

affairs, and he thinks that the first steps in suggesting the policy of the government toward Cuba and kindred matters should be taken by members of the committee on foreign affairs or other who have been identified with that class of legislation.

MANY PLANS FOR BATTLESHIPS.

Numerous new and important projects are proposed by the committee on the navy. The work of preparing upon the various plans for battleships submitted to the navy department in answer to the advertisement for proposals for bids is now engaging the entire attention of the naval bureau chiefs and owing to the number and complexity of the plans the task is not a light one. The chief of ordnance, Captain Sampson, has been added to the usual board in view of the importance of the armor question, raised by the proposition of the Cramps to supply the ships fully equipped with armor, including the following usual practice of having the government furnish the armor. The plans in instances embody certain novelties in naval construction that merit serious consideration.

The Cramps have one plan for a ship about the size of the Indiana, but without turrets. In their place, fore and aft, are mounted two-inch guns on a carriage that disappears in the hull below the water line and under the protective deck after being discharged, thus being completely shielded from return fire, and also adding to the stability of the ship. Another plan also submitted by the Cramps is for a battleship of the same size, with four separate turrets, two for the three-inch guns and two for eight-inch guns, the latter being placed above and closely in the rear of the big turrets, thus presenting the arrangement proposed originally by the construction bureau.

The Union Iron works carry the navy department's plan to its extreme in one point, where they contemplate a three-story turret. Their original plan is generally similar to the department's, but they have a slight detail relating to the placing of a main passageway and the storage of coal below the boilers and the important part of the hull of the ship by the use of the tubular boilers used in the Monterey.

BILLS ARE COMING IN LIVELY.

Senators All Appear to Have a Pocket-Full of Bills. WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Among the many bills and resolutions introduced in the senate today were the following:

By Senator Lodge, to amend the immigration laws, including all emigrants between 14 and 60 years of age who cannot both read and write the English language.

By Senator Gray, to incorporate the International American bank in accordance with the recommendations of the International American conference.

By Senator Hale, to reorganize the personnel of the navy, and to have a pocket full of bills and resolutions introduced in the senate today were the following:

By Senator Lodge (by request), appropriating $1,000 for the encouragement of aerial navigation.

By Senator Baker, removing the bar of limitation in suits brought by laborers or mechanics against the United States for work done.

By Senator Voorhees, increasing all pensions granted under the act of 1890 to $12.

By Senator Sherman, to amend the act of 1887 to fix a uniform standard classification and grading of grain. Senator Sherman also presented a bill for the readjustment and increase of pensions granted on account of the loss of limbs.

By Senator Voorhees, providing punishment for persons guilty of contempt of United States court. The bill provides that a court is sitting in act of contempt and provides punishment either by fine or imprisonment.

POPULISTS TO STAND TOGETHER.

Republicans Will Be Unable to Organize.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The populist members of the senate have taken a step which will probably result in the prevention of the reorganization of the senate by the republicans, by resolving to stand together against both old parties. Senators Peffer, Allen, Kyle and Butler, ranked as straight populists, and the populist members of the senate of Nevada, upon whom some of the republicans have counted for assistance in case of an effort to reorganize, will stand together.

There was no dissent against the proposition to stand together on the question of organization and to give no support to either of the old parties in connection with the election of the senate or in other party matters. Those present also decided to nominate their own candidates for the various offices, in case the other parties should be successful in the field. Selections will be deferred until in case of a movement in the senate the populists will place a full ticket in the field, and they agreed that with this step once taken they would stand by their candidate solidly to the end. The republicans have a lack of majority and will lack one after the Utah senators come in.

National Wool Growers in Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Growers began here today. The principal feature of the meeting is the annual address of President William Lawrence of Ohio, who dwelt upon the present distressed condition of the wool growing industry and the urgent need for remedial legislation and concerted action to secure better protection to the growers. Resolutions will be adopted urging restoration of wool to the durable list at a reasonably high rate.

President Lawrence in an informal conference told the members of the association that any measure of protection to wool interests would be passed by congress until a full revision of the tariff should be made. He submitted a bill which he suggested be adopted and presented to congress. It recites the loss to sheep breeders caused by the free wool schedule of the Wilson tariff law, and favors a temporary relief from the re-entment of the McKinley schedule, with slight modifications. Theodore Justice advocated the temporary relief, and said that he would support the re-entment as a temporary relief, and that he would support the re-entment as a temporary relief, and that he would support the re-entment as a temporary relief.

