(Copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.- The general situation in this country continues to inspire and other missionaries there are again in the greatest danger. In view of the repeated assurances which the United States minister, Mr. Alexander W. Terrell, has received from the Porte on his insisting that they be safely guarded, this has caused much anxiety.

Advices received here from Sivas assert that as soon as the reinforcements of the Turkish troops arrive there the Turkish officials will notify the Armenians that they must surrender all the arms and ammunition in their possession. The Armenians object to this, as it places them entirely at the mercy of the Turks. To this the Turks reply that no harm will be done so long as they do not resist the authorities, and that if they refuse to give up their arms they will be forced to do so. It is asserted that the Turkish officials added that if they are not satisfied that all the arms and ammunition have been surrendered the troops will be ordered to attack the Armenians.

Members of the diplomatic corps point to the fact that, as the Mussulmans of Sivas are not to be disarmed, the projected meas-ures against the Armenians create a new danger which may have the most grave con-

The concentration of Turkish troops at Marash continues as rapidly as possible. While this massing of soldiers continues the Turkish commander at Marash continues his negotiations with the Armenians of Zeitoun, holding out all sorts of promises for their surrender. But the Armenians have been so frequently deceived that they apprehend nothing less than a wholesale massacre if they lay down their arms. The representatives of the powers take the same view of the case and have notified the Porte that they will not answer for the consequences if the Zeitoun Armenians are massacred.

MAY BE A PITCHED BATTLE. The Armenians of this city who can be prevailed upon to talk on the subject intimate that a surprise for the Turks is being prepared at Zeitoun, and that a battle which will make history and show that the Armenlans are entitled to freedom or at least self-government will be fought there. As before, the Armenians are deficient in artillery and it cannot be expected that they can offer an effective resistance to a regularly organized expedition.

Rumors of fresh troubles at Samsoon, a seaport of Asia Minor, on the Black sea, have also reached here. The population of Samsoon is almost entirely composed of Turks and the few Armenians there are sure to fare badly if an uprising occurs.

Probably the most serious feature of the situation at present is the one resulting from the demand which the representatives of Great Britain, Russia, Italy and Austria made to the sultan for firmans allowing the passage through the Dardanelles to this city of a second dispatch boat, or small gunboat. to be attached to each of their respective embassies. By the treaty of Berlin, the warships of foreign nations are not allowed to pass the Dardanelles without the permission of the sultan, and it has hitherto been custo mary to allow a dispatch boat as a kind of guardship for each of the embassies. The recent rioting in this city, however, and the precausions which have been taken to de-fend the British and other embassics, have shown that the naval force in the Bosphorus is hardly sufficient to cope with a serious outbreak in or about this city.

It was at first believed that there would be no difficulty in persuading the sultan to grant the necessary permission for the passage of the Dardanelles of four small warships, but it is now admitted at the palace that he may decline to grant these demands of the powers. As the powers consider that an increase of the number of foreign warships in the Bosphorus is absolutely necessary for the safety of foreigners in this vicinity, it is though: possible that they may insist upon their de-mands, and in case of a refusal may take steps to send additional warships here without the permission of the sultan.

The sultan has offered rewards for the discovery of the persons who recently posted revolutionary placards at the mosques and in many other public places, exciting the nenians against the Mussulmans. A special committee has also been appointed watch day and night until adequate results are obtained in the restoration of order among the Armenians.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says that a large number of Turks were arrested in that city at daybreak. They were hurried to the harbor and placed on board a ship. Their destina-tion and the reasons for the arrests cannot now be determined.

Constantinople also telegraphs that unless establish in Armenia are carefully super vised there will be a bloody assize affer the massacres. Some of these courts to be established have the right of rendering a final decision upon all questions arising, and it is feared that many of the Turks will take advantage of this for the purpose securing speedy and sure vengeance, while ostensibly complying with all the forms of TALK IS ALL IN THE NEWSPAPERS. Secretary Morton Discusses a Third Term for Cleveland.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.-Hon, J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture, spent the day in St. Louis. He arrived here this morning from the east, and after breakfasting at the Planter's hotel, went across the river National Stock yards and abattoirs. He returned to the city this afternoon and this evening he left for Chicago to visit his sons. In the course of an interview, Secretary Morton said: "Why phould President Cleveland be opposed to a third term any more than a bank president? This is not stating that President Cleveland is a candidate for a third term, for as to that no one knows but himself. The talk of a third term has been confined only to newspapers, and there is no one who can say he has ever heard the gravest fears.

