reach a conclusion until Wednesday or Thursday, owing to the large amount of rebutting testimony which the state will introduce. So far nothing of a startling nature has been brought out by the defense. The greater portion of it has been in the nature of impeaching evidence. Witness Shouse has been under fire along this line ever since the defense opened. He is the man who claims to have identified the crowbar found at the wreck as the one stolen from him wrote it, spelled out in words, as 267. It some time before. Day Captain Hoagiand was claimed by counsel for Barlow that words was on the stand this morning. By the police register he showed that at the time of Davis' arrest he (Davis) had no money on his person. The idea was to show that the state's theory that Davis robbed Cherry was not tenable. Passenger Bell testified that Brakeman Foote told him the Rock Island train was going "like h-l" at the time of the accident. Law Student Frank Eager was called to testify that Shouse had called to see Mr. Altshuler, of counsel for the defense. Shouse had denied this, and the court ruled out Eager's evidence. Ex-Chief of Police Cooper was on the stand this afternoon to show that Dr. Flippin was at the city jail to see Davis and that he had said, after looking him over, that he did not know him. This Ex-Chief of Police evidence was corroborated by Fireman Top-ping. Dr. Flippin had testified that he had known Davis for two years and the negro had called at his office the night before the Frank Zehrung, manager of the Funke opera house, filed in the district court today a petition asking for a temporary injunction restraining Dave Henderson, his manager, John F. Harley, all the actors and actorines and properly man of "Sinbad" from showing at the Linsing theater on Thanksgiving after-noon and evening. J. F. Lansing, Manager Church and W. W. Cole are also called in under the injunction blanket and debarred from in any way assisting in the production of the piece at the Lansing. The petition sets up that Henderson signed a contract for the appearance of "Sinbad" at the Funke on Thanksgiving. The contract gave him 75 per cent of the receipts and a guarantee of $600. In Chicago this contract was interlined and amended by Harley, since which time the Funke manager has been to considerable ex-pense in getting his hall ready for the production of so elaborate a mise en scene as is staged by the "Sinbad" company. Zehrung avers that Henderson is now getting things in shape to show at the Lansing and the other defendants, Church, Lansing and Cole, are aiding and abetting him in the scheme. The temporary injunction was issued by Judge Hall, and the case will be heard so soon as the defense comes in with a motion to dissolve.

The supreme court today granted permission to Attorney General Churchill to amend his brief filed in the mandamus case of Warden George W. Leidigh against the State Board of Purchase and Supplies. Attorney Kirkpatrick, of counsel for the plaintiff, said today that he did not expect a decision in the case until the 2d of December.

Rock County District Court Adjourns DASSETT, Neb., Nov. 25 .- (Special.)-The fall term of the district court for Rock county adjourned at a late hour Saturday night, having been in session all week. Judge Bartow presided. A large number of cases were dispresided. A large number of cases were disposed of and the docket is pretty well cleared up. Among the more important cases tried as the Goochy murder case, which resulted in an acquittal. In May, 1893, Louis Goochy shot R. N. Turpin of this county while attempting to recover two horses which Turpin had taken up for trespass. Turpin died a few days afterward and Goochy surrendered to the authorities. He was tried that fall and convicted, the degree being manslaughter. TWO CONTESTS DELAY THE COUNT Official Canvass of the Late Vote Depends on the Supreme Court. LINCOLN, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—This mornng the State Canvasting board met in the office of the secretary of state, but, acting in accordance with instructions from the supreme court, adjourned until tomorrow. This plan will be pursued from day to day until LINCOLN, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The defense in the Davis murder trial rested this afternoon, but it is likely the case will not didate. The referee appointed to take testimony reported to the supreme court today and the case was argued. It was shown that Westover has a clear title to the office on the face of the returns, and Bartow concedes his election. The proceedings in court, however, cut down Westover's plurality from eleven to alx. By Westover it is claimed that he was elected by eleven, but Bartow claims that it is but by five votes. In the poll book the tally sheet shows that Bartow received 262 votes in Chadron precinct, but in extending the vote on the books the election officials. should govern, thus giving him an advantage of five votes and wiping out that much of Westover's plurality. In the Welty-Norris contest case the supreme court granted the application for a writ of mandamus to com-pel the clerk of Furnas county to recanvass the vote of Union precnict. This is considered the vote of Union precnict. This is considered a victory for Welty. A stipulation was filed this morning by which the contestant, Welty, withdrew all charges of fraud. In this case Referce Cordeal reported and the case was argued, submitted and the writ allowed as prayed for. The report of the referce shows that in Union precinct, Furnas county, the judges either made a mistake or else the returns had been tampered with. The work was turns had been tampered with. The work was decidedly coarse. In Union precinct Norris appeared to have received forty votes, Welty thirty-three and a third candidate ten. The forty opposite Norris' name was also spelled out as "forty." In the regular lines of the tally sheet appeared forty tallies, and in summing them up forty had evidently been written. But above the name of Norris at the beginning of the line five tallies had been interchanged to forty-six. According to this change of six votes Norris was elected by three votes. It is thought conclusive that when all corrected returns are given to the State Canvassing board that both Westover and Welly will be declared elected indees in their very will be declared elected indees in their very will be declared elected judges in their re-spective districts.