Much of the session was occupied in address by representatives from different parts of the country, who told of the industry in their localities. During the day a resolution was offered that congress be asked to pass, as a partial measure of relief, the schedule known as the Texas and Theodore Justice of Philadelphia.

Texas Has Another Breakdown.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The unfortunate battleship Texas has had another breakdown. She went out on a full-power steam trial trip from New York this morning with the intention of making such a machinery would work all right, but was soon brought up at the powder station at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, with her steering gear crippled. It is estimated that about five days will be consumed in making the necessary repairs to fit the ship for another trial.

Venezuelan Minister Pleaded.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Minister Andrade of Venezuela to high gratified that feature in the president's message referring to Venezuela. The minister cabled the essential points on Venezuela to the government authorities at Caracas last night and mailed copies of the bill messages. Mr. Andrade says it is a clear and forcible statement which will meet with the most cordial reception by the government and people of Venezuela.

Hayden Respects His Credentials.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Mr. Hayden today presented to President Cleveland his letters of recall as Hawaiian minister to the United States, and Mr. Hatch those accrediting him as Mr. Castle's successor. The letters and the president's replies were exceedingly pleasant in tone.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS IN CAUCUS.

Younger Members Take Matters in Their Own Hands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The republican senatorial conference was in session about thirty minutes today. The only business done was the adoption of a resolution introduced by Senator Freese authorizing Senator Sherman as chairman of the caucus to nominate the committees on committees and providing that the list selected by him shall be submitted to the full caucus for confirmation. The caucus adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

The action with reference to the committees was the result of a compromise between two factions in the party, one composed largely of the older element, standing for the appointment of the committee by the chair, and the other with the younger element predominating, demanding that the caucus should select the committees. The compromise was a part of the program of the newer members to insure sufficient attention to their claims for recognition in the conduct of senatorial affairs. It is understood that Senator Under of Connecticut will be chairman of the proposed committee.

MILLIONS FOR COAST DEFENSES.

Senator Squire Introduces a Bill in Harmony with Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Senator Squire of Washington today introduced an important bill to provide a general system of fortifications for six coast defenses. He appropriated $10,000,000 to be expended during the next twelve years, at the important ports of the country, such as New York, San Francisco, Philadelphia, New Orleans and others, not only on the sea coast, but on the great lakes, the river and estuaries of the sea, such as Puget sound and Hampton Roads. In presenting the bill Mr. Squire dwelt upon the necessity of providing adequate protection for the country. He stated that the provisions of the bill were in accordance with the recommendations of the board appointed by the act of 1885, and said that the act of 1885 had the endorsement of many expert engineers and high officials, including the secretary of war and the commanding general of the army.

He is a Friend of Labor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The labor organization of the country are making a concerted effort to secure the appointment of Representative Phillips of Pennsylvania to the chairmanship of the committee on labor. Their action is a decidedly complimentary one to the senator, who has the endorsement of many expert engineers and high officials, including the secretary of war and the commanding general of the army.

ATTEMPTED TO BURN THE BOOKS.

Dishonest Bank Cashier's Plan Failed at the Final Moment.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Dec. 4.—(Special.)—Since the arrest of Assistant Cashier Stone of the Bank of Commerce on the charge of stealing the funds of the bank, it has become known that Stone also tried to burn the books of the institution in order to cover up the evidence of his theft. Stone had actually confessed to the whole matter. The attempt to burn the books was made several weeks ago and at the time was thought to have been successful. The books were actually burned, but the fire was discovered and the books were saved.

SAVILL AND DUNCAN WANT HIM BACK.

Doctor Offers a Resolution and the Plumber Votes for It and the Ex-Inspector Gives Every-Body a Cussin'.

After a series of meetings that were remarkable chiefly for their resemblance to a session of a Dorcas sewing circle, the Board of Health came to life again yesterday afternoon and favored a small audience with a bill of attractions that eclipsed any previous exhibition of the year. It was not a long session, but there was more brimstone burned and more scolding indignations of general knocking down and dragging out than are usually to be noticed outside of a "rendezvous" saloon. In fact, the language that floated through the sizzling atmosphere of the board room was of a kind that would make a fishwife blush. Israel Frank furnished the bulk of the burning billingsgate, but even Commissioner Saville so far forgot himself as to say "darn" with several repetitions.

