SCOTT GETS AFTER MILLER

Court Believes Jim Bruton's Story About Being Abused in Jail.

GIVES HIM IN CHARGE OF HIS BAILIFF

Jailer's Explanation is Corroborated by a Number of Prisoners-Stephen Hall on Trial for Highway Robbery.

Stephen Hall, another member of the so- not a special deposit, called Bruten gang, and the one who is charged with being one of the ringleaders of the mythical desperate mob, was placed on trial yesterday on the charge of high-court. Bruton delivered a melancholy tale of woe of his experiences in the county jail. said that ever since he turned state's evi-

been down on him.
Bruton said that he was in the big cage of the "gang" and Abe Lauder, who has been taken to Lincoln to serve a sen-tence of fifteen years. Bruton said that Jailer Miller yelled out: "Go it, Lauder Now is your chance," and Lauder "wen it." Lauder is a powerful man and Bruton says that his experience with him was as bad as if he had been put through a thresh-lated, Judge Scott passed some severe strictures on the jailer. He said that a man in fall had as much right to protection as a man Jailer Miller, he said, did not apparently think that way and therefore Judge Scott ordered Bruton not to be returned to him. He placed the prisoner in the hands of his bailiff until after the trial.

The story told by Jaller Miller is radically different. He said that Sunday he took Bruton out of one cage and put him in another with Lauder. No sooner had he got them in than Bruton began his abuse and Lauder set upon him. As soon as the jailers could get to him, Bruton was taken out of the cage, but by that time he had received his facial ornaments. This story is corroborated by the other prisoners in the fail. They have been very sore because Bruton turned state's evidence and this soreness has been considerably aggravated by the abuse he has hurled at the other members of the "gang." Judge Scott yesterday sentenced James Bruton, one of the Bruton gang, to the penitentiary for two years. Bruton pleaded guilty to the charge of burgiary, but his sentence was made light because he turned state's evidence. FRANK'S CASE MAY HOLD OVER.

Trial of Alleged Murderers of John Seljan to Be Called Soon. It is more than probable that the three men charged with the murder of John Seljan will be placed on trial in the criminal court within the next two or three days. It is equally probable that the cases against John Spoerl and Israel Frank, charged with observed and that the courts may at any time take

It has been a question with the county attorney which of these two cases to take up after the 1sh trial is completed, inasmuch as but one of the cases could be completed before the end of the term. The matter was practically settled in favor of the alleged murderers a few days ago, when a request was filed by their attorneys that the case be tried this term. The three men, Drubnic, Mikan and Bukovic, have been in confinement since the crime was committed, July 3, and in the meantime their families have been without means of support. The decision was considerably hastened by a number of re-quests from the Austrian consul, who pressed for an early trial. It is understood that the matter was left to Judge Scott, who determined that the men | Saddle Creek Sewer Proposition Beshould be given a trial as soon as possible. He held that they had a prior claim to a trial because they were unable to obtain bonds, while Spoeri and Frank could very well get the courts of Illinois.

DEEDED TO THE WHISKY TRUST. Transfer of Willow Springs Distillery

The transaction is of interest to Omaha, inasmuch as by it the Willow Springs dis-tillery of this city becomes trust property. The other property which at the same time is transferred is the Shufeldt distillery and the Riverdale distillery, in Cook county, Ilisaid that ever since he turned state's evidence and testified against the other members of the "gang," who, however, have been invariably acquitted, Jailer Miller had been down on him. and Crescent and the Hamburg distilleries in Tazewell county, Illinois; the Consol-idated distillery of Cincinnati, the St. Paul distillery of St. Paul, the Maddus-Hoburt distillery in Hamilton county, Ohlo, the Wabash distillery in Terre Haute, Ind., the Latenia distillery in Kenton county, Kentucky, and the Central distillery of St. Louis. One of the deeds transfers the property from the distilling company by a reorganization committee, and the other by John Mc-Nulta, the receiver of the distilling company, to the trust. The first transfer is made without conditions. In the latter the terms of the order of court are pamed as conditions on which the transfer is made.

The conditions are that the property shall be subject to a paramount lien of the trust deed to secure, first, the payment of whatever sums shall be adjudicated by the courts to be owing to the holders of an issue of $1,000,000 bends in the suit of Receiver Nulta against Joseph B. Greenhut, one of the receivers who resigned, to set aside this bond issue; secondly, the payment of the rebates of vouchers in the same trust deed. It is conditioned also that the receiver shall prosecute the suit to a finish. It will be remembered that after a num-ber of suits had been brought against the distilling company, and after two of the ap-pointed receivers had been deposed, the prop-erty of the company was ordered, on July 5, to be sold to the highest bidder. The sale occurred on August 14 at Washington. property was bought by a reorganization committee which represented 347,508 out of a total of 350,000 shares of stock, at $9,800,000.