Colonel Paxton's Ex-Cowpuncher Bids Fair to Escape Execution.

Efforts of the American Consul to Secure Commutation of Sentence Suggested-Condemned Only

After a Long Trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 .- (Special Telegram.)-In the case of Mac Stuart, an old employe of Colonel William A. Paxton, now sentenced to be shot for murdering a policeman in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, which has been called to the attention of the State department by Secretary Morton, there is reason to believe that a commutation of sentence will result through the efforts being made in Stuart's behalf by the American consul there. If this action on the part of the United States is successful, and there is every reason to believe it will be, sentence will probably be imposed for twenty years, which may be reduced to seven years by good behavlor on the part of the convict, under the liberal law of Mexico. Mac Stuart, it is learned, is not a model citizen, having shot a man named Rogers some time previous to shooting the policeman at Parral, in the state of Chihuahua. He was convicted for the first offense and sentenced, but a rehearing of the case was secured through intervention of the United States consul and he was released. In the last case it is asserted that Mac Stuart was drunk and disorderly and the policeman trying to arrest him when he was shot.

HAD A FAIR TRIAL. There is no evidence to show that he was tried by a drumhead jury, and convicted without being permitted to introduce testimony. On the contrary, the trial was ex haustive in character. The condemned man had every opportunity to set forth mitigating circumstances

Senor Romero, Mexican minister, says that the assertion that self-defense is not plead-able under the Mexican law is absolutely and unqualifiedly false; that, if anything, the Mexican law is much more liberal than in the United States in this regard. While he is not acquainted with the merits of the case, he has written for minute partic-ulars, that refutation may be made as to the cases where murder has been committed. A. W. Butt, who has been with Minister Ransom in Mexico for the past nine months, says sentence of death is rarely ever carried into effect. There are certain crimes punishable by death under the statutes, but that in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the sentence of death is revoked by the president or the governors of the states, and sentence modified to life imprisonment, which, in nearly every instance, is reduced to twenty years, and afterward to less, according to good behavior. Capital punishment is re-garded as something horrible by Mexicans, and nothing but the foulest and most in-human crimes are punished in that way.

Amendment to Carey Law. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 .- Secretary Hoke Smith, in his annual report, will recommend that the Carey law, granting 1,000,000 acre of lands to each of the states in which such lands are situated, be amended so that the grant be made to the state outright, and it be made responsible for the irrigation of the lands. Under the law as it now stands, i would be many years before the state would eceive the benefit of the grant, and Se mith believes the state can carry out better the intention of congress if it gets control of the entire grant at once instead of until water is secured for the lands.