Everything was sunny until after the monthly reports had been read, approved and filed away. Then Commissioner Saville cleared his throat and remarked that he had a few resolutions which he wished the board to adopt. The first was a resolution that the prosecution of the alleged charges of fraud against Israel Frank, the present inspector, should be discontinued. Whereas, the prosecution of the alleged charges of fraud against Israel Frank, the present inspector, should be discontinued. Whereas, the prosecution of the alleged charges of fraud against Israel Frank, the present inspector, should be discontinued.

There was an embarrassing silence for a couple of minutes, and then Mayor Bemis asked the committee to report on the matter. At this time out of jail on bond, Dr. Saville started to reply, when Duncan declared he had written the resolution and wanted it to be passed. The resolution was then passed, and the board adjourned.

SAVILL AFTER BRUNER.

Another resolution provided that the office of milk inspector should be declared vacant. Milk Inspector Bruner, who has held the position for two years past, was suspended some time ago on account of a financial shortage. Dr. Saville explained that the resolution merely contemplated making the suspension permanent, and that Bruner had been reinstated in the office. The resolution was then passed, and the board adjourned.

PAID FIREMEN'S ANNUAL BILL.

The annual bill of the paid firemen was held last evening at Sanger hall. There was a good attendance and the firemen did all in their power to make it pleasant for the city officials who were present. The bill was passed, and the board adjourned.

AT THE PRESENTS CARNAVAL.

Series of Living Pictures Pleasantly Viewed.

Living pictures were the feature at the Present's Carnival of the First Congregational church at Creighton hall last night. Miss Calkins in "Love's Dream After the Ball" made the hit of the evening. She was followed by others illustrating the manner of proposing by the new woman, and a pretty sketch by Miss Margaret Wheeler, entitled "Dancing with the Dances of the Gods and the Roses," executed by eight little girls composed of Miss Vivian Reesor, Anita Abbott, Elizabeth Condon, Mary Ward, Louise Dugan, Marie Carter and Margaret Wheeler came in for a large share of the applause, as also did the German solo in costume by Mrs. W. E. Dimmock.

The attendance thus far at the carnival has been all that could be desired and Mrs. Hoagland, president of the Ladies' Aid society of the church, stated that a grandly sum would probably be realized from the admissions and sale of articles from the booths. The regular noon day lunch will be new features for the evening entertainments will be announced later on. The carnival will close Saturday night with a mammoth oyster supper.

OUTCALT JURY IS UNDISTURBED.

No Sign of the Grand Jury Investigation Ordered. An investigation of the competency of the federal court jurors in the Outcalt case or an inquiry whether attempts are made to unduly influence them as the trial progresses has not been begun and there is no sign of its beginning.

When Judge Dundy declared that he had heard reports that sundry parties, among whom were women, were trying to fix the jury, he directed the district attorney to investigate the matter and the grand jury to be sworn and the trial to proceed without interruption.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Omaha and South Omaha banks have refused to cash Board of Education warrants and the teachers and janitors are in a quandary. All of the banks in this city say that they have no authority to cash the warrants.

Omaha banks evidently feel the same way, for not long ago the Omaha National declined to cash any more of the teachers' warrants. Some of the teachers need the money and are being harassed by the board of education.

It has been suggested by some that the importance of such an investigation would be that it would show after the trial is concluded and particularly if the result should be acquittal, since a retrial would then be impossible, if it were found that certain jurors were influenced or had become disqualified after being sworn.

HIS SON WILL NOT REPAY HIM.

Tale of an Old Man at the Police Station. Carl Lentz, an old man, appeared at the police station yesterday to swear out a warrant for the arrest of his son Dan. He said that Dan formerly operated a restaurant on South Tenth street, and at a later date one near Fifteenth and Dodge. When the place was closed Dan first offered to settle the account, but he insisted Dan pay all the money that he had at that time in his possession, which amounted to a little over $100. Dan finally closed out the restaurant at Fifteenth and Dodge and has been living with Mrs. Hoken at 708 South Sixteenth on the proceeds ever since. The elder Lentz charges that he has not seen money from Dan since he left home several times since the sale of the property, but has had to be satisfied with promises that were never fulfilled. Yesterday he called at the district where his son lives and asked to see Dan, and he alleges that he was not only refused an audience, but was thrown out bodily by Mrs. Hoken. He would like to have the police, to, arrest Mrs. Hoken for assault and battery.