Telegrams received here from Marash late yesterday, apparently considerably delayed by the Turkish officials, say that the American is a business proposition, as is the management of a bank. In the bank the business is entirely confined to the finances of many people. If a bank president has proven him self competent and faithful he is re-elected not only once or twice, but a dozen of times or more. The business of a government is or more. The pusiness of a government is that of managing and preserving the interests of a people, of a nation, and maintaining life, liberty and property, and if a bank president is elected many times, why should it not be so with the president of the United States?" States?"

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—At a meeting of the old members of the state democratic central committee today, Chairman Maffit was instructed by a unanimous vote to include in his call for a meeting the nineteen new members added to the committee by the Pertle Springs silver convention last August. Later in the day all the members of the committee now in the city, new ones as well as old ones, met at the request of Chairman Maffit for an informal conference, when the chairman was instructed to issue a call for a meeting of the full committee of thirty-four members in this city on Tuesday, December 3, for the transac-tion of business, which means the beginning of a thorough party organization throughout the state. This seemingly ends the strife be-tween the gold and silver factions of the party, which threatened to split over the recognition of the members appointed by the Pertle Springs convention.

DEATH OF A NOTED SCHOLAR. Translated the Bible and Other Books

Into the Arabic Tongue. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.-News has been received in New York of the sudden death in Beyrout, Syria, of Dr. Cornelius Van Dyke, the translator of the bible into Arabic, and perhaps the foremost Arabic scholar in the world. Besides the bible Dr. Van Dyke translated many other valuable books into Arabic. His last great work was the translation of General Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur" into Arabic. This was completed be-fore his death, but the manuscript is unpublished. The Turkish authorities are trying to obtain possession of the manuscript to destroy it. The result is that the book will not be published for some time, and when it appears it will be outside of Turkey. In his translation of the bible, which he began in 1857 and completed in 1864, he had the assistance of noted native scholars, inciuding the famous teachers in the Moham-medan university of El Ashar at Cairo. The first printed copy of the Arabic bible ap-peared August 29, 1865. The influence of Dr. Van Dyke's life among the Syrians has been and will be felt for many years. He was an expert physician and was engaged in humanitarian work up to within a few months of his death. Dr. Van Dyke was a native of Kinderhook, N. Y. He was born August 13, 1818. Both his father and mother were Dutch. He became identified with the Dutch Refermed church and on graduating from college at the age of 20 he offered himself at the American Board of Foreign Missions as a missionary He reached Syria for the first time in the early part of 1840, and he had not been there long before the need of an adequate version of the scriptures in the Syrian language be-came apparent to him. His private car was coupled to the Santa Fee California limited, which arrives in Topeka at 3:45. A number of newspaper men sent in their cards, and Mr. Reid received them in the reading compartment of his car. Mr. Reid declined to talk politics further than to say that Governor Morton is looked upon in New York as being very strong, and the recent election had added something to his strength. He said his health had been quite good of late, and he expected to avoid the dangers of winter by living in a warmer climate. He is accompanied by Mrs. Reid, and they will keep house this winter in Phoenix, Ariz.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.-An equestrian show was held at Tattersalls tonight, and on was held at Tattersalls tonight, and one of the events, the roping and riding of wild cattle by cowboys, turned out to be practically a buill fight. Some of the cowboys were the worse for liquor, and after teasing a big, long-horned steer until it was nearly maddened, they turned it loose and tried to rope it. Before they succeeded the steer ripped up a pony in a shocking manner. Loud cries of indignation came from the spectators, and many people left the building. The cowboys were disposed to continue their brutal work, but were prevented, and after much trouble the steer was taken out. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Chicago Hussars, but they had no idea of what the "roping" would result in.

Sovernment Forces Stationed in the Mountain Fall to Stop the Progress of the Patriotic Armies Toward Hayana.