> MOB COMING AFTER TWO NEGROES. Prospective Victims Are Accused of Murdering a White Woman. ABBEYVILLE, S. C., Nov. 25 .- Notice has been received that a mob will come here before morning and attack the jail for the purpose of lynching two prisoners, John Mitchell and Richard Wash, both colored, who are under arrest for the murder of Norissa Bagwell, a white woman. The circumstances indicate that the woman may have been assaulted. She was killed Thursday evening on the public highway near her home, fifteen miles from here, and her body was taken to a deserted house and burned charred remains were found. Wash he was with Miss Bagwell about 3 o'clock Friday morning, and asserts she cut her throat with a razor, and that before doing so she requested him to burn her body in the house. The story is considered im-probable, and it is thought the murder was to secure the proceeds of a bale of cot-ton, which Miss Bagwell had.

SOME CHANCE OF AN AGREEMENT. Southern Pacific Shows a Disposition to Settle Emigrant Matters. CHICAGO, Nov. 25 .- The transcontinental lines today continued their work upon the agreement of the proposed association. The day was spent in the discussion of matters in relation to baggage. The present intention of the lines is to have Chairman Caldwell of the Western Passenger association act as chairman of the Transcontinental association, savages the Mexicans are made out to be when it is finally formed. The prospect of a in refusing to allow a plea of self-defense in final agreement is growing brighter and the most favorable sign that the roads have had is a disposition on the part of the Southern Pacific to come to an agreement with the other roads in the matter of emigrant traffic. It has been announced that it is the inten-tion of Assistant Traffic Manager Hawley of the Southern Pacific to come to Chicago, that he may have an opportunity of learning the views of the western roads on the matter.

Narrow Escape from Freezing.

Along about midnight last night one of the employes at the Union Pacific round ouse on the Iowa side found a young man in the turn table pit. Dragged out from his dangerous position, the young fellow was found to be thoroughly intoxicated and almost overcome with cold. In addition, he was in imminent danger of being crushed to pulp the first time the turn table was used.

Behind a warm stove in the round house he was soon thawed out, and then a nice nap followed, while the patrol wagon was coming from the uptown station. When aroused, the victim of circumstances refused to give his name. Nothing on his person disclosed his identity. In addition to his jag he had several pairs of cheap socks and a silk handkerchief, evidently just purchased. in the turn table pit. Drugged out from

AMUSEMENTS.

To the average and constant theater goer of Omaha, especially to him who looks upon the bright side of things and believes that after all life is nothing more than a merry comedy, of course with a few dark clouds thrown in, the coming of William H. Crane is the particular event to which he looks forward. He is sure that his bright, sunny philosophy will be tickled then, and he therefore reaps consolation for the weary and often unsuccessful search he has made through the rest of the season for a bright bit over which he can laugh sincerely.

There are many such theater goers in this city of ours, if the house to which Crane made his bow at the Boyd last night can be measured by this standard. Almost every seat was taken by people who came to laugh and did laugh.

Crane appeared in his new play, "His Wife's Father," 'a domestic comedy, as it is called. It is rightly classed, for every one in it is a relation of some one else or ulti-mately becomes one. And it gives all kinds of opportunities to Crane as the father who would not cease to love his daughter just simply because she got married. It is useless to criticise, or, rather, praise the great comedian, because there is a new that can be said of him. His humor i not so much expressed through his words. and motion is a mint of humor which the give him as much opportunity to play on the tearful sympathies of his audience as others in which he has appeared, but he has a number of lines which tend to make the eyes glisten.

Crane is supported by an excellent com pany. Gladys Wallace was missed, but the parts were on the whole well taken and rendered with understanding of their capa-

Rice's extravaganza, "1492," comes to the Creighton next Thursday, opening the en-gagement with a matinee, enhanced by the presence of Miss Bessle Bonehill, the imper sonation of Richard Harlow, and the garnish ment of the wonderful Kilanyi living pic tures. This is the strongest series of attractions that have yet lent luster to the brilliancy of "1492." Richard Harlow is the original daisy queen of Spain, the young college athlete who kept the lorgnettes of New York's 400 leveled at him during the two years run of "1492" in New York City. Of the Kilanyi living pictures it is said that they are the originals, and that while they have been copied and counterfelled in many ways the imitations have not been successful "1492" has it own orchestra, calcium plan and scenery. It will remain at the Creigh ton for three nights with the usual Satur day matinee. The boxes are to be occupied

