USE FOR OLD FORT OMAHA

Plan to Establish a State Militia Training School There.

SUGGESTIONS BY GENERAL MANDERSON

Work of Preparing Petitions and the Bill Transferring Property to the State is to Be Began at Once.

Major General Barry and Major E. G. Fechet of the Nebraska National Guard were in Omaha yesterday, in consultation with legislation that will enable the state to se- them. cure possession of the old Fort Omaha site

OMAHA, Oct. 25, 1895—General P. H.
Barry, Adjutant General, State of Nebruska, Lincoln, Neb.: My Dear Sir—Your favor of the 24th inst, is received. I appreciate very fully the importance of the proosition that the military post known as Fort Omaha should be turned over to the state of Nebraska for the use of the National Guard, and am willing to do everything in my power to bring about that result.

Years ago Fort Omaha was in such a dilapidated condition as to be almost uninhabitable. I tried for a long while to get the War department to expend some money upon it so as to make it want it should be, but General Sheridan, when commander of the army, refused the expenditure of a penny at Fort Omaha, saying that he must have a new post at Omaha, with much additional ground and further removed from the city. It was this position taken by General Sheridan and the War department that caused me to take steps for the building of the new fort. This is conveniently and beautifully located on about 600 acres of ground, about twelve miles*from Omaha, and $750,000 has already been expended upon it. The post will ultimately cost between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000. It is one of the most substantial and best built posts in the United States.

When I procured the passage of the origi-Years ago Fort Omaha was in such a substantial and best built posts in the United States.

When I procured the passage of the original bill locating Fort Crook, to obtain a successful result I had to embody in the legislation the proposition that Fort Omaha should be sold, undersury, and the proceeds substantial and both to the proposition that Fort Omaha should be sold, undersury, and the proceeds the proposition that fort omaha should be sucretury, and the proceeds the proposition that fort omaha should be such as a great part of the building of the new post. There has been much talk here about obtaining the old fort, which stands upon eighty acres of land, for park purposes for the city of Omaha. This would be a good purpose, but does not compare with the use you suggest, that it should be held as a camp and school of instruction for the National Guard of the State. I believe that if this matter is propertly presented to congress the bill will pass making the donation to the state. It will require, however, great preparation and good work in congress the bill will pass making the donation to the state. It will require, however, great preparation and good work in congress by our representatives.

If you will call to see me any time I will present to you my idea of the course of procedure. In a general way I will now simply say that there should be a petition before congress, signed by the governor, state officials, officers of the National Guard and prominent citizens of the state. This petition should set forth forcibly but simply the reasons for the donation. It should be accompanied by a bill making the transfer from the general government to the state of Nebraska upon the abandonment of Port of the general of the army, General Miles and the secretary of war should be seen and the general of the army. General Miles and the secretary of war should be seen as greatly in processes for the state of Nebraska in perpetuity, with the condition that the government may at any time it believes it advantageous for military purposes relake possession o

Innd.

There is a litt's question as to whether the complete a donment of the eighty neres by the government for fort purposes would not cause the lind to revert to the original donors, and this could be guarded against in the bill by having the general government hold a string to the fort.

If you wish to talk with me at any time upon the matter and will come here I will give you all the information in my power. Yours truly, CHARLES F. MANDERSON. The conference yesterday was along the lines indicated in General Manderson's let-The general has agreed to draft a bill to be presented to congress which will pro-vide that the government shall, on the aban-donment of the military reservation now known as Fort Omaha, transfer it to the state of Nebraska, which shall maintain it as a military training school and a camp of instruction for the National Guard. He thinks that this could be done at slight expense, and that not more than three in-structors would be necessary for the work. In this manner the grounds and buildings could be kept in condition and the place used as a rendezvous for the militia encamp-ments and the like.