Copyrighted, 1895, by Press Publishing Company. HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 22.-(New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-The Spanish government could no longer hold back the news that General Macco and Genoral Gemez had crossed with their respective armies into Santa Clara province, and finally published the news officially. Both Cuban generals have been in Santa Clara some days, hence the moving of other insurgent troops further westward into Matanzas provinca

General Antonio Maceo is west of Santa Espiritu, in the Siguanea mountains. There the Spanish had gathered together 10,000 or 12,000 troops, including mountain artillery, with the intention of defeating the famous Cuban general, but they either did not meet him or were defeated themselves. At all events, nothing is mentioned of what happened there. The Spanish are concentrating all their forces around Santa Clara (the capital). It is expected that an important battle will soon be fought in that neighborhood. General Jose Macco has crossed over inte Puerto Principe province, it is officially acknowledged, on his way west to Santa Clara.

He is said to be at the head of 5,000 men. The program of the Cuban rebels is being carried out, and the Spanish troops apparently can offer but slight resistance. General Gomez has declared that he will operate in earnest next month in the most important part of the island. As the rebel forces coninue to push forward and advance further west it is apparent that they have selected either the province of Havana or Matanzas for their battlefields.

AID FOR INSURGENTS LANDED. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 22 .- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-Carrier pigeons bring news of the successful landing in Cuba of an expedition which sailed from here last Sunday night. The party slipped away unobserved by the authorities and unknown to the Spanish spies. There were only a few men in the expedition. Its principal object was to land arms and munitions of war, of which a considerable quantity was carried.

HAVANA, Nov. 22 .- An insurgent force of 1,500 men has burned the villages of Guinea and Miranda, near Trinidad, south of Santa Spiritu, in the province of Santa Clara, from which vicinity General Maximo Gomez, the insurgent leader, was recently reported to have been driving across the River Zasa.

Lee, proprietor of the Courier, has sent out circular letters all over the state asking people to write let-ters to Judge Woolson, interceding for Dale. The court produced and read one of these letters, and then lectured Len and his at-torneys for an hour. He denounced them in the harshest terms for attempting by such means to influence a ccurt. He said Lee had made the request that the letters be written as a favor to himself (Lee) rather than because there was good reason why Dal should be leniently treated. When he was done, he sentenced Dale to afteen months in the penitentiary and $300 fine. Then, to the great surprise of all, he suspended the sentence on receiving Dale's promise to live lawfully. CELEBRATED DEBS' RELEASE

Greeted by Enthusiastic Admirers on Completing His Sentence.

COMES OUT WITH SPIRIT UNBROKEN

Addresses a Large Audience in Which He Speaks Hopefully of the Future-Complaint Not with the Law but Its Application.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.-Eugene V. Debs spoke in Central Music hall tonight to an audience that taxed the seating and standing capacity of the hall. Most of the leading labor organizations were represented, and the reception to the leader of the A. R. U. was enthusiastic in the extreme. Eight carloads of Debs' friends went down to Woodstock to greet him on his release from jail, and several thousand men were at the station of the Northwestern road when the train bearing Debs and his friends arrived at 7:30 o'clock. The reception given Debs at 7:30 o'clock. The reception given Debs as he stepped from the train bordered on the frantic. Hundreds of men struggied to get a grasp of his hands, many of them hugged him, and some went to the length of kissing him. Finally he was tossed upon the shoulders of four men, the crowd never for an instant stopping its shouts and cheers. Ho was escorted to the hall, about one mile distant. The warmth of the depot reception was repeated, except that the men were unable to get close to him, and contented themselves with cheering and waving their hats. selves with cheering and waving their hats. The speech delivered by Mr. Debs, which that makes it possible for me to be your guest on such an occasion. The vindication and glorification of American principles of government, as proclaimed to the world in the Declaration of Independence, is the high purpose of convocation. Speaking for my-self, personally, I am not certain whether this is an occasion of rejoicing or lamenta-tion. I confess to a serious doubt as to whether this day marks my deliverance from bonds to freedom, or from freedom to bondage. Certain it is, in the light of recent judicial proceedings, that I stand in your presence stripped of my constitutional right as a freeman and shorn of the most sacred prerogatives of American cit-izenship, and what is true of myself is true of every other citizen who has the temerity to protest against corporation rule or question the absolute sway of the money power. "It is not law, or the administration of law, of which I complain. It is the flagrant viola-tion of the constitution, the total abrogation of the law and that usurpation of judicial and despotic power, by virtue of which my colleagues and myself were committed to jail, against which I enter my solemn profest, and any honest analysis of the proceedings must sustain the haggard truth of the indictment."

