He expects to be away six months and cover most of Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and his friends an affectionate farewell to that position. But he came back sooner than he expected. Down in Red Oak, his first stopping place, he put up at a hotel where there was diphtheria. A. K. Stone, formerly superintendent of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Bridge company, had the pleasure of leaving for Omaha on Monday last. He had just been assigned to his new position as assistant general superintendent of the Ferguson Electric division on the Great Northern, and was making his first trip. They were unsuccessful in getting anything, but made things lively for the passengers by firing a fusillade of shots at every head that went out of the window.

Emilly Baucker Tonight. Laughter and jollity will reign supreme at the New Bohany this evening, when the queen of comedy, the sprightly Emilly Baucker, assisted by her excellent support of well known players, will make her first appearance before a Council Bluffs audience as "Mary" in the successful farce comedy by Mrs. Musgrave, "Our Flat," which ran for 100 nights at the Lyceum theater, New York. Miss Baucker, by her phenomenal success the past three seasons, can justly lay claim to the proud title of the foremost comedienne of the day. Blessed with a merry individuality that is most precious, she enters into the spirit of her work with an earnestness and abandon that becomes infectious to those assisting in the performance, thereby assuring a perfect union and harmony, as well as perfection of detail of scenery and effects. The dress worn by Miss Baucker are models of the latest art and will be a source of pleasure and surprise to the ladies of the audience, while the fun with which the play is permitted to be brought to end is of the wholesome quality that tends to make an evening spent at the theater an enjoyable one.

The most Thanksgiving dinners that will be eaten tomorrow will come largely from S. T. McAtee's, where all of the finest edibles in the world are found. You cannot think of anything fine and refined in getting your Thanksgiving dinner and not find it at McAtee's.

JUST GETTING INTERESTING.

Like a Continued Story Court Adjourns at the Woods.

Another large crowd of men was present in the district court yesterday to hear the details of the carryings-on of Mollie Graham and her alleged lover. This is the first breach of promise case that has been tried in this district court since Judge Smith is able to remember, and the auditors are making up for lost time in the eager attentiveness with which they regard each witness in the hope that there may be something smutty which they will not miss. But they have been disappointed quite largely. In the first place Mollie Graham is not exactly the kind of woman for looks to inspire an ordinary imagination to build up a romance with her as the central figure, and in the second place the attorneys do not seem to have a desire to satisfy the popular appetite for scandal.

Mollie herself was put upon the stand yesterday afternoon, and told how she first met Leutinger two years ago next March. Very soon after the meeting she moved into the house of Leutinger, and lived there until last summer. Last Christmas there was a Christmas tree at her house, and a lot of the children of the neighborhood were there, besides Frank Giffether, Fred Leutinger and other adults. She overheard a conversation between Leutinger and Giffether, in which Leutinger said he was going to marry Mrs. Graham. She also told how Leutinger had her arrested one night just because she went to his house with a revolver and threatened to shoot him full of holes. He described very minutely the horrors of the following nights which she spent in jail, and admitted that she accidentally broke the windows and the chair in her room, tore up the bed clothes, and committed other depredations to show her dislike for her surroundings.

"And you swore, didn't you?" queried Attorney Tinley, cross-examining her.

"I don't do such things," retorted she, hotly.

"But didn't you break over the rule a little and cuss a few times?" persisted Tinley.

"I don't think I did."

"But will you swear you didn't swear?"

"Mollie was forced to admit that she could not swear to the truth of her words had not escaped her lips. To the surprise of everybody, this practically closed the case for the Graham woman. Charles White, who was Graham's baby improver, was not called at all, although he was in the court room. He had been subpoenaed by the defense. The position is that the Graham woman's attorney will try to mix him up on cross-examination.

J. B. Ellwood, ex-sheriff of Antelope county, Nebraska, testified that witnesses called by the defense. He was sheriff at the time of the trial of one Putney, claimed to have been the father and murderer of Mrs. Graham's baby improver, who in 1894, Ellwood was just about to tell the particulars when Edmund Tinley pleaded an adjournment, and induced Judge Smith to adjourn court until this morning at 10 o'clock.

PAUL ALSO HAS A COUNTER CLAIM.

Further Obstacles in the Way of a Settlement of the Litigation.