General Manderson does not think that the plan of Congressman Mercer to have a fed-eral military institute established on the present site of Fort Omaha is at all feasible. He says that the instant such a measure is proposed in congress, Chicago, Kansas City and other western cities will oppose the measure and endeavor to secure the location if the plan of establishing such a branch of West Point is given any consideration what-ever. He thinks that with good work on the part of the Nebraska delegation the transfer of the property to the state may be General Barry and Major Fechet will commence work at once upon the plans suggested by General Manderson and will prepare the necessary petitions to be presented to con-gress early in December.

Yesterday, before men had come down own for business or to loaf or to hang around the court rooms, Frank Morgan, the alleged murderer of little 11-year-old Ida Gaskill, was taken from the county jail, hurried into the waiting patrol wagon and driven rapidly to the police station. He was taken before Judge Berka, given just time enough to say that he would waive preliminary examination on the charge of murder in the first degree, and then was just as expeditiously rushed back to the county jail, which place he will not leave until he is arraigned for trial in the criminal section of the district court. The whole thing took less than fifteen minutes.

There have been no outward demonstrations during the past two weeks, but in the minds of the officials there is still the fear that the mob is only hanging around the offer. The patrol wagon drove to the rear of the city jail and Morgan was at once taken before Judge Berka, who was already on the bench. The prisoner had already been arnigned and consequently the only thing re naining was to ask whether he would waive preliminary examination, as he had signified his intention of doing. WOMAN'S CLUB | MAKING READY. Part It Will Take in the Transmississippl Congress.

In accordance with the request of the Compenter and Mr. Lindsay, at the last Woman's club meeting a committee of nine was appointed to muct yesterday afternoon to decide what part the Woman's club would take n the entertainment of guests to the Transississippi congress.

Mesdames Towns, Draper, Smith, Cartwright, Hooler, Payne, Garratt, Lindsay, Sumner and Heller composed the committee which held council with Mayor Bemis, Judge Bradley, Messrs, Lininger, Carpenter, Rheen and other gentlemen interested in this enter prise. All plans are yet incomplete, but the Woman's club has accepted the invitation to assist in several particulars and will bend all its energies to the task. On the evening of the reception at the Coliseum the inroduction and reception committees will be rein forced by twenty-five Woman's club women.
From Monday until Friday the club will

Yesterday the city officials found Mrs Effic Godfrey and her three fatherless childr n huddled together in a little two-room shanty at 720 South Seventh street trying to keep warm from the heat of their own bodies Aside from a few boiled potatoes there was no fuel, food nor much of anything elese in the house.

Some old tattered comforters and bed clothing were wrapped around the mother and children to keep them from freezing and in the desolate little front room, with scarcely a pane of glass in the window sashes, lay the cad body of a newly born baby. Prior to his death, which occurred about five months ago, John Godfrey, the father of the children, was a grader by occupation. The family since that time subsisted upon odds and ends furnished by neighbors like themselves, are very poor. Mrs. Godfrey stated that she and her little ones had been living on boiled potatoes for the last three days and that she has had no attendance, medical or otherwise, through her late illness and the subsequent death of her child. The infant was taken to the morgue and an effort will be made to procure money and supplies for Mrs. Godfrey.

of Sergeant Cory. A meeting of the Fire and Police commisfon was held last night. Officer Charle Monroe, who was accused by Sergeant Cor, of having talked to a cabman at the Webster street depot for thirty minutes, was dis charged, the charge being proven to the satisfaction of a majority of the commissioners. It was the same way with Officer Ravencamp who had sworn that he would whip any man who told lies about him in order to secure his discharge from the force. The board said the charges referred to Sergeant Bebout, and ordered Ravencamp to cease wearing the official star. The case against Fireman Joseph Laux ontinued until Monday evening next. The same course was taken with the case against Fireman C. O. Sergeant Cory could not prove his charges against Officer Tony Vanous, to the effect that that offi-cer had been missing from his beat for some ninutes, and the charges were dismissed.

THAT HILL CITY FUNERAL.

