies, invigorates and vitalizes the blood, removes the cause. Not only does Hood's Sarsaparilla do this, but it gives vigor to the whole system, making it possible for good health to reign supreme.

Rapidly Killing Off the Seals.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Nov. 15.—Official compilations of the collector of customs which have been transmitted to the Treasury department amply demonstrate the rapid rate at which the seal herds of Bering sea are being slaughtered. In the last three months 4,914 sealskins have been brought into port, of which number 4,659 are females. Sealing authorities aver that one-half of the females are pregnant, and that the slaughter would greatly enhance the likelihood of the herds being extinguished. This number of seals represents scarcely one-eighth of the North Pacific catch, the best of thirty schooners sails out of Victoria.

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Thomas Edwin today cut the throats of his two children, aged 4 and 5 years, respectively, with a razor, and then attempted to commit suicide in the same manner. The children died almost instantly, and there is but little hope of the father's recovery. Domestic troubles are said to be the cause of the tragedy.

Nebraska City Fugitive Arrested.

NEBRASKA CITY, Nov. 15.—(Special).—Sheriff Huber last night received a telegram stating that Len Kepphard, who is wanted by the police of this city to answer to a charge of robbing the bank at Lincoln, had been arrested in Lincoln. The sheriff went to Lincoln this morning and will probably return with the prisoner tonight. It is supposed that his brother, Othello, has information as to his whereabouts, and is keeping him in his home.

BISHOP BONACUM'S LATEST MOVE.

Will Visit Tecumseh to Oust Father Murphy Sunday. TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 15.—(Special Telegram).—The trouble existing between Bishop Bonacum and Father William Murphy of the local Catholic church has assumed new proportions. Several times the bishop has endeavored to visit Father Murphy from the parish here and install another priest, but has been unsuccessful. It is known that the bishop desires to remove Murphy from this diocese because of his opposition to his actions and refused to comply with certain orders issued by Bishop Bonacum which affected Murphy's pastorate. As the parish property is in local hands, Bishop Bonacum cannot get possession of the church. He announced, however, that he would be in Tecumseh Sunday, and that he would be at the opera house. He urges all members of the Tecumseh mission to be present. It is generally understood that he will again endeavor to put in a priest in charge of this parish at the meeting. Father Murphy will not recognize the bishop in this move and says he will understand how the bishop should be understood and how the bishop should be understood and how the bishop should be understood.

La Platte Brevities.

A protracted meeting will soon begin at this place by the Free Methodists.

There are several colonies of bees and his yield of honey for the season aggregates 6,100 pounds.

Mr. Norton, who owns 400 acres of excellent upland near town, is adding to his farm a ten-horse-power engine works, to be used in preparing food for his stock. Norton is fattening seventy head of hogs, besides keeping other kinds of fine stock. Five years ago this land was purchased at $40 per acre, and by drainage and other improvements the land has increased 100 per cent in valuation.

The scientist, Jasper Blines, visited the limits of the State yesterday in the interest of his studies. Aside from collecting insects Blines is making a collection of fossils, soils and sands of Sarpy county; also some interesting rocks, having some healing done in Omaha is detailed.

Armed with these papers Mr. Connor essayed to reach the healer. He carried a letter of introduction to Mr. Fox, with whom Schlatter made his home, from George Valtier, Denver agent of the Burlington, which was brought to the city by Mr. Connor. But when he started to climb the fence at the upper end of the line he was halted by one of the most excitable of the attendants, and before going to the hospital he was obliged to do nothing of the sort, but strode forward through the gooseberry bushes until he reached Mr. Fox. The gentleman was extremely busy, and instead of properly reading the letter he dashed it to the ground and declared that he had no time to read anything. Mr. Connor explained and then Mr. Fox relented.

After reading the letter he promised to present the case to Schlatter and give an answer later.

"We did a fine thing with our great fall festival, the Ak-Sar-Bee," said Mr. Connor to Mr. Fox, "and we are anxious to add to our laurels. This heater is the greatest attraction of the day and we want our people to have the benefit. We have heard that you know that the people of Nebraska and western Iowa would flock to our city if he would stop here. Collectively we will give that many poor people, who cannot afford to go to Chicago to see the healer. I have a fine house, which I am ready to place at the healer's disposal. And," he added, "I will give him a special train if he will take it. We will do the square thing by Mr. Schlatter if he will accept of his hospitality."

WELL KNOWN AUTHORESS DYING.

Never Recovered from the Effects of a Serious Fall. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Charlotte Moon Clark (Charles M. Clay), a literary woman of note, is lying critically ill at the residence of her son, Rev. Pinckney Clark, pastor of St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, West Philadelphia. She met with a serious fall last August, and has been confined to her bed since then.

Mrs. Clark was born in Virginia sixty-four years ago. She was educated at Oxford, Ohio, being a schoolmate and lifelong friend of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

Just after the Franco-Prussian war she was in the city of New Orleans, where she wrote other papers, and has written a number of successful books, among them "Baby Rue," "How She Came into Her Kingdom," and "The Story of the New Orleans Fair." Her friends here are Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Lamar. She is well known personally and by her work in London, New York, Washington and the south.

Prepared for Defense.

Colonel J. K. Veaching, the attorney, is regarded as one of the best raconteurs of the legal profession, says the San Francisco Call. In the Palace grill room recently he let out a string of excellent bar anecdotes. He said a few weeks ago that Dennis Spencer, the Napa lumbar, was called upon by a Chinaman one evening, when the following dialogue ensued: "One Chinaman kill another Chinaman with a hatchet; how much you charge make him die?" "I'll take the case," said Mr. Spencer, "for $1,000." "Alles right," said the Chinaman, "I be bacher after white."