Another complication was added yesterday afternoon to the already long list of troubles between John W. Paul and E. W. Nash. Paul filed a counter claim, demanding a judgment of $25,000 against Nash, Guy C. Barton, John P. Stewart and J. H. Millard, for damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the wrongful attachment of Paul's property by Nash last July. In his counter claim he alleges that the suing out of the attachment was wrongful and malicious, designed to injure him and obtain his interest in the property of the Union Land and Improvement company for Nash at much less than its market value. The allegations in the main are the same as those in the damage suit for a similar amount, commenced a short time ago by the Union Land and Improvement company against the same defendants. He claims to have paid out $1,000 in hotel bills and for costs of the ground involved to have lost $3,500 worth of money, $10,000 worth of profits in the sale which he had expected to make, and $500 in attorney fees. Besides all this, he wants $100,000 in punitive damages.

Two suits were commenced in the district court yesterday which throw still further obstacles in the way of an ultimate settlement of the litigation. First, a suit by the holders in the Union Land and Improvement company, and tender it quite probable that the assets of the company, if it has any, will never see daylight after the attorney's fees at court costs have been paid. In both of them the Omaha and Grant Smelting company appears as plaintiff. In the first the Union Land and Improvement company is defendant. E. W. Nash, Finley Burke and the American National bank are sued on a note which Lottan executed to the McGee Savings bank for $1,000. Lottan has defaulted in the payment of the interest. In the second another note for $7,000 is the foundation. The note is signed by E. W. Nash, and the interest and principal now amount to $9,770.

BOARD REFUSED ITS PERMISSION.

Put a Stop to the Teaching of Private Classes Out of School Hours.

The school board has had before it recently the question of allowing the teachers of drawing and music to instruct their fellow teachers for a consideration. In those two branches, and has decided that the practice must come to a stop. In each contract signed by a teacher assuming her duties it is stipulated that she shall have no private classes during the school hours. In the case of that fact, Miss Blood, who teaches drawing, and Miss Porterfield, supervisor of music, sent out postal cards asking the teachers to join classes which they were about to organize for work in their respective branches. The intention was to meet twice a week in the evening, and each teacher to pay the sum of $2.50 for ten weeks instruction.

Director Fonda had heard that there was some objection being done, and brought the matter up with a view to having the board give its permission to organize the classes. Since that time the board has been fully developed that Robertson, Snyder and Thomas were the ones who objected. They thought that the supervisors of drawing and music had positions analogous to that of the superintendent, and ought to meet the

END OF RESUBMISSION TALK

One Trouble Removed from the Iowa Legislators' Path.

OVERLOOKED AN IMPORTANT PROVISION

Secretary of State McFarland Failed to Have the Notice Published as Provided by the Constitution of the State.

PERRY, Ia., Nov. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—It has come to light that the proposed prohibition amendment cannot be legally acted upon by the coming legislature, and that there will be no resubmission question to wrangle over. It transpired that Secretary of State McFarland has overlooked an important requirement in the adoption of constitutional amendments, and that a three months' publication clause, Section 1, article 5 of the constitution reads: "Any amendment to this constitution may be proposed in either house of the general assembly, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, each proposed amendment shall be entered on their journals before the year next following the same, and referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election, and shall be published as provided by law for three months previous to the time of making such choice."

Section 59 of chapter 5 of the code provides that this notice shall be published for three months previous to the election in two newspapers of general circulation in each congressional district. If the secretary of state has made any such publication it has not been discovered in this congressional district, and the facts are that none have been made.

The proposed amendment was agreed to by the State Temperance convention with County Attorney Edmund Nichols first noticed the omission today, and Mr. Harvey says that resubmission is now out of the question.

RAILROAD LITIGATION SETTLED. Decrees Filed in Federal Court at Des Moines.

DES MOINES, Nov. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—The famous litigation over the ownership of the Des Moines & Kansas City railroad was settled by the filing of decrees in the federal court today. The cases are W. R. Brackett et al against the Des Moines, Oesela & Southern road, and of Wilson against the same company. The Des Moines & Kansas City took the property under a lease for closure from the Des Moines, Oesela & Southern, secured title to the property. The cases were brought to set aside the sale under foreclosure of the Des Moines & Kansas City, and to have the title returned to the Des Moines & Kansas City, which is now running to Kansas City, La., and is to be extended to Sabine Pass.