OMAHA, Nov. 20 .- To the Editor of the Bee: In your edition of Saturday last there appeared a dispatch from Hill City, S. D., in reference to the detention of the remains of a Mrs. Roberts, which had been sent from Omaha by Adams Express company, alleging that same was being held on account of a doctor's bill. As Dr. E. W. Lee was the physician in charge of the case, some reflection has been cast upon him in consequence, and, as the whole unfortunate matter was entirely due to a misunderstanding and a seemingly wrong construction being placed upon the telegrams received by Dr. Lee from the parties in Hill City, I deem it only fair to all parties to make a statement of the facts. When Mrs. Roberts died, Dr. Lee communicated with her husband by telegraph to know what disposition to make of the ody. This resulted in quite an extended orrespondence being conducted by wire as the expenses which had been incurred by Mrs. Roberts during her sickness, and what amount of money would be necessary to defray the same and transport the remains from Omaha to Hill City. The items of ex-pense were as follows: Undertaker's bill, $40; ospital bill, $42; Dr. Lee's bill, $80; express charges, $38.80.

The first telegram received stated that sum of $120.80 had been deposited at Hill City to cover Dr. Lee's bill and the transportation charges. This telegram being somewhat vague, Dr. Lee wired to know what provision had been made for the undertaker and the hospital, to which a reply was received stating that $40 had been deposited to cover the undertaker's charges and a like mount for the hospital. From this it was nferred that a sufficient amount had been deposited to cover all the items of expense enumerated above, and upon this esition the remains were shipped by Undertaker Maul C. O. D. $162, with the expres charges to collect. Upon the arrival of th emains at destination the express agent wired the office here that the deposit lacked $80 of being sufficient to cover the amount of the C. O. D., and a telegram was at the same time received by Dr. Lee stating that Mr. Roberts was unable to liquidate his bill. Dr. Lee at once telegraphed the parties at Hill City, waiving his bill, and tructed me to wire at once reducing C. O. D. $82, being the amount of the undertaker's and hospital bills, which, with the trans-portation charges, amounted to $120.80, and which was covered by the amount on deposit. In the meantime, however, Mr. Roberts and out a writ of replevin and took possession of the remains. It will thus be seen that there was no disposition on the part of Dr. Lee or any one else to collect any more the remains than what they were en-led to, and which, as they supposed from he reading of the telegrams, had been pro vided for by the amount deposited.

So far as this company is concerned, w simply acted as carriers, and could do noth ing in the matter but comply with the in-structions of shippers. CHARLES H. HOWARD.

SCIENCE IN THE PRIMARY SCHOOLS. Principals' Club Takes Up a Question of Great Scope. The question discussed by the members of the Omaha Principals' club at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, was: "Resolved. That the amount of science work done in the primary and grammar grades should be greatly increased." The presentation of this question was made by Homer P. Lewis, principal of the Omaha High school. The discussion of the question in the affirmative was led by Miss La Rue, principal of the Davenport school. Her arguments were reinforced by letters from men of national reputation, giving reasons why the affirmative of this question should be sustained. Notable among them were those from Superintendents Greenwood of Kansas City, of Chicago and Colonel Parker of the Cook ounty, Illinois, Normal.

The negative was presented by Miss Red-field, principal of Lincoln school, in a paper which fairly bristled with wit, humor and seemingly plausible reasons in support of her side of the question. This paper almost captured the convention in spite of all that had gone before. The discussion which followed was particlpated in by Superintendent Pearse, Principals Sudborough of the training school, McCarthy of Pacific, Lemon of Lothrop, Hamilton of Central, McKoon of Mason, Mack of Sher-man and others. The leaders in this discussion have been requested to read their papers before the State Teachers' association, o be held in Lincoln the coming winter. Anxious About Her James. Chief Sigwart was notified by the police authorities of Council Bluffs that James Robinson, residing in that city, mysteriously disappeared from his home last Monday even ing and had not been heard from since. His aged mother, with whom he has lived, is very anxious about him and is afraid he may have been robbed and murdered, as he had $80 on his person.