"Down in Dixie," the southern comedy drama produced by Davis and Keogh, which comes to the Creighton for four nights, commencing Sunday matinee, December 1, was written by Scott Marble. "Down in Dixle is famous not only for the great interest of its romantic love story and for the excellence of its comedy, but also for its great compress scene and its pickaninny band. In their plantation pastimes the pickaninnies are an addition to the bright comedy element of the play, while their music and their Zouave drill are features. "Down in Dixie" is a picture of southern life said to be a most

will deliver his now famous lecture. "The Life, Career and Death of Abraham Lincola," at Creighton hall on the evening of Monday, December 2, will be received with sincere pleasure by thousands of our citizens. Interest in the extraordinary personality of the great war president was never so widespread as at present, and of the hundreds of men still living who were familiar with Lincein, perhaps not one is so well qualified to speak for and of him as Mr. Watterson. His lecture has been called a masterpiece of oratory—"the most eloquent, sympathetic and just panegyric ever pronounced." Of it the Chicago Evening Journal says: "Henry Watterson's brilliant, beautiful and affecting gration upon Abraham Lincoln in a contribution to literature no less than to oratory. vividly drawn, no picture has been so pic-turesquely colored as this one, drawn and colored by a southerner who once was a rebel in heart and in act. presentation here by the Bostonians during their engagement at Boyd's theater next week, is described as one of the brilliant latter-day operatic productions. The full strength of the company, including Henry Clay Barnabee, W. H. MacDonald, Jesse Bart-Cowles, George Frothingham, Jerome Sykes, Josephine Bartlett, Harold Blake, Alice Nielson, Cora Barnabee and others, will be seen in this production. The sale of seats begins Saturday and the arrangements of repertoire will be duly announced.

The engagement of Emily Bancker, in "Our Flat," at Boyd's theater for three nights, commencing Thursday mattnee, is announced.
'Our Flat' is said to be a comedy of high order with the introduction of refined spe cialties and catchy musical numbers. The piece is a laugh provoker from beginning to end, showing the comical side of life in a fashionable London apartment house. Miss Bancker is assisted by a corps of clever com-edy exponents. The sale of seats will open tomorrow morning for the entire engage-

MONUMENT TO UNION VETERANS. Old Soldiers Moving to the Commemoration of Valorous Comrades. A memorial monument was the chief topic of discussion among the members of file Douglas County Veterans at their meeting at the Henderson hotel last night. Shortly after the meeting was brought to order by Chairman A. J. McDougal, the project of erecting a suitable and permanent memorial to the war heroes of Douglas county was suggested by Secretary J. P. Henderson Mr. Henderson said that a large number of the eastern cities had shown respect to the men who had sacrificed their lives in fighting the nation's battles, and that he considered Omaha sadly behind the times in this matter. Omaha numbered among its best citizens many ex-soldiers of the late war, and he thought if the project were properly placed before them it would receive strong support. M. J. Feenan was of the same opinion and stated that he knew of one party, the wealthy widow of a lost comrade, who had promised to contribute $1,000 if the scheme took tangible form.

Many sites were discussed for the location of the proposed monument, and Jefferson square was at length selected as the most appropriate for it.

The following members were selected as a committee on finance to take the steps accessary to erect a monument of ting not less than $5,000, and to increase that amount if possible: B. R. Ball, J. P. Henderson, J. H. Elliot, H. Hardin, M. J. Feenan, T. S. Clarkson, P. A. Lyons, Omar Whiting, A. J. McDougal and W. A. Askwith.

The following committee was selected to make the final selection of the grounds and complete arrangements for next summer's encampment: William L. Allison, J. P. Henderson, S. Adamsky, William Osborne, B. R. Ball, W. O. House, William Kelly, Fred Etten and A. J. McDougsl.