FAITH IN THE FUTURE. The speaker here gave the history of the events leading up to his arrest and sentence, commenting freely thereon, and continuing, said: "In my vocabulary there are no walls of despondency or despair. However gloomy the future may appear to others, I have an the future may appear to others, I have an abiding faith in the ultimate triumph of the right. To the unified hosts of the American workingmen fate has committed the charge of rescuing American libertles from the grasp of the vandal horde that has placed them in peril by seizing the ballot and wielding it to regain the priceless heritage and to 'I am not here to assert the infallibility of the organization or its officials, or to claim exemption from error. But I am here to declare to every friend of American toil, regardless of banner, name or craft, that if the American Railway union has erred it has been on the side of sympathy, mercy and humanity."

Reverting to the strike, Mr. Debs said: "It must be borne in mind that the American Railway union did not challenge the government. It threw down no gauntlet to courts or armies—it simply resisted the invasion of the rights of workingmen by porations. It challenged and defied power of corporations. Thrice armed with a just cause, the organization believed that justice would win for labor a notable victory, and the records show that its confi-dence was not misplaced. The defeat of the American Railway union involved questions of law, constitution and government, which, all things considered, are without a parallel in court and governmental proceedings under the constitution of the republic." Continuing, the speaker said, referring to the famous supreme court decision: "I challenge the world to assign a reason why a judge under the sciemm obligation of an oath to obey the constitution should, in a temple dedicated to justice, stab the magna charta of American liberty to death in the interest of corporations that labor might be disrebed of its inalienable rights, and those advocating its claims to justice imprisoned as if they were felons?" Mr. Debs gave several reminiscences of his prison life, and, concluding, said: "From such reflections I turn to the practical lessons taught by this 'liberation day' demonstration. It means that American lovers of liberty are setting in operation forces to rescue their constitutional liberties from the grasp of monopoly and its mercenary hirelings. It means that the people are aroused in view of impending peril, and that agitation, organization and unification are to be the future battle cries of men who will not part with their birthrights, and who, like Patrick Henry, have the courage to exclaim: 'Give me liberty, or give me death!'

Ex-Governor Waite of Colorado was among those who went to Woodstock in the afternoon, and he was in the hall during the evening. There were loud calls for a speech from him after Debs had finished his address, and he was greeted with cheers as he came to the front of the platform. He said in substance: "It is with pride that I lay my tribute of respect at the feet of Eugene V. Debs. A stain has been put upon the judiciary of the state, the constitution has been violated by the imprisonment of Debs. The decision of the courts in the Dred Scott decision was to apply to the slaves of the south. The de-cision of the courts in the Debs case re-duced to slavery all men. The United States duced to slavery all men. The United States supreme court is composed of men selected by the corporations. When the constitution was adopted corporations were only theoretical. The Pacific railway and the demonetization of silver are examples of the demonalized condition of the legislative portion of the government. The debauchment of the United States courts is only another step in that direction. It would be far better that President Cleveland or any republican manage the railways of the country than that they be the railways of the country than that they be managed by European Rothschilds. The only way out of the difficulty is for the government to control the railways and the telegraphs and all similar things." Several local speakers followed ex-Governor Walte, and it was very late when the meeting broke up. Debs' Deliverance Celebrated.

At the ball given by the American Railway union lodge No. 12 at Washington hail last night H. C. Waller made the address of welcome. He stated that the dance was given in celebration of Eugena V. Debs' deliverance from Woodstock jall after serving his six months' sentence for being connected with the great railroad strike at Chicago. Dancing was then had. During the fertivities two petitions were circulated among those present and received a unanimous support. The most important one was that pledging support to the new union depot project, and the second an appeal to the state legislature to enact a law compelling all street railway corporations in Nebraska to provide vestibules for their cars.