Cuppy Brothers' Jail. DES MOINES, Nov. 26.—(Special.)—The Cuppy brothers, who were acquitted in the federal court Saturday of a charge of assaulting United States Pension Officer Brown, celebrated the event by going on a glorious spree. They wound up in the police station, and their little sentence cost them $25 each. An United States court adjourned for the term this afternoon, after being in session nearly a week. The grand jury had for investigation of the case returned 29 indictments. Over 100 of the defendants stood trial, and there were less than a dozen acquittal cases. The rest were returned to jail. With the exception of about thirty, all the cases were for violations of the revenue laws, and their sentences returned to jail from the coal mining towns in portions of the state where they do not have the market. All the rest pleaded guilty to the possession of a revenue stamp prima facie evidence of illegal sales of liquor in the amount of $100,000, and having no used assessment.

Water War Renewed. DES MOINES, Nov. 26.—(Special.)—The Des Moines water works fight has taken on new phases. After weeks of effort to agree on a schedule of rates that would enable city and company to dismise their litigation and live in harmony, the council adopted, in committee of the whole, a schedule that was agreeable to the company. Before it could be adopted by the council proper the water works were sold, and now the council has revised the schedule, and now the rates which the city is trying to enforce. The city's attorneys say the council has done just the wrong thing, and that their refusal to accept the schedule is only to protect the city in such a position that it is certain to be defeated in the courts. The matter will be argued as fast as possible. Meantime the city is compelled only to collect on its bills, but it expects to get an injunction against their enforcement in a short time.

GIVING DRAKE DIRECTIONS. DES MOINES, Nov. 26.—(Special.)—General Drake has been in the city since Saturday morning in connection with the state officers and prominent men in the party from all over the state. Among those who are here are George E. Roberts of Fort Dodge, Colonel J. M. Kim of Council Bluffs, Council City, Senator Gurley of Decatur county, "Tana Jim" Wilson, J. W. Luke of Hampton, Senator Byers of Shelby county, Senator James O. O'Connell of Jay, and State Senator J. M. Roberts of Boone county. The members of the conference will talk of it, but it has leaked out that it is for a private secretary to the governor and the distribution of patronage and the record of the members to be made by the governor in his first message. Nothing further could be learned except that the governor will make the only important appointment he will make is one, to the state of inspectorship.

In a Rival of Sandow. DES MOINES, Nov. 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Charles Lloyf Barney, a butcher of this city, 21 years old, is a rival of Sandow. Only his intimate friends knew of his wonderful strength until recently when the state managers learned of him and have been trying to make engagements with him. He is accustomed to kill cattle with a blow of his flat-iron using the same rates with the same force.

Club of the City. The Union Club football evening of this city via the Union Pacific yesterday afternoon for Denver, where a game will be played with the Denver Athletic club team on the football of Thanksgiving day. The players were in charge of Manager Hugh A. Myers, and were all in good condition and prepared to play the best football they could for supremacy. They will arrive in Denver tomorrow and will take a light practice this afternoon.

A close game is expected. The Denver team was defeated early in the season by Charlie Thomas' proteges from Lincoln by the score of 12 to 0. The University Club, even is not so strong as the Lincoln team. It is probable that the Denver players have improved considerably since they played. From this it would appear that the University Club will be a strong team until the referee's whistle is blown as the conclusion of the game. The local team is not so confident, but are nevertheless of the opinion that they can win.

GIRL RUN DOWN BY AN ENGINE. Lena Kraft Killed While Walking on the Union Pacific Tracks.

Lena Kraft, an 18-year old girl, was run over by the Union Pacific dummy yesterday morning near Sheely station and killed. The accident occurred shortly before 7 o'clock. Mike Hopkins, a train man, happened to be riding on the front of the engine when the pilot struck the girl. He gives the following version of the case: "The engine upon which I was riding was 1173 and it was pulling the southbound morning dummy. As we were rounding the curve just east of Chaffee's lumber yard, I suddenly saw the girl ahead and before I could do anything to save her the engine had struck and tossed her body to one side of the track. The train was stopped as soon as possible and myself and the others of the crew went back to where the accident occurred. The girl's head was badly crushed and I think she was dead when we reached the spot where she was lying. When I first noticed her she was walking on the track and was evidently very heavily gassed, as she did not hear the approach of the train."

August Kraft, father of the dead girl, lives at 2818 South Twenty-fifth street