"In about a week be returned to Mr. Spencer's office and laid down $1,000 in gold coin on the table. Mr. Spencer swept the money into the drawer. "Well, the Chinaman, he dead?" "Who killed him?" "When did you kill him?" "Last night."

There was some curiosity on the part of the audience as to the result of the disposition of the $1,000, but Mr. Veaching immediately spun off to another story.

"I am cured since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cured me of many troubles and says it gives renewed vitality and vigor."

Captain Henley Laments a Charge.

FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—(Special Telegram).—A Healey of the United States Fish Bear is preparing to defend himself against the charges filed at Washington by a number of officers who were in the Bering sea patrol this year. Captain Henley is inclined to rather make light of the matter and neither he nor the officers of the Bear are prepared to make public any details of the alleged troubles. He says it is untrue that he ever arrested an officer and ordered that no entry of the arrest be made in the log. He also denied that he insulted an American officer while aboard the Phœnix.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Nothing as yet has been decided upon as to the investigation of the charges which have been preferred against the United States Fish cutter Bear. It is probable, however, that the department will designate a committee of inquiry, which will all at San Francisco and obtain the facts in connection with the charges.

The suicide had three life insurance policies, but nothing else of value in his possession.

PARTIES STARTED TO INVESTIGATE

Relic Hunters Carry Off the Fence Around the Place Where He Stayed in Denver—Beatrice Thought It Had Him.

DENVER, Nov. 15.—The latest report of the whereabouts of Schlatter, "The Healer," which seems to be authoritative, is that he is occupying a log cabin on a station belonging to Miss Alice Rooney, daughter of A. Rooney, at whose home he was at first reported to be. The claim is six miles from Rooney's ranch, and the house is only occupied part of the year, in compliance with pre-emption laws. It is near Golden and about twenty miles from Denver. Parties left Denver in carriages tonight for the place named to learn the truth of the story.

The place where he treated the multitude for the past two months has been thronged all day, and the fence and other landmarks are rapidly being demolished by relic hunters.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15.—A special to the Star from Beatrice, Neb., says: At 9 o'clock this morning a man came in over the Union Pacific, went direct to a hotel and registered himself as Francis Schlatter of Denver in plain handwriting. He asked for the key to the room, went to bed and asked not to be called until 3 o'clock. The clerk on duty at the time says he distinctly remembers pictures of Schlatter brought here from Denver.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 15.—(Special Telegram).—The man Schlatter registered here is the alleged healer who disappeared from Denver yesterday. Schlatter here is a much younger man.

Joseph A. Connor, a member of the Omaha Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce, is stopping at the Albany hotel in Denver. Connor has a peculiar way of doing things. He is authorized by the Omaha association to invite Francis Schlatter to stop in this city for several weeks while en route for Chicago. Mr. Connor had a peculiar letter from Secretary John Utz, in which the work of the healer is flatteringly mentioned. Connor has been busy having some healing done in Omaha is detailed.

Armed with these papers Mr. Connor essayed to reach the healer. He carried a letter of introduction to Mr. Fox, with whom Schlatter made his home, from George Valtier, Denver agent of the Burlington, which was brought to the city by Mr. Connor. But when he started to climb the fence at the upper end of the line he was halted by one of the most excitable of the attendants, and before going to the hospital he was obliged to do nothing of the sort, but strode forward through the gooseberry bushes until he reached Mr. Fox. NEWTOWN BLOCK'S SLAYER ON TRIAL.

NEWTON, Neb., Nov. 15.—(Special Telegram).—The case against Ickler, charged with shooting Newton Block, has been on trial in the district court today. The defense is endeavoring to show the killing was justifiable and has proved that previous to the shooting Block was the aggressor, having armed himself with a revolver and pitchfork and being pointedly provoked by the defendant's quarrel. But few witnesses have been examined and the testimony has been concluded. Arguments are being made this evening and the case will probably be settled tonight. The defense is attended by N. D. Jackson and J. C. Berryman and the state by J. H. Gurney and J. H. Gurney.

Women Overpowering the Police at a New York Wedding. New York Police are famous for their courage. They will face and charge any mob of any kind armed with any weapons, provided that mob be of the male gender. But a mob of women is different, says the New York Sun. Collectively women are more persistent, more encroaching, more profuse of subterfuge and wiles. Clubs have no terrors for them, nor revolvers. Relying on their feminine privileges, they rush in where any other creature in the heavens above or on the earth below or in the waters underneath the earth would fear to tread. And that curious crowd at the wedding was nine-tenths women. They were of all sizes, classes and nationalities, but in spirit they were one. They were determined to see all there was to be seen of the awning outside of St. Thomas' church and everything that passed thereunder, at the Marlborough wedding. There were women who pushed, women who shoved, women who nagged, women who abbed, women who attempted intimidation, women who essayed bribery and corruption, and, worst of all, women who wept, but the thin blue line of heroes with brass buttons stood there, each man getting thinner and bluer every minute, and did their duty superhumanly. There were about fifty of them near the entrance on whom the pressure came, and they all caught to wearing medals. One of them privately confided his woes to a reporter who was standing near him: "Say, this is tough. I've been jabbed and prodded and punched from behind till I feel like a bunch of rheumatism. I don't mind elbows so much, but those parsons—all this year's style must be built on the bayonet plan. And my feet are too big for my shoes. I've been standing on 'em for three hours and the time and for the last two or three a lot of women have been standing on 'em most of the time. Oh, tough ain't any name for it. These showen wear the devil. Hold on there, madam, you can't get in there."
